BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 684, entitled:

An Act authorizing all public offices and departments of cities and counties of the first class to remain closed on Saturdays, from the third Saturday of July to the last Saturday of August, inclusive, in each year.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 554, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and clause (b) of section four of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended, by redefining assistance and eliminating the requirement that fresh fluid milk shall be furnished to relief recipients, or their children.

REPORT OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection. The Chair hears none. The gentleman from Somerset may proceed.

Mr. EALY. I have been asked by the Joint State Government Commission to make a report on the organization and administration of the state government. This report is contained in two volumes, copies of which will be distributed to the Senators.

There has been prepared a statement in connection with this report, which I will file and not read, although I want to refer to a few matters in the report.

All the members of the Commission perhaps do not agree on all of its recommendations. I do not know that I agree with all of the recommendations either but I think a majority of the Commission agreed with them.

The introductory chapter reviews the financial expenditures and problems of state government for the last twelve years. This is the first report of its kind ever prepared. The only other report approaching this work was a study made by the Sterling Committee in 1931 and 1933. This report differs from the Sterling report in that it contains a full statement of the financial problems and expenditures of state government and it should be a valuable hand book for legislative state administrators and students of public administration.

Among the recommendations in this report, Mr. President, is the establishment of a unit to look after bills as they are introduced and pass through the two branches of the General Assembly, so as to correct errors and save reprinting, as so often occurs.

A special study has been made of auditing practices in the Commonwealth, which indicates a duplication of auditing in many respects and it is thought there will be considerable saving by following the recommendations of the Commission.

One of the recommendations is that mercantile tax appraisers be eliminated and the levying of mercantile taxes by appraisers should be discontinued and the tax placed on a self-assessing basis with centralized collection by the Department of Revenue instead of having payments made to the county treasurers.

This report, Mr. President, recommends the removal of the Department of Internal Affairs from the Administrative Code. It recommends the setting up of a bureau of local government financed in the Department of Internal Affairs to assist local governments in furnishing information.

I shall not read all the recommendations as set forth in this statement and ask simply permission to file it and I further ask that copies of the reports be distributed to the Senators.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection it is so ordered.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, April 23, 1941, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:33 o'clock p. m. until Wednesday, April 23, 1941, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 22, 1941

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, make us ambitious, but not for self. Help us to see the world as it is, good if used for Thee and the common good of all men, but a delusion and a snare if loved for itself alone. Make us rich in good works, and not in things alone. Keep us ever dependable and true. Preserve our going out and our coming in from this time forth and even forevermore. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. VOGT unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HOLLAND.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 81.

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1941.

Whereas, Associated Petroleum Industries, with offices in Philadelphia and representation in Harrisburg, is an unincorporated association of executives representing the major oil and gasoline companies, and interested in advancing the policies of those companies; and

Whereas, The said Associated Petroleum Industries has, through major gasoline and oil company retail and distribution outlets, maintained an organization in every county of the State for the dissemination of propaganda and information favorable to their major companies; and

Whereas, It was brought out in a Report of Proceedings of the Investigation conducted by the Oil Industry Investigating Commission Hearings that the Associated Petroleum Industries did finance and control certain organizations who were made to appear to represent the consumers and users of gasoline and oil; and

Whereas, These organizations were used and maintained primarily as the tools of the large oil interests; and

Whereas, Propaganda, either were by direct mail, by newspapers and magazines, as well as the radio, used to disseminate so-called "consumer arguments" under false pretense; and

Whereas, In these hearings the names of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, the Keystone Automobile Club, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, Highway Users Conference, certain motor clubs, certain truck associations, the good roads people, cement people, and bus associations, appeared as being financed in part or in whole by the Associated Petroleum Industries; and

Whereas, The names of elected, as well as appointed, officers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appear in this probe as being in the employ of the Associated Petroleum Industries; and

Whereas, Certain organizations that are mentioned in this investigation have been very active in having enacted into law an increased weight truck bill; and

Whereas, Lobbying methods used in this Session are explained thoroughly in the Proceedings of the Oil Industry's Investigation Hearings, are the same as being used today, therefore be it Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That it is the duty of this Legislature, in protecting the interests of the people of Pennsylvania, to conduct an investigation of the Associated Petroleum Industries, and their numerous affiliated organizations, and for this purpose there is hereby created a joint legislative commission to consist of three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, and three Senators to be appointed by the President pro tempore. The commission shall serve without compensation; and shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly as soon as possible. The commission shall have power to meet, hold hearings and make its investigations whether or not the General Assembly is in session. The commission may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel, experts, clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the commission.

Resolved, That the commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any proper person, corporation, partnership or association to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters with respect to the oil industry in the Commonwealth inquired into by the commission for and on behalf of the General Assembly, and to procure such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum may be served upon any proper person, corporation, partnership or association and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth or by the General Assembly itself. Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmation to witnesses appearing before the commission.

Resolved, That if any person, corporation, partnership or association wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the commission or to produce any books, papers, records or documents subpoenaed by the commission, the commission, or any member thereof, shall file a petition with a court of common pleas having competent jurisdiction over said person, corporation, partnership or association, setting forth such facts. The said court of common pleas, or a judge thereof, shall thereupon issue a rule upon said person, corporation, partnership or association, returnable no less than five nor more than seven days from service thereof, commanding said person, corporation, partnership or association to appear before said court and show cause why the subpoena, subpoena duces tecum or similar order of said commission shall not be complied with.

Resolved, That if said person, corporation, partnership or association, upon the return day of said rule to show cause, is or are unable to show legal cause why the subpoena, subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission should not be complied with, the said court of common pleas shall forthwith enter an order of court directing said person, corporation, partnership or association to comply with the terms of the said subpoena, subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission. If thereupon, such person, corporation, partnership or association shall refuse or fail to comply with the said order of court, the said court of common pleas shall forthwith adjudge said person, corporation, partnership or association to be in contempt of court and such person, corporation, partnership or association shall thereupon forthwith be subject to the penalties provided by the Commonwealth in such cases: Provided further, That if any subpoena, subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission is deemed invalid by the court, the commission is authorized to issue a proper subpoena, subpoena duces tecum or order against such person, corporation, partnership or association.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 201, entitled:

An Act to amend a certain appropriation item contained in section two of Act No. 69-A approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine page sixty) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine" by deferring for a short period of time certain payments required to meet the Sinking Fund requirements of Veterans' Compensation Bonds.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

EXETER TOWNSHIP JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House the Tenth Grade of the Exeter Township Junior High School, Berks County, the guests of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Wolf.

RESOLUTIONS

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. PAUL A. BRUNNER and MARKS offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, Several weeks ago it was charged on the floor of this House that a great deal of oil was being spread among some of the Members by unknown and powerful forces; and

Whereas, Startling evidence has been brought to our attention of the affiliation to be soon consummated between one of our Members and one of the members of such oil interests; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives has today learned of the engagement of the Honorable Lloyd L. Wolf to Gwendolyn Spencer of 1512 Palm Street, Reading, Pennsylvania, who at present is secretary to her father, an executive of the Atlantic Refining Company; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives felicitates the happy couple upon the announcement of their engagement; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed by the Chief Clerk of this House to all interested parties.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Wolf.

Mr. WOLF. Mr Speaker, I suppose I had better speak now because this will probably be the last chance I will get. I will see Paul Brunner and the other members from Berks County later.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. SARRAF and KEENAN offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, The Honorable John J. Baker by his prodigious labors in the House, has often given birth to legislation of a superior statesmanlike quality; and

Whereas, In spite of all such efforts, the latest honor came to him, not as a result of his own activities, but from sources beyond his immediate control; and

Whereas, He is the youngest looking grandfather to as yet grace the Hall of the House; and

Whereas, His daughter, Mrs. Rose Elacho has, on April 20th, given birth to a baby boy; and

Whereas, John now has a worthy successor to carry on the tradition of the Baker dynasty; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby felicitates the Honorable John J. Baker on the birth of a grandson, and wishes both him, and his daughter and son-in-law great joy in the progress through life of his grandson; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the proud and beaming grandparents and parents.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the sponsors of this resolution. I am now in the class with the former Speaker and the present Speaker.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. WEINGARTNER offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Honorable A. S. Batchelor, a member of the House of Representatives during the legislative sessions of 1929 and 1931, and of the Senate of Pennsylvania during the regular sessions of 1933 and 1935, as well as numerous special sessions, died on April 13th in St. Margaret's Hospital, Pittsburgh, after a five months' illness.

Senator Batchelor was a banker, merchant and funeral director. He was president of the First National Bank of Monaca, president of the Penn-Beaver Hotel Association, president of the Western Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' Association, a member of Rochester Lodge 229 F. & A. M., past commander of the Beaver Commandery, Knights Templars, Pittsburgh Consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, and Syria Temple, Monaca I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias, F. O. E., Woodmen of the World, and the First Baptist Church of Rochester, therefore, be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives pause in the midst of its deliberations to pay reverence to the memory of its former member, and offer its condolence to the widow and family of the deceased, in the form of a certified copy of this resolution, to be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to Mrs. Jessie Holmes Batchelor of 430 Atlantic Ave., Monaca, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, his widow.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. O'NEILL offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, We have learned today of the passing of the mother of the Honorable Martin F. Kenehan; and

Whereas, Catherine (Kelley) Kenehan was well known in Lackawanna County for her devotion to her family, her church and her community; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to the family of the deceased as a token of the House of Representatives' great sympathy for them in their present bereavement.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Munley for Mr. KENEHAN for the remainder of the week on account of death in the family.

FORMER MEMBERS WELCOMED

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 75, as follows:

An Act to amend section two thousand one hundred and one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by fixing the minimum salaries or compensation for paid firemen and paid employees of the fire department in such cities

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section two thousand one hundred and one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2101 Organization of Fire Bureau Maintenance Apparatus and Compensation of Paid Firemen and Paid Employees of the Fire Department Each City may organize a fire bureau with or without pay make appropriations for the maintenance of the same prescribe rules and regulations for the government of the officers and companies belonging thereto and purchase fire engines hooks ladders trucks fire alarms and other apparatus for the extinguishment of fires

The salary or compensation of the paid firemen or paid employees of the fire department except the chief engineers and the assistant chief engineers shall in no case be less than the following amounts

Sixteen hundred dollars ($1,600) per annum for the first year of service and an additional annual increment of eighty dollars ($80.00) for each year of service after the first year not exceeding six (6) such annual increments All paid firemen or paid employees of the fire department in any city of the third class shall from the time this act becomes effective be entitled to salaries or compensation in accordance with this act including the increment credits accrued for service prior to the effective date of this act provided that the salaries or compensation of a paid fireman or paid employee of the fire department shall not after the effective date of this act be reduced below the amount he is receiving at the time this act becomes effective for the reason that he has not sufficient annual increment credits to entitle him according to the preceding provisions of this act to compensation he is then receiving or be reduced for any other reason whatsoever

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I believe this is probably the worst anti-home rule bill that has come before the House. The purpose of this bill is to increase the salaries of firemen in some forty-five cities of the state of Pennsylvania. These cities contain about fifteen to twenty percent of the entire population and range in population from seven thousand up to one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants, yet this bill proposes the identical salaries for cities of seven thousand population as it does for cities of one hundred fifty thousand population. I submit to you on the basis of this one thing alone this bill should be defeated. I cannot understand how the members of this House will support any bill that provides the identical minimum salaries for a small town as it does for metropolitan cities.

I cannot see why we should be meddling in the affairs of forty-five cities of the state as Legislators. If this bill or another bill provided for an appropriation of the entire increase, I would be inclined somewhat to favor this bill, but we have no right as state Legislators to tell the citizens of this State how much they shall pay their policemen and then fail to provide any of the funds for paying them. I contend this is taxation without representation, and we all know what that means. My county, Mr. Speaker, has no cities of the third class but I know and you know just as soon as this bill is passed through the House and pushed through the Senate that in a couple more years the same forces that are behind this Bill will come back and attempt to legislate for one hundred boroughs in the State of Pennsylvania.

I have here an editorial from one of the leading Harrisburg newspapers which I would like to read. It goes on to say:

"Perhaps not in twenty years since the Pennsylvania Legislative sessions have been giving cities the run-around on home rule has the issue been as specifically drawn as now. More than ever the people in cities know the facts. Their resentment is rising. It is certain that individual members of the Legislature are going to be listed as for or against the people in the cities. Names and records will be preserved and should any member seek re-election little more than a year hence, the public will know on which side of the home rule issue they stood.

This is the only method left to the people. Why in the world the two parties do not assume responsibility in this conflict is testimony of lack of statesmanship. There is no better political asset for a party than to write its record in favor of the people running their home affairs as they choose. There has been a lot of talk over "home rule" and the people's rights to have it. The time for action has come."

I also would like to read some extracts from letters I have received from high public officials of the third class cities of Pennsylvania. I have received letters from practically every third class city in the state of Pennsylvania opposing this particular bill. I do not think there is a single Mayor of a third class city or a single councilman who is in favor of this bill, and I submit to you when these duly elected officials are opposed to a bill of this kind it is time we decide to legislate for and not against home rule.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to read extracts from letters I have received from officials of the third class cities. I am listing these letters by number and not by the name of the town or by the name of the person who wrote the letter. I would like to read first a letter from city number one. In this letter—and it is quite a long letter it states:

"It seems to me that the whole spirit of these various acts are a distinct violation of the Home Rule Amendment. The Mayor and Council fix the wages and the number of men on the departments. These officials are elected by and are the official representatives of the people. Every two years the people have the opportunity to elect or reject these officials. The city employes are employes of the people in the city in which they reside and in my judgment these elected officials are better able to judge the minimum wages, hours and number of employes than some person or persons three hundred miles away who know nothing of local conditions. This type of legislation smacks of totalitarianism as it denies the peoples' own representatives the right to control their own affairs and puts it instead in the hands of a super state government."

A letter from City No. 2:

"We do not believe it would be fair for the legislators to set the salaries for men for whom they are not responsible. There is nobody in a better position to judge the salaries than the public officials who are responsible for the affairs of the city."

From City No. 3:

"I am very much opposed to the legislature fixing a minimum salary for police and firemen as was proposed at a former session. It seems to me that that denies the city the right to control its financial affairs and would unquestionably work a serious hardship."

A letter from City No. 4:

"As to firemen, that are 74 firemen each receiving eighteen hundred dollars for the year; one man fireman receiving seventeen hundred twenty-five dollars and two firemen receiving sixteen hundred fifty dollars. Under the proposed new act the cost to the city for firemen would be the sum of $176,400 which is $38,175 higher than the present cost for the year. Our firemen and patrolmen are selected from our Civil Service Register in the order of their rating received in the Civil Service Examination. We have a large waiting list at this time; in fact, we have never had any difficulty in securing men of high type for these positions as we always have plenty of applicants."

Letter from City No. 5:

"Observations as made discloses that these promotors of legislative bills, are men who play for political control, by having members of a large group, large in the sense of the police force, feel that they owe their well-being to these political profiteers, and thus are able to get worthless legislative acts through. A great majority of these officers do not earn what they get, and there is always the hue and cry to advance wages and yet they are not required to do anything additional for this added suggested recompense.

All cities, boroughs, and townships have been begging for home rule, for some years, and yet in the face of all this, state and government representatives are encrouching and taking away more of the rights with each Session. I still feel that the people who have to pay the taxes in cities, boroughs and townships should have the right to say what salaries or wages should be paid to its employes, and I also further believe that if such a bill as here proposed were passed, fixing salaries, and the municipalities were to take such matters to the courts, it would be unquestionable be declared unconstitutional."

Mr. Speaker, I think these letters are sufficient proof along with some thirty-five others that I received, that there is not one of the third class cities in the state of Pennsylvania that desires to have this bill passed through its duly elected officials.

I might go on to make a number of other statements, but I believe as I said before, this is the worst anti-home rule bill that has been offered in this House in this session. I thank you.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he has in his possession any letters from cities in Fayette County.

Mr. DIX. I probably have, Mr. Speaker, but these letters are confidential.

Mr. TARR. Has the gentleman from Wayne received any communication from either the mayor or city council of Uniontown, Connellsville or Brownsville, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I have received letters from practically every third class city in Pennsylvania.

Mr. TARR. Has the gentleman received letters from Connellsville, Uniontown or Brownsville?

Mr. DIX. Are they third class cities, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TARR. They are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Well, I have some of them, but I cannot remember all of the forty five cities, Mr. Speaker, to determine offhand whether I have received from all of the forty five.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker is the gentleman a member of the committee on Third Class Cities?

Mr. DIX. I am not a member of the committee on Third Class Cities, Mr. Speaker, but as I said before, this is the opening wedge to drive out home rule from every city and borough in Pennsylvania.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for the elucidation. I would like to ask the gentleman further if in the county in which he is located there are any third class cities?

Mr. DIX. No, there are not, Mr. Speaker, but there is one approaching the third class city status, with 7,000 population.

Mr. TARR. Just one more question, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman spoke a moment ago about the unconstitutionality of this act, and not being an attorney I would like to ask on what basis the gentleman gives that opinion.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I base that on the fact of being taxed with representation. That is why the Revolutionary War was fought, taxation without representation.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of the bill now under discussion. Perhaps I shall be called a foe of home rule, but if being a foe of home rule means adequate pay for firemen in third class cities, then I guess we would all like to be wearing that banner.

Whether or not we want to discuss the home rule bill is beside the question. There seems to be no one who cares what the fireman is paid if he happens to be saving you children or your property. I know that the cry is always made that they sit in the station house with nothing to do at all and get enough pay. This is all right, I guess, but we are all too willing to let them sit at the station house just as long as we know that our house, our wives, our mothers and children are protected, that the firemen are ready to go out.

I am not going to debate at length the bill, but just wish to say that being a representative of a county which has three third class cities I have received no communication against the bill. I have been in touch with at least two mayors and some members of the council during the past week, and nothing was said about the bill. Assuming that those persons who represent the third class cities would be more qualified to speak upon the wishes of those cities, I ask the House to vote for the bill.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, I represent only a third class city, and I want to say at this time that I believe it should be left up to Council of the third class cities as to what they shall pay firemen. They know better than anybody else. One city may pay seven thousand and another city one hundred twenty-five thousand. I don't see how we can legislate the pay of firemen. There are certain third class cities that have volunteer firemen, paying them nothing, so what are you going to do with those firemen? I would like to ask the members to vote this bill down because I do not think it is a fair bill, as it has been presented by several members who do not have a third class city in their district, and I think the members from the third class cities should be recognized.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose very vigorously this bill. In the first place it is a typical home rule bill—it is a bill against home rule if any bill ever was or ever will be.

Now, as regards increase in salaries of the firemen, I think as a matter of general principle, that firemen as well as other civil employes should be entitled to increments over the basic salary with which they started. Just what the increment may be each year is, of course, I say and the proponents of home rule say, a matter entirely for the local communities to handle.

I know the argument has been raised that the councilmen raised their own salaries, and they raised the salaries of Mayors and City managers. That is all true. But if the firemen wish to make an issue of it, it should be a local election issue. They have the organization and they have the ability to go out among the people in their various communities and go after this increase, and if one council will not give it to them, then let them elect councilmen in their own communities who will give them a fair increment each year, based on the financial condition and the financial ability of the municipality to pay increments. We asked earlier that this bill be given a public hearing in order that the cities affected would have a chance to come down here and present their side of the case, as to just how seriously it was going to affect the financial condition on these various communities.

There are only two places where you can get these increases. Cities have only two sources of taxation, outside of the city of Philadelphia, of course, which has a system of taxing wages. We are not going into that argument today, but cities of the third class have only two ways of raising money, one of which is by taxing real estate and the other is by a small personal tax which returns very little.

You can raise the money, of course, for these increases to the firemen if you dig into the budgets and do away with certain vital city services that are now furnished to the communities. That of course you can do, but I venture to say that there isn't one fireman, there isn't one citizen in any of those cities that would vote to do away with any of the vital city services furnished today under the budget and set up by the third class cities. So, not being willing to do that, they only have one source left and that is to put an increase in tax on real estate. Let us follow that through to the logical conclusion. If we are going to do this for the firemen, if we are going to be fair to the policemen, if we are going to be fair to every other civil service or other employee of the third class cities, we have the right to do it for them, and I ask where are we going to end? We started back in 1910 to legislate here in Harrisburg providing increments for teachers. That is fine—I do not think the teachers get paid enough, but the local school districts have to pay it, and in fact when the local school districts got up against hard times and the depression years we had in the last ten years, local school districts went bankrupt, and that left only one source of additional taxation which was real estate, and real estate couldn't stand the burden, and the taxes could not be paid. Now here we are again on the same proposition. We in the legislature sit down here and say in effect, "We don't care where you get the money, but you have got to get it." I say if the Legislature wants to pass this kind of a bill, let them put the bill back into committee and furnish an appropriation by the state. I would like to repeat that statement, Mr. Speaker, and members of he House, if the Legislature wants to pass this kind of a bill helping the firemen let them put into the bill a provision carrying an appropriation from the State to help the cities pay those firemen.

As I said before I think the firemen ought to have increase from time to time; there is no argument on that at all, but how it is to be obtained of course is another matter.

Here we are attempting to pass one law, Mr. Speaker, that effects forty-six third class cities in Pennsylvania with a population of some million and a half. These forty-six third class cities all have different populations. It runs from eleven thousand in Arnold to one hundred forty thousand in Erie. The number of firemen employed in third class cities run from three in Arnold to one hundred forty in Erie. Based on the population figures we have different real estate taxes and different real estate assessments. In other words the city of Arnold of course, would only hav small real estate assessments as compared with the city of Erie which would have a very large real estate assessment. Then again the financial condition and the economic condition surrounding one third class city may be entirely different from other third class cities and may be different from other cities in Pennsylvania. In other words, the economic conditions and financial conditions of all these third class cities vary materially from each other.

To illustrate how vicious this bill is, and how radical it is as affecting these different communities with different populations, I have compiled here very briefly seven or eight different classes.

Let us take the first city of Arnold, with a population of 11,375, and the city of New Kensington with a population of 16,762. They each have three paid firemen. It is going to cost the city of Arnold the sum of five hundred sixty dollars each year of an increase, and the city of New Kensington one hundred thirty dollars. Now what is fair about that? Here is the city of Arnold with it's five thousand less population than the city of New Kensington, yet it is going to cost the city of Arnold four hundred dollars more to pay these firemen than another city that has five thousand more population, as I said before with a much bigger real estate assessment to back up these increases.

Then take the city of Beaver Falls with a population of 17,147 and Meadville with a population of 16,698. The city of Beaver Falls, mind you, has only four paid firemen and the city of Meadville thirteen paid firemen. The increase in the city of Beaver Falls with only four firemen is one thousand two hundred dollars, and the increase in the city of Meadville with thirteen paid firemen is only twice as much. Here is a city that has three times as many paid firemen, yet it is going to cost them only twice as much; the city of Meadville will pay two thousand four hundred sixty-three dollars. Now, that isn't fair. This shows how radical this bill is.

Let us take the city of Duquesne with a population of 21,396 and the city of Butler with a population of 23,568. I am showing you these different brackets, comparing the number of firemen that each city employs and taking them according to the population in each one. The city of Duquesne has sixteen paid firemen, now mark this carefully—the city of Butler has twenty-one paid firemen. It is going to cost of the city of Duquesne, with sixteen paid firemen on the one thousand dollar increase and the city of Butler with twenty-one paid firemen only five more, seven thousand nine hundred dollars of an increase each year or six times as much with only five more paid firemen. What is fair about that? That shows again how radical is this legislation.

Let us take the city of Easton with a population of 34,468, the city of Williamsport with a population of 45,729, and the city of New Castle with a population of 48,674. The city of Easton has thirty-four paid firemen. Williamsport has forty-eight and New Castle has forty-four. It will cost Easton an annual increment each year of $6,920; Williamsport each year $16,208, nearly three times as much, with only fourteen more paid firemen. The city of New Castle with forty-four paid firemen, will have to pay an increment of $13,452.

Now let us take the two cities of Altoona and Harrisburg. Altoona has 82,000 population and Harrisburg has 80,339 population—and might I repeat that the real estate assessments in all these cities is in direct proportion, to the population. That is of necessity, a well known fact; it would have to be. Altoona has eighty-three paid firemen and Harrisburg has sixty-six. It will cost the city of Altoona $15,052, with seventeen more paid firemen than has the city of Harrisburg, it will cost the city of Altoona $15,000 and the city of Harrisburg $21,000 annual increase each year.

The city of McKeesport with 54,000 population has sixty-two firemen, practically the same number of firemen as the city of Harrisburg and will only have an increase of $4,905 or about one-fourth of what it will cost Harrisburg.

Let us take the cities of Wilkes-Barre and Erie. Wilkes-Barre has a population of 86,626 while Erie has a population of 115,967. Wilkes-Barre has one hundred nineteen firemen and Erie has one hundred forty paid firemen. And Erie with its immense population, greater than any other third class city, it will only cost them $8,620 increment while it will cost Wilkes-Barre $13,810 increment each year, almost twice as much.

May I bring to the attention of the members of the House the fact that there are ten third class cities in Pennsylvania that have no paid firemen who are in no way affected by this act.

I haven't had a chance to look into the constitutionality of this act. On that basis there may be some grounds that the law may not be constitutional. I wouldn't want to make a definite statement one way or the other on that point. But we do know this, and I have tried to set these facts up for you, here is one law affecting all these forty-six third class cities, ranging in population from eleven thousand to one hundred nineteen thousand with paid firemen ranging from three to one hundred nineteen, all having different financial positions, all having different economic conditions, all having different working conditions, all different classes of people, and yet we are attempting down here to set up one law that will legislate for the group as a whole. This to my mind, Mr. Speaker, is just plain ridiculous. As I said before, I want to drive this point home if I can, here we are starting with firemen, and there is also a policemen's bill. Where are we going to stop? Next year there will be another bill to increase the pay of all of our city employees with a certain increment each year. It is going to go on year after year. Where is it going to stop? We had a teachers' increments bill, and we come down here year after year during each legislative session and pass deficiency appropriation bills, and in 1937 and 1938 the school districts had to close the schools because of this increment. Because the state could not help them.

We are getting ourselves into that same mess, and I am arguing, I am pleading and I am hoping that the Members will not vote for this bill. I am asking all my colleagues in the House to vote against this bill.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the three gentlemen, Mr. Dix, Mr. Yester, and Mr. Auker, I notice in the Legislative Journal that when the bill to raise the pay for the police and firemen in the city of Philadelphia was before the House all of them voted for the bill.

Also in answer to Mr. Yester in the city of McKeesport last Friday evening at a special meeting of council, Councilman George F. Young, director of the Department of Finance and Accounts was in conference with the mayor and other officials several times in the past few days, discussing the possibility of a raise in wages. Mr. Young disclosed the proposal for higher wages for the municipal workers, and a council meeting, when Councilman Rosenberg announced that the employes in his department were not satisfied with four dollars and four dollars and twenty-five cents a day. The city controller, John W. Montgomery, at that time stated that a ten per-cent raise would be entirely reasonable because most of our city employes are underpaid.

Mr. Speaker, in regard as to whether we should come down here and ask legislation for the firemen I have here an act, No. 149, passed in this House and in the Senate and signed by the Governor on June 27th, 1913, at which time they raised the salaries of councilmen of these same third class cities, from three thousand dollars up to four thousand five hundred dollars, also the mayors in the same bill had their salaries raised from three thousand five hundred dollars up to five thousand two hundred dollars.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you in your consideration of this bill to use your same good judgment that you used when you voted for the Philadelphia firemen and policemen, and the same judgment that the men who were in this House at the time they raised the salaries of the mayors and councilmen, and vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Heatherington said that I voted for the Philadelphia bill. I did. That was one city, and I believe if it is for one city it is all right. I am not opposed to raising the wages of firemen. He said the councilmen in the city of McKeesport were considering it. I favor that. But I do not favor coming down here and making legislation involving one set of figures, whether it affects cities of ten thousand or one hundred twenty-five thousand population. I am absolutely not opposed raising wages of firemen, but I do think it should be done by the councilmen who understand the conditions. You heard that the city of McKeesport is figuring on raising the wages of its firemen. I am not opposed to that. The city of Philadelphia is a first class city. If we were to introduce a bill here and arranging the third class cities of ten thousand to twenty-five thousand, from twenty-five to fifty thousand, I would not oppose a bill like that, but to bring a bill here for third class cities arranging them from ten thousand to one hundred twenty-five thousand in the same bill, I cannot see where the fairness is.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to make a few observations on this bill. The question of home rule has been brought into this argument and used by both sides. I believe the Legislature should not have to set the salaries of employes of any third class city, but that it should be left up to the residents of that city, the residents as distinguished from the Council and Mayor. I agree that is the way it should be, but it cannot be as long as some people use home rule as a sword for their own good on other questions. You all have a letter on that subject. You all have a letter on your desks from W. E. Greenwood, President of the League of Third Class Cities. It was just a few weeks ago that we had a public hearing in the Senate when the question of a City Charter for third class cities was taken up. This same Mr. Greenwood came and opposed it, and I might say he was not fair in his answers to my argument. He misquoted me. He said that I made statements that I did not make and I had to depend upon the Senators, upon memory as to what I said rather than upon his claim for what I said. The argument that we cannot set one price for a city ranging in population from ten thousand to one hundred and ten thousand or one hundred and twenty thousand is true, but the solution lies in passing a bill allowing for third class cities. Then each community can finally settle all questions as to rule in their homes and need not come down to the Legislature and ask for something they want when they raise this great shield of home rule to oppose us. I say as long as the League of Third Class Cities is going to regard itself as the third class cities instead of the population of the third class cities and as long as they have home rule in the sections, and as long as they do not have city charter for each city, then I say we must legislate on the questions as they are presented. Until we have a real home rule for these third class cities, under a third class city charter, I believe it is our duty to step in on all these minor questions, and some day they may see the light and allow third class cities to find their own solutions for these questions and remove consideration of all these questions from us.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask all the Members to vote for this bill.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I understand from the gentleman on the other side that I supported a bill that would raise the salaries of the Philadelphia policemen. If I did so, it was certainly under a misapprehension or else my record was not put correctly in the Legislative Journal. I would like to have that record amended to show that I voted "No" on that particular bill.

I have always been opposed to the Legislature setting salaries in any city, or municipality where they do not provide the funds for that increase of salary or a large proportion of it. Any bill that comes into this house that does not provide the funds for this purpose. It is my intention to vote against and to do what I can for the principle of home rule, which principle is certainly being violated in its worst form when we propose to tax people and then not allow them to be represented in that taxation.

I do not intend to prolong this argument, but there are some things that have been said with regard to salaries which I think should be answered. I want to say this, that the great majority of these forty-five or forty-six third class cities provide very excellent salaries. The great majority of these cities provide excellent salaries.

I would like to cite just an average third class city. Here is a city that has fifty paid employes in the fire department. The chief receives two thousand five hundred dollars, and the average salary of these fifty employes in the fire department runs from fifteen hundred dollars to two thousand dollars. Work of this type is not arduous, it is mostly a sit-down job, it is only for emergency purposes, and we all know that where they have volunteer fire companies where they are not paid anything, that these firemen render excellent service, in fact they render service comparable to that of the paid fire department.

I would just like to add a few more words as far as I am concerned Mr. Speaker, and I will not delay this vote any further.

Members of the Assembly, I submit that as state Representatives, it is none of our business what the cities and boroughs do in the way of paying or promoting their employes. I repeat it is none of our business. If we are going to assume the functions of home rule, let us do a real job of it and be done with it once and for all. Let us legislate for all salaries both public and private. We have just as good a right to regulate private salaries as we do to regulate public salaries. There is nothing in this bill to indicate that the state will share the expense of paying for the increase in wages of the third class cities firemen. Local firemen and policemen perform no state function whatsoever and we have no inherent right to legislate against the will of the citizens of third class cities. We have no right to say to them or to any other city employes that you shall receive a certain wage or salary and then say to the taxpayer, "You foot the bill." I thank you very much.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will only take about two or three minutes and then I will be through.

There have been only two arguments advanced so far as I can see that have been used in favor of the bill. One of them is that at a previous session of the Pennsylvania Legislature, they passed a bill raising the salaries of councilmen and mayors or allowed them to be raised. That is true. If that was done it was a big mistake that such a law was ever passed, but if we make one mistake, why repeat the same mistake?

The second argument was in view of this so-called Home Rule Charter bill which is resting in the Senate very peacefully, and as far as I am concerned, and from what I understand of the bill, I hope it is very deeply buried there, because it will materially affect the laws affecting all third class cities, and make it impossible to enact laws affecting third class cities as a unit.

Those are the only two arguments which have been used in favor of the bill. I haven't heard one argument concerning the fact that it increases taxes on real estate. A vote for this bill cannot help but be, a vote to increase taxes on exery home owner in every third class city. That must follow as a matter of course, because that is the only place they are going to get the money.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Dalrymple, George E. Jones and Dix asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WOODRING filed the following reasons for his vote:

With the greatest reluctance I am compelled to vote in the negative on House Bill 751, Printer's No. 264.

The cause of the firemen of Third Class Cities is a worthy and meritorious one. The firemen are woefully underpaid. Those faithful servants who risk their very lives in the protection of our homes, our personal property, and our loved ones ought to be fairly compensated for their services. The instant Bill, however, should be defeated for several reasons: 1. The bill provides for additional expenses without providing for the funds with which these expenses could be paid. 2. The bill is a glaring example of the elimination of home rule. 3. The bill is a usurpation of authority which authority is properly vested in the Councils of the Cities of the Third Class.

Personally, I hope and trust that all of the firemen of Third Class Cities may and will receive adequate salary increase. I hope that members of the respective Councils may recognize the fairness of the request. In the absence of such action. I recommend that a bill be introduced to increase salaries which bill would include an appropriation clause so that the additional amount could be provided from state funds. To such bill I would lend my enthusiastic support.

FORMER MEMBERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this afternoon former members, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Warren K. Hess, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Thomas Weidemann and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. John D. Scorza.

Mr. MIHM. Mr. Speaker, I also wish to call your attention to the presence in the gallery, a former member of this House, Mr. Clair E. McGinnis, from Allegheny County, who is sitting in the gallery with his beautiful bride of almost a week.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mihm, for calling our attention to the presence of Mr. McGinnis.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 393, Printer's No. 235, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 266), entitled "An act to protect trade-mark owners, distributors, and the public against injuries and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard quality under a distinguished trade-mark, brand or name," by extending the provisions thereof to vending equipment used in distributing such articles and further defining parties having a right of action for unfair competition.

was defeated on final passage on Tuesday, April 15th, be reconsidered.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Heatherington, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, on March 26th, almost a month ago the Members of the Committee on Professional Licensure held a public hearing on the bill which is now before us. In that hearing the sentiments of those who are in favor of this bill and the feelings of those who are opposed to it were fully aired. The members of the Committee have weighed everything relating to the makeup of the arguments for and against the bill.

In discussing House Bill 227, I do so with a sincere conviction that it is a good bill and that being a good bill, it ought to be passed.

Is it not a fact that throughout the long struggle of man, brain power, not physical strength has been responsible for his survival. Science tells us that in the early days man did not have enough sheer strength to best the animals or climate around him. He could no more conquer a gorilla with bare hands or live without clothes and shelter in biting winter than can we today. But he learned how to use a club and throw stones at animals to kill them, and, perhaps, greater than all, he learned how to build a fire. It was the use of his mind tha tenabled him to rise above the level of the other animals surrounding him.

In his realization of the fact that he had a mind, it was natural for him to form the concept that he had a spirit. It was his early conclusion that the body and spirit were interrelated and that when the body was interred in the earth, it symbolized but a temporary separation. Some day—some day, thought he, the spirit will cease to roam in far places and will return to its original abode in the body, causing the heart to again beat, the body to stand erect, the eyes to sparkle, the lips to smile and the tongue to speak.

In his crude fashion he was quick to infer that even though he could not lay hold of the departed spirit, he could do something to preserve the remaining body and those who know tell us that early peoples, believing that dead men needed material things in the next world, buried their belongings with them, and made a rudimentary effort to preserve the body.

A crowning example of this is to be found in the opening of the tomb of King Tut, a not so great nor powerful Egyptian King. After three thousand years the old fellow was found in a fair state of preservation. The door leading to his resting place was guarded by the statues of two servants, the coffin containing the mummy of the King was of solid gold. Fine linens and garments were found as well as the King's chariot, his throne and many of his household effects.

In line with the early chain of reasoning the ancient art of embalming came into use. It was a process of filling and surrounding the body with aromatic and antiseptic substances in order to preserve it for the day of resurrection and to prevent corruption.

As time marched on we have learned that bodies of the dead can be preserved for a long time by embalming. The body of Edward I was buried in Westminster Abby in 1307, and, 463 years later it was uncovered and found to be in a perfect state of preservation. Canute, an eleventh century King of England, Denmark and Norway, who once ordered his throne to be placed at the edge of the water as the tide was rising, and commanded the water to go back, and, when it continued to roll over his feet despite his orders, told his followers that only God rules land and sea, was buried in 1036, and, 740 years later was found in a very fresh state of preservation. Many of you here today have a vivid recollection of the search for the body of Paul Jones, whose name shines un-dimmed in American Naval History, who died in Paris in 1792. 113 years later, when his remains were re-buried on the grounds of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, it was found to be in an excellent state of preservation.

I mention these facts to show that there is a significant relation between the past and the present and that the whole panarama is disclosed in House Bill 227.

For many years prior to the passage of the Act of 1931, and its amending act of July 19, 1935, in this Commonwealth, an Undertaker and an Embalmer were looked upon as two separate callings. The formation of strong Undertaking Associations carrying on an aggressive lobby, worked to destroy this separate identity and reached their objective with the passage of the 1931 Act, which defines an Undertaker as any one engaged in the business or profession of Undertaking, or the care, embalming, disposition or burial of the bodies of deceased, in his or her name and on his or her own account, whether such person shall use the title of Undertaker, Undertaker and Embalmer, Embalmer, Funeral Director, Mortician or other term.

By this act, all true Embalmers were relegated to their present subservient position in Pennsylvania. Many men of mature age, married and with dependent families, men of skill and training, often the equal of their ancient Persian, Peruvian and Egyptian forebearers, are reduced to a mere existence. They cannot practice their art without the say-so of those who are questionably protected by the present law.

In the session of the Assembly of 1939, the members were given their oath of office by the Honorable Judge Wickersham of the Dauphin County Court. This snowy-haired man of the law speaks to us regarding the substance of the Bill now under consideration, in the case of Magill vs the Department of Public Instruction, in these words:

> "Embalmers should be licensed and regulated so that there may be the assurance that they are competent to determine that life is extinct before performing their offices and so they may likewise preserve the Sanitary precautions necessary in handling dead human bodies."

In the case of the State of Wisconsin vs. White, the Court made this clear-cut distinction between an Undertaker and an Embalmer, when it stated:

> "An Embalmer is to be distinguished from an Undertaker in that he neither buries, nor takes charge of funerals, nor dresses the body, nor procures the coffin, nor performs the other functions of an Undertaker. His sole function is to so treat the body as to disinfect and preserve it. Chapter 464, Laws of 1921, which requires an Undertaker to procure an Embalmers' license, is invalid and cannot be sustained as essential to the public health, safety, convenience or comfort, since the two callings are too vitally different to permit them being put under one classification."

On this score it can be seen that whilst the Legislature may have lost sight of the fact that undertaking and embalming are two distinct and vitally different callings, the Court in the cases which I have cited, and in many other instances, has recognized the clear distinction between the two callings.

In most states the law distinguishes between an Embalmer and a Funeral director in this respect, in that the Embalmer is one who sells nothing but his service and skill, whereas, the Funeral Director is classed as a retail dealer. In our own state the Supreme Court, in the case of the Commonwealth vs Dinnien, had this to say:

> "The Court Below sustained the Commonwealth's Contentions that the appellant is subject to the tax (mercantile license tax) because in the conduct of his business, he supplies and sells at a profit, caskets, clothes, or shrouds and gloves. He is a retail vendor of or dealer in goods."

The majority of States in these United States grant separate licenses to embalmers. In California, for instance, the law speaks of a Funeral Director as a person, partnership, association, corporation or other organization engaged in or conducting or holding himself or itself out as engaged in each of the following:

> (a) Preparing for the burial or disposal and directing and supervising for burial or disposal of dead human bodies.

(b) Maintaining a funeral establishment for the preparation for the disposition or for the care of dead human bodies.

(c) Using in connection with his or its name or funeral establishment, the words "Funeral Director" or "Undertaker" or "Mortician" or any other title implying that he or it is engaged as a funeral director."

The same law speaks of an Embalmer as follows:

An Embalmer is a person engaged in or holding himself out as engaged in the following practices:

(a) Disinfecting or preserving human bodies.

(b) Preparing for the transportation by railroad, Express company or common carrier of human bodies dead of contagious or infectious disease.

You will notice that the California Law speaks of an undertaker being a person, corporation, partnership, association or person, but, clearly and specifically it speaks of an embalmer in one class, "A person engaged in or holding himself out as engaged in."

My fellow Legislators I ask you to vote for House Bill 227, because

1. It will immediately remove the impossible conditions created by the Act of June 10, 1931, and its amendment.
2. It will restore the embalmer his right to work.
3. It will better safeguard the health and life of the citizens of this Commonwealth, by placing the carrying on by anyone of embalming dead human bodies, under the strict supervision and regulation of a Competent and authorative licensing board.
4. It will create additional revenue for the Commonwealth, in that thousands of embalmers now unlicensed, will be obliged to pay a license fee for his original license or any renewal thereof.
5. It will place this Commonwealth in equal position with all other States, which license and regulate embalming separately from undertaking.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS 22

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 499, as follows:

An Act to amend section eighteen of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" by preventing the reduction in pay or position of any police officer or firemen by reason of any superannuation classification

Section 1 Section eighteen of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 18 No officer clerk or employe in the classified civil service of such city shall be removed discharged or reduced in pay or position except for just cause which shall not be religious or political Further no such officer clerk or employe shall be removed discharged or reduced except during the probationary period until he shall have been furnished with a written statement of the reasons for such action and been allowed to give the removing officer such written answer as the person sought to be removed may desire In every case of such removal or reduction a copy of the statement of the reasons therefor and of the written answer thereto shall be furnished to the civil service commission and entered upon its public records

No police officer or fireman except those dismissed during probationary period shall be removed or discharged except for cause upon written charges and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense Such charges may be filed by any superior officer or by any citizen or taxpayer and shall within thirty days after filing be heard investigated and determined by the commission or by one of the commissioners or by some person or board appointed by the commission to hear investigate and determine the same Where one person is appointed by the commission to hear such charges he shall be a person learned in the law Where a board is appointed to hear such charges at least one member of such board shall be learned in the law The hearing shall be public and the accused and his counsel shall have the right to be heard

The finding and decision of the commission or commissioner or of such person or board when approved by the commission shall be certified to the appointing authority and shall be forthwith enforced by such authority

Provided however That nothing herein contained shall permit the reduction in pay or position of any police officer or fireman by reason of any superannuation classifications

Nothing herein contained shall limit the power or any superior officer to suspend a subordinate for a reasonable period not exceeding thirty days pending hearing and decision Every such suspension shall be without pay Provided however That the commission shall have authority to investigate every such suspension and in case of its disapproval it shall have power to restore pay to the employe so suspended

All papers filed in any hearing under this section shall be public records of the commission

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, in asking your support of House Bill No. 499 I wish to present a few pertinent facts.

For the past year it has ben the practice that, when a policeman or fireman reaches the age of sixty years he has in many instances been reduced in rang from first class to second class, such reduction in rank carrying with it a reduction in pay of five hundred and ninety dollars per year per person.

At this time such artificial standards of demotion may prove a hardship with a stepped-up industrial program. With the taking of younger men for defense needs the Police and Fire Bureaus face an added responsibility and the need for experienced men will become greater.

Such demotions, forcing experienced members of the police and fire forces to do the same work at greatly reduced pay would be both unfair and unwise. A much fairer and wiser solution would call for a physical examination to determine the man's fitness to carry a full schedule of work and no such demotion should occur unless such examination demonstrates that the man is not fit to do the work.

This would be the fair and equitable course to pursue and would ensure that these men who have so faithfully served their city would not suffer an unjust demotion due simply to their having reached the age of sixty years.

So therefore, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I ask support of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1187, as follows:

An Act for conveyance to the United States of America of title in and to certain land comprising the Marcus Hook Pennsylvania Quarantine Station property and ceding to the United States jurisdiction over said land

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Secretary of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby authorized to convey as a donation to the United States of America title to the land and buildings on the Delaware River below Philadelphia Pennsylvania which comprise the Marcus Hook Pennsylvania Quarantine Station property and which is now leased to the United States by the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at a rental of one dollar ($1.00) per annum

The description of the property to be conveyed and jurisdiction ceded to the United States of America shall be such as the proper officials of the Commonwealth and the United States Government may agree upon

Section 2 The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is authorized to furnish the Attorney General of the United States without cost to the United States such evidences of a valid title to the aforesaid land as may be necessary to permit the said Attorney General to approve said title

Section 3 The consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby given in accordance with the seventeenth clause eighth section of the first article of the Constitution of the United States to the acquisition by the United States of the aforesaid land and exclusive jurisdiction in and over the aforesaid land when acquired by the United States is hereby ceded to the United States for all purposes except the service thereon of all civil and criminal processes of the courts of this Commonwealth but the jurisdiction so ceded shall continue no longer than the said United States shall own such lands and so long as the said lands shall remain the property of the United States and no longer the same shall be and continue exempt and exonerated from all State county and municipal assessment taxation or other charges which may be levied or imposed under the authority of this Commonwealth

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman advise why this transfer is being made? What is the purpose?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the Federal government is desirious of constructing a new quarantine station at Marcus Hook, and is desirous of securing title to the land. I also understand in the event that title is not acquired, the site of the station will very likely be changed.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, what department of the state government has approved it?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I don't know, Mr. Speaker, that any particular department has approved it. However, may I state that transfer of the title can only be made with the approval of the Governor, under the bill.

Mr. TURNER. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, the quarantine station located at Marcus Hook at the present time, the State now owns the ground and the buildings and they are leased to the Federal government for the sum of one dollar a year on a 99 year lease. The present buildings are falling down and are badly in need of repairs. Under the present terms of the lease the Federal government cannot and will not repair those buildings and they desire to acquire the title to the ground so that they can build a new station and rebuild the present buildings.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 869, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. First Extraordinary Session 47) entitled "An act to enable persons associations partnerships and corporations to borrow money and secure the repayment thereof by the execution and recordation of chattel mortgages on any chattels of any kind or description providing for bonds with confessions of judgments regulating the assignment and release of such mortgages and designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages" by extending enlarging and removing the limitations from the class of those who may become chattel mortgages by making further provision respecting fees of recorders of deeds in connection with chattel mortgages extension of the lien of said mortgages and defaults of said mortgages and by defining violations and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. First Extraordinary Session 47) entitled "An act to enable persons associations partnerships and corporations to borrow money and secure the repayment thereof by the execution and recordation of chattel mortgages on any chattels of any kind or description providing for bonds with confessions of judgments regulating the assignment and release of such mortgages and designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 That any person association partnership or corporation may enter into an agreement [with and borrow funds from the Government of the United States or any department agency or instrumentality thereof including among others the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the R F C Mortgage Company on the security of the obligation of the borrower and] for the repayment of any funds [so] borrowed or of any then existing indebtedness [to the United States or any department agency or instrumentality thereof may be] evidenced by a bond containing a confession of judgment secured by a chattel mortgage upon any chattel or chattels of any kind or description Such mortgage shall be a lien against the chattel or chattels thereby conveyed and shall be good and available in law against any subsequent purchasers or execution creditors upon the recording thereof as hereinafter directed Such mortgage must be in writing signed by the mortgagor or his agent duly authorized and constituted and duly acknowledged by some person authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds Provisions contained in such chattel mortgage that property of the same class as is covered by the chattel mortgage shall be included in the mortgage lien if acquired by the mortgagor subsequent to the execution of the chattel mortgage and prior to its extinguishment and provisions that the chattel mortgage may secure future advances to be made by the mortgagee at his option within a period of three (3) years from the execution of such chattel mortgage but not to exceed in the aggregate an amount stated in said chattel mortgage and that all advances so made shall be secured by such chattel mortgage equally and to the same extent as the amount originally advanced on the security of such mortgage and that all such future advances shall be a lien upon the property therein described from the time of the recording of such chattel mortgage good and valid against and superior to all rights of subsequent creditors purchasers mortgagees and other lienors and encumbrances and any of them and provisions that the chattel mortgage may include replacements of any of the mortgaged property therein described shall be valid and binding

Section 2 Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The chattel mortgage mentioned in the preceding section when executed and acknowledged as hereinbefore provided shall be recorded in the office for the recording of deeds for the county in which the mortgaged property is actually located at the time of the execution of such chattel mortgage and such recorder is hereby required to index and to record the same at length in a book to be by him kept in his said office to be provided at the expense of said county and to be called "Chattel Mortgage Book" and he shall duly certify the record of all such instruments in the manner provided by law for mortgages on real estate and such recorder shall be entitled to charge and receive for services rendered hereunder such fees as are provided by law for services rendered with respect to mortgages on real estate the following fees

For recording each chattel mortgage seventy-five cents ($.75)

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1105, as follows:

An Act naming the State Military Reservation at Indiantown Gap "Camp Muhlenberg"

Whereas The State Military Reservation at Indiantown Gap by reason of its location has been referred to and known as the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation and

Whereas It is the custom throughout these United States to name such reservations in honor of deceased distinguished militia y persons and

Whereas John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg (1746-1807) preacher and soldier born at Trappe in this Commonwealth entered the Lutheran ministry and thereafter in time of national emergency took up arms in defense of his country becoming a major-general in the Continental Army taking part in the battles of Brandywine Germantown Monmouth and Yorktown and

Whereas Thereafter he became vice-president of the Supreme-Executive Council of Pennsylvania and was electd in 1801 as a Democratic-Republican to the United States Senate and

Whereas The Commonwealth should duly honor the achievements of that distinguished Pennsylvanian the said John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg therefore

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The State Military Reservation at Indiantown Gap in this Commonwealth known and referred to as The Indiantown Gap Military Reservation shall hereafter be known and referred to as Camp Muhlenberg

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in proposing this bill which would name the state military reservation at Indiantown Gap, Muhlenberg, I did so with the full realization that Pennsylvania has many famous military sons. However, we cannot call the Camp by the names of all those persons and I had to select one of them. I could think of no person who deserved this honor more than John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg.

I am not going to burden the membership at this time with a recital of the great heroic and patriotic deeds of General Muhlenberg. In the last week unsolicited aid on the part of the president of Muhlenberg College at Allentown has been received, and I believe it has been very helpful in considering just who General Muhlenberg was and what he did for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and these United States.

I have heard some objection from persons who believe that the camp now has a name, but that is not so. The Camp is in the Indiantown Gap area and the area will, of course, retain its name, but I believe it is true that most of these camps have a name of their own and I think it is time this one should have a name. Therefore, I ask the members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, as Mr. Habbyshaw and I have the honor of representing the Legislative District in which the Military Camp at Indiantown Gap is located, we are interested in its name. We are proud not only of the splendid boys training there, of the capable commanding officer and his competent corps and of the fine physical equipment, but we are also proud of the name of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation by which it is known. We are opposed to changing its name to Muhlenberg.

There is no doubt but that a number of the most capable and loyal citizens of Pennsylvania bear German names, including my own mother. But I do not think it timely to abandon the true American name of Indiantown Gap for the name of Muhlenberg. Conrad Weiser, another good German name, has also been suggested for the Military Camp. Weiser was a diplomat. Whether he used "barroom diplomacy," or whether that form of diplomacy is an innovation of more recent diplomats from Pennsylvania I do not know. I do know however, that Conrad Weiser was a successful diplomat for he prevented the local Indians from joining the Paris-Iroquois Axis during the days of the French and Indian War.

If you insist on naming the Camp a good German name you might use that of my great grandfather, Neitz. He had vision. He saw the necessity of converting the Germans, and after being born in this country went over to Germany and established a church. Measured by present day observations he wasn't any more successful in converting them to the right way of life than his great grandson is in converting this House to his views.

Maybe the supporters of this bill feel that if we change the name of Indiantown Gap to Muhlenberg, Hitler might change the name of Heidelberg to Franklinville, or maybe Sophia to Earleville.

Personally, I know that the people of Dauphin County are opposed to changing the name of Indiantown Gap. Well can they be. It is truly American. It takes its name from an Indian village located at the Gap. The first white settlers there were great American patriots in the forefront of the American Revolution.

It was the settlers of this section who twenty-five months before the Declaration of Independence was signed adopted what are known as the Hanover Resolves in which they called for a closer union of the Colonies as a safeguard of the liberties of the people, and stated, "That in the event of Great Britain attempting to force unjust laws upon us by the strength of arms, our cause we leave to heaven and our rifles." This resolution was adopted on June 4, 1774, and on June 10th, the people of Middletown adopted a similar resolution, and the next day the people of Bill Habbyshaw's town of Hummelstown, followed suit.

The people of Dauphin County, descendants of these great patriots, are anxious to maintain the name of Indiantown Gap, the name by which they have known this spot. I believe that the boys located there, and the people of the Commonwealth as a whole, would prefer it to Muhlenberg.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would not object to this bill, but Indiantown Gap is known all over Pennsylvania and I see no reason for changing the name of Indiantown Gap. When our boys leave from various parts of Pennsylvania as selectees, they usually are asked, "Where are you going?" They say, "We are going to Indiantown Gap." We know where they are going and they know where they are going, but if they say they are going to Muhlenburg we wouldn't know where they were going, we would not know where to find them.

I object to this bill, and I hope the Members of this House will not support it, but will retain the name of Indiantown Gap.

Mr. SARGE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition of this bill, but first I want to correct a wrong impression that has been created by the two gentlemen who represent Dauphin County. In view of my innate modesty it is pretty hard for me to do this, but I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that Indiantown Gap is located in the fairest county in the state of Pennsylvania the County of Lebanon, and not in Dauphin County.

Very briefly I want to voice my objection to this bill. We of Lebanon County, Mr. Speaker, have a certain sort of respect for the name Indiantown Gap. We do not want to sacrifice that name merely for the privilege of changing the name to Muhlenburg. I hope the Members of this House will see fit to oppose this bill, and again were it not for my innate modesty I could suggest the name of a certain Lebanon County citizen, and perhaps it would be far better to name this camp after his name than to name it after Muhlenburg.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to lend my support to this bill for the reason that Mr. Muhlenberg was an outstanding Pennsylvanian and an outstanding American. Mr. Muhlenberg was at one time a vice-president of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Mr. Muhlenberg was elected to the first Congress of the United States, he was a member of the United States Senate. He occupied other important offices in both the state of Pennsylvania and in the United States. More than that, however, Mr. Speaker, and Members of this House it is the spirit of Muhlenberg that commends him to me in the consideration of naming the Camp located at Indiantown Gap. When Muhlenberg was in the army of the Colonies he was criticised for having left his church to join the army. His reply was as follows:

> "I am clergyman, it is true, but I am a member of society as well as the poorest layman. My liberty is as dear to me as to any man. Shall I then sit still and enjoy myself at home when the best blood of the Continent is spilling? Do you think that if America is conquered I should be safe? Far from it. And would you not sooner fight like a man than die like a dog?"

Mr. Muhlenberg was a minister of the gospel, and in 1775 while occupying a charge in a Colony of Virginia, at the time of the Revolutionary War, he stepped down from the pulpit with these words:

> "There is a time for all things, a time to preach and time to pray; but there is also a time to fight and that time has now come."

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it seems to me that a man who had the spirit that Muhlenberg had, should commend himself to our consideration. It seems to me that we cannot do better than to name this Camp after Muhlenberg. I might say in answer to the opposition that has been voiced, that the Camp will still be at Indiantown Gap, and for those fond parents or friends, or relatives, or the boys out there, they will still be at Indiantown Gap, at Camp Muhlenberg, if you vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be some difficulty in determining in what county this military reservation at Indiantown Gap is located, and there also seems to be a dispute among the Members of the House as to the name which should be given to that military reservation. Therefore, in the spirit of compromise, I would like to offer the name of a great war governor, the present Governor of Pennsylvania, Arthur James.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I feel in justice to an ancestor, something should be said to repudiate some of the statements made by the gentleman from Dauphin. He seems to have given the impression to the Members of the House that all of the statesmen who fought for this country have German names. I know the names of Ryan, Donovan, Sheridan, the Mitchells, the O'Tooles and I might add the name of Holland is still Irish.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as we are having such a hard time to decide what the name will be, whether we shall name it after a German, an Irishman or an Englishman, I wonder if we could not find here someone who has both Italian and German blood in him and just call it for short plain "Axis"

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, we have at last found out where Indiantown Gap is. I suppose that great Indian scout who served as an interpreter to Conrad Weiser did not have any difficulty in locating that camp and I suppose he knew which county it was in, even if he did not know, or if we today don't know, or are not quite so sure of the exact location. It seems in the discussion here today that all of the early patriots came from the eastern part of Pennsylvania. I think if we are going to name it some other name, we might as well go out to western Pennsylvania and find some great names of early patriots there who, too, served the country in the war of Independence or in the early frontier days in the making of a new nation in the wilderness of Pennsylvania. We might name it after McDowell, who was a former member of the House of Representatives and one of the great leaders, or we might name it after a Fayette county leader, William Finley. I think if you look at the bill you will note that Muhlenberg was a vice president of the Supreme Executive council of Pennsylvania. I suppose most of us know of the peculiar type of government we had in the early history of Pennsylvania, when the Supreme Executive Council had a veto power no one now possesses over the acts of the Governor, but I am wondering if any of us know just what kind of a ticket he ran on in 1801 when he was elected as a Democrat and Republican. I am rather interested in hearing what kind straight ticket voting got him elected in those days.

Mr. Speaker, I believe these people up in the edge of Dauphin and Lebanon Counties, who claim joint ownership of this famous camp, have a right to have the name go down as it is. We might find that some of these new men who are selected or some of the National Guard, rather, will entrain for Muhlenberg and perhaps Lafayette will get some more football players by mistake. We all believe that the interest of the patriotism won't be bettered by changing the name at this late date. Nothing that we can do here will add to the glory that Muhlenberg rightly deserves and I think this bill will not accomplish anything but will engender a feeling in that we are tampering with things historical which we would be better off to let alone

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I have been trying to steal things away from Dave Sarge, but I have not been able to get away with it, and again today I am not able to get away with it. In order to keep the records straight I might say that a very large part of Indiantown Gap is of course located in Lebanon County, but there is also a portion of it in Dauphin County. Therefore, I am glad to claim joint ownership of Indiantown Gap with Dave Sarge and Bill Habbyshaw.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, my county of Indiana has two very large delegations at Indiantown Gap, one from Blairsville and the other from Indiana proper.

I rise to oppose this bill for one reason which has not been brought out as yet. The people in Indiana have finally learned to spell the name of Indiantown Gap, and in the event the name is changed to Muhlenberg I fear we will be unable to spell it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Dauphin know of any other military reservation which is named after the locality where it is found, rather than some other name?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether there are any other or not.

Mr. READINGER. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I have enjoyed the remarks made in the debate on this bill very much. Most of them, I believe, are facetious and very amusing. I noted with particular interest the fact that the great-grandfather or the great-great-frandfather of the gentleman from Dauphin went to Germany to convert some Germans, and it appears to me he had no greater success in doing that than the great-great-grandson has had in converting the Democratic party to the James program.

I would like to add also in answer to one of the statements made concerning the feelings of the boys at Indiantown Gap at the present time. Some one told me just today that he had spoken to some of them and they said, 'We don't care, we are going to Virginia next month anyway." But apart from the amusing statements which have been made here today I still think this camp should be given the name of an illustrious Pennsylvanian.

I might add at this point, in reply to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that I think he made an error. It should be named Camp Estes instead of Camp James.

Once again I am going to ask that you support this bill and honor this great Pennsylvanian.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MELCHIORRE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of our Speaker and the Philadelphia delegation, I want to take this opportunity to thank those Members of the House and Senate who so graciously traveled to Philadelphia last Thursday, April seventeenth, to join us in our testimonial to our beloved Speaker, Elmer Kilroy, a gentleman's gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also appreciates very much the Members having attended this banquet.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Municipal Corporations to meet during the session of the House.

REPORT ON ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would rather that someone else than I make this report, because I believe there is a man who as a Member of this House to whom much credit is due for the fact that we are now about to present the report. That man has labored hard from the summer of 1939 when the Joint State Government Commission was organized and until this report was sent to the printers. I refer to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Habbyshaw, who was chairman of the subcommittee of the Joint State Government Commission, on departmental organization.

This afternoon there was in this House a former Member, the Honorable Philip Sterling of Philadelphia, under whose guidance was written the Sterling Committee Report, and it has been in use for a great many years and was perhaps the first hand book on the state government of Pennsylvania to be published and to be given to the public. So valuable have the reports become that they tell me it is hardly possible to buy one. They are selling now at five dollars apiece. The Sterling Committee report was a fine piece of work and it has been useful not only to the officials of the state government for a number of years but also to students of state government in Pennsylvania and has been constantly in demand.

The Joint State Government Commission thought there should be some text book or manual that would be available to the Members of the House and to the officials of the state government in order that they might readily find the duties, functions and powers that make up the organization of the different departments, boards and commissions of the state government.

This report, as I said, was prepared under the direction of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Habbyshaw, but he is too modest to appear upon the floor, and has forced upon me the duty of presenting the report.

The report together with the recommendations are here. I am not going to attempt to read a statement which we have prepared with reference to the report. The statement has been given to the Press. The report will speak for itself.

It has been done by the offset method rather than putting it in final printing, because we felt that during this session there might be changes in some of the functions of the various departments and that should be left until the session has been completed when changes could be made.

During this session there certainly should be some provision for the printing of this report and the binding of it in a proper volume so that it may be in form for distribution, so that every Member of the Legislature may have it upon his desk and in the future Members may be able to secure copies of it.

In a separate cover you will find the recommendations of the Commission. They are quite extensive. They refer to many things that have been recommended not only by the departments, but have been gleaned by the members of the sub-committee of the Commission during the many, many hearings that were held and from reports that were delivered to the Commission.

In passing, I do not think that I ought to omit to say that the work in preparing this report was under the direction of Mr. Wasserman, executive director of the Joint-State Government Commission. The report would not have been possible had it not been for the help of a great many people on the outside.

The Pennsylvania State Economy League loaned out some of their staff in the latter part of 1940 and the early part of this year, and in the preparation of this volume some of the young men came in and helped out as volunteer employes, spent many hours and many Sundays in the office of the Joint-State Government Commission in order that we might have this work.

We hoped to be able to put it on the desks of the Members when the session convened. That was not found possible because of the difficulty encountered by many of the Departments in having the volume compiled. It had to be sent back to the Departments so that they could review it. It had to come back to be checked and that took a longer time than we anticipated. The copy was sent to the printers over a month ago and it has taken considerable time to get it from the printer and have it available for you.

There are copies now available for each Member of the House, and I ask, Mr. Speaker, that at a convenient time the Page boys distribute these volumes to the Members. Remember that they are scarce and the reports are volumnious. The Members should guard them very carefully. The Page boys should distribute these volumes only to those Members whose names appear upon the volumes, and if the Member is not at his desk I would suggest that it be taken back to the Joint-State Government Commission office.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware submits to the General Assembly a report and also a supplement to the report from the Joint-State Government Commission on the organization and administration of Pennsylvania State Government. The reports will be noted in the Journal of the House. Copies of the reports will be distributed to the Members at this time. The Page boys are instructed to distribute them to the Members.

The Chair would inquire of the gentleman from Delaware whether in his opinion the report should be printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that is a rather difficult question to answer off-hand. It seems to me we might discuss that in the Joint-State Government Commission and consult with you and the Rules Committee as to what is the best disposition to make of it. It certainly ought to be in the Journal or in the appendix to the Journal if possible, but at the same time I realize the report is voluminous and there will be attached a considerable cost to printing it in the Appendix. Offhand I would say I should like to see it printed in the Appendix, but we might pass that for discussion among ourselves at some later time.

The SPEAKER. For the moment the Chair will not direct the report to be printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal, pending further investigation.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I should have said in my opening remarks that I am presenting this report through the courtesy of the present Chairman of the Joint State Government Commission and the Director, who very courteously asked me to submit it to the House. It was a real work and was prepared during the time I was Chairman, but the Commission has changed and I appreciate the courtesy extended.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 885, as follows:

An Act to further amend section five hundred and thirty of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" providing for filling vacancies in the office of township commissioner

Section 1 Section five hundred and thirty of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 906) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 530 Township Commissioners When a vacancy occurs in the office of township commissioners in any township by reason of death resignation removal from the township or ward or otherwise the [court of quarter sessions upon the petition of twenty qualified voters of the ward or township as the case may be in which the vacancy occurs may appoint a qualified voter of the township to fill such vacancy If such petition is not presented to the court within thirty days after such vacancy occurs the board of township commissioners of the township may] board of township commissioners of such township shall fill such vacancy by appointing by resolution a qualified voter of the ward or township as the case may be in which the vacancy occurs If the board of township commissioners of any township shall refuse fail or neglect or be unable for any reason whatsoever to fill such vacancy within thirty (30) days after the vacancy occurs then the court of quarter sessions shall upon the petition of twenty (20) qualified voters of the ward or township as the case may be in which the vacancy occurs appoint a qualified voter of the township to fill the vacancy In either event the person so appointed shall hold office until the first Monday of January succeeding the next municipal election occurring at least sixty days after the happening of such vacancy at which election a township commissioner shall be elected for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is elected to fill

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1157, as follows:

An Act to validate and confirm certain contracts heretofore entered into by Boards of Township Supervisors where the Township has received in maintenance and improvement of its highways a reasonable quid pro quo for such contracts and to authorize ratify confirm and validate payments on such contracts by the Township and to provide that no Township Supervisor shall be subject to surcharge for payments made on any such contract

Section 1 That whenever any Board of Township Supervisors of any township of the Second Class shall have heretofore hired any work to be done purchased any materials or made any contracts for the township the hiring purchasing or making of which is authorized under the provisions of the Second Class Township Laws of the Commonwealth and such Township has received in maintenance and improvement of its highways a reasonable quid pro quo for such hiring purchasing or contracting and no fraud or dishonesty on the part of the said Township Supervisors has been shown then such hiring purchasing and contracting shall be valid and binding on the township and payment for such hiring purchasing and contracting by the township is hereby authorized ratified confirmed and validated notwithstanding the fact that such contract was legally null and void by reason of the fact that moneys were expended on contracts let for the repair and maintenance of the highways in excess of the sums budgeted and appropriated for such purposes or that money was paid out of the township treasury upon appropriation not made according to law or that no appropriation was made in the budget for such hiring purchasing or contracting or that disbursements were made without previous appropriation according to law and for payment of obligations legislatively declared to be beyond the power of the supervisors to incur or by reason of any other defect in compliance with or for failure or omission to comply with the township laws of this Commonwealth regulating the hiring of any work to be done the purchasing of any materials or the making of any contracts No Board of Township Supervisors nor any member thereof shall be subject to surcharge for payments made by any Board of Township Supervisors on any such contract even though judgment may have already been entered against any such township supervisors on any such contract even though judgment may have already been entered against any such township supervisor or supervisors

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, there is something about this bill that is hard to understand. In the first page it speaks of purchases and so forth, contracts, which are authorized under the provisions of the second class townships laws of the Commonwealth.

Later it goes on to say that this purchasing and contracting is alright or is validated, notwithstanding that the fact that such contract was legally null and void by reason of the fact that moneys were extended on the contracts in excess of the sum in the budget. Further on that appropriations not made according to law, or dispersements that were made without previous appropriations according to law or obligations legislatively declared to be beyond the power of supervisors, in other words, they can do things according to the first page which are legal and on the second page they can do things which are illegal.

Of course, in the body of the bill, it says provided they have received quid pro quo—evidently Mr. Sarge or Mr. Cohen could explain that. It surely opens up a wonderful situation made to order for enterprising salesmen. They can talk these supervisors into buying something, whether it is legal or not, and be sure of getting their pay. Then at the finish, these township supervisors are exonerated from any surcharges which may be made against them. I wonder who is holding the bag in this case,—no legal responsibility anywhere. I think we should vote against this bill.

Mr. LONGO. Mr. Speaker, I fell that the speaker who spoke in opposition to this bill is not entirely familiar with the surrounding circumstances.

The provision that is provided for in this act is merely to validate certain contracts made by township supervisors in the performance of their duties. These contracts were made not according to the technical provisions of the law. We have a precedent in the House, in the Chester School District Case, where the school district was surcharged with a considerable sum of money because their vouchers were not signed according to the act. This House passed a bill at that time rectifying the condition and the surcharge which amounted to over $240,000, I believe, was corrected, so that the error could be changed to mean that the vouchers were properly signed.

In this particular case the gentleman has asked a question, who would be holding the bag? There is no doubt in the instant case which this is meant to correct, that the supervisors in this district have made a mistake technically in having these contracts provide a road for the township. They spent slightly more than the budget accounted for. The auditor surcharged the supervisors for that amount, being eleven thousand and some odd dollars, but every penny of that money that was used by the supervisors of that township was used on the highways of that township. There isn't any question here as to the integrity of the supervisors nor dishonesty in disbursing the funds in accordance with their best judgment, for the best interests of the township, and I believe it would leave a considerable loophole in all townships if these laws were permitted to remain as strict as they are, in providing that any township supervisor who does not hold to the appropriation set forth in the budget, should be subject to surcharge. We all know the supervisor's salary is very, very slight, especially in certain townships, and if the supervisors were to be subject to surcharges of this kind, it would be physically impossible for any man of any consequense or responsibility in the community to run for office, for fear that he would have to stand for a surcharge.

I certainly ask the members of this House to go along in voting to pass this bill.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I believe it would be just as well if we got down to honest facts and the true purpose of this bill. This bill is plainly designed to throw a legislative mantle of mercy over a group of county supervisors who are in serious trouble because of their behaviour in office as public servants. I suppose it very rarely happens that the Members of this House have the opportunity to collectively display that rarest of all human qualities, mercy. I intend to vote for this bill. I intend to vote for it with a full understanding of the frank meaning of the bill. At least a few of us have received a communication which clearly sets forth the entire reason for this bill. The communication says in part:

> "This bill is necessitated by a decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania holding a board of supervisors in Northampton county personally responsible for money lawfully spended in the construction of a township road."

The mistake in that sentence, gentlemen, is the word "lawfully," because when township supervisors spend the money of their taxpayers and neighbors over and above and beyond the strict provisions of the law, they have not spent that money lawfully.

This communication goes further and it says:

> "The Board of Supervisors made a technical violation of the law with no dishonest intent."

I am perfectly willing to believe that there was no dishonest intent, insofar as their having spent the money for goods of value or for services that were fully worth the amount of money spent. But it is just as dishonest for such supervisors to spend the money of the taxpayers over and beyond the provisions of the strict provisions of the law, as it is to spend that same money for goods that are worth far less than the money spent.

I say again that I am going to vote for this bill but I do not think this House should vote for it in a perfunctory manner. I think something should be written into the record with respect to this vote in nature of a rebuke to those supervisors who have misbehaved in office, and as a warning to other supervisors who at the present time are stepping mighty, mighty close to the very edge of the law.

REASON FOR NOT VOTING

Mr. WOODSIDE filed the following reasons for not voting:

I have not voted on H. R. 1157, Printer's No. 293. The bill although general in character is likely to be of particular benefit to certain township supervisors whom I have recently represented in a matter to which this bill relates. Although I will not benefit in any way from the passage of this bill, and although I am satisfied that this is not such a case as contemplated by the constitutional provision relating to personal interest of legislators, I nevertheless feel it would be better practice for me not to vote on this bill.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 658, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred three (P. L. 106) entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the city treasurers of the several cities of the second class and third class of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all properties upon which the taxes assessed and levied are delinquent and remain unpaid" by adding thereto section nine and one-tenth authorizing the devestiture of mortgages judgments and charges against properties sold at such sales in cities of the second class by common pleas court

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 975, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 200) entitled "An act creating in counties having over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States census a board to fix and determine the number and compensation of employes in all county offices boards bureaus departments and divisions thereof prescribing the powers and duties of said board and regulating appeals from the decision thereof" by providing for annual meetings of the salary board in second class counties at the call of the chairman of the board of county commissioners

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 200) entitled "An act creating in counties having over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States census a board to fix and determine the number and compensation of employes in all county offices boards bureaus departments and divisions thereof prescribing the powers and duties of said board and regulating appeals from the decision thereof" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 (a) The Salary Board shall meet annually prior to the adoption of the annual budget at the call of the chairman of the board of county commissions to fix the number and compensation of all employes whose salary is by law to be determined by the salary board Each county officer president or executive head of any separate board or division is hereby required to attend said annual meeting and to sit as a member of said board and shall be entitled to vote so long as any matter affecting his office is under consideration and no longer Nothing contained herein shall however be construed to prevent the salary board from functioning at said annual meeting in the absence of any county officer president or executive head on matters affecting his office provided due notice of the annual meeting has been given fifteen days in advance thereof by the chairman of the board of county commissioners In all cases decisions of the salary board shall be made by a majority of those present A full minute of all meetings of said board shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose

(b) The said board shall also meet from time to time [when required by] at the call of any county officer president or other executive head of any separate board or division whatsoever [the number or compensation of whose employes is sought to be fixed and determined and shall forthwith consider and fix and determine the same in manner as they may deem best for the public service and such county officer president or executive head shall sit as a member of said board and be entitled to vote so long as the matter affecting his office is under consideration and no longer and a decision of the majority shall govern] to consider the number or compensation of the employes of his office In the case of such special meetings of the Board a decision of a majority shall govern and minutes shall be kept as provided above [A full minute of all meetings of said board shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose]

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1176, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Department of Highways for allocation to and expenditure in the second class townships of the Commonwealth for maintenance construction reconstruction resurfacing or improvement of township roads and bridges during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three permitting the use of the funds for maintenance and repair of township roads and bridges under certain conditions and providing for the method of payment to townships

Section 1 The sum of ten million dollars ($10 000,000) is hereby appropriated to the Department of Highways for the two calendar years beginning January first one thousand nine hundred forty-two out of the Motor License Fund for allocation to and expenditures in the townships of the second class of the Commonwealth in the amounts upon the terms in the manner and for the purposes hereinafter set forth in this act

Section 2 The moneys hereby appropriated shall be allocated and apportioned among the second class townships of this Commonwealth in the ratio which the mileage of township roads in each township of the second class bears to the total mileage of township roads in all of the townships of the second class in the Commonwealth as of January first one thousand nine hundred forty-two

The funds so apportioned shall be expended by the township supervisors of each township and shall be used for the maintenance construction reconstruction resurfacing and improvement of township roads and the maintenance construction and reconstruction of township bridges in townships of the second class excepting that in townships which do not have sufficient funds from other sources for the maintenance and repair of all the roads and bridges under their jurisdiction the allocatoin to such townships shall be used in whole or in part for such maintenance and repair purposes

Section 3 Nothing in this act shall be construed to relieve any of the second class townships from any obligation they may have incurred under any contract or agreement entered into prior to January first one thousand nine hundred forty-two for the construction or repair of any highway or structure now under their jurisdiction

Section 4 The supervisiors of each township shall appoint a foreman who may be a member of the board of supervisors to supervise the work to be done under the provisions of this act and may appoint one or more additional foremen if they shall deem it necessary so to do Said supervisors shall also employ any laborers required for said work and fix their wages

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent work under the act being done by contract let by the township supervisors

Section 5 No payment shall be made from moneys allocated under this act to the townships of the second class except on warrants drawn by the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer as provided by the act of Assembly to the treasurer of the board of supervisors on vouchers approved by the Secretary of Highways and such payment if approved by the Secretary of Highways shall be made in four equal installments payable the first day of March the first day of June the first day of September and the first day of December of each year

There shall be submitted to the Department of Highways by the board of township supervisors a report on the last days of May and November of each year showing the cost of the work done under the provisions of this act in such detail as may be required by the Department of Highways In case any records or reports required by law are not made in the manner or at the time required no further funds shall be approved for payment by the Secretary of Highways to such township until such reports have been made and approved

Nothing in this act shall be construed to permit the funds appropriated by the act to be paid for other than labor rental of equipment payrolls material purchases including repair parts for equipment small tools road drags and snow fence on road and bridge work performed by the townships under the provisions of this act

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the use of any of the funds allocated under this act for Feueral projects sponsored by the townships or for county-aid work relating to the improvement of roads and bridges

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, seldom in one's life as a Member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, is there an occurrence such as this. I do not rise to oppose this measure I arise to support it. However, I do want the Members of this House to know that on February 3rd this identical bill was introduced into this House. I do not even have to mention the names of the men who sponsored Bill 154, introduced in February. I know that you know this bill; it is known all over the state of Pennsylvania. It is in practice now. You are working under this bill at the present time. Just why there would have to be other sponsors seems a mystery. I do not think I would do that. However, if someone else does I think it is a great compliment to pick out a good bill, a good piece of legislation, and present it to this House. I want to thank the men who did this because they are paying the gentleman from Bradford and the gentleman from Northampton, as well as myself, a high compliment. They certainly have picked out a very worthy piece of legislation. If they had any desire in mind to fool the people of Pennsylvania, I don't know what it might have been.

The bill as it was originally introduced was word for word the same as this bill. It was amended in Committee —a few little amendments, one being ten million dollars instead of eight million five hundred thousand dollars, which could be very easily have been done without any objection on the part of the sponsors. I want to now thank them for taking this bill and introducing it because we certainly want it to pass. It means much to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You have heard plenty about home rule, and this is a perfect, one hundred percent home rule measure. It gives five thousand elected representatives of the people of Pensylvania a share in their government. It gives them some responsibility as well as an excellent opportunity to serve everyone in their districts. Again it gives about 30,000 men, not full time but at different times work throughout the state of Pennsylvania. Since we have been working for a little over a year under this measure it certainly has proven workable, it has proven satisfactory, I would say to ninety-five percent of the 1512 townships in the state of Pennsylvania.

I want to again say to the sponsors of this bill that I thank them, whoever it was who took the bill. Whether it was because we were just nasty Republicans that they could not bear, I do not know, but something really was the cause of it. Let me repeat, I only want to thank you for taking up a good measure which we certainly want every Member of this House to support.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, now that the gentleman has spoken relative to the measure he introduced, House Bill 154, sometime when he has the opportunity I would suggest that he take House Bill 154 and compare it with House Bill 1176, and then if he is inclined so to do I would suggest that he compare the two as to their effectiveness. He will discover House Bill 154 was very very remote from home rule. He will find that House Bill 1176 does give what he says is home rule. That is the difference in the two bills, plus one other argument, and that is the amount of the appropriation, ten million dollars against his eight million five hundred thousand dollars, only two very small differences, Mr. Speaker, but according to the viewpoint of the supervisors, there is all the difference in the world between the two bills.

May I say for the benefit of the gentleman who spoke that our party declared this as our policy in January prior to the introduction of his bill which was not a home rule bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to find out from the gentleman why the Democratic policy has been changed from what it was in 1935 and 1937 to what it is in 1941.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is very simple to answer that. The two years of operation the supervisors have had under the Republican administration have amply justified the change. They, the supervisors, have had an opportunity to see how autocrats rule, and they were desirous of getting away from it.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is that in 1935 and 1937, the Democrats made certain that all the money that was spent out of the moneys appropriated to the township supervisors would be under the regulation and the control of Democratic politicians. That was not the law in the 1939 Session or the practice.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, I have been wondering just why this bill was taken and introduced, but now I have found out. I am glad that the gentleman from Monroe has enlightened us on the subject, but allow me to say this: there is a record on every board of Supervisors in the state of Pennsylvania to the effect that they have up to ninety-five percent profited and agreed to this measure known as the Fiss-Gillette bill, up until today, because we are working under this measure at the present time. It could well be made by a little stroke of the pen 1776 as well as 1176 because the people of Pennsylvania and in every district prior to that have certainly been ground under the heel of the oppressor.

Allow me to give you an example. Under the former act, which was unworkable, one county might receive as much as six hundred dollars a mile for their roads, another county might receive thirty dollars a mile. These things are a matter of record. You know it is a highly technical art that teaches one to remember, but I certainly do not know of any that teaches a man to forget. If these little flimsy excuses that they make will assuage their guilty conscience, or possibly remorseful feeling, then I might say we have the answers to the excuses. But let us hope that these things will end some time or other and we give credit where credit is due, because the people of Pennsylvania will never recognize this bill as coming from this Legislature. It is a copied bill that came from the Fiss-Gillette bill in 1939, but no matter who would be the sponsor of this measure, I say to you to vote for it as I am going to do.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, one thing has been strange to me and that is that this proposed legislation and practically all legislation that comes before the House is tinged with politics or efforts are made to tinge it politically. I do not say that legislation of this kind is political. It seems to me we are all interested in the development of our home townships and our home communities, and whether the bill is sponsored by Democrat or sponsored by a Republican, does not make any difference to me so far as the results back home are concerned. I think I belong to a group of rural legislators. I have not been initiated into the inner circle of the group that are publishing the "Rural Legislator," but I still feel that there are some things that I have in common with them.

The point I would like to make, Members of the House, and the thinks I would like to call to your attention, are to oppose this bill because I voted for it in 1939 and I will vote for it in 1941, and as far as our township and our district is concerned it has been entirely satisfactory. It has worked out very well so far as the improvement of our highways is concerned and the handling of the money.

I would like to give you for the record a few figures that might be of interest and which I think we should carefully consider after we have voted on this bill and before we go much further in legislation concerning highways.

Members of the House the receipts for the fiscal year 1940 from the State gasoline tax of two and one-half cents was $35,630,000 plus; the receipts from the motor license fees was $37,319,000 plus, or a total income for 1940 of $72,950,000 plus. The appropriation for the biennium of 1939-1941 to the Treasury Department sinking fund, employes retirement and so forth, was $12,176,000; Property and Supplies Highway purchasing was $63,500; World's Fair Commission, $312,500; refunding charges, Treasury Department, $145,000; State Motor Police, and this is rather interesting, salaries and expenses, $8,070,000; Department of Revenue collecting fees, fines, taxes, was $4,705,000; Department of Commerce, advertising was $4,000, or a total for the biennium of $25,872,015, and the year of 1940, taken out of that was $12,936,000 plus. The expenditures for 1940 were: administration, $6,178,000 plus; maintenance, $16,296,000; special work, $554,000 plus; purchase tools, land and equipment. $1,737,000 plus; allocation to Townships, which is in this bill that we are now considering, $5,543,000 plus or a total of maintenance or operating charges of $30,310,000 plus making a total appropriation of operating charges in the sum of $43,246,000 plus.

Now, gentlemen, that left a balance in 1940 of $29,703,895 for construction and maintenance of construction applicable to over 40,000 miles of highway now in charge of the highway department. Let us look at the proposals for allocation that are now being considered. In the Governor's message he recommended that there be expended $50,00,000 for approaches to Philadelphia, at the rate of $10,000,000 a year. House Bill 1315 provides for that now. The Pittsburgh allocation was $5,000,000 a year. The bridges over rivers was $2,000,000. House Bill 1176, the bill that we are going to vote on now, provides for $5,000,000 per year, and the proposals for cities and boroughs provides for $7,500,000, which makes a total of proposed allocations out of the motor fund of $29,500,000. If all of those appropriations and proposed allocations are made, we will have a total of $29,500,000. The records of 1940 showed that there was a reconstruction amounting to $29,703,000, and if the proposed legislation is enacted there will be remaining in the motor fund in the Highway Department for construction and reconstruction the sum $203,895. Now, I just want to say to you, Members of the House, that it seems to me that good legislation will require that there be careful consideration given to all these allocations, and of the amounts appropriated for special groups and special contracts and the House cannot and should not deprive the Highway Department of all but a quarter of a million dollars and then come back in 1943 and criticize the Highway Department for their failure to carry out a progressive program.

This afternoon we have had presented here a report from the Joint-State Government Commission. As I recall, I saw a partial report of a special committee that was investigating the highway program and highway financing, and if I remember rightly, there were two provisions, one which is being voted on today, which appropriated $8,500,000 to second class townships, and the other $15,000,000 to cities and boroughs. The third recommendation was that 15,000 miles out of the 40,000 be returned to the townships of the Commonwealth, and that that portion be taken care of by the township supervisors, and the Highway Department by legislation make an allocation of a certain number of dollars; I think it ran from seventy dollars a mile for a certain class of highway up to one hundred and seventy dollars a mile for a better class of highway, that money to be appropriated to the townships to take care of those 15,000 miles of highway, and classification be made from surveys that have been made by the Good Roads Commission. To me, gentlemen of the House, that is a proper method of procedure, and that is what this House should work out. That would leave approximately twenty five thousand miles of highway under the jurisdiction of the Highway Department. I want to say to you now and I want to warn you that if we continue to allocate and if we carry out this proposed program, the Highway Department of this Commonwealth and the highways of the Commonwealth are going to go to rack, and you all know that. Why cannot we lay aside just a little bit of politics. There is enough here for any of us to go out in the campaign of 1942 and claim that we did this and you fellows claim that you did that. You know what was done anyhow, and a great many of our people back home won't forget what you did. Some of the Democratic orators and one or two Republican spokesmen might be able to go back home and convince them of the fact that it was their party who did it.

I plead with you, members of the House, before we go further in the allocation of money, and before we say to the Highway Department you have got to spend ten million dollars, you have got to spend five million, and the greater portion of that to be used to pay for property damage, I say to you it is time we Legislators should consider this problem more carefully. Whenever the Highway Department starts to pay property damage then you can see the end of your highway system.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Fiss made some reference to a slight stroke of the pen, 1176 might be considered as 1776. The year 1776 of course, brings to our memory the freedom of the American people and I want to say at this point that Bill 1176 will be just as effective as 1776. The year 1776 did bring freedom and so will Bill 1176 bring freedom to the supervisors of Pennsylvania from the autocratic control of the Highway Department. That is what Bill 1176 does. I can understand how it reminds the gentleman of 1776.

To the gentleman from Lancaster, my recollection of course, is that there were a number of measures introduced to take funds from Highways, that is from the Motor License Fund, the Gasoline Fund and making appropriations to special interests or municipalities. However, my recollection is that the one bill he mentioned of fifteen million dollars, I believe, included also second class townships. Of course, any measure that is passed in this House would take that into consideration, and make a deduction from that particular measure. I think the gentleman will find when the Assembly is through the Highway Department will have sufficient funds to properly function, if it desires to properly function.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief. I understand a bill coming over from the Senate, passing the Senate by a vote of 45 to 1, which has been lying in the Highway Committee for some time, will possibly be reported out and will be up for a vote in this House. That bill provides the sum of $15,000,000 to be allocated to all of the municipalities of Pennsylvania. You know that the cities and boroughs have never before got a cent of this gasoline tax. The townships have come in here year after year and have gotten more than their share, much more than their share.

Now, as regards raiding the Highway Fund of $15,000,000 provided in Senate Bill 245, I believe it is, that is made up entirely of excesses in gasoline tax funds over and above the amount the Highway Department now received. In other words, in 1939 and 1940 the Highway Department received $67,778,000; in 1941 and 1942, based on the increments that have occurred in that fund since 1939 and 1940, they will receive $4,000,000 more, so that even if this $15,000,000 bill does pass, the Highway Department is not going to suffer one bit, in fact they are going to gain.

I was very reluctant when I first saw the bill to vote for it, but I have been given to understand that this particular Senate bill is going to come out and in view of that understanding, that the cities and boroughs will share themselves in this part of this fund, that is altogether, the three of them, the boroughs, cities and townships will only receive $15,000,000 I am going to ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of attention to the debate on this particular piece of legislation. It seems the thing we are most worried about here is that someone is stealing a bill from somebody else. If my memory serves me right, I think in the 1939 session I worked and spoke in support of the bill that the gentleman spoke about on the other side and I asked the members of this House to support that piece of legisaltion.

I wanted to agree with my floor leader on this side, to the effect that we possibly made this a better piece of legislation and do not see any reason why we should squabble about it. I think everybody has its mind made up that this is good legislation. Why not just vote on it and forget about politics?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 5 Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor which shall be construed as a violation of the licensee privileges as granted under the Liquor Control Act of Pennsylvania and shall upon conviction be subject to suspension or revocation of such licensee privileges in addition to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or ninety (90) days imprisonment or both at the discretion of the court having jurisdiction in the county where such licensed premises are located

Section 6 It shall be the duty of all constables sheriffs and police officers to see to it that every licensee within his jurisdiction abides by and conducts his bar in conformity with the provisions of this act

Section 7 It shall be the duty of the district attorneys of the several districts of this State to prosecute for violations of this act as for other crimes and misdemeanors

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 9 The act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 307) entitled "An act prohibiting in any city of the first second and second A class the employment of or the acceptance of employment by any female for the purpose of tending bar over which bar alcoholic malt or vinous beverages are sold and providing penalties" is hereby repealed and further all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 10 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, several weks ago we passed a bill repealing the act of 1878. I mentioned to the Members of the House that we were doing so, having in mind House Bill 1088, and that it was our intention to pass House Bill 1088 as a companion bill to that measure.

House Bill No. 1088 is now before you and I am asking the members on this side of the House to vote for it.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, will this bill prevent girls from selling liquor or taking orders for liquor?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it does not prevent girls from taking orders for liquor. It prevents them however from being bartenders.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand, this bill simply prevents ladies from shaking cocktails back of the bar, is that correct?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, mixing drinks and doing all the things that a bartender would do.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill will not prevent girls from peddling liquor to bedrooms in hotels, will it?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it does not prevent ladies from acting as waitresses.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not take the place of the Act of 1878 which prevents girls from acting as inducers to get people to come and buy liquor, nor does it prevent them from making a place of assignation for improper relations, nor does it prevent them from taking orders for liquor or delivering liquor to any place on the licensed premises, which they are allowed to do under the present law. This bill is a labor union bill. The labor union bills do not want girls in back of the bar shaking cocktails. I wish to say that I favor the bill but it does not cure the evil that the repeal of the Act of 1878 brings about.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the Members on this side of the House feel very much slighted by the remarks of the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman. I do not understand altogether why he did not ask us to vote for it as well as the Members on his side of the House. We are going to vote for it anyway, Mr. Speaker, although I agree to some extent with what has been said by the gentleman from Cameron that this bill might go a little bit further.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I had some doubt as to what position the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside was taking in view of the fact that I thought he was opposed more or less to the repeal of the act of 1878. I was not quite certain in my own mind as to what attitude he would take on 1088; at least he very strongly requested that we wait until 1088 was reported out, and in view of the uncertainty of several weks ago, I decided he could make up his own mind after a very careful study whether he wanted to support 1088.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. PETROSKY filed the following reasons for his vote.

Reasons for Voting "Aye" on H. B. 1088

I am voting for this bill, but believe it is very unfair and unreasonable that all members of on-sale licensees are not included as well as wives. Some situations arise which make it very imperative economically and otherwise to have the assistance of female members of the licensee other than those provided for in this measure.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1173, as follows:

An Act to further amend the fourth paragraph of section five hundred and six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven

(P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" allowing further deductions from gross indebtedness in order to determine indebtedness of any school district

Section 1 The fourth paragraph of section five hundred and six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 775) is hereby further amended to read as follows

In determining the indebtedness of any school district the following deductions from the amount of the gross indebtedness are permitted cash in the sinking funds inviolably pledged for the payment of existing indebtedness investments of money of the sinking fund in bonds specifically enumerated in section five hundred and twenty of this act and any bonds of such school district purchased and held in such sinking funds Provided That in determining the indebtedness that may be created without the consent of the electors only such bonds as were originally authorized without a vote of the electors and held in all sinking funds may be deducted such outstanding property taxes for school purposes for years prior to the year in which the computation is being made and which are certainly and promptly collectible as quick assets and applicable to the payment of the gross indebtedness any other debts due from solvent debtors and any other revenue that may be applicable within the current fiscal year to the payment of such indebtedness

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 450.

An Act to further amend section 1902 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" exempting certain contracts for public utility service from the provisions of said act regulating advertising and bidding for contracts

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 17, by inserting after the word "service" the words "is available only from one public utility and"; also in same line, by striking out after the word "by" the words "a public" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "such."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 22, 1941.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed concurrent resolution directing the Governor to issue a proclamation designating the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, as Connie Mack Day.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 450.

An Act to further amend section 1902 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" exempting certain contracts for public utility service from the provisions of said act regulating advertising and bidding for contracts

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WILLIAMS, from the Committee on Labor, reported as committed, House Bill No. 814, entitled:

An Act regulating the payment of wages or compensation for labor or service in private employments; establishing regular pay days; imposing certain duties upon employes; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry and district attorneys; imposing additional powers and duties on the Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry and district attorneys for the civil collection of wages; imposing civil and criminal penalties for the violation of the act, and providing for their collection and disposition; and repealing inconsistent legislation.

Mr. WEISS, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1372 (Senate Bill No. 125) entitled:

An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough town township school district (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. WEISS. Mr Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for House Bill No. 1372 (Senate Bill No. 125) be read for the first time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the reading of this bill the first time? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr Speaker, I have no objection to the reading of this bill for the first time, but I want to call the attention of the gentlemen on the other side to the fact that in case there is insufficient time to study it, we hope that they will cooperate, and give us opportunity to study it and make amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1372 (Senate Bill No. 125), entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough town township school district (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. RONALD L. THOMPSON and COOPER offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

In keeping with the custom of this House to note the passing of its former members, it is proper for us now to take appropriate action on the death of Hon. Harry A. Little, a member during the legislative sessions of 1923, 1925 and 1926, which occurred on April 19th, at the Shadyside Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Little's ancestors for the past five generations were Pittsburghers. he received his education in the public schools, the old Pittsburgh Academy and Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh.

A leader in Republican politics in Allegheny County during the past twenty years, he served, in addition to his two terms as assemblyman, as a member of the Pittsburgh City Council, and as its chairman, during his last year of service. Later Mr. Little served as mercantile appraiser in the county and as right-of-way investigator in the County Department of Investigations and Claims, which position he held at the time of his death; be it therefore

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby give voice to its sorrow over the passing of another man who once sat in this hall and exercised the powers that we now exercise; and that it send its condolence to Mrs. Consuelo Lewis Little of 1001 Ridge Ave., Pittsburgh, the widow of the deceased, and to Samuel J. Little, his son; and be it Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Little by the Chief Clerk of this House.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 23, 1941

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world, and they that dwell therein. For He hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods." With these words of remembrance, our Father, we would be conscious that we are Thy stewards to work for Thee in Thy world.

Is it not the duty of man to labor for his brother to foster peace and happiness among men? Dost Thou not give us this wonderful world that man may glorify Thy name therein? Far afield of that ideal and its realization has man drifted in that a few have sown the seeds of discord and revolution and today we all are forced to reap the harvest of world chaos, inhumanity to man and racial hatred stalk the nations of the earth.

As a people we have desired peace among men but obviously will be denied its fulfillment. As a people we have been and are our brother's keeper. Yet the battle lines between good and evil, righteousness and unrighteousness have assumed world proportions and political color so that the cleavage to that only which is right must be maintained.

Give us clarity of vision and definiteness of right purpose in these days to keep us close to Thee as a people, a General Assembly and as individuals that Thy name may be glorified here and in the world without end. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair for himself and also in behalf of the President pro-tempore of the Senate, the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, desires to explain why we were late for the session today. Ordinarily we are on time but the House and Senate saw fit, with the approval of the Governor, to appoint us to the Committee on National Defense and we were in attendance at a committee meeting and therefore we were late.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MILLER and Mr. LETZLER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Last week the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, read a statement which was a combination of a defense for the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company and an attack on me personlly.

Let me dispose of the personal attack at once. I could say, "Sticks and stones will break my bones, but names will never hurt me," but I prefer to paraphrase a song which went the rounds a few years ago:

"When some Senators at Harrisburg find out that Grundy's riches
Have been lifted from the pockets of the workers' tattered britches,
Don't stop to argue with the lousy sons of witches,
Call them un-American,"—or left wing radicals.

I admit that whoever wrote the statement for the gentleman from Cumberland made a stirring defense for the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company, but he assumed an impossible task in attempting to defend the workmen's compensation system as it is now operating in this Commonwealth.

I am unwilling to believe that the gentleman from Cumberland is the author of this statement because of the unwarranted personalities to which I have already referred and the deliberate misstatements, particularly to the obviously false assertion that I had conveniently omitted from my speech the compensation experience in coal mining in Pennsylvania. Those figures are set forth in detail on page 16 of the mimeographed copy of my speech and appear on pages 1138-39 of the Legislative Journal of April 7, 1941.

There is no denial in that statement of the fact that a great public achievement has been diverted by a group of insurance companies into a private enterprise. There has been and there can be no denial that this diversion has been maintained through the political influence of the moving force in the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association. For years and even today we are surrounded in this Senate by his advisors and his lieutenants.

The point that the author of the statement, whoever he may be, seems to have missed, overlooked or deliberately ignored is that the profit or loss of Mr. Grundy's company is of minor importance, compared with the rates and the method of rate making in this Commonwealth.

The people of Pennsylvania are not interested in an answer from Mr. Grundy or by Mr. Wade on his behalf They are entitled to an explanation from the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They are interested in the attitude of this administration towards the vicious system which has grown up in this Commonwealth, threatening to destroy our State Workmen's Insurance Fund and placing the burden of industrial casualties on the public. All of us want to know why the Grundy company and other private insurance companies are permitted to control the rates affecting a matter of vital public interest.

The fact that the Grundy company and mutual companies return part of the premiums collected is no secret and I did not conceal it. As a matter of fact I separated the various kinds of companies so that anyone who knows anything about insurance would understand. But it is no answer to say that the employee is not being robbed of this 43½ spread between the loss and the premium; that the Grundy company gives back part of the spread. That position recalls to my mind a story which my colleague, Dr. Woodward, tells, which to me is a complete answer. An unmarried mother, who gave birth to an illegitimate child, explained that it wasn't such a great offense because it was such a little baby.

What is important, I repeat, is the fact that the rates are made and rate making is controlled by private companies in a matter of public concern and welfare. Will any one suggest that the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, the Philadelphia Electric Company, and the other public utility companies should control rate making for their public services? Will the gentleman from Cumberland suggest that the system of rate making for workmen's compensation insurance in Pennsylvania should be adopted as the system for regulating rates for carriers by the Interstate Commerce Commission? I hope the gentleman from Cumberland is familiar with the fact that under the law of this Commonwealth no member of the Public Utility Commission is permitted to even own stock in any public utility over which the Commission exercises rate control. How does that compare with the method of fixing the rates in workmen's compensation insurance where five out of the seven members of the rating bureau entitled to vote are insurance companies having a direct personal interest in the maintenance of a high rate? The Public Utility Commission only deals with property. The workmen's compensation rating board deals with human casualties. But in both cases there is a real and exclusive public interest.

Can the fact that Mr. Grundy's company returns part of the premiums be a defense of the system? Is it un-American to remind that this is a social problem and that private enterprise has no place in the picture? I think the gentleman from Cumberland is inconsistent. He objects to Mr. Grundy's company being driven out of business and yet he points out that having only received $59,000,000 in premiums it paid out $62,000,000 in benefits in 25 years. One would think it would welcome the opportunity of being forced out of the kind of a business. But how can these figures be true or consistent with the evidence that this company is still in business and solvent?

I repeat that while the profits or losses of a single company are not important and such discussion merely avoids the real issue, I must not allow the stockholders of the Grundy company to become worried about the financial standing of their company. According to the 1940 report of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company, this company after setting up reserves for possible losses shows that it has an earned surplus of $3,000,000, which, of course, belies the fact that it paid out more than it received in premiums. If, in all fairness to everyone the gentleman from Cumberland had made the necessary inquiries and properly analyzed the figures, this is what he would have found in the 1940 report of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company:

(1) Total premiums earned up to and including 1939	$77,289,894
(2) Losses incurred in the same period ...	$44,571,258
(3) Leaving a gross profit from under writing of	$32,718,636

in 25 years with which to pay its expenses and return excess premiums to its fortunate customers—most of whom are members of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

My difficulty in securing the figures for five years from the Insurance Department was sufficient to discourage me from trying to get the figures for 25 years. As a matter of fact, it is not true that the figures for 25 years are available—nor have they been compiled by the Insurance Department for that period, certainly not in the form essential to disclose the real picture. The first time that the figures were compiled in a proper manner was upon my recent request and for a five year period only. The truth of the matter is that going back 25 years does not help but merely beclouds the issue. The important question is not what happened 20 or 25 years ago, but what is the situation today. Whether this $32,700,000 of gross profit earned in 25 years by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company, as shown by the company's 1940 report, was used as profits or returned to its fortunate customers, is, in my opinion not only immaterial but the fact that the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company has for the past 25 years been able to return 25% of the premiums charged is proof out of the mouth of the gentleman from Cumberland that the rate charged in Pennsylvania was at least 25% too high.

That argument loses sight of the important fact that out of the 63 companies doing this type of business in Pennsylvania only 20 are mutual or participating companies and 43 are nonparticipating stock companies These 43 companies do not return excess premiums. On the contrary during the entire period of these 25 years, while the mutual companies were receiving premiums far in excess of the amount necessary to meet their losses and reasonable expenses, these stock companies were dissipating from 40c to 45c out of every dollar of premiums for high salaries and expenses. In fact, in two years of the period of five years which I used these companies incurred an underwriting loss of from 2% to 6%.

The system which has been established, fostered and promoted by the political power behind the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association compels the fixing of an excessive and unnecessarily high rate for the purpose of enabling these companies to receive a rate of premium which will enable them to pay their unnecessarily high and excessive administration expenses.

For the first 20 years of the administration of the workmen's compensation law the Republican Party was in control in Pennsylvania. The Insurance Commissioners and the managers of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund were political appointments. Obviously this makes the Republican Party responsible for the condition; and to that extent I plead guilty of having made a political issue of the situation. I did it deliberately because I think it is important that the public should know who are the responsible parties.

If I had known of this situation during the previous administration I would not have hesitated to have disclosed it. As I said in my original statement and repeat now, the Insurance Commissioner then in charge deserves no credit for this failure to act. By the time he got there the system was well entrenched, but in my opinion even that was no excuse for his failure to disclose it and at least attempt to destroy it. It is now again the responsibility of the Republican Party.

Workmen's compensation never was a private enterprise. In crediting the "left wingers" with the adoption of a plan, and I quote from the statement read by the gentleman from Cumberland, "seeking the eventual and complete socialization of this field of private enterprise," the author of the statement deliberately overlooks the fact that this sysem was inaugurated as a social and economic advance in the attitude of government; that there were no insurance companies engaged in that kind of business at the time; and that state insurance funds were established in most states; and exclusive state funds have been in operation in many of them for over a quarter of a century.

The system was instituted because of the failure of private enterprise to properly provide for its industrial casualties, as a result of which failure the public was compelled to assume the burden. In turn the public by forcing the enactment of workmen's compensation laws, attempted to place the burden where it belongs—on industry. This is, therefore, not the case of an existing private enterprise being ousted by a social reform, but on the contrary it is the case of a social reform being throttled by private enterprise, in such a surreptitious manner and so cleverly that private enterprise has not only convinced itself but has made the public believe that it is performing a public service.

This is the "American way," for a continuance of which the gentleman from Cumberland so earnestly pleads.

I have often wondered which is the more dangerous to our democratic way of government—the group which openly declares its subversive doctrines or that group of special interest that turns a social reform into a racket and parades it as a virtue.

PRESENTATION TO THE CHAIR

Mr. CARR. After we had reconvened yesterday afternoon, Mr. President, I was informed that the Senate had been illegally reconvened without a quorum being present, and that some aspersion was cast upon the Republican members of the Senate because of the lateness of their arrival. Of course, Mr. President, that does not have anything to do with our lateness in convening this morning, but at the same time I understand the President of the Senate yesterday made some reference to the fact that he needed some things with which to proceed to business and that among the requirements of his office at that time was that he should have some flowers to wear and a pair of dark glasses to accompany them.

The Florist's Association of the City of Harrisburg, having learned about this great need on the part of our presiding officer, has very graciously made it possible that he should be properly equipped with flowers, and I, as their representative, want to present to the Chair a very beautiful bouquet this morning in the hope that either a Republican or Democratic member on the other side of the House who is so equipped will provide the Chair with the glasses.

The PRESIDENT. Mr. Carr, I had the flower which they presented to me yesterday and I had a pair of dark glasses but Eddie Coleman beat me to it and I could not take her away. I thank you.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in these days and nights of subversive activities it is a little doubtful whether our presiding officer should wear a badge of red or pink, and I therefore advise the Chair that he watch his bouquet.

The PRESIDENT. The white rose of York would have been the appropriate flower.

ERRATUM

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to call attention of the Chair to a mistake appearing in the Journal on April 9, 1941, at page 1298. The remarks were made by my colleague from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, and not by myself. I would like to have that corrected.

The PRESIDENT. The correction will be so noted.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The PRESIDENT. Under the order of business of leave of absence the Chair lays before the Senate a communication dated April 23, 1941, from the gentleman from Fayette, Senator CAVALCANTE, explaining his absence from today's session of the Senate, as well as the absences of Senators Chapman, Deitrick and Reed, which will be noted in the journal.

Mr. McCreesh asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Washington, Mr. REED.

Mr. Geltz asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Warren, Dr. CHAPMAN.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Northumberland, Dr. DEITRICK.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette further requests the Chair to inform the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, that he proposes to reply to his inquiry at a later date.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the Chair kindly convey the message to the gentleman from Fayette that I will be here for quite some time and any time he wants to dish that message out I will be glad to receive it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to learn from the gentleman from Allegheny how long we are going to be here? How long is a long time?

Mr. WALKER. At the rate we are moving, Mr. President, I would suggest December.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. RUTH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 697, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 420, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

Article nine section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein and the debt of any county other than Philadelphia shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein and the debt of the City and County of Philadelphia shall never exceed ten (10) per centum upon the average annual assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the ten years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased nor shall any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed value or upon such average annual assessed valuation of taxable realty for the ten immediately preceding years as the case may be without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law

In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the City and County of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city and County as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor to the extent that such public improvement or public utility or part thereof whether separately or in connection with any public improvement or public utility or part thereof may yield or may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon

The method of determining such amount so to be deducted may be prescribed by the General Assembly

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the City and County of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from date thereof with provisions for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity the payment to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said City and County of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said City and County or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said City and County such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred but not in excess of five years from the time of the incurring of such indebtedness and said City and County shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work Provided however That any city county borough township or other municipality or incorporated district may with the consent of the electors thereof increase its indebtedness to the extent of three (3) per centum over and beyond any limitation fixed herein toward the sole purpose of constructing or completing sewage treatment works

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Comrade Lewis and fellow members of the Senate, I regret the absence of my protalitarian colleague, Senator Jaspan, who sits over there in the twilight zone and who whenever I get up and speak yells "louder."

Senate Bill No. 420, Mr. President, illustrates the vicissitudes and career of the bill. This bill was advertised by Miss O'Hara at great expense last summer. As we all know—at least I know and I am the only one who does know, apparently, the Secretary of the Commonwealth is required by law to advertise proposed amendments to the Constitution in two newspapers in each county. There were five of these constitutional amendments, mostly sponsored by myself and this is the last of the five, the other four having gone down and this has practically been sunk, so that money of course has gone.

The main object of this resolution is to get rid of personal property taxes. By that I mean a tax on intangible personal property. Sometimes the Democrats talk as if they had no property, and they may not be interested, but I think there are a few Democrats and I know all Republicans are still actuated by what is called the profit motive.

This miserable—well, there is no use, I will spare all the adjectives that might be applied to personal property taxes, but I would like to have as the epitaph on my grave "this man helped to repeal the personal property tax."

This resolution as originally drawn and advertised by Miss O'Hara found no opposition apparently in compelling the sub-divisions outside of Philadelphia to reckon ten years of their real estate values and then strike an average on the ten year valuation. That was suggested by one of my numerous friends who interfered with this bill but instead of telling me in 1939, they waited until 1941 and they have now told me in the Republican Caucus, and various corridors, that the bill will fall unless I take that out. I have therefore taken it out.

Now, of course, if this bill pleases everybody it is a wonder, but the way the bill appears now after various mistakes of the Legislative Reference Bureau and the proof-reader, the bill I now believe is water tight and it does that very thing, namely, that the sub-divisions outside of Philadelphia will not be inflicted with the average of ten years. Philadelphia will have it. They will take the average of assessed valuation on realty for ten years. Please remember that one object of this amendment is to separate the real estate basis from the personal property basis for borrowing, because that is the only way you can ever get rid of the personal property tax.

Now, just a little bit of history perhaps. When Governor Earle became Governor through some accident, whatever it was, he called his financial advisers together and he said, "Here is a fine tax, four mills; it is such a good tax that if we doubled it then it would be twice as good." So the financial advisers said, "That is darned good logic, we will double it." Now the tax is eight mills, four mills for the county and four mills for the city.

Now, of course, if I talked about a one thousand dollar bond I might not get any sympathy from the Democratic side, because they claim they do not have such a thing like that, but on this side we still have some bonds and if we have a thousand dollar bond at four per cent you get forty dollars in coupons per annum and if you translate that into an income tax, I mean a personal income tax, it means twenty per cent, and if the bond is only two per cent, it means forty per cent in income taxes, which no one out of a mental hospital would ever entertain. Then, of course, if the bond does not pay anything or if a mortgage does not pay anything you pay the tax just the same on personal property.

The first time I tried to improve the tax I hit some of my best friends in Germantown, who had never declared anything, who had put the blank in the scrap basket, and my neighbor I notice was hauled up and penalized on that first attempt I made to reform the bill. Well, he did not know I was the author of the bill.

Then later I put in an amendment that was pretty good, that when a man who had always hit the scrap basket, when such a man died, of course there was an inventory of his estate and if he had not paid the personal property tax his estate was penalized over a period of three years back at the rate of six per cent. The first victim of this awful menace was the father of Governor Earle.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Germantown.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Seriously, Mr. President, I was discussing with the Caucus that we ought to vote for this bill because I thought it was a good piece of legislation, on the theory that taking the personal property tax as a basis for taxation was rather too uncertain and I suggested that eliminating the personal property tax and acquiring the basis on a ten year average would be much better and more stable.

Now, I understand from the gentleman from Germantown this is a bill to get rid of the personal property tax. At least that is what he said.

Mr. WOODWARD. Oh no, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I did not so interpret it, Mr. President, and if this is a bill to get rid of the personal property tax I am going to ask my colleagues to vote against it.

Mr. WOODWARD. No, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is what the gentleman said, Mr. President; I think he should correct it.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I have a moment to correct that impression.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, may proceed.

Mr. WOODWARD. What I tried to say was that our borrowing capacity is now based on two factors, the assessed value of real estate and the personal property tax, and that so long as that hook-up exists you cannot repeal the personal property tax. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia admit that?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WOODWARD. Very well. Then this is the statesmanlike, indirect way. I know it takes a long time to get rid of a personal property tax and if nobody here will interfere with this bill and Miss O'Hara continues to advertise it we will finally pass it and get rid of that tax.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, two years ago I presented to the Senator from Germantown the same question which I am about to submit now.

I have great admiration for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, for his persistence in his relentless efforts to change the Constitution, but I had a bitter experience back in 1937, and this bitter experience gave me food for thought.

What is the advantage, Mr. President, of passing these bills when all these amendments come up for vote during elections. As you know, the device known as the voting machine has many little levers and when a person comes in to vote, all the committeemen, all the political workers, are interested in the candidates and they neglect the little lever which you have to pull in order to express approval or disapproval of an amendment.

I maintain that as long as these amendments will be coming up for vote during general elections the public is not going to give its full vote to approve or disapprove them and it is about time the gentleman from Germantown introduced a new resolution to arrange that the vote on amendments should come up in a separate election and not in a general election when the public is not paying attention to the amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I welcome the suggestion of my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, and he and I will confer on that subject. While we are at it, I wish somebody would tell Miss O'Hara to use larger type. I told her so, but for some reason, when she advertises these amendments to the Constitution she uses a type known as pica and the translation of that is "so small you cannot read it."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Barr,	Farrell,	Miller,	Thomas,

NAYS—2

Frey,	McGinnis,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 212, on third reading, entitled:

An Act with rerefence to trust receipts and pledges of personal property unaccompanied by possession in the pledgee and to make uniform the law with reference thereto go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 286, as follows:

An Act to amend the fourth paragraph of article seven of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 20) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class, prescribing the manner in which money shall be drawn from the city treasury

Section 1 The fourth paragraph of article seven of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 20) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" is hereby amended to read as follows

No money shall be drawn from the city treasury except by due process of law or upon warrants on the treasurer or by checks signed in the manner prescribed by the council and countersigned by the controller which warrants or checks shall state the consideration of the same and the particular fund or appropriation to which the same is chargeable

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 588, as follows:

An Act to protect the debtors obligors or guarantors of debts for which judgments are entered or may be entered and owners of real property affected thereby and others indirectly liable for the payment thereof either by requiring before execution shall issue against real property either a release of such persons from personal liability or the fixing of the fair market value of the property to be sold and the entering of certain credits against such judgments based upon such fair market value and prescribing the method of fixing the fair market value of such property

Section 1 Before any execution shall issue against any real property on any judgment entered the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall either (1) file a statement in the court having jurisdiction over such execution certifying under oath that he or they release and discharge the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other parties liable directly or indirectly on the debt for which the judgment was entered and the owners of the property affected thereby from all personal liability on the debt interest costs taxes and municipal claims or (2) petition the court having jurisdiction to issue such execution to fix the fair market value of the property to be sold Said petition shall be signed and sworn to by the plaintiff or plaintiffs

Section 2 The petition shall set forth

(a) The location and description of the real property to be sold and the name or names of all persons known to petitioner to be or who may be directly or indirectly liable to petitioner or any other person for the payment of said debt

(b) A Statement of the fair market value of said property and

(c) Shall name as respondents the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons directly or indirectly liable to petitioner or any other person for the payment of said debt and the owners of the property affected thereby together with the addresses of such persons to the extent that such addresses are known to petitioner or may have been ascertainable upon reasonable inquiry and an affidavit that he does not know and after reasonable inquiry has been unable to ascertain the residence or business addresses of the others

Section 3 The court shall thereupon fix a date for hearing on said petition not less than fifteen days after the filing thereof and said petition shall be served upon each of the persons named therein as respondents at least ten days prior to the date fixed for hearing At any time prior to the hearing any respondent or other person in interest may appear and answer setting up in his answer the nature and extent of his interest in the proceedings and answering the averments of the petition

Section 4 Said petition may be served by the sheriff of the County or by the Sheriff of any other county specially deputized for that purpose upon the respondents named therein

(a) By handing an exact copy thereof to each of them personally or

(b) By leaving an exact copy thereof at the residence of each of them with an adult member of his family or

(c) If service cannot be had in either of the above methods said respondent or respondents may be served by publishing in the legal newspaper of the county and one newspaper of general circulation in the county at least fifteen days prior to the day fixed for the hearing of such petition a notice to the said respondent or respondents of the filing of said petition and the date fixed for hearing thereon. If there is no legal newspaper in the county then publication in one newspaper of general circulation in said county shall be sufficient.

Any debtor obligor guarantor mortgagor and any other person directly or indirectly liable to the petitioner for the payment of the debt and any owner or owners of the property affected thereby who is not named in said petition nor served with a copy thereof or notice of the filing thereof as provided in this section shall be deemed to be discharged from all personal liability to the petitioner on the debt interest and costs but any such failure to name such person in said petition or to serve the petition or notice of the filing thereof shall not be deemed to affect or impair the validity of any writ of execution sheriff's sale or the title secured thereby

Section 5 Return of the service of any petition shall set forth particularly the time place and manner of service and shall be filed before the time fixed for hearing No hearing shall be had until the court shall be satisfied that service has been made upon all the respondents in any of the methods herein provided

Section 6 At such hearings the only issue before the court shall be the fair market value of the property to be sold and any party in interest may introduce into evidence testimony of such fair market value

If no answer is filed within the time provided for in this act or if an answer is filed which does not controvert the allegation of the fair market value of the property as averred in the petition the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall file in the court a stipulation releasing the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons directly or indirectly liable to the plaintiff or plaintiffs for the debt and the owners of the property affected thereby from personal liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value as averred in the petition less the amount of any prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims paid at distribution on the sale Whereupon the court shall order the sale to be proceeded with forthwith

If no answer is filed within the time herein provided for or if an answer is filed controverting the averment in the petition as to the fair market value of the property and no testimony is produced at the hearing supporting such denial of the fair market value the plaintiff or plaintiffs may file a stipulation releasing the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons liable directly or indirectly to the plaintiff or plaintiffs for the debt and the owner of the property affected thereby from personal liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value as averred in the petition less the amount of any prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims paid at distribution on the sale whereupon the court shall determine and fix as the fair value of the property the amount thereof alleged in the petition to be the fair market value and shall order the sale to be proceeded with forthwith

If answer is filed alleging as the fair market value an amount in excess of the fair market value of the property as averred in the petition the plaintiff or plaintiffs may agree to accept as the fair market value of the property the value set up in the answer and in such case may file a stipulation releasing the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons liable directly or indirectly for the debt and the owners of the property affected thereby from personal liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value as averred in the answer less the amount of any prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims paid at distribution on the sale Whereupon the court shall order the sale to be proceeded with forthwith If an answer shall be filed and testimony produced setting forth that the fair market value of the property is more than the value stated in the petition the court shall determine and fix the fair market value of the property which shall in no event exceed the amount of the debt interest costs taxes and municipal claims and for such purpose in its discretion may appoint one or more but not more than three appraisers to assist the court in determining said fair market value

After the hearing and the determination by the court of the fair market value of the property to be sold the execution may issue and the property may be sold by the sheriff or other proper officer or person to the highest bidder whereupon upon confirmation of the sale the debtor obligor guarantor and any other person liable directly or indirectly to the plaintiff or plaintiffs for the payment of the debt shall be released and discharged of such liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value of said property as previously agreed to by the planitiff or plaintiffs or determined by the court less the amount of all prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims collected by the sheriff or other person making the sale and shall also be released and discharged of such liability to the extent of any amount by which the sale price less such prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims exceeds the fair market value as agreed to by the plaintiff or plaintiffs or fixed and determined by the court as aforesaid

Section 7 When the sheriff or other person shall have sold upon a writ of execution any real property the fair market value of which shall have been fixed by the court or agreed to by the plaintiff in the manner hereinabove set forth the sheriff or other person making sale as aforesaid shall make a return of such sale to the court in the manner and form now prescribed by law whereupon when said return of sale and schedule of distribution shall have become final and conclusive by reason of confirmation thereof or otherwise in the manner by law now provided or when the court shall have ordered distribution as the case may be the prothonotary or other proper officer of the court having jurisdiction of said sale shall calculate in accordance with the provisions of the last paragraph of Section 6 hereof the amount of the credit to which the debtor obligor guarantor and any other person directly or indirectly liable to the plaintiff shall be entitled and shall note upon the record of the judgment upon which execution was issued or upon other proper record the amount of such credit as having been realized by the sale of the real estate and the Prothonotary or other proper officer of the court shall apply such credit first to interest at the rate of six (6%) per cent per annum on said judgment from the date thereof and next to reduction of the principal sum thereof and shall note upon the record the unpaid and unsatisfied balance of said judgment

Section 8 Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect present procedure for the public sale of real estate or the private sale thereof under order of court except to the extent herein expressly provided or necessary for the purpose of giving proper effect to the provisions hereof

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect the right of any person liable directly or indirectly for the payment of the debt to the benefit of any amount realized on any execution sale in excess of the fair market value fixed or agreed to in accordance with the provisions of this act and nothing in this act shall be construed to effect a release or discharge of any person otherwise than nor to any greater extent than as herein expressly provided

Section 10 It shall be incompetent for any debtor obligor or guarantor at any time either before or after or at the time of incurring any obligation to waive the benefits of this act or to release any obligee from compliance with the provisions thereof Any such waiver or release shall be absolutely void unenforceable and of no effect

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any section provision or clause thereof shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to affect or impair any other section provision or clause of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been enacted had such unconstitutional section provision or clause not been included therein

Section 12 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment but shall not apply in the case of any obligation of contract incurred at any time before such effective date nor to any judgment which may have been heretofore recovered

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the per diem expenses of the Legislature, the per diem payroll for all employes is $1,178 per diem. There are fourteen page boys on the payroll. I suggest that we take on another page to page the page boys.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that should be a point of order and not a question of personal privilege, and the Chair quite agrees with the Senator and advises the chief page and the pages themselves to be present. Unless the pages perform the duties for which they are appointed I shall request that other pages be substituted for them.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:40 o'clock, p. m., until Monday, April 28, 1941, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 23, 1941.

The House met at 1 p.m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chaplain has asked permission of the Speaker to be absent to attend the Annual Conference of his Church now in session at Sunbury. In the absence of the Chaplain and at his invitation, prayer will be offered by the Chaplain's father, the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. McFall.

PRAYER

Mr. Charles McFall, a member of the House offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thou who hast given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may prove worthy of Thy great gift, and be ever mindful of Thy favor, and glad to do Thy will.

We need Thy everlasting arms to strengthen us in the defense of our liberties, and to fashion and mould us into a united people. Suffer not our trust in Thee to fall.

Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom, in Thy name, we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. Fill our hearts, O Lord, with thankfullness and praise for the peace and blessing which we all enjoy.

As Representatives of this great State of ours, unite us in the bonds of fellowship and love, and may the spirit of brotherly kindness prevail in all our deliberations. May our labor be fruitful and beneficial not only to our Commonwealth but to the entire Nation. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. CORDIER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 82.

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, State and National Work Progress Administration officials contemplate extensive dismissals of employes in the education-recreation division, which would likely cause loss of employment for some 15,000 workers on W.P.A. projects of this type within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The fundamental objective of the W.P.A. program has been to create jobs and thus combat or overcome the ill effects of forced general unemployment; and

Whereas, The proposed W.P.A. dismissals involve chiefly those types of work which are only indirectly affected by the industrial upswing resulting from the defense program, and therefore there is no likely prospect for W.P.A. workers of this type to secure private employment for some time to come; and

Whereas, The gains so far achieved through this program will be in large part nullified if W.P.A. dismissals are to increase the ranks of the unemployed as fast or faster than jobs are made available by the increasing activity in private industry; and

Whereas, W.P.A. projects in the field of education constitute an important and vital, although indirect, defense measure in that such educational projects better equip the newer nationalities and other elements of our population to recognize and properly discount foreign and subversive propaganda; and

Whereas, The morale and welfare of the American citizen is, in reality, our basic line of defense and one which has undoubtedly been greatly strngthened and improved by W.P.A. projects in educational and related fields; and

Whereas, Since the Congress of the United States has appropriated billions of dollars for direct defense measures, a sound and well considered public policy would seem to dictate that sufficient funds be made available to retain W.P.A. educational projects which not only materially further the defense program, but also reduce unemployment considerably; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to appropriate or otherwise make available sufficient funds to insure the continued employment and activity of those persons engaged in education-recreation work for the Works Progress Administration both in Pennsylvania and throughout the Nation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each of the following:

The President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The Vice President of the United States, Henry A. Wallace, President of the United States Senate.

Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

The National and Pennsylvania heads respectively of the Works Progress Administration.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. DOLON. RESOLUTION No. 83.

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, We have passed in the House of Representatives various bills making appropriations to treat cattle diseases; and

Whereas, Nothing has been said or done that would be a help to the mother whose baby dies from lack of adequate attention; not one word to the man whose wife dies in childbirth from a preventable cause; to the families whose loved ones are cut off from lack of care or to the youngsters who are crippled or otherwise are in an unhealthy condition; and

Whereas, We are spending vast sums of money for education which we all agree is necessary to properly educate our youth; and

Whereas, The health picture existing in our public schools today is a most horrible one and should bring the red blush of shame to every statesman in this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Official figures on file in the Department of Public Instruction show that out of a total of 1,909,747 pupils enrolled in our public schools in 1940 a probable total of 1,223,907 were found defective in health in one or more respects; and

Whereas, In this total is an amazing and serious matter if we are at all concerned with our school youth who are the moulding or testing ground of future generations who will some day assume the reins of government; and

Whereas, In this total of our youth found with health defects, 250,000 were found suffering from seriously defective vision; 23,000 were found to have seriously defective hearing; 960,000 had seriously defective teeth; 324,000 had seriously defective tonsils; 69,000 were suffering from obstructed nasal breathing and 19,000 were suffering from serious heart ailments; and

Whereas, 1,444,891 serious health defects found in 961,432 pupils calls for immediate, definite action; and

Whereas, Of 818,745 serious defects found in certain districts, 269,429 were treated and 549,316 or more than two-thirds received no treatment; and

Whereas, The Department of Public Instruction has publicly announced that unless they can find some means of developing an adequate program of follow-up treatment for the health defects discovered, it is doubtful whether they can justify the sizeable sum which they are now expending for medical inspection; and

Whereas, It being an accepted fact that health should precede education, the Department of Public Instruction is not only wasting a sizeable sum for medical inspection in our schools but it wasting a tremendous amount in education itself attempting to impart knowledge to students who are physically unable to learn; and

Whereas, Nothing else being so essential to the security and progress of this Commonwealth as public heatlh; therefore be it

Resolved, That a commission be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to study the problem and that the said commission should not end their investigation until they have found the answer of providing adequate follow-up treatment for these youngsters; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission also study the problem of providing adequate treatment and suitable education for the many thousands of crippled children within the Commonwealth of whom only a fraction are now receiving adequate care.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. CHUDOFF and HEATHERINGTON, RESOLUTION No. 84.

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, The United States Army is suffering from an acute shortage of cavalry mounts; and

Whereas, Newspapers in this Commonwealth have reported that the Army officials are ready and willing to pay as high as $165.00 for each horse; and

Whereas, At the present time the Pennsylvania Motor Police have in their possession a considerable number of horses which are no longer being used by the Pennsylvania Motor Police; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth is now put to a large expense in order to maintain and take care of such horses; and

Whereas, It would be both to the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the United States Army if these horses were sold to the United States Army; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby request the Pennsylvania Motor Police to turn over as quickly as possible, and in accordance with existing law, the horses they no longer use to the United States Army.

By Messrs. McLANE and GALLAGHER, (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 85.

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941.

Whereas, On May 1, 1941, the present Works Progress Administration program in Pennsylvania calls for the dismissal of approximately 14,000 white collar project workers ;and

Whereas, Such a program, if carried out, would result in great harm to the families of the workers as well as an increase in the expenditures necessary for unemployment relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Legislature has previously demonstrated by its efforts in the case of workers employed in sewing machine projects, it is desirous that the good work carried on by the Works Progress Administration be continued: therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that the Congress of the United States be memorialized to adopt immediately enabling legislation to prevent the wholesale dismissal of W. P. A. workers in Pennsylvania; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to all the Members of Congress in Pennsylvania, Senators, and to the officials of the Works Progress Administration in Washington urging them to abandon the program calling for the dismissal of these workers.

By Mr. McKINNEY, (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 80

In the House of Representatives, April 22, 1941

The American negro has been a resident of the United States since its independence was attained and members of that race have valiantly served in the armed forces thereof in all of its wars, particularly during the last World War when almost four hundred thousand negroes offered themselves for the supreme sacrifice for their country.

The negro population of the United States, totaling over twelve million, is patriotic and is desirous of serving the nation at all times, but would be better able to render such service if permitted to train in the National Guard of the Commonwealth, but this service is denied them by reason of Federal rules affecting qualifications for enlistment therein.

The American Legion, Department of Pennsylvania, in its twenty-second annual convention on the 17th day of August, 1940, passed a resolution calling for the correction of this injustice to the colored race.

The Legislature of this Commonwealth has had available for years the necessary law for the creation of a separate unit in the National Guard for the enlistment and training of negroes, but Federal legislation is necessary to make possible the use of such power; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact as quickly as possible such legislation as is necessary to permit members of the colored race to enlist and receive training in the National Guard of the Commonwealth so that the opportunity to demonstrate their patriotism and love of country shall no longer be denied to them; and be it further

Resolved, That one copy of this resolution be forwarded to each of the following:

The President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt;

The Vice-President, Henry A. Wallace, President of the United States Senate;

Speaker Rayburn, House of Representatives;

Senator Joseph Guffey;

Senator James P. Davis; and

All members of the House delegation from Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 349 together with the Senate message which was laid upon the table be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 349.

An Act to authorize cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, and school districts to file suggestions of non-payment and averments of default, or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims, and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost; and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives, is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, by inserting after the word "district" the words "has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county any tax or municipal claim and the city borough incorporated town township or school district; also on page 2, line 1, by inserting after the word "default" the words "or filed an amicable scire facias"; also in line 27, by inserting after the word "tax" the words "or municipal"; also on page 3, line 12, by inserting after the word "collected" the following: "whenever any city borough incorporated town township or school district has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county or amicable writ of scire facias or a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default to revive any municipal claim or has reduced such claim to judgment in the manner provided by law and such writ of scire facias or suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default shall not have been filed within the period of five years from the time the original claim was filed or within five years after any prior revival of such claim and such judgment shall not have been entered within a period of five years after the filing of the writ of scire facias to reduce such claim to judgment then in any such case such action in filing such amicable writ of scire facias or suggestion of non-payment and an averment of default or entering such judgment is hereby ratified confirmed and made valid notwithstanding that the same was not filed or entered within the time required by law and that the lien of such municipal claim was lost and the lien of any such municipal claim shall be deemed revived from the date such amicable writ of scire facias or suggestion of nonpayment and averment of default was filed or such judgment entered in the office of the prothonotary and such lien may have been or may be proceeded upon further revived and collected as provided by law."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 349.

An Act to authorize cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and school districts to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, in the Journal of March 31, on page 1006, I am recorded as voting "aye" on the Sunday Bowling Bill. I voted under a misapprehension; I intended to vote "nay," and at a later date, April 15, I voted "nay" on the same bill.

FALLS TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. In Bucks County, the second oldest in the Commonwealth, there is a Township unique in the annals of the State.

This Township contains the Manor House of the Proprietary Governor, William Penn, and known as Pennsburg.

From "Crewscorn," a village at the head of tide water in the Delaware River and four miles above Pennsburg, Penn established the first letter post to Frankford in Philadelphia.

At Fallsington, just north of Pennsburg, William Penn, established a Friends Meeting and there had built a Quaker Meeting House in which the Friends still meet each "First Day."

In this Township are the two greatest truck farms in the State, one 1600 acres and the other 3000 acres.

There is present today in the Hall of the House the High School Senior Class of Falls Township, the township of Penn, named for the Falls of the Delaware, where the tide ceases to flow in the Delaware River.

These boys and girls are visiting the Capitol today under the guidance of their principal, Andrew Jackson Chamberlain, and are the guests of the gentlemen from Bucks, Messrs. Stockham and Yeakel.

Parenthetically, "Crewscorn" is now the Boro of Morrisville, carved from Falls Township, named for Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolutionary War and the home of Mr. Stockham.

MR. STOCKHAM IN THE CHAIR

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 404 introduced by myself and Mr. Eckels seeks to codify and revise the marriage laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Inasmuch as it makes some important revisions, I believe it to be my duty to call the attention of the membership to those changes in order that they may know exactly what they are voting for in this bill. In the preface of my remarks on this bill, I would like to state that many long hours of work have been put into the bill by Members of this House and others in the classification of the marriage laws of Pennsylvania.

The bill was introduced in February and each week some work has been done on the bill. The sub-committee of the committee on Judiciary General has consulted leading scholars and professors relative to it; clergymen have been consulted concerning the provisions of the bill, and I believe every type of person who might be interested in the marriage laws of Pennsylvania has been consulted. There was an attempt made in 1939 to codify the marriage laws of this state. This bill, as I recall, passed the House unanimously, and I believe also passed the Senate, but due to certain defects in the draftsmanship, certain things being overlooked, the Governor was compelled to veto the bill.

There has been no revision or codification of the marriage laws of Pennsylvania since the time we began passing them. You have read this bill, you have it before you and can read it now; you will find in it laws passed back as far as 1815. It was the intention of the sponsors of the bill and of the sub-committee to keep the works of the marriage laws as similar as possible to the words as they now stand on our statute books. We sought to make as few changes in the marriage laws as possible.

All of the safeguards which have been set up through the years, for example, the waiting period of three days, the restrictions on the issuance of marriage licenses and so forth have been retained in this bill. The manner of obtaining a license has been kept the same, and a license issued in the county where one of the applicants resides may be still used in any county of the Commonwealth, but I desire to point out to you two important changes made in the laws relating to marriage which are contained in this bill. The first one is section thirteen which seeks to abolish the common law marriage after the effective date of this act.

Section 13, on page 14 of the bill reads: "No common law marriage may hereafter be legally entered into in this Commonwealth and all such marriages hereafter entered into shall be null and void."

When Pennsylvania was growing into a new State there was a real solid reason for recognizing common law marriages. It was very hard to get to the county seat; it was often difficult to find a minister to marry, but today with our ease of travel and with our increased and improved, educational facilities the sponsors of this bill believe the reason for recognizing common law marriages has virtually ceased.

In this bill we have not increased the cost of obtaining a marriage license; it is still two and one-half dolalrs. We believe we passed some good laws in the 1939 session, namely the pre-marital syphilis examination law and to allow people to become validly married as they now can under common law solely by taking each other as husband and wife and living together, we believe all of those laws set up to safeguard our citizens can be sidestepped at will. All of these laws relating to the issuance of marriage licenses and so forth are devised and passed partly to keep accurate records of who is married and who is not married and to allow the recognition of common law marriages defeats the purpose behind all of these laws. Marriage licenses are easy to procure; we want to set up no obstacle in the way of any person who wants to be married in Pennsylvania. We believe marriage should be encouraged, but we do not believe it is any great task for persons desiring to marry to say to them "You must obtain a marriage license before you can be married in the state." And to say, in order to safeguard the health of our citizens, "We want you to take a pre-marital syphilis examination." To allow our courts to continue to recognize common law marriages would defeat all of these things.

I might point out to the membership that the common law age of marriage is fourteen years for a boy and twelve years for a girl. Are we going to wait until we have children of that age becoming husband and wife under the common law before their eyes are opened? It is a very remote possibility, I grant you, but it can happen in Pennsylvania and we do not want to see it happen.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker. I rise to make a short statement. I want to speak upon the difficulty under which the Member is trying to put a point across. I am certain he is speaking on one of the most important pieces of legislation that has come before this body. I believe respect is due to him in presenting this matter to us, and I am certain there are many of us, who desire to hear the debate on this important piece of legislation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Lackawanna.

Mr. READINGER. I also thank the gentleman from Lackawanna.

I have been informed that twenty-eight states in the union have abolished common law marriages and now, the courts provide that a person desiring to marry in those states must follow the marriage laws. I think it is time that Pennsylvania followed suit. New Jersey in 1939 abolished the common law marriage and they also made their marriage license laws a great deal stricter than we seek to do under this bill. The State of New Jersey provides that its license laws are mandatory, not directory only, and marriages performed not in accordance with their license laws are absolutely void. We do not do that under this bill; we are leaving to the courts the decision to say whether a marriage performed not in accordance with the license laws shall be valid, voidable or void.

You may notice in the bill that some extensive amendments were stricken out the other night. Those amendments were placed there by the sub-committee of Judiciary General in the belief that our marriage license laws should be followed strictly if parties are to be married in the Commonwealth. Other members of that Committee were of another opinion, that we should not possibly create a lot of invalid marriages by that amendment, and I as sponsor had no objection to the amendments being taken out. We do not want to create a large number of invalid marriages and have no desire to do so, but we do desire that people follow our license laws and for that reason we want to abolish this common law marriage.

Another important change in this bill I want to call to your attention, and I shall not detain you much longer, is the provision which raises the marriageable age, the age at which a person can marry with the consent of the parents from sixteen years to eighteen years.

Our present school laws provide that a child must attend school until it is eighteen years of age, and this leaves us in the peculiar position of having at least some persons marrying at the age of sixteen and continue going to school for two more years. We do not believe that is advisable and for that reason we have inserted the provision that a person must be eighteen years and upwards in order to obtain a license to marry, except in certain extraordinary cases in which a license may be issued upon the request to an Orphans' Court judge. If the Orphans' Court judge deems it to be proper he may issue a license to that person, no matter what the age of that person is.

Those I would say are two of the important changes made in this act. Several of the penalties have been changed slightly and under this bill the party who violates the laws relating to these marriage licenses is also made to suffer a penalty of a fine not exceeding fifty dollars. At the present time the officiating officer, the clerk of the orphans' court and every other person connected with the marriage not in accordance with the license laws will be subject to a penalty, but the person who marries contrary to the law suffers no penalty whatsoever.

I would like to reiterate that much careful study has gone into the preparation of this bill. Many people have complained "You have got to be a lawyer to find out what the marriage laws of Pennsylvania are." Many clergymen are requested by mail to tell somebody outside the state what the marriage laws of Pennsylvania are, and oftentimes they cannot do it because they do not have all the law books available.

We tried in this bill to bring together all the laws relating to marriage in Pennsylvania, so that a layman may pick it up and read it and understand just how a person marries, who may marry and anything incidental to marriage.

As I said before, the marriage laws have never been codified in this state to my knowledge, and you practically have got to be a lawyer to find them. I sincerely ask your support for this bill. I do not expect everybody to agree with me that we should abolish the common law marriage or that we should raise the marriageable age, but I believe if you will sit down and consider these things carefully, you will probably agree that this is a good bill and should be supported.

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Readinger under this bill as amended, in the situation where a man takes a woman without taking out a license, they live together for a period of years, they have children. Let us assume in the interim the father of the child acquires property. Now, the father dies. What standing has the child got to acquire that property under this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman is assuming the case of a man and woman taking each other as husband and wife after the affective date of this act, and assuming the father dies and leaves no will, I would say the child has no claim upon his estate.

Mr. CULLEN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker you cannot regulate the morals in grown-up people. Here is a case where you take two people living together against the marriage laws; you cannot legislate whether they live together or whether they do not, neither this House nor any other body can, but this bill as I see it, penalizes the child of this particular relationship. This particular child has absolutely nothing to do with the faults of the parents, but we of the legislative body say this: "We are going to penalize you for the sins of your father and mother." I do not think it is fair to the child and for that reason I will have to vote against this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not feel it necessary to explain the provisions of this bill, however, I ask the indulgence of the House in publicly recognizing the services of several people on this bill.

I would like to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia who just spoke in this regard. During years past the state of Pennsylvania has set up certain safeguards to marriage, the three day waiting period, the test for syphilis and other provisions designed to protect the marital status in Pennsylvania. We recognize that a common law marriage is not amenable to any of these tests, and you can see the justification for this bill. There is absolutely no necessity now in this state or any other state to recognize common law marriages and at the same time attempt to set up certain safeguards for marriages, because common law marriages do not come within the purview of these safeguards. It is high time that we in Pennsylvania codify our marriage laws and make these safeguards applicable to all marriages alike.

I should like as Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General to make a public acknowledgment of the services of certain persons who helped on this bill. We recognized in the very beginning that we were dealing perhaps with one of the most sacred institutions in civilization, that of marriage, and we appointed a committee composed of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss, the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. McIntosh, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell. They worked for many hours on this bill and after a while they set out to get the most outstanding authorities on the matter of family relationship in Pennsylvania. The committee debated this matter with men who are outstanding in this field, and we make public acknowledgement of their services to this committee: Professor Reader of Dickinson, Professor Freedman of Temple University Law School and John H. Fertig, former Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau. They appeared before the committee and gave the benefit of their experience in this matter. These gentlemen gave us their experiences so far as codifying is concerned, and as far as the merits of the bill are concerned. I want to make public acknowledgment to those members whose names I mentioned, the professors I mentioned, and John Fertig.

I do not feel that the situation the gentleman from Philadelphia raises is one that should be paramount in our discussion of this bill. The main thing as I said before, is this, shall we set up safeguards for marriages and at the same time recognize common law marriages that do not come within the safeguards we are setting up? The purpose of this bill is to protect all marriages, and I feel that the gentleman from Philadelphia and the rest of the Members of the House, if they will approach the bill from that standpoint, will see the justification for the bill. I hope you will vote in the affirmative.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr Speaker, I did not intend to say anything on this bill, but on the question of common law marriages there is another matter that has not been touched upon, and that is while we would like to throw every safeguard around the children, illegitimate children are not to blame, of course, for their parents' indiscretions and sins, but the marriage relationship has so many things dependent upon it that it should be safeguarded in every respect.

Common law marriage laws of this state have become a fertile field for fraud and perjury. In many States false claims have ben set up by some woman or some person claiming to be a common law wife, and that claim has been established by perjury, and the marriage laws have been made a mockery. Also in cases of workmen's compensation where workmen have been killed that thing has come up many times, and the President Judge of the Superior Court of this State has recently stated that common law marriages were tolerated by the law but not encouraged, and that they offered great chances for fraud and perjury. I think that is another reason for safeguarding and protecting the rights of families through marriage laws which have teeth in them, which can be enforced and will be enforced.

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say a few words in relation to the line of thought raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cullen. There are many people here who are concerned about their children. They feel this act will disinherit them, but if you analyze the common law marriage you will find that the law sets up certain requirements which must be established to have a valid common law marriage. I dare say that in ninety percent of the cases, those requirements are not met. We have to understand that mere cohabitation between a man and a woman does not establish a common law marriage regardless of the numbers of years during which they cohabit. Further than that we have to realize that the mere holding out of another as your husband or wife does not establish the validity of the common law marriage. The law has repeatedly told us in decisions that these things are merely evidence of a marriage. The law still requires that there be a marriage contract and that the marriage contract be in the present tense, that when people start living together they agree among themselves to be husband and wife, not at some time in the future, but when they commence living together, so that visiting the sins of the parents upon the children is not the fact.

Where do these claims of common law marriage arise? As the previous speaker told the House they usually arise in two classes of cases, estate cases and Workmen's Compensation claims.

I say to the Members of this House that when those claims are asserted in a case in court, the party asserting the validity of the marriage must prove the essential factors required, so that they must establish that a marriage contract was entered into. They cannot merely establish that their parents lived together. They cannot merely establish that one held the other out as husband or wife, so that we face the proposition that a child is not disinherited by the action of the law; it is disinherited by the action of its parents.

Further, this act does not involve property rights. If you feel that you want an illegitimate child to take property through its father, then the remedy does not lie on this floor, but it lies in amending the estate laws of this Commonwealth, and in order to protect family life, to protect the integrity of society, we must at this time acknowledge that these claims of common law marriages are in most cases fraudulent. I ask the Members to support this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will not detain the members much longer with what I have to say, but in order to clear up any doubts as to the effect of this bill on any existing common law marriages, I would like to point out that the effective date is January 1, 1942, and it does not affect any common law marriages now existing. In other words, if a man and woman are now living together as husband and wife, even though the proof of that does not become necessary for another twenty or twenty-five years, that marriage will not be affected by this law. It only affects the attempted creation of that status after January 1st of next year.

Mr. McINTOSH Mr. Speaker, the objection to this bill, if there is an objection, is that it may illegitimize children in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If this bill becomes a law, the result will be exactly the opposite. As the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan has stated, the mere fact that a man and woman live together in Pennsylvania is not sufficient for a valid common law marriage; there must be a contract. For instance, if the man says, "I take you, Mary Roe, to be my lawful wife," and the woman says, "I take you, John Doe, to be my lawful husband," that is a valid marriage; that is a marriage contract, but in cases involving common law marriages in Pennsylvania, the situation may well arise that two people live together in what is called meretricious relationship, that is they live together and there has been no marriage contract.

In actual cases what has happened is this, the woman comes in and tries to prove her marriage. She says as to her husband, she lived in this meretricious relationship for a number of years without a marriage contract, and that one day he said to her, "We should be married," and she said, "Yes, we should be married." She agreed. Then the husband said, "Well, it is not necessary to get a license. We will just continue to live as we are living now and we will be validly married." The courts have held in that particular case,—that is an actual case,—that that is not a valid marriage. The result in that case was that any children born of that marriage were illegitimate children.

This bill, if it becomes an act, will do away with the illegitimizing of children, and under this bill, if it becomes an act, there will be but one way to get married and that is by applying for a license, get the license, and have a civil or religious ceremony. There isn't any vagueness or indefiniteness about it and this very hazy field of common law marriages, where the court decides in one instance that you are married and in the next case decides that you are not married, wil be eliminated. For this reason, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, because this bill will do away with illegitimizing of children, I ask for you to support this bill.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the sub-committee on this particular bill, I want to thank Mr. Brown for commending the sub-committee's work. I feel I would be amiss, however, in not giving due credit to one of the members who worked many long hours and worked hard on this bill, and that is the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. McIntosh.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this afternoon the Senior class of the Derry Township High School, Mifflin County, the guests of the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. French.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1023, as follows:

An Act prohibiting employers from directly or indirectly offering for sale selling procuring for sale having in possession or under control for sale to employes or others any merchandise not produced by employers or not handled in the regular course of employer's business providing exceptions thereto declaring such prohibited sales to be unfair competition and repealing prior inconsistent legislation

Section 1 Reason and Purpose (a) The Legislature hereby finds that the existence in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the practice whereby employers sell or procure for sale to employes or other persons any merchandise not of the employer's own production or not handled in the regular course of the employer's business is detrimental to the health safety morals convenience and general well-being of the public in that such practice (1) results in the loss of taxes to the Commonwealth and the various taxing instrumentalities existent in the Commonwealth (2) unreasonably interferes with and diverts the proper and normal flow of trade and commerce (3) constitutes an unfair method of competition by such employers against others engaged in commerce

(b) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this act through the exercise by the legislature of its police powers to correct and to eliminate the conditions referred to above declaring certain sales to constitute unfair competition and prohibiting same

Section 2 No person partnership corporation or association engaged in any business or trade in this Commonwealth shall by any method or procedure directly or indirectly by itself or through a subsidiary agency sell or procure for sale or have in its possession or under its control for sale to its employes or to any other person any article material product or merchandise of whatever nature not of his or its own production or not handled in his or its regular course of trade or business Provided That this section shall not apply to the sale or distribution of (1) meals candy cigarettes cigars tobacco or (2) tools and material used by employes in such trade or business or appliances and products which are used therein and are or may be beneficial to the safety health and working conditions of such employes And provided further That the provisions of this act shall not apply to co-operative associations organized under the laws of this Commonwealth

The doing of any of the acts as prohibited above shall constitute unfair competition to any retail store operator or owner dealing in the same kind type nature or class of merchandise as that so sold as aforesaid within the same city or county in which such above prohibited sale occurs

Section 3 Remedy Wilfully and knowingly selling or procuring for sale or having in possession or under control for sale directly or indirectly by any person partnership or corporation or subsidiary agency to his or its employes any article material product or merchandise of whatever nature not of his or its own production or not handled in his or its regular course of trade or business is unfair competition and is actionable at the suit of any person damaged thereby

Section 4 Constitutionality If any clause sentence paragraph or part of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall for any reason be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances but such decision shall be confined in its operation to the cause sentence paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such invalid provisions not been included herein

Section 5 Repealing Clauses All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 6 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. I may say it grieves me very much because the sponsor of this bill is my colleague and good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen. I feel however that this bill is one that goes a little too far in its regulatory measures.

First of all, this bill is apparently intended to come under the police powers of the state, because you will notice in the first section of the bill it refers to the health, safety, morals, convenience and general well being of the public, and then goes on to cite certain reasons and purposes. I find, however, in my opinion, that there is no reasonable connection between the reasons stated in this bill and the police powers of the state.

Secondly, I feel that this bill is bad because it prohibits transactions, for example such as this: if any Member were to have a brother or any member of a family in a business, let us say, as a plumber and this particular member should desire to have him install in his house an oil burning system, he goes to this member of the family and asks him to install the system or to get somebody to install it. The plumber would not be able to go out and get the oil burning system at a reduced rate for his brother nor can he install it at a reduced rate, but he will have to charge him and have him pay the regular price.

Now, let us suppose the brother in business desires to circumvent the provisions of this act and install the oil burning system. Then under section three of this bill every plumber in the vicinity would have a right to institute some kind of action for damages, because section three provides that if any person wilfully and knowingly sells or procures for sale any article not of his own production or not handled in his regular course of trade or business, then this section declares it to be unfair competition and makes it actionable at the suit of any person damaged thereby. Therefore all persons in the same trade, all the plumbers in the city or the county could institute an action for damages against that particular plumber. You can see how far this can go and how ridiculous it can become.

Those are my objections, Members of the House, and I ask you to oppose this bill.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to get into any protracted debate or argument with my colleague from Philadelphia. I wish he had discussed the merits of the bill with me prior to coming on the floor. I think I could have answered him privately and I will now answer him publicly.

The term "police powers" is a term in law which is well-known to our courts and to most of our people. It is a term which indicates that there is a condition which requires and in some cases cries out for remedy.

As to the question of social legislation, we have in the past years put on our books laws which properly came within the purview of the announced policy of the law, the police power of the Commonwealth. It seems to me we have forgotten that the merchants of Pennsylvania ought also to come within the helpful protection of the Commonwealth under the broad interpretation of the term "police power." In other words, we are asking that social legislation which is enacted now under the theory of the police power move over a little bit and for a change have some merchant legislation, which might be protective under the same broad arm and theory of the law.

With respect to the specific case which was raised by my friend may I say this. There is nothing in the bill which would prevent a person's selling to any person at any price tools which he regularly sells to his own trade. So that Mr. Plumber, who is going to install an oil heater for my brother, who regularly deals in that kind of merchandise, may go to the source of supply. We all know from experience that the plumber is on the wholesale list, and he procures the oil burner from a person who regularly supplies oil burners. That is not prohibited by the act. He may then install the oil burner and if he wants to give it away that is his business, if he wants to sell it at the wholesale price that is also his business, or if he wants to get a profit more power to him.

There is no question about a suit for damages if there is a violation of the terms of this act because we have very carefully in the framing of this legislation taken into account similar legislation in the State of Wisconsin, which I believe is one of these United States. Wisconsin made it a penal offense, and lawyers will tell you that you must adhere strictly to the language of a criminal statute. We have taken out the penal provision and we have put in it instead an injunctive remedy which does not call for damages but provides that the person offended may apply to the courts to enjoin one who commercializes commerce.

Mr. Speaker, may I say that if this were to hurt commerce, I doubt whether I as sponsor of the bill would have been deluged from all parts of the State, from big cities and small cities, from first class counties down to the eighth class counties, and from every possible catagory of township in the State. I have letters from individuals and from associations, a few of which I hold in my hand here, all sorts of retail jewelers, Better Business Bureaus, Trade Associations, Chambers of Commerce and other organizations throughout the State who are urging that this bill be passed. If there are defects in the bill, or rather in the operation of the bill, we are attempting something in Pennsylvania which I believe will help the merchants, and if there is anything wrong with this bill in its operation, we are going to be doing business at the same old stand two years hence, and I think we can then remedy any crying need for change in this act if it is enacted into law.

May I say to you, members of the jury, attempting to protect the merchants,—if I said "members of the jury," I ask the House to bear in mind that there is legislation pending in committee here, which says that the verdict of the jury may be by majority vote of the jury and not by the unanimous vote of the jury. I hope that the one or two votes which the gentleman from Philadelphia seems to have conspired against me will not defeat or injure the bill.

Mr. Speaker, the merchants of Pennsylvania pay mercantile taxes, they pay all sorts of other license taxes, they pay income taxes and so on. The people against whom this particular type of legislation is directed are people who are part of that great scheme in America which is known as the "I-can-get-it-for-you-wholesale" racket. They are the people who are in business without paying a municipal tax, without paying a mercantile license, without paying an income tax, or workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance, and so forth. I could go on endlessly and enumerate the merchants' enormous burden of taxation. The people who want this bill are the people who live up to the law and the people whom we are attempting to stop from pirating on business in Pennsylvania are the people who live under the protection of the law without contributing their fair share for the maintenance of the law.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot too strongly urge that the Members give this bill their whole hearted and full support.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he considers this bill will meet the constitutional objections.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think so, because particularly we have left the interpretation of what may be an offense under the police power of the Commonwealth to the broad interpretation of the courts sitting in equity.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain how he believes this comes under police power of the State?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in my answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia on the question of police power I believe I explained to the Members of the House that the terminology "police power" is not to be strictly defined. It is interpreted to cover not only one person but all persons, not only individuals but also business.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe he can stretch that protective power as far as this bill does?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I believe it can. However, it might be that some one might think we are stretching it too far. I do not know. I am willing to leave that decision to the courts.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, sometimes it is hard to oppose a bill strictly on the standpoint of unconstitutionality of the bill. This bill perhaps has some good in it. It is hard at times to see how we can deny a person who feels that he has the right to certain protection that right because the bill is unconstitutional.

I have talked with Mr. Cohen and I do not want to impose my opinion on any one. I simply want to give this word of warning if this bill is to be justified by a proper exercise of the police power of the state, it is absolutely worthless in my opinion. The police power of the state is that power which resides in the sovereign state for the protection of the public good, the public welfare and public morals. It is that power which even clashes with constitutional individual rights, and where the police power is properly invoked, sometimes individual constitutional rights must fall. It seems to me we ought to be excedingly careful in guarding this extraordinary power which is an inherent right of sovereign state. When you take the definition of police power, which is for the protection of public good, public welfare, and public morals, it must be strictly construed, and our supreme court time and time again has stated that even when the Legislature declares a thing to be within the police power that does not necessarily make it come within the police power, if it is arbitrary, if it is limited, if it is capricious. It must be for the protection of the public good, the public welfare, and the public morals.

I stated to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, when I talked with him privately, that I believe this bill cannot be justified under a proper valid exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Legislature in announcing that it comes within the police power does not necessarily make it so unless it falls within the definition of police power as it has been announced not only by our Supreme Court but by the Supreme Court of the land. As I said before, if these people are escaping taxation by a method of sales which will be prohibited by this bill, then it is a question of the law of taxation and not a question of police power. If someone is being harmed, or if a competitor is underselling because somebody is doing what they attempt to prohibit in this bill, there again is a question of remedy outside of the pale of police power. If this bill can not be justified on the ground that it is enacted for the protection of public good, public morals, or public welfare, it will necessarily fall.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny for his very able legal explanation on the question of police power and the question of the unconstitutionality of this bill. As I see it, I maintain that this bill cannot be upheld by the courts. I have the greatest sympathy for those persons who feel they are meeting unfair competition. I understand the real reason back of this bill is that some of the larger corporations, those who employ a large number of people, sometimes through their purchasing departments buy certain things that are not within the use of their employees not things which they themselves manufacture, and in that way their employees buy these goods at the wholesale price. It is a custom in some businesses today which is causing many of our merchants a great deal of difficulty and they feel that they are meeting unfair competition. I have had a great number of calls from merchants in my own community urging me to vote in favor of this bill and explaining to me their difficulties. I have said to them just what the gentleman from Allegheny has said, if they feel they are meeting unfair competition their remedy should be through the taxing power. If they are carrying on more or less of a mercantile business in some of their operations, we ought to subject them to a mercantile tax. That would most likely eliminate most of the difficulties, because the more companies, particularly the large manufacturers, will be driven away from this practice.

I do not like to vote against this bill because of the large interests of these merchants. They pay taxes, they pay rent, they employ people, they pay mercantile tax and they should have some protection. I am in sympathy with them but that sympathy cannot extend to an act which, in the first place I think is unconstitutional, in the second place, I believe if you pass this legislation you will have in the halls of the Legislature in the future many other bills seeking to protect other groups from what they feel to be unfair competition by reason of the ability of somebody in some instances to purchase things, to have work done or to employ people on a different basis from that of the ordinary contract and the ordinary purchasing of supplies.

Therefore, it seems to me, members of the House, this is a very bad precedent for us to establish here, outside of the legal question of the unconstitutionality of the act.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia inform me in his opinion whether or not he thinks this bill will affect the employes of cooperative associations.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, this bill specifically exempts cooperative purchasing associations, as the gentleman will notice on page three, the top three lines.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I did not catch it. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I just briefly answer two of the points which have been raised. I said in my first speech that the words "police powers" should, in this particular instance, and possibly in more than this particular instance, be broad enough to cover the merchants of Pennsylvania.

As to the public welfare of Pennsylvania, it seems to me it is the right of the Commonwealth to properly collect taxes. I want to use the language I used in my first address to fit it into the public welfare argument in order to indicate to the Members of the House that I do seriously contend that public welfare means the proper taxing of persons who should pay taxes and who should be responsible to the Commonwealth for the payment of taxes for business done within the Commonwealth.

In answer to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, on the point of big business corporations and big industrialists who do use their purchasing agent for the purpose of purchasing goods for employes, may I say that the bill specifically has nothing to do with tools and equipment and so forth which are used in the particular business for which the employe is working and which are used in furtherance of the work in which he is engaged but certainly we know that purchasing agents are able because of their powerful positions as purchasing agents for corporations to suddenly enlarge the scope of their own family, down to the most distant cousin that they could possibly conceive.

It seems to me the custom has grown up in that respect that they can get it for wholesale because the people he can get it from are also looking for orders from him. It is that kind of a person who is able to suddenly enlarge his family to an extent much larger than any man can possibly conceive in order to do them a favor. It does him no good except as a matter of friendship, and it does harm to the merchants of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. Speaker, just one word on the practical side of this bill. We have heard a learned discussion on the constitutional question and on the question of police powers. Practically I have heard no objections to the bill. I have received a great many communications from two large groups of people who are strongly in favor of the bill and who urge its passage. One of these groups, of course, is the merchants. I might add in passing the merchants to my notion are the forgotten man of the day. We in this hall of the Legislature have enacted all types of relief measures for labor, for the farmer and for industry but we have done virtually nothing for the benefit and protection of the retail merchants, who are a very large, stable and responsible part of our citizenry.

The other branch of people who have strongly urged the passage of this bill are the large manufacturing plants. They ask for the bill as a safeguard to this objectionable practice which has grown up. Industry itself or the manufacturing plants do not want a continuation of this practice, whereby they say they can get goods wholesale for you through their plants, and they want some screen behind which they can hide. Industry does not care whether this act is constitutional or not. As a practical matter it wants this act so that when somebody asks that an article be purchased through their purchasing agents they can point to this act in their own defense and say, "We are sorry, we cannot do it for you because this act of the 1941 session of the Legislature prohibits it." I think aside from the technical question involved, as a practical matter this is a good act and a large number of people are strongly urging its adoption, and in my opinion at the present time there is nobody strongly against it. I urge the members to vote for this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting "no" on House Bill 1023 because I feel that the measure as framed is unconstitutional. The objectives of the bill are to be praised and I have received many requests to vote in its favor but I cannot support any bill, no matter how praiseworthy it may be with respect to its objectives, when I sincerely and honestly believe it violates the Constitution of our state.

Mr. ECKLES filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting "no" on House Bill 1023 solely because I believe the same to be unconstitutional. I am in sympathy with the purposes of the bill and would vote "yea" if I did not believe it violates the Constitution.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1021, as follows:

An Act to add section six hundred seventeen and one-tenth to the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing school districts under certain conditions to appropriate money to non-profit corporations established for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the district

Section 1 The act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding immediately after section six hundred and seventeen thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 617.1 Whenever any school building or buildings have been rendered totally unfit for use by reason of fire acts of God or other unforeseen cause the board of school directors of any school district shall have power with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to appropriate money out of the general fund of the school district to any non-profit corporation established for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the school district Provided That before any such money is paid over the corporation shall have entered into a lease with the school district for the buildings proposed to be erected whereby the school district shall have the right to renew such lease at stated periods at a stipulated rental and at any time during the continuance of the lease to purchase the buildings from the corporation at a stipulated price

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to call the attention of the Members of the House to this particular bill. I do not rise for the purpose of opposing it but merely to call attention to the fact that if the Republican administration had not been responsible for the death of a series of bills known as the Thompson bills for the construction of schools, the creation of an authority, Mr. Haines would not find himself in the position where he needs this particular special legislation for the school district in his county. However, may I say, Mr. Speaker, that this side of the House certainly can feel sorry for him He certainly can understand and appreciate the loss of his school district which was occasioned by the death of the Thompson bills, and I am urging the Democratic Members of the House to help Mr. Haines in his problem and support the bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, during this session I have heard the majority leader go far afield to find all sorts of things to blame on the Republican Party. I have listened to a great many arguments which seemed to reach the depths of ridiculousness in placing some sort of blame on the James administration. In most instances we have not even answered those arguments because we thought they were so silly that no one would pay any attention to them.

The gentleman from Monroe has now advanced an argument which he as a lawyer, should not advance on the floor of this House, and that is that the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Haines, has been compelled to introduce this bill because the Republican party killed the Thompson bill, which was a program to build schools by the use of authorities.

Had the gentleman from Monroe studied the opinions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania he would have found that it would be utterly impossible to have made the Thompson bill operative because under their decision any authority to be constitutional, and any project to be constitutional, must be dependent solely upon revenues which are derived by the particular political subdivision. Those revenues under the decision in the Philadelphia case within the last year, handed down by the Supreme Court in Pittsburgh, the Court there said that you could not do anything that had the semblance of taxation. A school district has no income beyond that derived from the taxes and therefore it has nothing upon which it could make itself a self liquidating project.

Therefore, the Thompson bill, a fine piece of legislation as it was,—I recall being on the committee at the time they reported it out, and while I had some doubts about the matter, as I thought there should be a definite program before an act of that kind was passed, nevertheless you could not go along with the Thompson plan because it would have been inoperative and no school district could have taken advantage of it because under the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania its borrowing would have been unconstitutional, because it had no source of revenue outside of taxes for the purpose of amortization and paying interest on the fund. I would like to place this in the lap of the gentleman from Monroe and let him chalk that off as being one that doesn't count.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from Delaware that I am familiar with the vagaries of the Supreme Court of the state of Pennsylvania. Not for one minute, nor do I think any other attorney for one minute, would endeavor to interpret one decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as having an application to any other set of facts, or different facts. One can never tell, one never knows what the Supreme Court is going to do. As a matter of fact this court on occasions has reversed itself. I have not forgotten the vagaries of the Supreme Court on the General State Authority. I say to the gentleman that his answer on this occasion is very much the same as when "they say nothing" because it carries neither weight nor authority. Mr. Speaker, I assume and I believe I am correct in assuming that the main reason the other side of this House has not been answering the arguments we have been making during this session is because they have no answer.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, we have an answer to that one, and that is that the Supreme Court did not change its line of decisions, and there were no vagaries in the General State Authority case, because in the first General State Authority case there were certain provisions in the law and in the contract that would have violated all the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania over a long period of years as to increase of indebtedness by a political subdivision. After the act had been amended by the Democratic majority, in 1937 I think it was, so as to meet the objections of the Supreme Court, the Supreme Court then decided it was not unconstitutional.

I am inclined to think that the gentleman from Monroe is just a little muddled again in his thinking, in that he is thinking about the Supreme Court of the United States, since the recent changes have been made under the present administration. There you have a court which three or four times recently made decisions that were in violation of all the precedents of the Supreme Court, over periods going back as far as twenty-five to fifty years. They seem to think nothing at all of changing the law at any time, but as far as the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is concerned, it has held consistently to a very long line of decisions except, of course, the variation occasioned by the new device of the Authority.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in order that none of us will be confused by the exchanges between the two gentlemen who have spoken hitherto, I would like to say that this particular bill is a good measure. All the people who have been active in Centre county are interested in this bill. I have found that not only the gentleman who introduced the bill favors the bill but also the bill is well thought of in other quarters. In fact I was personally exhorted by the treasurer of the Democratic State Committee, Mr. Henry A. Brockerhoff, to give every consideration to the measure while it was in the Committee on Education.

I, therefore, feel that all the Members of the House, knowing that both the Democrats and the Republicans in Center County are for this bill, can approve the measure, even if it is an indirect recognition, but nevertheless a very positive recognition, of the principle of Authority which was promulgated by the Democrats.

I ask everyone to vote for the bill and not to allow themselves to be confused by the legal dissertation which we listened to just a few moments ago.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 99, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 806) entitled "An act limiting the number of licenses for the retail sale of liquor malt or brewed beverages or malt and brewed beverages to be issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board defining hotels and prescribing the accommodations required of hotels in certain municipalities" by exempting clubs from such limitation

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 806) entitled "An act limiting the number of licenses for the retail sale of liquor malt or brewed beverages or malt and brewed beverages to be issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board defining hotels and prescribing the accommodations required of hotels in certain municipalities" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 No licenses shall hereafter be granted by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages in excess of one of such licenses of any class for each one thousand inhabitants or fraction thereof in any municipality exclusive of licenses granted to hotels as defined in this act and clubs but at least one such license may be granted in each municipality except in municipalities where the electors have voted against the granting of any retail licenses Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as denying the right to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to renew or to transfer existing retail licenses of any class nothwithstanding that the number of such licensed places in a municipality shall exceed the limitation hereinbefore prescribed but where such number exceeds the limitation prescribed by this act no new license except for hotels as defined in this act and clubs shall be granted so long as said limitation is exceeded

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, this is another one of those special privilege bills which find their way through the Legislature through the influence of a self constituted class of liquor vendors. The legalized selling of intoxicating liquor is not a right but a privilege. We are now faced with the peculiar situation of granting a special privilege within a privilege. I can take you into towns that have more licensed clubs than licensed hotels. These hotels can not compete with the clubs in selling liquor because of the special privileges which the clubs enjoy. I can take you into sections where road houses and eating places seem to be a public necessity. Yet, they are limited by law. They are constantly watched by law enforcement officers to get something on them that will revoke their license and put them out of business. The same officials who strain a point to close the road house as well as farmer customers of the road house, very often are apprehended at a club bar on Sunday having a time of revelry. Why close the bars of the road houses to give a monopoly to the clubs?

No good reason has been advanced why one liquor vendor should be preferred to another liquor vendor. Nevertheless, these so called clubs have enough political power to demand and get whatever special privileges they want and you may take it or leave it. Our democracy has been built on the principle of equal opportunity for all and special privilege for none. Whenever any group of people through arbitrary power acquire special privileges to the detriment of the rest of the people, our democracy is on the down grade and nobody can tell where it will stop. It is headed for ruin because a democracy is bound to reap whatever it sows.

I contend that all liquor selling joints should be treated alike and for that reason I oppose this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill is merely correcting a situation that arose in the 1939 session. There was no intent to place the clubs under the quota as provided in the bill that was passed by the Legislature in 1939. You will remember in the closing hours of that session there was quite a dispute, and it was thrown into conference committee. The members of that conference committee all have said that they were very clear in their minds that the bill did not contain a provision that the clubs were included within the quota law. When the question was raised subsequently by the Liquor Control Board and a search was made, there was nothing to show that the clubs were excluded, but every member of that committee on conference with whom I came in contact, was confident that it had been excluded.

This bill, as I see it, merely corrects the situation that arose because of that confusion in the conference report of the conference committee in the 1939 session.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I was a member of the Conference Committee in 1939 and I recall the many hours we spent over the liquor bills that were in the Conference Committee in that session. It is not my purpose to divulge anything that went on in the Conference Committee, but I as one of the conferees was much surprised when I read last year that the Attorney General of this Commonwealth had by a mere technicality decided in an opinion that the clubs came within this limitation in the license act of 1939. I disagreed even then with the Attorney General's opinion. It creates a situation in this State where some corrective measure must be taken. As I recall, after the Attorney General's opinion was rendered the Quarter Sessions Court of Lackawanna County decided that clubs were without the limitation of the act. In other counties the courts decided clubs were within the act. Finally when the matter reached the Superior Court, the Superior Court passed, not upon the question of this limitation of the license act as applied to clubs, but upon the procedure and did not decide the question. So that we have this very unusual situation concerning this legislation: we have the members of the conference committee, of whom I was one, believing clubs and hotels were excluded from the act; we have the Quarter Sessions Court of one county declaring that clubs are out of the act and other courts declaring clubs are within the act, and the Superior Court not passing upon the question of the limitation at all. It seems to me in fairness that we ought to pass this act but we ought to caution the Liquor Control Board that no license should be issued to any club unless that club is a bona fide club within the act and will live up to all the rules and regulations.

I agree with what the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Huntley, said, in that it is perhaps unfair for this Legislature of 1941 to pass an act which seems to give the clubs a preference over the retail licensees, but I am certain if we deflect upon what was attempted in 1939, believing that the clubs should have been without the act and with the confusion that exists now in Pennsylvania as far as the law is concerned, this act should be passed and I ask the Members to vote for it.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I was on the Liquor Control Committee last session, and I agree with what the gentleman from Delaware has said and what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, has said. It was not the intention of that act to limit the clubs, but that is not the question before the House. If you want to confuse anything, all you need to do is to get a couple lawyers in it and they can make a good job of it. Because we made a mistake two years ago is not reason why we should make that mistake again. You and I well remember that there was not a dissenting vote the last time against the clubs. I did have the nerve to get up here and speak against a special privilege license system. I have no crow to pick with the clubs. My position is this, that we ought not to grant special privileges in selling to one liquor dealer as against liquor dealer, which is to the detriment of those liquor dealers who seem to be a public necessity. Selling liquor in clubs is not a public necessity. Clubs sell liquor to raise money with which to run their clubs. They are bon fide liquor vendors. It does not matter what name you give to them or how many lawyers there are to confuse the issue. That is the actual fact. Clubs are liquor vendors. What I wish to say is this, that the question before the House today is whether we shall limit the number of licenses to liquor clubs, the same as we do to road houses and some other poor liquor vendors who are trying to make a living legally. I believe it is unfair and for that reason I am against this system of granting liquor licenses.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Huntley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, will my good friend, the gentleman from Cameron, tell me whether or not he is a lawyer?

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, well, I used to be and I could not make a decent living out of it so I quit.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 79

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 79, Printer's No. 338.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1941.

Whereas The 11th day of October 1779 is the date in American history of the heroic death of Brigadier General Casimir Pulaski who died from wounds received on October 9 1779 at the siege of Savannah Georgia and

Whereas The States of Arkansas California Connecticut Delaware Illinois Indiana Kentucky Louisiana Maryland Massachusetts Michigan Minnesota Missouri Nebraska New Hampshire New Jersey New York Nevada Ohio South Carolina Tennessee Texas West Virginia Wisconsin and other States of the Union through legislative enactment designated October 11th of each year as "General Pulaski's Memorial Day" and

Whereas It is fitting that the recurring anniversary of this day be commemorated with suitable patriotic and public exercises in observing and commemorating the heroic death of this great American hero of the Revolutionary War therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by virtue of the authority vested in him to issue a proclamation designating October 11 1941 as "General Pulaski's Memorial Day" so the memory of this great man may be appropriately honored

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'BRIEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLASKI. I would like the permission of the House to interrogate the sponsor of this resolution, the gentleman from Philadelphia, in his native language, Polish. Will Mr. O'Brien, please answer this question?

Ja bym chcial wiedziec dla jakiej przyczyny Pan wstawiyl te rezolucje

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I say in answer to that, "Ja nie wiem."

Mr. POLASKI. "Bardzo dobze, dziekuje."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the Parliamentarian or the Chief Clerk is checking all these days off, and if so, how many are left?

The SPEAKER. We have a few more left.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. NAGEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I kind of feel that I have this body of men, the Members of this Legislature, pretty well convinced that Beaver County is one of the greatest counties in this [illegible] Tomorrow, April 24th, is going to be a red letter day in the history of Beaver County. There will be a [illegible] of ground breaking for a five mililon dollar plant, which I think will add enough to Beaver County to make it the Keystone County of this Keystone State.

Now, Mr. Speaker, in order that this function may be properly carried out I ask leave of absence for myself and for my two colleagues from Beaver County in order that we may assist in building this county up to the high pinnacle to which I hope it will finally arrive.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and leave is granted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was much interested in the statement made by the statesman from Beaver, about the breaking of ground in Beaver County for a plant that is going to make Beaver County a great place. I regret that the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, is not in the House because this indicates that some of the James prosperity is going to Beaver County. Mr. Nagel, however, has said it is going to make Beaver a Keystone County. I would just like to say to the gentleman from Beaver and to the members of the House that down in Delaware County tomorrow the Baldwin Locomotive Works is going to deliver to the United States Army the first of the huge tanks they have been constructing. You say this is a prepardness program. We have advanced quite a long way in Delaware County in this preparedness program and if you people up there in Beaver County need any help I suggest that you come down to Delaware and we will show you a progressive county where we are not just starting to break ground but we have been manufacturing different articles for the government for some time.

The SPEAKER. Do the Republicans get credit for these tanks?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it depends upon which tanks you are talking about.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, we are very glad they are making tanks down in Delaware County. Out in Beaver County we are going to make something faster than tanks, we are going to make aeroplane propellors and aeroplanes so that we will go down to Delaware County and get our tanks when we need them.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, the personal appearance of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, indicates that we know and have known for some time something about large tanks.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, "tanks" the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has noticed the absence of Members from Thursday sessions without the consent of the House. After this week Members who absent themselves without leave will do so at their own risk. Members will please take note that there will be no consent calendars after this week.

RESOLUTION

ADJOURNMENT IN RESPECT OF MEMORY OF JAMES BUCHANAN

Messrs. NORMAN WOOD and TROUT offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 23, 1941.

Today marks the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the only native son of Pennsylvania elected to the Presidency of the United States from this Commonwealth.

Born near Mercersburg, Franklin County, on April 23rd, 1791, James Buchanan entered Dickinson College at Carlisle in 1805 and graduated in 1819 with high honors,

He studied law with John Hopkins, Esq. in Lancaster, was admitted to the Lancaster County Bar in 1812 and during the same year enlisted in the war of 1812 as a member of Captain Henry Shippen's company.

His career in politics began with his election to this House in 1815. In 1820 he was elected to the Lower House of Congress from the Lancaster district and was reelected every two years until 1830.

In 1831 he was appointed United States Minister to Russia but disliking the formal etiquette of the Court, he resigned.

In 1834 he was elected United States Senator from Pennsylvania to fill a vacancy and was reelected in 1837 and 1843, but resigned in 1845 to accept appointment as Secretary of State under President Polk.

In 1849 he retired to private life until his appointment as United States Minister to England by President Pierce.

In 1856 he was elected President of the United States over Colonel John Charles Fremont and ex-President Millard Fillmore.

After the election of Lincoln in 1860 he returned to his home "Wheatland" near Lancaster, where he announced his support of President Lincoln's administration and where he spent his last years.

His twenty years' record as Congressman and Senator was one of useful service. He was quiet and well mannered; a conservative gentleman of the old school whose only ambition was to serve the State.

He died at "Wheatland" on June 1st, 1868 and is buried in Woodward Hill Cemetery, Lancaster; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the Members of this House of Representatives in full recognition and appreciation of the services rendered to the State and Nation by our illustrious former member hereby direct that this resolution be printed in the Legislative Journal and that when this House adjourns today it adjourns of respect to the memory of that outstanding Pennsylvanian, James Buchanan, the fifteenth President of the United States.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY APRIL 24, 1941. No. 42.

THURSDAY, April 24, 1941

The House met at 10 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Mr. Charles McFall, a member from Northampton County offered the following prayer:

Gracious God and Father of us all, we thank Thee for the Children whom thou hast given us. May our love for them go with them wherever they may be. Help us to build our homes, our community, our state, and our nation in so wise and holy a fashion that they shall be fit for these little ones, who are Thine also. Arm us with holy indignation against all those who would do them harm, who would feed their hunger for wholesome fun with the poison of wicked pleasure. Give us vision we pray Thee, to provide for all their needs. In Jesus' Name we make unto Thee our petition. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. RILEY, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

March 28, 1941.

Hon. Ellwood J. Turner
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

At a special election held in the City of Philadelphia on the 5th day of November, 1940, I was elected to the office of representative in the General Assembly in the 18th Legislative District of Philadelphia County for the unexpired term of Crystal Bird Fauset, ending on the 30th day of November, 1940. I have a certificate certifying this and issued under the hand of Honorable S. R. O'Hara, Secretary of the Commonwealth and bears her official seal.

I thought in order to have myself straightened out officially on the records that I should have presented this certificate to you as the Speaker of the House and that you would have administered an oath of office to me and provided me with the certificate that would have shown my representation in the House for the period stated.

If it is in good keeping with the facts and the general precodure, would it be possible for us to complete what was left undone? I thought maybe that you would be able to take care of this sometime when you were at home if you would tell me the proper time and place to call.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) JOHN A. M. McCARTHY.

JAMM:AH

April 2, 1941.

Honorable Elmer Kilroy
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

My dear Mr. Speaker:

Herewith I beg to hand you letter dated March 28, 1941, from John A. M. McCarthy, Esq., in which he sets forth that he was elected for the unexpired term of Crystal Bird Fauset, ending on the 30th day of November, 1940. He requests that I administer an oath of office to him in order that he can be straightened out officially on the records and a certificate issued to him showing that he was a member of the House for the period to which he was elected.

As the Legislature of 1939-1940 has passed out of existence, and as my term as Speaker ended on November 30, 1940, I would have no authority to administer the oath to him, nor do I believe that it could be done by yourself.

I am, however, transmitting his letter for such action as you may care to take.

Will you be good enough to acknowledge the same and oblige,

Very truly yours,

(Signed) ELLWOOD J. TURNER.

April 7, 1941.

Hon. Ellwood J. Turner,
Room 115,
State Capitol Building,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Turner:

This will asknowledge receipt of your letter of April 2nd which enclosed a letter from John A. M. McCarthy, Esq.

Very truly yours,
ELMER KILROY.
Speaker

April 24, 1941.

Mr. John A. M. McCarthy,
1105 Real Estate Trust Bldg.,
Philadelphia, Penna.

Dear Mr. McCarthy:

Your letter of March 28th addressed to Ellwood J. Turner, relative to your taking the oath of office as a member elect of the House of Representatives, to fill an unexpired term ending November 30, 1940 from the eighteenth legislative district of the County of Philadelphia, has been turned over to me.

I am advised that Section one Article VII of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides, "The oath to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives shall be administered by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court or of a Court of Common Pleas, learned in the law, in the Hall of the House to which the member shall be elected." Therefore, it is incompetent for the Speaker to administer the oath of office to you.

Furthermore, the term for which you were elected having expired, you cannot now be sworn in, even though you did not have an opportunity during the short time for which you were elected to present yourself in the Hall of the House to be sworn by a Judge of the Supreme Court or a Court of Common Pleas.

I regret very much that your desires to complete the official record cannot be realized, however, your letter together with my reply thereto is this day being spread upon the Journals of the House so that the facts of the case will be a matter of record.

Very truly yours,
ELMER KILROY.
Speaker

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Tarr for Mr. COCHRAN for today's session on account of a business engagement.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1941. No. 43.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 28, 1941

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

O God, Our Father, we pray Thy blessing upon all gathered here this day for we are met as chosen representatives of the people of our Commonwealth to act for them in the legislative branch of our government.

Let Thy light fall upon each Senator, the Lieutenant Governor as he presides so judiciously over this body and upon all who, as employes, make possible the continued operation of this Senate.

Let Thy grace be sufficient for all our tasks and Thy presence throughout all our deliberations be wondrously manifest in our beings.

Continuously do we beseech Thee, Our Father, to guide the President and the Congress, especially, who chart our course of action in these days of apprehension in international affairs. Do Thou show them the best way for us all that, if possible, we may escape the horrors of war and destruction. We pray in our weakness and implore Thee in our unpreparedness to lead us aright in the midst of this great national emergency. For Thy name honor and glory do we pray in Jesus' Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SNOWDEN and Mr. WALKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is in receipt of a communication dated April 26th, from the Commodore John Barry Memorial Committee, which, if there is no objection, will be noted in the Journal.

The Communication reads as follows:

"THE COMMODORE JOHN BARRY MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

1606 N. Broad St., Phila., Pa.

3533 Aspen St., Phila., Pa.,
April 26th, 1941.

"Hon. Samuel S. Lewis, Lieutenant Governor
Harrisburg, Pa.

"Dear Sir: The above committee representing twenty-five affiliated Societies with a total membership of over five thousand citizens unanimously endorse the Commodore John Barry Day Bill as presented by Senator John J. McCreesh.

"This committee in conjunction with all the Veteran groups in Philadelphia have for the past seven years held memorial exercises in the month of September, and on September 10th, 1939, we were honored by the presence of his His Excllency Governor Arthur H. James, who was the principal speaker.

"As this bill is a duplicate of one which was adopted by the State of Massachusetts, and as the body of Commodore Barry lies buried in Philadelphia, and as this is the first time that the Irish of Pennsylvania have ever petitioned the State to honor one of our race whose heroic deeds were recognized by his adopted country, may I on behalf of these citizens respectfully request that this petition be read to your honorable committee at the opening session of the Senate.

"Thanking you in advance for any consideration your honorable committee will give to this patriotic bill."

I remain, Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JAMES J. MULLAN, Chairman.

REPORTS OF COMMITTTES

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Several weeks ago, Mr. President, under this order of business, reports of committee, upon some inquiry of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, some reflection was made upon me concerning the secrets of the committee over which he is chairman. At that time, due to other urgent business before this body, I refrained from answering the gentleman from Allegheny. I had intended to give him my answer last week but other duties prevented me from doing so. have come to the conclusion, Mr. President, that I a ready today to give the gentleman from Allegheny a answer to his reflections made.

Mr. President, I have been a member of this body sinc 1934. During that time I have enjoyed the association the many gentlemen who have come from other districts this Commonwealth. Among those gentlemen there hav been at times some upon whose heads rested the stigm of criminal convictions while upon others rested the clou of suspicion and corruption. This, however, Mr. Presiden did not hinder these gentlemen from participating in th deliberations of this Senate and enjoying the Senatori honor that has been traditional among its members an it had been my hope that I might have continued to enje this Senatorial honor during any continuance as a membe of this Senate.

Nearly two weeks ago a member of this body made som reflection tending to accuse me of divulging secrets of th committee over which he sits as chairman. The minute of this Senate will show that I reserved the right answer. It had been my intention to give my answer lon before now but other duties prevented it. You will there fore, Mr. President, lend me your patience while I direc my remarks to the aforementioned members.

On February 24th Senate Bill No. 130 was before th Senate for third reading and final passage. When th bill was called up I directed the following remarks the Chair.

"Mr. President, both the Chairman of the Committee o Judiciary General and myself, and I think many membe of this Senate, have received requests for a public hearin on this bill and obeying the tolerant spirit of this bod in all matters that are fundamental and of great im portance I am glad to accede to those requests."

Pursuant, Mr. President, to these remarks you will fin on page 412 of the legislative journal the following mo tion:

"Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that Senat Bill No. 130 be recommitted to the Committee on Judician General for the specific purpose of an open and publ hearing. Mr. President, I think the remarks made for an against the bill ought to be stenographically transcribe and that, after a public and open hearing, the committe shall return the bill to this Senate with amendments o recommendations or both.

"Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to, and the bill was recommitte to the Committee on Judiciary General.

On page 413 of the journal I clearly pointed out to th Chair the import of this motion. My remarks, in par were as follows:

"The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands the motio was just to recommit this bill. Perhaps the Chair wrong.

"Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want the membe of this Senate to understand me well. I made that motio in order to allow a public hearing on this bill but I wan the bill back on the Senate floor."

It was under these circumstances, Mr. President, tha Senate Bill No. 130 was recommitted to the Committe on Judiciary General. It was the hope of all person interested in the bill that a public hearing would be hel within a reasonable time. The Chairman of the commit tee was repeatedly reminded of this. It is with regre at I must accuse the chairman, Mr. Walker, with delibate and malicious malingering in performing his duties chairman. The gentleman utterly ignored the two ters that I wrote him in which I reminded him of the ndate contained in the motion adopted by the Senate.

ersonally spoke to the gentleman as many times as he s fingers and toes to do me the courtesy of discharging duty in this matter.

In addition to this the gentleman from Washington, Mr.
ed, courteously implored the gentleman from Allegheny t to unreasonably delay the public hearing directed by e mandate of the unanimous vote of this Senate.

Finally, Mr. President, the malingering gentleman from legheny performed the prodiguous task of setting a te for a hearing, just fifty-two days from the date the l was recommitted to his fickle mercies. To be exact, e hearing was set for Tuesday, April 8th, at two p. m., the Senate caucus room. The Journal of this Senate that date will show that the gentleman from Allegheny nounced a meeting of his committee for the purpose of s hearing. The same Journal will show that as the nsor of the bill I invited the members of the press to present. Mr. President, at the appointed hour there peared in the Senate caucus room the members of the ess, the gentleman from Allegheny and eight members the committee. All of these gentlemen waited for arly one-half hour but no one appeared in opposition the bill. The chairman then called the hearing closed d resolved the committee into Executive Session.

Mr. President, I charge the gentleman from Allegheny th gross and deliberate deceit. The gentleman knew forehand that no one was going to appear in opposition the bill; the gentleman knew beforehand that his set-g of the date for the hearing and his pretention in lling the committee together for that purpose was a am and a fraud.

This deceit, this sham and this fraud has been manifested speech and conduct of the gentleman for a long time, th publicly and on this Senate floor. I have already lled your attention, Mr. President, to the reasons why moved that Senate Bill No. 130 be recommitted for a aring. For emphasis I shall here repeat them:

"Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, both the chairman the Committee on Judiciary General and myself and I ink many members of this Senate have received requests
r a public hearing on this bill."

Mr. President, believe as I tell you that the only request at I received for a public hearing came from the lips the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker; my only thority that other members of this Senate had received quests for a public hearing are the lips of the same gentle-an from Allegheny; the only proof that I have in sup-rt of the statement that the gentleman from Allegheny d received any requests for such a hearing are the lips the gentleman himself.

I am indeed amazed, Mr. President, at my own gullibility this matter. I did not surmise that a member of this dy would so lower himself as to perpetrate such a illful, deliberate fraud upon a fellow member. The only rsonal objection to this Senate bill came to me by tele-one from a member of the judiciary. This fastidious rist suggested and submitted for my consideration cerin amendments to the bill. Although no opportunity s been given to disclose these gratuitous amendments, ey can be definitely classified as "bolo" amendments—
these are the type that disembowel the victims without the loss of a whimper. I have many indications that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, did not forsake the opportunity to curry favor with this jurist at the expense of Senate Bill No. 130. The gentleman's lips are sufficient proof of this also; the deceitful lips that Judas-like did place the kiss of death upon the brow of Senate Bill No. 130.

I think the fact that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, refuses to deliver the bill to the Senate floor in line with the express mandate of this body is in itself an added proof of the limits that the gentleman will go in order to hide his deceit, his sham and his fraud. Not content with his own stultification, the gentleman, in a perfect Pontius Pilate, now tries to unlimber this sorry mess upon the shoulders of the committee.

Mr. President, no washing can take away from the hands of the gentleman from Allegheny the aroma of his deceit; his pretended love for the bill was but deceit; his pretended friendship for the sponsor of the bill was but deceit. As Senate Bill No. 130 was dropping before the drawn daggers in the hands of cowards it was heard to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, "Et tu Brutu."

Believe me, Mr. President, it has been painful for me to uncover this gross and deliberate fraud. The conduct of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, in this matter is the inevitable procedure that is naturally followed when members of this Senate dance like marionettes to the song of the politician in the background.

It is my deep hope that the putrefaction may be arrested at its present site so that remaining members of this Senate may continue in the enjoyment of that traditional Senatorial honor that has been such a bond in the Sessions past.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, we discussed this matter at some length and I quoted the Journal to the members of the Senate. My friends in the Senate do not need any explanation from me as to what occurred in the Committee on Judiciary General in connection with Senate Bill No. 130; those in the Senate who are not my friends are not entitled to an explanation.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Warren, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, search for youth, for a renewal of the springy step and the flashing eye is as old as the hills. Old Ponce de Leon hunted in vain for that fountain that once bathed in would bring the blush of youth and the fire that has burned in his veins. But he failed in his quest. But our friend from Philadelphia, the paragon of orators and debater de luxe, Senator Harry Shapiro, has attained what old de Leon sought. He has received word that he is a Grandpa. Ah, the magic of it, how his head has risen, how he smiles and how his eyes flash with pride and joy. I know just how he feels, it is the voice of experience that speaks, for not long ago I too took the plunge into the Spring of Grandpaship and emerged younger than for years, and at peace with all the world. What a sensation it is to know that a baby has entered the world and that we are Grandpa. It may be a real event to become a Dad but when you attain the sublime degree of a Grandpa, then you have drained the cup of joy and the world holds no greater gift.

The birth of a grandchild is one of the most extraordinary and beautiful provisions of nature which God has made for securing the continuance of human happiness to the very end of life, that we can renew through association with grandchildren the pleasure which for ourselves alone, which long since through repetition and safety, lost their charm, which have utterly and entirely lost their power to affect the mind even in middle life, regain their powers and magic charm and call up vividly all the old emotions even to the heart of decrepit old age, when it seeks these enjoyments in companionships and sympathy with grandchildren beloved. Let one in declining years, whose time passes heavily away and supposes nothing can awaken interest in his mind, or give him pleasure, have the pleasure of the birth of a grandchild, he can again enjoy the pleasures which he thought had forever gone.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from McKean may proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I had no part in the discussion between the Senator from Fayette and the Senator from Allegheny, but while the Senator from Fayette is speaking in this body that Senators should be explicit in their language, it would not have been out of place for him to have read the next page in the Journal where, after he had made the motion to send this bill back to committee with instructions to have a public hearing, he then made another motion to send another bill back; he will find on page 413 of the Journal, that I rose to my feet and inquired of the Chair whether or not the Senator from Fayette's motion on Senate Bill No. 130 bound the committee and the Chair ruled it did not. I stated if the Chair ruled that his motion on the previous bill tied the hands of the Committee on Judiciary General I would move to reconsider his motion to send the bill to committee, because I will not stand on this floor and see the hands of the committee tied and if the Senator from Fayette will turn to page 413 of the Journal he will find that he might with common decency and fairness to this Senate continued to have read on the next page where the Presiding Officer of this Senate said that the hands of the Committee on Judiciary General were not tied by his motion.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the encouraging remarks of the gentleman from McKean. I understand he is a member of the Committee on Judiciary General, and those of us who are on the committee and attended the meeting knew the action the committee took, they know the vote, they know whether or not there was any discussion the gentleman from Fayette has not yet quoted to the members of the Senate, the remarks that brought forth this outburst of oratory.

Mr. President, we are told by those who follow field and stream that the skunk is an expert in a certain particular field of his own and I personally have no desire to engage in a contest with a skunk in his own particular field.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I was inadverently distracted when some remarks were made concerning me and with the indulgence of the gentleman—I do not recall the county from which he comes—I should like to make, if possible, a reply for just a moment. Will the gentleman indulge me?

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. I will be glad to, Mr. President, only I want to say a word here. I want to say, Mr President, I am not in this quarrel and I know very little about it except that I am a member of the committee and attended the hearing but I think it is fair on this floor when any Senator is quoting the Journal and saying what someone else did, that he should quote all the Journal and that he should say to this body when this bill was sent to the committee the Chair of this Senate had ruled that by it being sent there the hands of the committee were not bound, and I then stated publicly in this body if any such motion were made and if the hands of the committee were to be tied I would move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was sent to the committee. I thank the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, for his indulgence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President and members of this Senate, the Senator from Warren, Dr. Chapman, was good enough to call attention to the fact that in the past week I have aged considerably by having become a grandfather. I can not forgo the opportunity of thanking him for the very beautiful way in which he brought the subject to your attention and at the same time convinced me that there was really more about being a grandfather than I had understood. I think you will all be interested in knowing that the only time the child will awake is for personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, apropos of the subject just discussed by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and also by the Senator from Warren, Dr. Chapman, I happened to run across a little poem in my scrapbook and with the indulgence of the Senate I would like to read it.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Westmoreland may proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think it expresses the sentiment of the gentleman from Philadelphia very well. It is entitled "I Saw So Many Things" and reads as follows:

I Saw So Many Things

I saw so many things today:
A group of children out at play.
A dewdrop on a bright red rose.
A line of flapping, new washed clothes.
A robin singing to his mate.
A squirrel perched upon a gate.
A golden sunset in the sky,
A fragrant breeze that passed me by,
But fairer than these beauty charms
Was the new babe held in my arms!

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to remind the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, that a skunk spreads his aroma under the shadow of darkness. I do my marauding around in the daytime; I have never kept company with the kind that spread their aroma at night and behind, and behind shadowy language. I speak in the open and in broad daylight.

In answer to the remarks of the gentleman from McKean, the Cassius-like gentleman who also had his dagger sharpened for Senate Bill No. 130, I state that if he had his ears pricked he would have heard me quoting from page 413 and that I specifically stated that on that page my motion was that the bill was to come back to the Senate floor, and that that statement was made after the motion had been passed unanimously and I gave the gentlman from McKean the opportunity to reconsider the vote and change the import of that motion. That was not done. It is not my fault if the gentleman from McKean and the Chair wishes to place upon my motion a meaning that is not contained in the words used in making the motion.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. This is all out of order. For what purpose does the gentleman from McKean arise?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I rise for the purpose of answering the remarks of the gentleman from Fayette, on a question of personal privelege.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the gentleman from McKean will proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I think this is just as much in order as the other remarks made on this floor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair may say he differs from the opinion of the gentleman from McKean. The gentleman from Fayette rose on a question of personal privilege and after he had completed his remarks it was only through the courtesy of the Chair and permission of the Senate that the others proceeded.

The question before the Senate now is the introduction of bills. However, if there is no objection, the gentleman from McKean will proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I just want to say to the gentleman this word, it is true he made a motion that Senate Bill No. 130 be re-referred, but I asked a ruling from the Chair of this Senate and that is what binds the Senate as to the effect, because I rose on a question of parliamentary inquiry and there was a ruling by the Chair that when that bill was sent to committee under those instructions it did not bind the committee and that is why I did not make a motion to reconsider the motion of the gentleman from Fayette, because the presiding officer of this body said that regardless of the motion the Committee on Judiciary General was not bound.

I do not wish to impose myself on the Chair or on the Senate but I want to get that clear; the reason I did not make a motion to reconsider the motion of the gentleman from Fayette was the fact that the Chair ruled that motion did not bind the committee.

The PRESIDENT. That is a matter of record.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. ZIESENHEIM read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 709, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred sixty-two of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," providing for the compensation of collectors of delinquent taxes for collecting delinquent per capita taxes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. FARRELL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 710, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred twenty-nine of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections; the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests, creating and defining membership of county boards of elections, imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto, and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by changing the time for filing nomination certificates and nomination papers nominating candidates at special elections.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 711, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred fifteen of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections, imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners, imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by further regulating the appointment of overseers of election.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. BECKER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 712, entitled:

An Act to amend Section One and Section Two of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 899), entitled "An act establishing a State Highway in the County of Lebanon; providing for its location, construction, improvement, and maintenance by the Commonwealth," by amending the State Highway Route established by said act and providing that said State highway shall be located after consultation with the Executive Director of the State Game Commission instead of after consultation with the Adjutant General of the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. MILLER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 713, entitled:

An Act to further amend route five hundred and fifteen, of section one, of the act, approved the eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 191), entitled "An act establishing certain public roads as State highways; and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth."

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. SNOWDEN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 714, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fifteen of the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 522), entitled "An act relating to dogs, and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs; providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture; providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs, and authorizing their destruction in certain cases; providing for the protection of licensed dogs, and for dogs temporarily imported for trial, show, and breeding purposes; prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs, and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners; providing for the assessment of damages done to livestock and poultry by dogs, and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs, and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth; imposing powers and duties on certain State, county, city, borough, town, and township officers and employes; directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury; and making an appropriation thereof; and providing penalties," by providing for the return of a portion of moneys received for licenses to the counties for use by Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and specifically appropriating the same for such purpose.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. REED read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 715, entitled:

An Act to repeal certain obsolete acts relating to paupers and the management, control and operation of poor districts.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I might say, in order that the members of the Senate might not be misled, that this list was given to me by Mr. John Fertig, who stated that he received the list from the West Publishing Company, which is about ready to get out its new digest, and it was requested that those obsolete acts be repealed.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Chair understand the gentleman from Washington is introducing the bill by request?

Mr. REED. No, Mr. President, I will take the responsibility.

Which was committed to the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions.

Messrs. DENT and WOODWARD read in their places and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 716, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Joint State Government Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. GELTZ read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 726, entitled:

An Act to provide for two additional law judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the Fifth Judicial District.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 28, 1941.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That this Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, May 23, 1941, at 12:00 o'clock noon (Eastern Standard Time).

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senators the Chair is of the opinion, before this resolution is voted upon, that the Senators should give consideration to it and the Chair therefore instructs that the resolution again be read and suggests that the Senators give their attention.

The resolution again was read by the Clerk.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he cares to state the reason for his objection to immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to state I do not believe in playing jokes in the Senate. I do not think it is possible for this Senate to adjourn and do the work it has to do between now and the twenty-third of May. I should like to appear before the committee to which this resolution will be referred and discuss the reasons in detail. My main reason is that everyone here knows, if he knows anything about the Calendar and the bills that are here and the bills that have to be passed, that we will not be able to adjourn by the twenty-third of May and I do not like to stay around here when they turn the clock back for seven days or twenty-two days.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, since the gentleman from Philadelphia has objected to immediate consideration of the resolution, of course no action can now be taken on the resolution, but I just want to point out in support of the resolution that it is not a joke, because we have been sitting around here for weeks and it very obvious the only bills that are under the head of "must" legislation are tax and appropriation bills and they are peacefully sleeping somewhere over in the House.

Most of the bills on the Calendar are immaterial bills to help certain types of industry throughout Pennsylvania; they are minority organized bill and apparently we have no intention of passing any bill on reapportionment for either Congressional, Senatorial or Legislative districts. Whether or not there will be any bills on municipal authorities it is hard to tell because none of them have appeared on the calendar.

Mr. President, we are all in favor of all out aid for Britain but I think it is about time we settled down to the question of all out aid for Pennsylvania and I think that can best be done by adjourning this session of the Legislature.

The PRESIDENT. Since there has been objection to immediate consideration of the resolution it is referred to the Committee on Rules.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. CROWE offered the following resolution which was read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 28, 1941.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, May 5, 1941, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, May 5, 1941, at 9 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Oredered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 53, as follows:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 212, on third reading, entitled:

An Act with reference to trust receipts and pledges of personal property unaccompanied by possession in the pledgee and to make uniform the law with reference thereto

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 302, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand four hundred sixteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" changing the qualifications of certain children for exemption from compulsory attendance provisions

Section 1 Section one thousand four hundred sixteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 786) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1416 The provisions of this act requiring regular attendance shall not apply to any child who has attained the age of sixteen years and who is regularly engaged in any useful and lawful employment or service during the time the public schools are in session and who holds an employment certificate issued according to law nor to any child who has been examined by an approved mental clinic or by a person certified as a public school psychologist or psychological examiner and has been found to be unable to profit from further public school attendance and who has been reported to the board of school directors and excused in accordance with regulations prescribed by the State Council of Education nor shall the said provisions apply to any child who has attained the age of fifteen years and is engaged in farm work or domestic service in a private home on a permit issued by the school board or the designated school official of the school district of the child's residence in accordance with regulations which the Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized to prescribe nor shall said provisions apply to any child having attained the age of fourteen (14) years who has satisfactorily completed either in public or private schools the sixth grade or the equivalent thereof if a permit for such child has been issued as hereinbefore provided and such permit has first been recommended by the county or district superintendent of schools having supervision of the schools of the district where such child resides or by the principal of the private school where such child is enrolled and the reason for the issuance of such permit has been approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the intent of this bill to take care of Amish children?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, the bill is intended to take care of Amish, Dunkard and certain Mennonite sections.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in the Caucus today there was some discussion about this bill and I think it would be helpful if the sponsor of this bill will explain whether or not this bill has the effect of increasing the cost of a fishing license in Pennsylvania.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, the bill does increase the cost of a fishing license in Pennsylvania by fifty cents over the price now charged. The purpose of it is to permit the Commission to purchase land and water rights for fishing purposes.

I would like, Mr. President, to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that Senate Bill No. 405 is the result of and has been approved by the conference of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen, who approved this kind of legislation at their meeting on February 12, 1941.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I object to this bill because it increases the cost of a fishing license from one dollar and fifty cents to two dollars, to do exactly what can be done without increasing the cost of a fishing license one cent. In truth, Mr. President, this bill will enable the Fish Commission to take huge sums of money and go out and purchase fishing rights in the very reservoirs in which I tried to legalize fishing earlier in this session and when we put the bill up before the Senate it was turned down by the Senate body, and yet the very streams which are the private streams covered by this bill are the streams that we were dealing with in Senate Bill No. 65.

I find, Mr. President, that this bill will unnecessarily increase the cost of this recreational sport. It is not at all necessary and if the Senate will pass a bill authorizing fishermen to fish in the many many streams that are held under private contract, because they call them water supply streams and feeder streams, you will not need this type of legislation.

There are over six hundred thousand dollars lying idle today in the Fish Commission fund and if they want to take that money, they can go out and purchase dam sites, build dams and build reservoirs for the fishermen if they so desire and I think every true sportsman will admit there is too much money going into the Fish Commission's hands at the present time and this bill will only allow—I warn you—it will only allow the Fish Commission to do, by paying out money exactly what this Legislature ought to do without increasing the cost to the fishermen and that is legalizing fishing in the streams now impounded as pure water supply streams in the State of Pennsylvania. I object to increasing the cost of a license to the fishermen.

Mr. TALLMAN. May I say this, Mr. President. There has been a remark made that this money is not necessary and that the Fish Commission does have ample funds with which to do this thing. I would like to point out to the Senate that the Commission has no authority at the present time to do so.

In addition to that, the funds which are available in the hands of the Fish Commission today are funds that are to be used and will be spent for the purpose of developing hatcheries all over the state. I would like to point out that for many years this same thing has been done through the use of fees secured from the sale of hunting licenses, and with very fine effect to all the sportsmen of this Commonwealth.

I might also state, Mr. President, there are a great number of streams that are closed waters to the fishermen of this Commonwealth. There is not a man on the floor of this Senate who, if he does any fishing, does not know that the open waters at various places in this Commonwealth are hard pressed because of the fact that men who go out and fish are obliged at all times to fish in the open waters available to them near their own communities and the ability of the Fish Commission to make available more open waters for the fishermen of this Commonwealth depends upon passage of legislation of this kind.

Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 418, entitled:

An Act requiring the Governor of the Commonwealth to issue annual proclamations setting apart September thirteenth of each year as Commodore John Barry Day.

And said bill having been read at length the third time

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend title, line 2, by striking out the words "annual proclamations," and inserting in lieu thereof the words: "a proclamation"; amend title, line 3 of title by striking out the word "each", after the dark face bracket and insert "this"; amend section 1, line 1, by striking out the word "annually" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "this year."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if I heard right, these proposed amendments introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia put the bill in exactly the same position as it was when it came from the committee prior to the amendments by putting it in the position it was when it went to the committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair believes he follows the gentleman from Westmoreland and is of the opinion he is correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the thing I cannot understand is that if John Barry is any type of a hero at all, if he means anything at all to the people of this Commonwealth and the people of this nation, then why should he be restricted to one holiday? I heard the other day one of the Senators make the remark he should only have one holiday, because when this man was a hero we only had a small navy. The size of a navy, Mr. President, does not determine the gratitude this country owes to the man for what he did with a small navy.

I think we ought to create a holiday for John Barry. If we want to honor a man who did something for his country then we should say Roosevelt should not be honored—I am sorry.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland wish to correct himself?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it sems to be the custom that we do not honor a politician until he is dead, and I have always accepted Mr. Roosevelt as a politician so therefore we will not honor him. We do not honor George Washington because he was only the father of a small country, a small United States, and I think it is silly to say to the people who are interested in John Barry's historical achievement we will give you one holiday, for this year only, and from then on you can let John Barry sleep.

I object to it, Mr. President, and I feel there should be a holiday every year.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair points out the objection of the gentleman from Westmoreland is too late. There was no objection to the amendments when presented. The question now before the Senate is on the adoption of the amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, speaking on the adoption of the amendments, I wish to remind the Senate that there is a fundamental error in this bill, that no one has been able to discover the date of the birth of John Barry. This is the first time we have been asked to make a celebration of the date of a man's death. This is the day he died and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, being conservative, feel they want to try it for one year, celebrating the man's death and if they like it they can continue it afterwards.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am voicing the opinion of thousands of citizens residing in my district who are in favor of the bill in its pristine condition and when I say pristine condition I mean before the committee amended it to make it only as a holiday for one year.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman, in one of his talks stressed the fact that the youth of America is not acquainted sufficiently with the glorious history of this country. That is true and if we have a bill today which can be conducive to the creation of more patriotism why should we limit it to one year?

After all, Mr. President, the Governor of this Commonwealth does not have to do a lot of work in signing a proclamation annually. That was the only reason which was given as to why it should be limited to one year. As much as I admire my colleague from Philadelphia. Senator McCreesh, I hope he will stick to his guns and demand that this bill be restored to its pristine condition and provide that this holiday should be celebrated annually.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I simply desire to call attention of the members of the Senate to their inconsistency in asking for an amendment which will in effect only honor John Barry for this particular year. Three years ago this Senate went on record as honoring Susan B. Anthony, who was the leader of women's suffrage and whose fight giving women the right of franchise had great political import and now they are objecting to do honor to John Barry who led in the fight for our civil liberties in the great Revolutionary War.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, there is a misconception about this bill. I have no objection to honoring John Barry every year, or every day if it is so desired, but we cannot expect the Governor of the Commonwealth to issue thousands of proclamations, which he will be asked to issue if this kind of thing keeps up. We have had perhaps a dozen or two dozen already this session.

If they want to make a certain day a John Barry Day, why, that would be perfectly proper but to ask the Governor of the Commonwealth each year to keep a list of probably a thousand names for the purpose of issuing proclamations is too much.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 443, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and four and to further amend sections one thousand one hundred and five, one thousand one hundred and twenty-one and one thousand one hundred and twenty-seven of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 529, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county, borough, town, township, school and institution district purposes; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; authorizing the appointment of a chief assessor, assistants and other employes; providing for their compensation payable by such counties; eliminating the triennial assessment; and abolishing the distinction between seated and unseated lands for the purpose of taxation.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 534, (House Bill No. 145), as follows:

An Act validating county treasurers' deeds where the acknowledgment of such deed or deeds was defective in any respect if in fact such acknowledgment was taken before a judge of the county

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 659, (House Bill No. 1151), as follows:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed from time to time between the effective date of this act and May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one to transfer from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund such sums not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of four million one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($4,150,000) as the Governor shall direct Transfers shall be made under this act upon warrants of the Auditor General upon requisitions of the Governor

The purpose of this transfer is to provide funds for the payment of the additional deficiency appropriation for public assistance made by this session of the General Assembly for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one To the extent to which this transfer makes it necessary the use of the transferred fund for its ordinary purposes shall be postponed but not otherwise modified

Section 2 The amounts transferred under this act from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund shall be repaid to the Motor License Fund out of the General Fund not later than June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-one

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether or not the transfer here proposed will be sufficient to carry the relief obligations until the end of this biennium?

Mr. GELTZ. That is the understanding, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether he is able to give us information as to what total amount of appropriation will have been appropriated and spent, with these bills, for the balance of this biennium.

Mr. GELTZ. I am unable to do that, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether this is in addition to the $14,000,000 recommended by the Governor in his budget message as the amount necessary to carry relief through to the end of the biennium.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, that is the amount the department said it is necessary they have in order that relief in this state may be continued.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether this is an amount in addition to the amount suggested as necessary by the Governor in his original message when this Legislature convened?

Mr. GELTZ. I do not think this is an amount in addition, Mr. President; this is a deficiency appropriation in order that relief be continued in the state and may not be discontinued.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Well, Mr. President, it is my information and I want the members of the Senate to know whether they are voting on appropriations which total, in my opinion and from my information $20,300,000, $14,000,000 of which would be provided by the tax measures recommended by the Governor in his original message, and this $6,300,000 is in addition to that and that it will be acquired by transferring $4,150,000 from the motor license fund and by the postponement of the payment of amortization of veteran's bonds of some $2,150,000. That was my understanding and if I am incorrect in that I should like to be so informed.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it seems to me it should not make much difference whether this is an amount included in the original estimate or was not. Up until now we have had no opportunity to pass on the other appropriation measures.

Twelve weeks ago, Mr. President, the tax and appropriation measures were introduced in the House. There now remains in this biennium just thirty-three days, at the end of which time, if the House continues to move as it has moved for the last twelve weeks, it will be necessary that the state government close its doors because the biennium will have ended without any appropriation or tax bills having been passed.

We are told by the Department of Public Assistance that it is absolutely essential that these two bills be passed today because the money which they had is completely exhausted and in order that relief be continued in this state it is imperative that they have the money set up in these bills.

Now, Mr. President, whether or not these amounts are included in the amounts set forth in the Governor's budget message is something that can be adjusted later on and can be discussed later on; the question before us now is the necessity of passing these bills so that the people of this state who are in need will not be let down by the delay of the Democratic Party.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like the indulgence of the Senate for just a moment. The statement has been made that the Department of Public Assistance will be hampered by the fact that the Democratic Party has kept in the House the appropriation bills and the tax bills necessary to enable the government to function. We find here this afternoon that the same condition exists apparently in the minds of the Senators as did exist in the mind of the Governor when he made his statement.

The Floor Leader of the Republican Party does not know whether this $6,300,000 is in addition to the $14,000,000 to which the Governor referred, and yet he criticizes the House because they failed to pass appropriation bills without having that same necessary information. Nobody knows. The Governor in his message says he did not know whether his budgetary estimates were correct; he says if business keeps up and if the taxes from the various funds increase, then we will have more money, and if we do have more money sometime in September he will call a special session—around election time will be very convenient so he can reduce the taxes and tell the public he has done that.

I think, Mr. President, if there is a possibility of reducing taxes it should be done now.

The tax bills in the House have been held up with a very specific and deliberate intent and purpose and that is to ascertain as soon as possible just what income is likely to be received. I am suggesting to the members of the Senate I have made personal investigation myself in trying to find out just what the tax returns on corporate tax returns will be in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the preceding year.

Mr. President, the information I have at the present time—which is not accurate or not assured—put it that way, because of the fact that there have been some returns that have been late in coming in—indicates that there will be as much as a sixty per cent increase in the corporate returns for the year 1940 over the year 1939. If that is so, the $5,000,000 estimated increase in the next corporate income taxes for two years which the Governor made in his budget is wholly inadequate and certainly below what will be received. If that average of sixty per cent is realized there is a likelihood of a $25,000,000 increase and if there is such an increase in the amount of corporate net income taxes, the present existing taxes can be reduced or certainly much needed governmental functions performed.

That is one of the reasons I would like somebody to tell me whether we are now appropriating $20,300,000 for relief for the balance of the biennium or whether we are merely providing $6,300,000, if the Floor Leader of the majority party in the Senate does not know whether we are going to appropriate $20,000,000 or $6,300,000 then he should not criticize the House for refusing to pass these tax and appropriation bills without knowing just how much money is needed.

I want to get this in the record, Mr. President, because it may sound from the statements given us today, this is in addition to the $14,000,000—then I would seriously consider the fact there may be some obstruction of governmental functions and I would use my power and influence in the Senate and among the House leaders to try to find out some way of providing these funds.

What I am trying to point out, Mr. President, is that the passage of these bills does not provide the Department of Public Assistance with sufficient funds to meet its demands, that will be made up until the end of this biennium unless the $14,000,000 is appropriated, rather, that has been appropriated, if that has been appropriated and this $6,000,000 is in addition, then we would not have to worry about the Department of Public Assistance.

I should like somebody who knows to tell me the facts.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I have known for some time and I think the minority floor leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, has known for some time the real reason for the tie-up on the tax appropriation bills in the House, but I really did not expect to hear him admit it on the Senate floor. We know and he has now admitted that the real reason for the tie-up on both the tax and the appropriation bills is that they just can not stand the fact that maybe Governor James would receive credit some time in the future for a reduction in taxes, and oh, Mr. President, how badly they want to receive the credit that is coming.

So for twelve weeks now they have fooled around with the tax and appropriation bills over in the House, leaving that until the end of this biennium, because even if those tax and appropriation bills come over to the Senate today, the Senate would have less than five weeks to consider them, after the House has held them for a full twelve weeks from the time they were introduced.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I take no great pride in claiming responsibility for or in bragging about a reduction of taxes. I think all of us who want to be honest about it will make this admission: that nobody will be able to claim any credit for a reduction of taxes in this Commonwealth, if any occur now, except the gentleman who is riding rampant over Europe; the increase in business, the national defense program, the increase in employment as a result of that national defense program, is the only thing that can claim credit. It is the blood of Europe that is being spilled all over the country and the Governor of this Commonwealth will not be able to claim any credit and I am sure he will get very little credit from anybody in any reduction in taxes in view of his preelection promises to reduce taxes and then he put the Commonwealth through the wringer and give the benefit to industry; or his reenactment once before of the Earle tax program and his reestablishment of the validity of the Earle tax program in this Session by introducing the very same bills.

I would not worry about credit the Governor will get or the Republican Party will get, but the Republican Party had better worry about the discredit he has already received about failure to carry out his election promises.

I am concerned, of course, as you all should be—I am concerned and I am satisfied in my own mind I am doing what is right and I am concerned about the amount of money that need be appropriated for several very important functions of government.

For instance, Mr. President, the Governor admits that taking over of mental hospitals as a state proposition is a fair and valid and an important governmental function, but he excuses himself from taking them over on the ground that there are not sufficient funds; but if the taxes should be increased there will be sufficient funds and I am sure even the Governor will agree that those institutions should be taken over.

Therefore, Mr. President, there is not any sense in talking about appropriating money or passing budgetary messages or anything of that kind until we know how much money we are going to have.

Now, Mr. President, I am not concerned with the statement, and I repeat it again for the benefit of those who want to make the most of it, that the object in withholding the pasage of those, first the Earle and now Governor James taxes, was to find out whether we needed that much. The reason for it was given by the Governor in his message in which he said we have only made estimates for business increase, and if those estimates are too low, why then our money will come in faster and we will get more money.

We notice from the relief rolls that the relief rolls are continually dropping, which indicates to us that business is getting better and it has increased, income has increased, and therefore there is every likelihood the figures I have referred to here are more accurate than those which the Governor has stated.

I think from what I have found out the increase from the corporate net income in Pennsylvania from taxes, the six per cent tax, will yield at least $25,000,000 more than the Governor has estimated and under those circumstances I think it is fair and right that the people should know those facts and that the tax bills should either be decreased or the necessary governmental functions should be provided for; under those circumstances I think we are justified in withholding any action on the tax bills; under those circumstances I think we are justified in asking that we be provided with the information necessary to guide us in our activities; and if that be politics then make the most of it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, my experience with these figures is not as complete as that of the gentleman from Philadelphia. However, without trying to kick the Governor around I think we had better get back on the bill we are considering. The bill which we are now considering, House Bill No. 1152, would appropriate $6,300,000 to the Department of Public Assistance.

House Bill No. 262, Senate Bill No. 202, which was passed in the Senate on February 26th, appropriated $14,500,000, so that very roughly and approximately—I put those things in so that the astute mathematical mind of the gentleman from Philadelphia will not be able to check on me too closely—that $6,300,000 would make $20,800,000 that has been appropriated to take care of the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. President, I think that specifically answers the gentleman's question.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not like to hear reflections made by one House concerning the activities of the other. I deplore such reflections as were made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, touching upon the activities of the House. In my judgment it is discussions such as we have heard on this bill that is delaying the proper work of this body. Surely if we would be astute enough to be interested in the bills and see where they originate and what takes place when a bill is brought up in the sight of the assembly where it orignates we will know something about that bill.

Now, Mr. President, here we have an appropriation bill that seeks to appropriate money for a specific purpose.

Now, the only question before us is whether that money is needed for that specific purpose or not. This bill originated in the House and all we need to do is to get the history of this bill in the House to see whether the members of the House, the leaders of the House, engaged in this controversy such as we have heard here in the Senate. If you will look at the history of this bill in the House you will find that it was introduced by a Republican member of that House on April 8th; on April 15th, the next week, it was reported out—I presume by a committee dominated by members who were mostly of the Democratic faith—and then on April 21st this appropriation bill passed the House by a vote of 205 to nothing, a unanimous vote.

Mr. President, I can not see why this appropriation bill should be bandied around here in the Senate by this argument as to whether or not the Republicans are going to take credit for its passage or the Democrats; if we only showed half the unity that the House showed on the passage of this bill we would get along much better in this Senate but here you have the vote of the House of 205 to nothing, and the next bill that is in the Calendar, which deals with an appropriations, received the same treatment in the House, a vote of 205 to nothing.

I do not regard this as a political bill; I do not believe the political end has anything to do with it; the only question is whether this money is needed for the purpose stated in the bill. In my opinion, the House has voted 205 to nothing and there we know the politics, especially of the Democratic party, is very heavy, and I know they would not have let any bill pass until it was a good bill and it passed unanimously in the House and I think it ought to pass unanimously here.

An the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 458, entitled:

An Act to authorize the revival of judgments entered in favor of the Department of Public Assistance by filing a suggestion of non-payment, and directing prothonotaries to make the necessary entries without charge.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would like to call attention to the fact that there is a misprint on the Calendar on Senate Bill No. 458. The last line should be "to make the necessary entries without charge." The wording as it now appears is "to make the necessary entries with charge." That should be corrected on the next Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The correction will be so noted.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 459, entitled:

An Act to outlaw claims against the State Emergency Relief Board for which invoices have not been presented within six months of the date of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 542, (House Bill No. 666), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of August, A. D., one thousand nine hundred thirty-two (P. L. 101), entitled "An act authorizing collectors of delinquent taxes, except in cities of the first class, to accept payments of delinquent taxes or water-rents or rates in installments," by including counties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. REED, upon the request of one of my colleagues, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 545, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to the summoning and service of jurors (except grand jurors) in the civil and criminal courts of the several counties of the Commonwealth.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 554, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and clause (b) of section four of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended, by redefining assistance and eliminating the requirement that fresh fluid milk shall be furnished to relief recipients, or their children.

be recommitted to the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions for the purpose of further study and amendment.

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I am interested in this bill because I understand that in the definition of what is assistance under the public assistance act there is included the distribution of milk. I understand because of that inclusion of the word "milk" in the public assistance definition, the federal government will not pay its share or any portion of the amount spent by the state for milk.

Now, Mr. President, it seems to me we ought to amend this act as quickly as we can in order to enable the department to reduce the amount of money which it needs in its relief program. We discussed this bill in committee very thoroughly and my understanding was that the chairman of the committee was to get a letter from Mr. Russell telling us how milk would be assured to needy children if this word were taken out.

Mr. President, I would like to know the purpose of sending this bill back to committee.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I believe the understanding of the Senator from Philadelphia is correct, that this is a complete and total cost to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, without contribution from the federal government. We want this bill sent back to committee, Mr. President, for the purpose of further study and amendment, so that when the bill comes out it will be in proper form for passage.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is that being done with the knowledge and consent of the chairman? I am a member of the committee but I did not know anything about any further amendments being necessary.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, if an answer is wanted to that question I should like to say the chairman of the committee is present here in the Senate Chamber, so I would imagine this is being done with his knowledge.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not see how this bill can be amended or how any amendment to this bill can help it. The only thing to carry out its purpose is to take out the word "milk" from the definition of Public Assistance. This bill going back to the committee for the purpose of amendment—I cannot see how it can be changed otherwise as there is nothing in this bill that can be amended.

If the purpose is as I have stated, and if I am correct in my statement, the reason the department wants this bill passed is because the word "milk" must be taken out of the definition; I do not know how you can amend the bill any other way and I think to send the bill back to committee is not right and will not expedite the matter at all

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, the understanding of the gentleman from Philadelphia is correct. Failure to pass a bill excluding the word "milk" will cost the State of Pennsylvania some federal funds.

In regard to the assurance that families on relief will secure the proper quantity of milk if the word "milk" is eliminated from this bill, I have nothing in writing concerning that from the Department of Public Assistance but I have the verbal statement that under section ten of the Public Assistance Law the department is permitted to install a trustee for any recipient of relief who does not handle the relief funds in accordance with the requirements of the department and it is their practice now and will be in the future if this bill is passed to appoint trustees for families that do not use the money for milk that should be used for milk.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I still should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understood, Mr. President, I do not know whether it was intended for my ears or not—but the gentleman said when I finished talking if I waited until the bill comes out I will see how it is amended. I think we are all entitled to know now. I am sure it is no secret and I should like to know how it is proposed to amend the bill.

Will the gentleman from Allegheny tell me how it is proposed to amend the bill?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, in his prior remarks I understood the gentleman from Philadelphia to say he did not see how the bill could be amended.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. GELTZ. Whereupon I said to wait until the bill comes out and then he will see.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Whereupon, Mr. President, I repeat the question: is it a secret or may we be told now how it is proposed to amend the bill?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not have the power or the authority to state what the amendment will be, but the purpose is to have the bill go back to committee for further study and consideration and to be amended the way the committee thinks it should be amended and, if we will wait that long we will then see how it can be amended.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the gentleman from Allegheny a member of that committee?

Mr. GELTZ. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, was the gentleman from Allegheny present when this bill was discussed in that committee?

Mr. GELTZ. I was not, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the committee unanimously agreed that the bill in its present form, with the present amendment, the elimination of the word, "milk," from the definition of public assistance, carries out the purpose of the Department of Public Assistance.

Now, if this bill is to go back to committee for amendment I should like to know for what purpose it is going back and how it is to be amended, if the gentleman agrees that the purpose of the bill is to take out of the definition of public assistance the word "milk."

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it seems to me we are wasting an awful lot of time in discussing this motion. If the bill goes back to committee my colleague from Philadelphia is a member of that committee and he will not only find out how it can be amended but he can be in on the discussion as to whether or not the bill should be amended. Why there is any necessity for prolonging this discussion of this motion is beyond me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will be very glad to state, Mr. President, why the discussion should be prolonged, because I think the members of the Senate are entitled to know why bills are being delayed and notwithstanding the fact that in one breath the gentleman talks about delay in the House and the cost to the governmnet by that delay, he should not too participate in delays which costs the government money. I say that the committee is entitled to know and as a member of the committee I should like to know what prompted the gentleman to make the motion.

If he had a discussion with some members of the Senate or some Departmental official who thinks that the bill ought to be amended and why it should be amended and in what way, I think we are entitled to know that and if the gentleman from Allegheny does not know, then I view the recommittal of this bill as another further purpose of delaying or killing the bill. I am perfectly frank about that and the more the gentleman from Allegheny evades an answer to my question the more I am convinced the bill should not go back to committee.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I can understand that on the part of my colleague from Philadelphia, as he, having been the leader of the Democratic Minority, understands also that there are times when he does things that are not just of his own thinking. I am making this motion, Mr. President, if it is any satisfaction to my colleague from Philadelphia, at the request of the Republican Caucus. The Republican Caucus wants this bill back in committee for further consideration and for amendment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I know where I can get my satisfaction. I am not in the Senate for satisfaction. I assure the members of this Senate that I do not enjoy delaying bills and there is no satisfaction in watching bills go back and the Republican Party treating the situation as if they and they alone were entitled to know the reasons why bills go back to committee and why they should be amended, and that we are just to sit here and vote as a minority. That is no enjoyment and no satisfaction to me.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria may proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the first point I wish to make is that the gentleman from Philadelphia has talked without being recognized by the Chair; and, second, a motion to recommit a bill is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The subject matter of a bill is not debatable on a motion to recommit, but the debate was on the reason why it should be recommitted. Therefore the Chair is of the opinion the gentleman was in order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman from Philadelphia has any right to question the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny to recommit the bill; I think that is a matter for the committee alone and not a matter for the Senators on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the motion to recommit Senate Bill No. 554.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Becker,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Thomas,
Carr,	Farrell,	McGinnis,	Tyler,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Wade,
Crider,	Haluska,	Scarlett,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Wilson, H. I.,
Deitrick,	James,	Stevenson,	Wilson, T. B.,
Dent,	Kephart,	Tallman,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Taylor,

NAYS—16

Barr,	Cox,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Bartlett,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,
Coleman,	Jaspan,	Reed,	Walker,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 645, on second reading, entitled

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1409), entitled as amended "An act creating the Highway Mining Commission, with judicial powers, to have exclusive jurisdiction over the mining of coal within or under the right of ways of State highways; and the assessment and award of benefits, improvements, and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for State highway routes, whether payable by the Commonwealth or a county; authorizing counties to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to highways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto," by extending said act, as amended, to all lands, easements and right of ways purchased, condemned, or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth; waiving vertical and lateral support therefor under certain conditions; reserving the right to acquire absolute vertical and lateral support; reserving the power to establish detours for the removal of coal underlying State highways; renaming the Highway Mining Commission and making certain changes in its membership and procedure; providing for appeals to the courts of common pleas from orders assessing damages for coal required to be left in place; and further clarifying the provisions of the act.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, in connection with this bill I desire to call attention to the fact that there is a typographical error contained in the bill. I have no objection, but sponsorship of the bill is shown as by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, rather than the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. The name of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins, is shown on the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. It is not shown on the bill, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The error is in the bill itself?

Mr. MILLER. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. That shall be corrected.

SENATE BILL NO. 364 CALLED UP FROM POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 364, on page 12 of the Calendar, on second reading postponed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 364, entitled:

An Act requiring receivers of Taxes in and for cities of the first class to furnish certificates of taxes, water rents and claims which are liens on real estate without charge to owners of said real estate or other parties having an interest therein, and limiting the liability of the Receiver for errors in said certificates, and retaining the liens of all unpaid taxes, water rents and claims against such property though the same are not set forth in said certificate, and repealing inconsistent legislation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Warren will state his question of personal privilege.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE UNITED STATES

Mr. CHAPMAN. With the German occupation of Greece and the withdrawal of the British troops, the Lindberghs and others of the pessimistic ilk are again indulging in dire predictions. But while the British lion is licking its hurts the people of the Empire are still singing "There'll Always Be An England."

And it is a time when we should take stock of what this latest British reverse really means. Is it a defeat as crushing as it appears on paper and in the dispatches? Has the British lion been seriously hurt and are the injuries received liable to prove fatal?

I should say that there are many advantages accruing to the British Empire as the result of this latest adventuring upon which the British diplomacy sent the Austrian paper hanger and his crew of banditti. If there were anything needed to entirely crush the Italian dreams of empire it was the Balkan war. Mussolini in his ill starred war on Albania and Greece gave the world a most amazing picture of the weak power of his armies and the low morale of his fleet, its sailors and gunners. It afforded an opening for the German war machine to roll down into Italy and occupy its strategic points without fighting and I feel sure that today Mussolini is only the Charley McCarthy of Hitler's Bergen. Italy is as surely under the Nazi power and the tattlings of the Gestapo as Poland. Mutterings of a separate peace with Italy are vain.

The Balkan campaign in which Hitler was forced to send his Legions to the rescue of the blatant Duce has had a long string of results. The exhaustion of Rumania, Bulgaria and the wrecking of the farmlands of Jugoslavia and the plunging of the mechanized hordes through the fair valleys of Greece has cut down the productivity of the farms, vineyards, herds and factories of the Balkans. Every plunge of Hitler into a country has destroyed the very things which Hitler's armies are so vitally needing Oil upon which the modern army moves was used in lavish manner by the Germans in the plunge into the Balkan states. The huge mechanized divisions of the Hitler forces with their tanks, tractor drawn guns, motorized panzer divisions all of which are motivated with gasoline consume huge quantities of gasoline. Replacing of these stores used so lavishly cannot be accomplished in a day, a week or a month. Every mile that the line stretches away from Berlin marks a higher consumption of the vital fluid which is the life blood of the German forces.

Have you ever realized that a fleet of 500 planes of the type used by the Germans consumes as much gasoline on one raid as 300 pleasure cars driven in America in one year? Essential oils of all kinds are at all times a crying need of the German war machine.

Then too the flower of the Blitz troops was thrown into the fray in Greece and especially trained troops are turned out in jig time. Ask any of the Staff officers out at Indiantown Gap and they will tell you that a year is not long enough in which to turn out a finished soldier. And the German losses in the tangle with the British Empire forces in the Balkans were terrific. It is estimated by competent observers that the German dead outnumbered the entire strength of the British forces thrown into Greece. And the wounded? Conservative estimates are that from 150,000 to 200,000 are incapacitated for duty for months to come. The cost of men and material was immense. Of course, in any army of 4,000,000 these figures seem to be small by comparison with the whole, but the German army is being split up for police duty in the conquered lands and the army as a whole cannot be figured as available for battle at present.

So the Balkan adventure, as I see it, has had the effect of scattering the efforts of the Nazi machine; of throwing it off its time schedule; of wasting its resources; of killing its specially trained Blitz troopers; of wrecking hundreds of its tanks and motorized war machines and airplanes. Yes, it has been to the advantage of the British Lion to roar in the Balkans.

But one of the most telling effects of the Blitz into the Balkans was the interfering with the war schedule of the Germans. Time which is most valuable to the British was afforded. Every passing day gives the British that much more time to consolidate its efforts in the British Isles. For the British Isles must be taken and occupied before a real knot is tied in the Lion's tail. While only three weeks was consumed in the Balkans it will take additional weeks to consolidate position and get plans in readiness for the next war move by the Axis.

In the meantime, America's efforts are gaining. Last week the big 29-ton tanks began to come off the assembly lines of the Baldwin locomotive works, the airplane factories are producing under mass production; airplane engines are fairly leaping off assembly lines and every day the hum of motors over the Atlantic betoken bombers flying to England.

Yes, our efforts are beginning to bear fruit. By July 1st of this year, many of the new plants will be in production of war munitions and machines and our efforts will begin to count.

But today we have a grim picture of plants reducing production and shutting down due to a soft coal shortage. This and similar strikes are not necessary and labor leaders and manufacturers who hamstring the defense effort by failure to agree should be ushered into concentration camps. Democracies are too soft and I for one feel that now is the time when the old slogan "One for all and all for one" and that one, Uncle Sam should be put into practice.

Let concentration camps yawn open for men who put greed ahead of national unity and a strong nation and they will soon find seats at a council table and reach agreements. And too, I feel that profits both for labor and manufacturers are becoming too high. True I grant you that the "laborer is worthy of his hire," but why in a time of stress should the "hire" become so high? Let me ask how living costs can be kept down if the labor element entering into every product is advancing? There should be a happy medium. If a million of the flower of youth can be taken into an army for a paltry $21 per month, why cannot a mean wage be established in civilian life?

I am a friend of the working man and of the manufacturer but I can vision the day when if this rampant demand for more and more continues that both labor and the manufacturer will face a condition when Uncle Sam will step in and say "You must produce this article for so much money and both labor and the manufacturer will be denied the right to sit in comfort and dictate "thus and so."

That day is approaching if this present period of unrest keeps up and the President under the Emergency Act has the right to impose his terms. Of course, a strong man is needed to thus act but even a vacillating theorist may be pushed too far.

But the situation today is not so black as painted. I am an optimist and a "bull" on England's chances in this war. Hitler will be defeated and the United States possesses the power to make that defeat quick and sure. Let America once get her shoulder to the wheel and let the American navy convoy the ships of the Allies to England and supplies will reach their destination. The time for parley is past. Grim determination to have the guns, planes and tanks reach England and they will. Half measures in assuring the safety of shipping from German raiders will not do. We must provide that measure of safety.

Britain has always muddled through with a heavy cost of men and material. We must not muddle! We must act. Our American people are thoroughly behind the government and are willing to pay, provided they get the goods they are paying for and the results are sure.

Let us speed the day when the sun of victory will cast its glint over the world and we can say to Churchill, "We gave you the tools and you did the job."

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, April 29, 1941, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:02 o'clock, p. m. Eastern Standard Time until Tuesday, April 29, 1941, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 28, 1941

The House met at 8 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall offered the following prayer:

Great God, our Father, we pray Thee, show unto each of us the beauty of selflessness, and the joy of investing our lives for the common good. When the way is hard, when the storms of temptation gather around us, when enemies assail us, and friends forsake us, then may we find Thy grace sufficient for all our needs. May Thy grace and Thy love renew our courage and rekindle our flagging hopes. May we be strengthened to bear the perfect will of God.

Call us from the beaten track. Speak to us amid our daily round of industry and show us the worlds yet unclaimed for Thee. Help us, O God, to turn away from what the world deems safe and certain, that we may answer Thy call to help build such a State where love, peace, good will, and brotherhood have their very root in Thee, the one true and living God. In Thy Holy Name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, April 24, 1941.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, April 24, 1941, when, on motion of Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McSURDY. HOUSE BILL No. 1409

An Act making an appropriation to the Treasury Department for the purpose of reimbursing county treasuries for the refunding, in accordance with certain court orders, of retail liquor license fees and additional taxes to holders of licenses to sell vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors of any admixture thereof, or intoxicating liquor, where the act of assembly under the authority of which such licenses were granted was repealed by the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three prior to the expiration of the license year for which such licenses were issued.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. REGAN. RESOLUTION No. 87.

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1941.

Whereas, It is the duty of the Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics, under the provisions of the acts approved the 7th day of June, 1915, (P. L. 900), and the 9th day of April, 1929, (P. L. 177), to supply certified copies of the birth, death, and marriage records maintained by that Department, upon the payment of the prescribed fee; and

Whereas, The effect of the present National Defense Program, together with the requirements of certain new legislation, has given rise to a greatly increased demand for certified copies of birth, death, and marriage records; and

Whereas, The Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics have apparently been unable to meet the increased demand for such certified copies, thereby depriving the Commonwealth of considerable revenues and greatly and unnecessarily inconveniencing the large number of persons to whom a certified copy of a birth or death record is an immediate necessity; now therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly, that the Speaker of the House shall appoint a legislative committee consisting of five members whose duty it shall be to investigate the reasons for the failure or inability of the Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics to supply, promptly on request, certified copies of birth, death, and marriage records, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such conditions are due to lack of adequate funds, insufficient personnel or equipment, or to administrative inefficiency; and be it further

Resolved, That said committee report the results of its investigation to this House as speedily as possible, together with its recommendations as to the steps which should be taken to clear up this situation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Hering, Kolankiewicz and Lloyd H. Wood.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1156, Printer's No. 308, was passed over at the request of Mr. HARKINS.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1372, (Senate Bill No. 125), entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough, town, township, school district (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period, and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 125, House Bill No. 1372, is another abatement act. Just a week ago an abatement act was passed which affects the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia districts. This particular bill, House Bill 1372, affects the rest of the state.

About a month ago a resolution was passed which just about committed this particular House and the Senate to pass an abatement bill in order to stop sheriff's sales. Since the 1935 session abatement bills have been passed but I might say that this particular abatement bill will really help the poor home owner. During the past session quite a number of abatement bills have been passed allowing people to take advantage of the particular provisions of the bill, but with the National Defense Program going on as it has been during the past year, I think the poor person should be given a like opportunity to take advantage of an abatement act, especially the poor old man who has not been able to pay the tax up to the present time. This does not force anybody to take advantage of the bill, anybody can refuse to do so.

In my opinion this bill does not go far enough in its provisions, because we should make it mandatory on every community and municipality to make it possible for the poor person to take advantage of this abatement act. This particular piece of legislation at this time will help out the poor home owner in the state by abating the penalties and interest when he pays his tax.

Mr. CORDIER: Mr. Speaker, I have been anxiously awaiting the arrival of this piece of legislation on the floor of the House for consideration.

Before and since the early stages of this session, I have been vitally interested in the question of tax abatements, having introduced the first tax abatement Bill in this session in either the House or Senate which is House Bill No. 155, introduced January 28th, the pattern of which the legislation before us materially follows. The Bill before us validates the provisions of House Resolution 43, adopted on March 5th, which I sponsored in conjunction with Representative Munley. To the Anthracite Section of this Commonwealth, this Bill will be a godsend. Six thousand properties were sold last year in my County and six thousand more will be sold this year unless this Bill passes. In their wisdom, the Chairman and the members of the Municipal Corporations Committee of the House did not see fit to report my bill to the floor of the House for consideration. I respect their wishes and have collaborated with Senator Dent and worked to aid the passage of this measure in the Senate. I wish to congratulate the Senate of Pennsylvania for shelving politics on this bill and I also wish to thank the Chairman and members of the Municipal Corporations Committee of the House for expediting its passage through this branch of the Legislature.

Mr. Speaker, it is my firm conviction that neither of the major parties of the State will acquire any particular political advantage by the passage of this legislation, but a vast part of the citizenry of Pennsylvania who have looked with anxious eyes upon this Legislature for the passage of this measure will receive tremendous benefits. It is my sincere hope that in the formation of a well-rounded program for the benefit of the citizens of Pennsylvania in the remaining days of this session we may be able to shelve partisan politics.

I respectfully urge the members of the House to vote favorably on this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. VOLDOW.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 393, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 266), entitled "An act to protect trade-mark owners, distributors, and the public against injuries and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard quality under a distinguished trademark, brand or name," by extending the provisions thereof to vending equipment used in distribution of such articles and further defining parties having a right of action for unfair competition.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill came before this House a week or so ago and failed of passage, this House by an overwhelming vote voted to reconsider the bill and placed it on the calendar and it now has been called up for final action.

This bill, Mr. Speaker, is a fair trade bill, and the words "fair trade" in their common and accepted dictionary definition mean just what they say, "fair trade." When the bill was debated a couple weeks ago there was some misapprehension as to the effect of the bill. Because of that, Mr. Speaker I took this bill and studied it carefully. I find I cannot agree with the arguments that have been advanced against the passage of this bill. On the other hand, I find that its application to the particular amendment in this particular bill comes clearly and squarely and definitely within any decent concept of the term 'fair trade."

I might say, Mr. Speaker, that this bill is identical in almost all respects with the same type of legislation now in force in forty-four states of the Union.

A bill almost identical in its terms with the present bill has been declared constitutional, by the United States Supreme Court and in the State of Pennsylvania it has also been declared to be constitutional.

The charge has been made that this bill is a price fixing bill. That seems to be the main point of contention. I might say in that connection that the United States Supreme Court, through Mr. Justice Sutherland, in referring to an act in the State of Illinois, which is almost identical in its terms with this bill, had this to say about its being a fair trade bill;

> "The act" (Illinois Fair Trade Act which is identical with that of Pennsylvania) "does not fix prices nor does it delegate such power to private persons. It permits the designated private persons to contract with respect thereto. It contains no element of compulsion but simply legalizes their acts leaving them free to enter into the authorized contract or not as they may see fit." This is found in Old Dearborn Distributing Co.—V. Seagram—Distillers Corp. (299 US 183 (1936).

Mr. Speaker, what this bill does is to put a floor under taxes. It permits dealers to contract with manufacturers or distributors of goods, that trade marked goods which are the subject of contract shall not be sold below a certain price, and does not fix the reselling price to the public generally.

The original act in Pennsylvania passed a Democratic House and a Republican Senate in the year 1935. In this particular bill we are talking about vending equipment and vending equipment as has been stated on the floor of this House, relates and pertains to gasoline pumps. The contract that may be entered into by reason of this act, only means this, that the gasoline or oil products or any other product sold out of a vending machine, that vending equipment shall bear the trade mark or label of the producing or manufacturing company, and that product shall be subject to fair trade, as well as every other trade mark product which is sold in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and which by the terms of this legislation may be taken advantage of by the manufacturer and the vendor.

Mr. Speaker, a tank car of gasoline can have no brand or label. Gasoline is not sold by the can. It is not sold in a small package by trade mark. But it is taken from the producer to the vendor to the seller and is there put in a sealed container which bears certain measurements and which bears a trade mark or label, and therefore, the consumer is protected in that he gets the product he wants, it being a trade marked, patented or copyrighted article. The price he pays is the price which the retailer himself sets. The retailer is being protected in that he knows that other dealers of similar articles of the same particular brand which he is selling are also under a fair trade act and he has a certain level below which he cannot sell. There is no gainsaying the fact that fair trade in America is a boom to the retailer and also to the consumer, because taking into consideration another industry, the drug industry, figures have proven that in the past several years, since the inception of the fair trade act, on an average the consumer has saved at least one percent in the price of trade marked articles which are sold under contract under fair trade acts in the various states.

Mr. Speaker, I think if we had had this clearly before us three weeks ago, the vote might not have been what it was, and I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that the permissive provisions of this bill, with the wholehearted cooperation of the producers and retailers can harm no one and could help many.

The charge was also made that this was attempted monopolistic practice by big oil dealers. It is clear and it is known to all of us that any price fixing or any monopolistic agreement by any great oil company or producer is subject to the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust laws of the Federal government. I think that plus the provisions of this act, most certainly is deterrent and a positive safe-guard to the dealer and to the consumer of this particular commodity, and I cannot too strongly urge you to vote "aye" on this bill

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia, when he states that this is not a price fixing bill but that it simply puts a floor under the prices. I would like to read for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia the part of the act which pertains to the fixing of prices. On page two, section one, subsection A, the bill states:

> "That the buyer will not resell such commodity except at the prices stipulated by the vendor."

Also in subsection B it provides as follows:

> "That the vendee or producer of a commodity require upon the sale of such commodity that such purchaser agree that he will not in turn resell except at the price stipulated by such vendor."

This states in very clear words that the purchaser, the little independent gas dealer, in buying from the major oil companies, must sell at a price stipulated by the major oil companies. This is not a fair trade bill. This bill should be called a "big profit bill" for the big oil companies. This bill is unsound. Gasoline is a necessity; a necessity to commerce, industry, the commercial traveller, the school teacher, as well as millions of families who rely upon it for entertainment and recreation. The legislature should never surrender this right and duty to regulate prices to protect the consumer because we must protect the consumer in the interests of the public. This bill permits the big fellow to fix his own profit. The bill would make it possible for the big companies to put the squeeze on the little fellow any time he wants to do so and any time he wants to put him out of business. We must not forget that out of the thousands of stations in Pennsylvania, many of them are company owned and operated, company owned and dominated through leases to former employes of the major oil companies. The major oil company is not interested in the little dealer; the major oil company is interested in gallons, and in establishing as many stations as possible. For instance, one station on a corner may sell a thousand gallons of gas per day. A major oil company will come in and put three or more stations at the same corner. The major oil companies will get more distribution and their sales at that particular corner may jump to fifteen hundred gallons, but the individual station's sales may drop to five hundred or seven hundred and fifty gallons per day. On our main highways, due to the expansion of the major oil companies, you can travel from station to station on three quarters of a gallon of gasoline because in most instances the stations average between twenty to twenty-four stations per mile.

I want to read a wire from a man who I believe is well acquainted with conditions existing in the oil industry, a man who served on a Democratic appointed commission to investigate the price wars and conditions existing in the oil industry. I refer to the Hon. Ralph H. Smith, Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County.

I quote from his telegram as follows:

"Oppose amendments fair trade bill to include gasoline industry for following reasons supported by oil industry investigation committee findings: First no essential differences in various trademark brands of gasoline in three usual grades regular medium and premium ethyl; second in past major oil companies have participated in local retail price wars and in some cases started them; third major oil companies have for years fixed retail prices following Atlantic as price leader; fourth over development number retail outlets by major companies interested gallonage output and profit have made retail dealers lot hard with main reliance for operating profit accessory sales and car services; fifth gasoline closely connected with public interest involving two million private car owners and truck or fleet operators. Proposed bill would sacrifice public interest and give price fixing power major oil companies and distributors who stand to profit by any policy followed. Consumer would be without any protection. Act would encourage further overexpansion retail outlets. Bill would guarantee profits to companies and distributors at expense of private car. Operators as well as commercial interests. Sincere desire secure fair spread between tank car tank wagon prices and retail price would require supporters present bill to favor creation state oil commission with authority regulate prices in public interest."

Mr. Speaker, this bill is a bill that if you vote in its favor you will give the power to the major oil companies of Pennsylvania to tell every consumer and every user of gasoline in this state that they must pay the price they dictate that gasoline shall be sold for. You can dress this bill up as you may, you can connect it up with the Fair Trade Bill, and when you do, I want to call the attention of my Democratic Colleagues to the fact that one of the greatest opponents of the Fair Trade Bill is our present Attorney General. Mr. Arnold of the Justice Department also recommends the repeal of all Fair Trade laws.

I would like to correct the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia to the effect that there are forty-four states which have had a Fair Trade act in operation. There are thirty-two states which have such an act in operation. Mr. Arnold further reports that the Fair Trade laws are classic examples of misrepresentation which power gives to the pressure groups.

He further states that there were no public hearings on the measures only in three states out of the first of thirty-two states who adopted Fair Trade laws. These laws are detrimental to the public welfare. He also states that it relieves chain stores from competition with the independent merchants, and that these laws should be repealed to protect the independent groups and very evidently for the public benefit. He states that the power given to private individuals is far more power than is exercised by the government itself.

Members of the House, I appeal to you, in fairness to the independent gasoline dealers of Pennsylvania, to vote this bill down.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House for final passage several weeks ago, I voted for the bill. I am still in favor of the bill. I am in favor of the bill because in the first place it simply extends the Fair Trade Act of 1935 to embrace gasoline. If gasoline were sold under a trademark brand or name, it would be within the act of 1935. This bill simply brings gasoline as sold from vending equipment within the Act of 1935. If gasoline should not be within the Act of 1935, then the Act of 1935 is of no value, and if the Act of 1935 is a good law, gasoline should be within that law.

My authority for voting for this bill when it was here on final passage several weeks ago, and the same authority I have tonight, is the opinion of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and I quote from the opinion in the case of Bristol-Myers Co. vs. Lit Brothers reported in 336 Pa., page 81, decided in 1939. In construing the Act of 1935, the Supreme Court had this to say as to the purpose of the Act:

"The purpose of the Fair Trade Act is to prevent the cutting by any dealer of the established price of any commodity identified by the trademark, brand or name of the producer."

That is the language of the Supreme Court in construing the Act of 1935. The bill before us now simply brings gasoline within the provisions of the Act of 1935. We all know that no one here would attempt to repeal the Act of 1935. The language quoted by the gentleman from Allegheny ,Mr. Holland, of Mr. Arnold may be his own personal opinion, to which he is justly entitled, but thirty-two states have this Fair Trade Act. It is in our Federal Laws, and it seems to me if other commodities come within this Fair Trade Act, and if the purpose of the Fair Trade Act, as stated by the Supreme Court, is to prevent the cutting by any dealer of the established price of any commodity there is no good or sound reason why gasoline should be without the pale of the law. It might be said when you sell by trade name or by brand that you are selling a commodity that is already sold. If we did not have further language of the Supreme Court after that we might not be able to justify this bill. However, the Supreme Court in the case of Lentheric Inc. vs. F. W. Woolworth Co., decided in 338 Pa. page 522, as follows:

"A producer of trade marked perfumery products had the rights under the Fair Trade Act, in this section to stipulate that its trade marked perfumes could not be sold at retail in quantities of one ounce or a fraction of an ounce for less than fifty cents, and when a retailer sold any fraction of an ounce for less than fifty cents he was violating the act."

In other words the court was speaking of selling the perfume, and the court distinguished between perfumes that are already within the brand or trade mark or in bottles, so to speak, and even said that when you get it by the ounce, the Fair Trade Act still prevents the cutting of prices. That is the same thing that is being done with gasoline here. It is an attempt by this legislature, in the exercise of its valid power, in the language of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, to prevent the cutting by any dealer of the established price of any commodity.

Mr. Speaker, the Fair Trade Act has certainly stabilized business in this country, and if there is any business that needs stabilization it is the gasoline business. I do not represent any producer nor I do not represent any retailer, but is seems to me if we are going to legislate within a field we ought to embrace every activity within that field, and if this language of the Supreme Court in construing the act of 1935 is sound, and I think it is sound, then there is no good reason why gasoline should not be embraced within the act of 1935, and that is all that House Bill 393 seeks to accomplish.

Mr. RUEBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, just briefly may I say with reference to the statement that there are only thirty-two states having fair trade acts, there were forty-four states when I spoke a while ago, and I have just been told that a week ago the state of Delaware passed an act, making in all forty-five states.

Mr. Speaker, as to the statement that it is only the major oil companies who are in favor of this legislation, may I say in refutation of that statement, that I have four or five hundred signatures of independent small gasoline dealers in Pennsylvania who urge the passage of this act.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, if the oil industry is so sick that it needs regulation, that should be done in a way that the public will be protected. We have milk commissions, we have liquor commissions, we have public utility commissions, and in such an essential necessity as gasoline if we want to be fair to the producer, to the distributor and to the dealer as well as to the consumer, the proper step would be to form an oil commission so that all parties concerned would be protected. If this step were taken, I would be in favor of it, but I do think, regardless of the remarks of my colleague, of whom I think a great deal, Mr. Brown, from Allegheny, even if other states have established such a law, they have made a mistake. After all the decisions of the Supreme Court have not always been in favor of the little man. I believe this bill should be defeated and an investigation should be carried on by this House; an investigation commission should be appointed to study this problem, and then report back to the House as to what we should do, regardless of the many signatures which the gentleman from Philadelphia has. It is very true you can get a lot of signatures because a lot of dealers are controlled.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, are the signatures of any of the major oil companies on that petition?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, all I have here are signatures with addresses and no other identification, simply the names of individuals and their addresses. At least I do not see any but if you want me to go over the whole list and see if any companies are mentioned I will do so. I do not think there are.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I have contacted all of the independent dealers in my district on Saturday and Sunday and I have yet to have one independent dealer in my district—and when I speak of independent dealer I mean an independent dealer—to be in favor of this bill. They are all afraid this bill will squeeze them out of business.

I might add another thing, if they want to protect the dealer by this bill, what is to stop the major companies from selling you oil or gas, and telling you that the retail price is going to be twenty-two cents, and then decide after having the tanks of the independent gasoline dealers all filled cut the price to nineteen cents. It will not be the major oil companies that will take that loss; it will be the small independent dealers who will take that loss. I think that is something to think about when we vote on this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, that the Supreme Court has not always favored the little man, I don't know what he means by that statement. I do not think he himself knows what he means by it.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the Supreme Court of the United States are our courts of highest appeal, and I think we respect their opinions and their decisions. If I were certain that an investigation commission could be appointed and that commission would recommend an oil commission of some kind to fix prices, there might be something in what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland said. I wonder, though, whether the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, is familiar with Article III, Section 27 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and I quote:

> "No state office shall be continued or created for the inspection or measuring of any merchandise, manufacture or commodity, but any county or municipality may appoint such officers when authorized by law."

It is pretty hard for me to see how you can set up a commission to perform the duties outlined by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, for that inspection, and if you must inspect, you have conflict with our State Constitution. That provision was put in so that the Legislature would not come in and set up all kinds of commissions to go out and inspect commodities. The fair-trade act is the act that will accomplish what Mr. Holland has in mind. I think he is confused between the Fair Trade Act and the Fair Sales Act. If we can get him to understand that we are dealing with the Fair Trade Act and not the Fair Sales Act, some of the doubts that are in his mind might be quickly cleared up.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, regardless of the statements made by the learned attorneys on the other side, this bill still remains the most iniquitious legislation that has been presented in this House in the three terms I have had the honor of being a Member. Competition is still the life of trade. This bill has been known since it was dropped out of this House and defeated last week as the "Kelly public be damned bill." I could not help but notice as the gentleman who preceded me spoke on this bill, that a certain gentleman in the House visited a great many Members in the House, evidently expecting to change their votes.

I was told last week when this bill was reconsidered that along with Mr. Kelly, he had combined with a man by the name of Pew from the Sun Oil Company, and unquestionably this bill was going to be put over tonight. I have no doubt that when the bill is called up for final passage it will be passed, but I would like to call the attention of the Members of this House to just who is affected by this bill.

You will affect over one and one-half million motorists in the state of Pennsylvania; you will affect your fourth-class school teachers. Both parties in the State of Pennsylvania are agreed that some official help should be given to this very much underpaid fourth-class district school teachers who receive eight hundred dollars a year, and who are supposed to live up to a certain standard. You are going to put an additional burden on this eight hundred dollar school teacher by an increase in the price of gasoline that he or she must pay to travel back and forth to the school house.

You are also going to affect very materially the country doctor in the state of Pennsylvania; you are going to affect the laborers in the state of Pennsylvania. After I left this House last week I traveled from my office in the city of Pittsburgh to Youngstown, Ohio. About a quarter to eight in the morning I went through Aliquippa. Located at Aliquippa is the large Jones and Laughlin steel plant. They were just changing turns, I presume, when I got there. I was compelled to wait because of hundreds and hundreds of cars driven by men who earn their living by the sweat of their brow, and who could not afford to live in the large cities, but had gone out to the country where they could have a small and attractive place. Now you are going to place an additional burden on the men who labor by this particular bill, no matter what is said about the bill to the contrary.

Then you are also going to affect the traveling man in the state of Pennsylvania. May I call the attention of the gentlemen who are going to vote for this bill to the fact that the traveling man reaches every rural community in the state of Pennsylvania. He reaches every grocery store, he reaches every drug store, he reaches the smallest community in the state, and when you place an additional burden on gasoline, which you are going to do, he is not going to feel very friendly about it, and believe me, there are lots of traveling men in the state of Pennsylvania who I believe can possibly create some propaganda that might be quite harmful. I do not think we should blame Kelly of Philadelphia for this bill. If he wants to double-cross the people in Philadelphia in return for a large contribution to his party; if he wants to double-cross the people in Pennsylvania for a large contribution to his party, from some oil company that is his business; it is not mine. I do not think we should blame Pew, because as I went home I picked up the Wall Street Journal and I noticed that the Sun Oil Company issued a statement that the first quarter of this year was one of the best they ever had. If you were the President of the Sun Oil Company and you saw a bill in the legislature that was going to increase the income of your particular company by millions of dollars you undoubtedly would favor it. But I cannot conceive two hundred and eight members of this House who took an oath to be for the welfare of the State of Pennsylvania and its people, voting for special interests.

I propose to show you in a few moments just exactly how many dollars it is going to mean to those people about whom I spoke. How are they affected? This bill not only fixes the price at which the producer sells to the retailer but it also fixes the price at which the retailer sells to the consumer.

I heard Mr. Stockham say the other day that he was not a prophet nor the son of a prophet. I would like to step into the shoes of a prophet for a minute. This will all be written in your Legislative Journal. I want to say to the Members of this House we are paying in western Pennsylvania about fourteen and a half cents—in some places fourteen and nine-tenths cents for what we call standard gasoline. I venture to say, Mr. Speaker, that in thirty days after this bill is enacted into law, you will pay an additional five cents a gallon in the state of Pennsylvania; paid by these million and a half voters, these traveling men, these school teachers, these country doctors.

I have here a little automobile that was mailed to me in 1935 when the Earle Administration put on the emergency tax of one penny a gallon. I went to the budget to see just what estimate His Excellency the Governor had made as to what the one cent emergency tax on gasoline would produce for the state of Pennsylvania. You will be surprised. It was supposed to bring to the state of Pennsylvania in the next biennium thirty-one million dollars. That is over fifteen million dollars a year.

It is not hard to figure that if you increase this gasoline price to the producer by five cents a gallon you are going to have seventy-five million dollars within the next year. That seventy-five million dollars, my friends, is not going to be used on the highways of the state of Pennsylvania for the benefit of all of the taxpayers of the state. It is going to special interests in the state of Pennsylvania. Some few weeks ago we passed a bill which gave a reduction to the R & S small trucks, amounting to something like fifty cents or a dollar a year on their licenses. We handed them that little bouquet, and as they look at that bouquet we come along with this bill and hit them a body blow and with the first ten gallons of gas they purchase we wipe out the savings we gave them by the bill passed two weeks ago.

I was much amused when I read in certain papers that a man, supposedly, and I believe he is a Member of this House, and I refer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Melchoirre, had called the Members of the Allegheny County Democratic Caucus together and in that caucus he is supposed to have told those gentlemen what they must do on this particular bill. I think it will be very enlightening for you newspaper men up here to go over the record of the bill and see just how he has been able to force these men who recently came down here to represent the people of Pennsylvania to change over to represent special interests. I think it is a very wonderful thing for the newspapers to say that they will print all the news that is fit to print and I believe if the history of this bill were known there certainly would be a lot of printing they could do.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I was once told there were certain remarks that should not be dignified by a reply. I think the rules of this House have been somewhat breached by a personal reference made on the Floor. The gentleman speaks about a Mr. Pew and he speaks about a Mr. Kelly and contributions. I think if the gentleman knows anything about the situation he owes it as a duty to say something even now, and I am now calling upon the gentleman either to put up or shut up.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I listened to the gentleman from Philadelphia, in his smooth oily voice, and I do not think he will deny, nor can he deny that certain oil companies still contribute to political functions. That has been done for many, many years. He is trying with his ability as a lawyer to muddy the waters. That just cannot be done. Members of the House, you may talk here from now until midnight but you know and I know, and it will be proven in the future that, if this bill is passed here, passes in the Senate and is signed by the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania, the consumer, as I say the laboring man, the school teacher and the traveling man is going to pay a very big increase in the price of gasoline that he uses in his automobile. I have not transgressed and I have not in any way, shape or form, said anything, I hope I have not, that will reflect upon the character of any member of this House. I simply stated facts that appeared in the newpapers in western Pennsylvania. If Mr. Melchoirre did not address the Allegheny County Democratic members, I will be glad for him to get up here and say so. Then I will be glad to make a public apology for the newspapers in western Pennsylvania. I may have been wrong. So if that is the case and he did not contact this particular party then I will be wrong and I will be glad to apologize to him. I saw it in the newspapers, and what you see in the newspapers, is always correct.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has referred to me as having appeared before the Allegheny County delegation and instructing them how to vote on this bill. I want to say now that that is not true. I expect an apology from the gentleman. If the newspapers speak for me that is not my fault. The newspapers may print all they see fit to print. When I make a statement I give that statement to the papers. My name has been mentioned on the floor of this House as having made a statement before another delegation on this bill, and telling them how to vote, that is not true, and I expect an apology from the gentleman.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is seldom that I disagree with the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, whose actions as a gentleman and as a Member of this House I have always approved in the past, whether I voted with him or not. As a Member from Allegheny I voted against this bill and I intend now to vote for it. Many doubts which were in my mind at the time we voted for the bill having been dispelled, due to the explanation and the discussion I have participated in with Representative Brown, who has made a very thorough study of the bill. I would say as one of the Members who happened to engage in a conversation on the floor of this House, I feel it unfair to Representative Melchiorre to blame him for any ulterior motives in talking to fellow Members, especially when the subject of that conversation with those members could not be mentioned by people who were not present. The subject discussed was an entirely different matter. I feel that the rules of this House, if they have not been violated, certainly they have been stretched by Representative Gates. I do not say he purposely did so, but I say to you very, very frankly, that I consider as a person who voted against this bill that Representative Gates attempting to draw conclusions about conversations which he had no opportunity to hear and take part in, it is certainly unfair. He is not only unfair to me, but he is also unfair to Mr. Melchiorre. If the gentleman from Armstrong should care to know what the subject under discussion was I should be glad to inform him that Representative Melchiorre and I were having a private argument about an educational matter which had no bearing at all on the bill under discussion at the present time. Everyone in the House who knows both of us certainly must have known that the gentleman from Philadelphia and I were discussing other matters at my desk, and I feel that an apology is due both of us, because neither of us discussed the bill now under discussion.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Melchiorre.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MELCHIORRE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I would be the last one to ask the gentleman to divulge anything that has taken place in a secret caucus of his particular party, but would like to ask the gentleman, for the benefit of myself, before I make an apology, whether or not since this bill was defeated he has not been taking a very prime interest in reconsidering it and having it passed.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, first of all there was never any secret caucus before which I appeared. I believe we are discussing at the present time House Bill 393 and I do not have to divulge any of my statements other than what I have said on the floor of this House, but there was never any secret meeting or caucus at which this bill was discussed.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I have always thought when we had a caucus it is a secret caucus. No one was supposed to be there but the Members on our side or on his side.

I was very much interested by the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny. I readily understand that to vote for this bill after having voted against it certainly takes a lot of alibying, and I expect the bill to pass.

Now to Mr. Melchiorre, if I in any way transgressed the rules of this House in speaking about what I saw in the newspapers of western Pennsylvania then I most humbly apologize for anything that might have in any way seemed to dishonor this House of Representatives. I have always looked upon this House of Representatives as a rather sacred body of men called here for a sacred duty. In our discussion and in our debate I have tried my best to lay before the membership of this House just exactly what this bill means to the consumer of gasoline in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GATES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Armstrong in favor of the theories and the practices of the Fair Trade Act of the various states and of the United States?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking about a matter which I do not believe enters into the bulk sale of gasoline. I do realize, however, that in 1935 this House passed a chain store tax bill. I also realize in 1935 the major oil companies controlled almost seventy per cent of the small gasoline stations in my state. When the Legislature passed a bill and it was signed by the Governor you could see a scurrying to cover, you could seem them sell those gas stations to individual men. Those individual retailers are now doing a fair business, not making much money through cut throat proceeding which I do not think this House can ever stop. What I mean to say, Mr. Speaker, is that the poor little retailer is going to find when we advocate this bill—Mr. Cohen said, he had six hundred signers—it is not going to be very long until that poor little retailer has gone out of the gasoline business.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to follow this interrogation with a speech, but I would like to ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether or not he knows the reason for the Supreme Court declaring the Chain Store Tax unconstitutional?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, no, I really do not.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether it has anything to do with the Fair Trade Act?

Mr. GATES. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if I were to tell the gentleman it did not, would he believe it?

Mr. GATES. Certainly, I would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. So then, Mr. Speaker, the Chain Store Tax had nothing to do with the Fair Trade Act.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, it has a lot to do with the little fellows that have gasoline stations being forced out of business in a few years.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether he believes in the theory and the practices of the Fair Trade Act of the several states and of the United States?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, when they have to do with certain commodities, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the answer then is when they have to do with certain commodities.

Mr. GATES. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman feel that the Fair Trade Acts of the various states and of the United States have to do with certain commodities on which he is in favor of stabilized prices?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I think the producer has been benefitted on every occasion.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, but does the gentleman feel that they have stabilized prices?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman from Allegheny means by stabilizing prices is that the prices have been held up to a certain level, whereby the poor producer had to pay the top-most prices, if that is what the gentleman from Allegheny means, yes.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I mean the right to make prices to the public and to prevent cut-throat competition. I think that is the definition of stabilizaion of prices.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, prices change, your flour prices change, your wheat prices change, your oat prices change, according to conditions and your oil prices will change.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Armstrong feel that we have had a fair stabilization of prices on those commodities that he feels are proper subjects for the fair-trade act of the various states and of the United States?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I answered that before. As to some of them I believe that is right. I've never gone into all of them, and I don't know all the answers to that particular thing. I just know the answer to this particular bill, the gasoline bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the gentleman, he feels that gasoline is a commodity that is without the purview of the Fair Trade Act.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, no I feel after the public utilities assume certain positions we put them under a commission, the same with the natural gas companies

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that the gasoline business has increased to such proportions that I cannot understand why these big oil companies would force this oil bill down our necks when they know after the results are known to the people they will also be placed under some commission.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I have just one more question that I desire to ask the gentleman from Armstrong. Does the gentleman from Armstrong know that in practically every instance where they have attacked the constitutionality of the Fair Trade Act before the Appellate Courts of this State and the Appellate Courts of the United States the attack has been made by the producers?

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny knows too much law. He could mix me up as well as the other members of the House, but this has nothing to do with this particular bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, although I do not agree with the allegations that have been made on the floor of the House as to who is interested in this bill and what its intention is as to special interests, I want to say to this House that it is my firm belief that this bill is meant to remedy a certain condition which exists. I sincerely believe that the sponsors are firm in their conviction in presenting such a piece of legislation, but I too rise to oppose this bill. According to the reference to what party is represented in certain allegations that were made. I would like to call to the attention to the Members of the House the fact that this bill is co-sponsored by a member on the Republican side as well as a member of the Democratic side.

In opposing this measure, Mr. Speaker, I say to you that this price fixing bill is a bill that is a direct imposition of additional taxes upon the majority of the people of this Commonwealth. I say to you that this is an additional tax burden due to the monopolistic powers which this bill places in the hands of a few people. The iron hands of those powers will rule the price that is to be gotten for the petroleum products that are produced by those industries. I say to you that these monopolies are detrimental to the public as well as detrimental to the nation in other phases of industry. Therefore, without prolonging the discussion on this bill, on the simple principle that I have tried to state before this House, I ask and appeal to all the Members of the House to vote down House Bill 393, due to the taxation imposition on the majority of the people, that is the laboring people, the small business man and those businesses known as the trucking industry, those people who have an investment in trucks and who have tried to earn a living by working day and night. Therefore, I ask you to eliminate any possibility of a tax burden being put upon the people of Pennsylvania by voting against House Bill 393.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, in addressing this House for the first time this session, I would like to call attention to the fact that my good friend, the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, has made a statement that strikes me as being very peculiar, when he accuses the Members on this side of the House of supporting a bill promulgated and supported by the angel of the Republican Party, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pew. It strikes me, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman is descending from the sublime to the ridiculous when he accuses this side of the House of supporting a bill in the interests of Mr. Pew. May I say when the bill was up for passage previously, not being acquainted with the provisions of the bill, I did not vote either "aye" or "no." Since that time, having acquainted myself with the provisions of the bill, I am satisfied that the bill is in the interests of the majority of the people of the Commonwealth anad I intend to vote "aye."

May I also say for the information of the gentleman from Armstrong with regard to the caucus that he referred to, that such caucuses have been considered secret. I will take upon myself the privilege of divulging any secrets which may have occurred in the caucus by saying I believe the gentleman should observe the old adage, to believe only half you see and nothing you hear.

When it comes to the newspapers, he being an adult, free, white and twenty-one, should not believe what he reads in the newspapers at all times. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Melchiorre, did not take the Allegheny caucus to task over this particular bill. The gentleman did not bawl out the Allegheny caucus, the gentleman merely attended this caucus to state the position of the Philadelphia delegation and to ask the Allegheny caucus to go along.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, if you keep on talking long enough the truth will certainly slip out. In all cases,—

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, is there a rule in the House that a Member may only talk twice on a particular subject?

The SPEAKER. There is such a rule.

Mr. O'BRIEN. I ask the Speaker to adhere to that rule.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist on the rule?

Mr. O'BRIEN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer the gentleman for just a moment.

The SPEAKER. This is a question to be determined by the House: whether the House will give its consent to permit the gentleman to speak more than twice on a subject. The rule is very seldom enforced.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien, to withdraw his request. I will finish in just about a minute. I have seen other men talking on this floor several times and I want to answer my friend from across the way.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien, withdraw his request?

Mr. O'BRIEN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Armstrong will proceed.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I want to tell the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Boies, that I in no way tried to infer that his iniquitious bill, which is about to be passed, was brought here by the Democratic Party. I very plainly and distinctly brought in one of the big men in my own party. I know that Mr. Pew is a Republican, and I know that Mr. Kelly is a Republican, gone over to the Democratic Party, but I in no way inferred that this is a Democratic bill because you will find lots of Republicans overe here voting for this bill after the pressure was put on.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. MARSHALL M. COHEN filed the following reasons for his vote:

This bill will lead to further regulation and intermeddling on the part of the Legislature in the conduct of the gasoline business. This interference will impede, not aid, in business recovery; hence I voice my opposition to it. Business men ask for independence of action from legislation, not to be hamstrung by it.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 984, Printer's No. 273, was passed over at the request of Mr. ROSENFELD.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

NAYS 0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1018, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by adding thereto to section 947.1 prohibiting the cutting of and operations on tails of horses mares and geldings except as herein provided providing for certificates under oath and regulating and restricting the showing and exhibition of such animals

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker. I wish to say for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, that his ignorance of a horse's anatomy amazes me.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that he is going pretty far back with his Legislation.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, might I say to the Chair that that calls to my mind two conflicting proverbs. The Chair no doubt is familiar with them. One is that "There is always room for two more," and the other is "The straw that broke the camel's back." We also often hear people say "They are forging ahead," while other people claim "They are bringing up the rear." I chose to be identified with that last group, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, does that indicate that the gentleman might be considered a horse's tail?

The SPEAKER. What was the word the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick used?

Mr. BRETHERICK. Does the gentleman from Montgomery have any kinship with the rear end of a horse?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made two conflicting statements.

May I in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, say that there is more merit to this bill than may appear to those who have only read it casually. As far as I am concerned—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Doesn't the Speaker think the sponsor of this bill is behind in this Legislation?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Does the Speaker know which way he is going?

The SPEAKER. It's a long tail, but it won't be if this bill passes.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. May I be seated, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may be seated.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor has not explained the bill yet. I am still waiting. I wonder if the gentleman would permit interrogation on this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker, if I am permitted to finish what I have to say. May I state for the benefit and the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, that he probably has in mind that this bill provides for docking of horses.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me this interrogation is entirely unfair. I think he is taking this gentleman for a ride.

The SPEAKER. I think they are both stalling.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Will the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, define what he means when he says the cutting off of tails of horses, mares, and geldings. Now, what is a gelding?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I am again amazed at the dearth of information of the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Moran, but I might say that a gelding, if he does not happen to know, is a male horse that has been emasculated.

Mr. MORAN. Would the gentleman define what he means by emasculated, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I stand under my constitutional right, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair moves the previous question.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood?

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. The gentleman may proceed if he is through with the geldings.

Mr. MORAN. For the information of the gentleman from Montgomery, I looked up in the dictionary to see the meaning of the word "gelding," and I found it is a young horse that has been castrated. I would like to ask the gentleman from Montgomery if this bill also covers jack horses.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. That does not register with me, Mr. Speaker; I don't know what is meant by jack horses.

Mr. MORAN. Will the gentleman agree with me that this is a backward bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. May I ask the gentleman how you are going to know under this bill how long the extreme portions of a horse should be cut?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. We are not going to eliminate any part of the anatomy of the horse in this bill, Mr. Speaker. It simply gives the veterinarian an opportunity to perform an operation on the horse's tail when the horse has been born with a crooked tail.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman, does this bill also take care of mules?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I think it will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. They are not mentioned in the bill. I think this bill ought to be amended to take care of all the rears of animals.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman back up to his seat?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me there has been too much horse play about this very important measure. We ought to get down to serious thinking.

This bill it occurs to me is important or the gentleman from Montgomery would not have introduced it. There really are some things about this bill that we ought to think about, because the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates, gave us some new ideas about legislation. He told us how if we voted for this bill, we were going to affect all of the salesmen and all the farmers—no, he left out the farmers, but all the salesmen and country doctors. It seems to me if it got around the State of Pennsylvania that we voted for something that is going to increase the price of gasoline, that same thing might be said about horses. The horse might be proud of his tail. The bill says "for the purpose of performing an operation changing the ordinary way in which the horse's tail is carried". I don't know what the ordinary carriage of a horse's tail is. I never got around that side of a horse. Personally I like to look a man in the eye, so we may be invading the privileges of the horses of this Commonwealth, and you know horses get around in the country. They may talk to the farmers and may tell them that the Members of the Legislature passed a bill that is going to allow them to change the course of his tail. The change of the course of his tail may be necessary; he may get more flies on the right side than on the left and it may be necessary to change the course of his tail. Again the flies may be [illegible] with us too, and they may go and tell the housewives and the keepers of restaurants when they alight on our ice cream and pie when we are ready to eat it, and they may feel that the Members of the Legislature ought to be defeated at the next session because we voted for the bill.

It is not conclusive evidence, even if a horse appears at an exhibition with his tail cut; the tail may have been cut off in many ways. He may have been out nights and might have backed up in some way against a buzz saw or something like that. Nevertheless at an exhibition he could not produce a certificate from a veterinarian and he might have to go to jail for twenty days or pay a fine of $100. There are many things that ought to be considered, and thereby hangs a tale: the bill ought to be recommitted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair calls to the attention of the gentleman the fact that we are trying to streamline the horse as we streamline everything else.

Mr. WALIER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I want to request that the Clerk proceed with the "whinnies" and the "neighs".

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we have had a good deal of levity over this matter. The bill has been properly introduced and reported out of committee. I believe we ought to get down to business and give it some consideration. I cannot conceive that Mr. Wood introduced this bill as a joke. He has tried to explain it to this House so that we may intelligently understand it. As a member of the House about to vote on this bill, I would like some light on it. Mr. Wood has shown a willingness to give us some light and we haven't given him a chance to finish his explanation.

I would like to ask the House to subside their foolishness for a few minutes, and take time enough to consider this bill. I seems to be a regular piece of legislation, and before we vote on it, I should like to know something about it. I hope the House will allow Mr. Wood to answer Mr. Moran's first question and explain the bill. I would like to have it explained, and I feel certain that this House, after it cools down a little would like to have the bill explained before we vote on it. It may be something worth while; I don't know.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special for further dissecting.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FRENCH. Mr. Speaker, I have been very much disappointed. I have been sitting here all this time waiting for some farmer or some veterinary surgeon to get up and explain the merits of this bill. I am not a veterinarian, but I do profess to be a farmer, and this bill, I think was presented for humanitarian reasons and that alone. The bill specifies that operating on a horse's tail is not prohibited when there is an anesthetic given in order to alleviate the pain during the operation. This operation is intended to increase the sale value of the horse. As the gentleman stated a moment ago, a colt when it is born with a crooked tail carries its tail to one side. That is simple; nothing laughable about it, and it renders the horse unsaleable. Many a good horse has to be given away at a very reduced price on account of this defect, and by a very simple operation on the tail for the purpose of straightening it, and by holding it in the straight position for a certain length of time, the horse carries his tail thereafter in a proper manner. After that operation is performed the horse increases in value possibly two hundred per cent. That is the reason such operation is performed on a horse. The operation renders the horse much more valuable when it is put on the block for sale. For my part, so long as it is done without pain to the horse, which it is similar to operations on human beings for appendicitis, I think it is perfectly all right, and the bill should be passed.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill left the Judiciary Special Committee it was with the specific understanding that the bill would receive two readings and then be recommitted for further study. I feel all fairness to the persons who are opposed to this bill they should be given an opportunity to be heard. The bill was only reported out for the purpose of crystallizing public sentiment, and I think the Committee's wishes ought to be adhered to.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the Judiciary Special Committee, and I would like to agree with the statement of the Chairman, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen. This bill was recognized and personally I believe it to be a meritorious, deserving bill. However, it was agreed in committee that it be reported out for two readings and then be recommitted. Due to an error on Thursday morning the bill was called up for second reading. Now appears before us on the third reading calendar. Despite the fact that my good friend and colleague from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, is the sponsor of this measure, I think we should abide by the wishes of the committee, and the motion to re-commit should be sustained.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1087, as follows:

An Act to amend Clause (2) of Section 3 of the Act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1784) entitled "An act concerning newspapers creating uniformity in the publication of legal notices and advertisements defining the newspapers in which official and legal advertising shall be published prescribing methods for computing the charges therefor and providing that the expenses for publishing legal advertising or notices shall be taxable and collectible as court costs are now taxed and collected in all matters and proceedings" by changing the definition of daily newspaper

Section 1 Clause (2) of Section 3 of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1784) entitled "An act concerning newspapers creating uniformity in the publication of legal notices and advertisements defining the newspapers in which official and legal advertising shall be published prescribing methods for computing the charges therefor and providing that the expenses for publishing legal advertising or notices shall be taxable and collectible as court costs are now taxed and collected in all matters and proceedings" is hereby amended to read as follows

(2) "Daily Newspapers" means a newspaper regularly [issued every day] published at least five days in the week either including or excluding Sundays and legal holidays

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker we are all familiar with the provisions of the Labor Relations Act of 1937 and the Republican amendments of 1939 which liberalized this law and brought the status of Pennsylvania working men to a new and more progressive level of economic stability.

The Labor Relations Act of 1937 was a one-sided affair which vested the Labor Relations Board with extraordinary powers quite out of balance with the Constitutional privileges intended by the founders of American democracy.

One of the principal amendments made under Republican guidance was a provision permitting secret elections to determine the collective bargaining representatives upon the petition of either employer or employes.

I have seriously considered this particular phase of Republican attempts to liberalize labor laws in the Commonwealth and it was my privilege, to night, to introduce, for your consideration, a measure which would further extend the benefits under this clause.

My bill provides that secret elections shall be held within thirty days, instead of twenty days as now covered by law, where no objections are filed, and within sixty days where there are objections or exceptions necessitating oral argument.

In view of swiftly changing conditions today, twenty days does not appear to be sufficient time for the Labor Relations Board or employes to act in their own interest to bring about a fair and more equitable interpretation of the law.

It is also my privilege to have sponsored another labor improvement bill, to further amend the Labor Relations Act by extending the statute of limitations on the filing of petitions citing unfair labor practices.

This is a paramount question, especially in view of overnight developments which might possibly impede the course of National Defense and throw a heavier cloud over already strained relations between labor and industry.

My measure would extend the time of filing such petition from six weeks to three months so that the Labor Relations Board can make an order on acts or statements committed within the extended period.

This would give both sides a few more weeks to raise any question by petition and thereby improve chances for equitable adjustment of differences.

The Republican Party has always taken an advanced stand on better labor relations for Pennsylvania's army of workers and this long range viewpoint has contributed heavily to the improved economic security accruing to those who man the wheels of industry.

My measures, reflecting administration sentiment toward labor in all divisions, is further evidence that when the labor laws of this State can be improved by a fair and equitable administration of any law relating to labor relations, the Republican Party will not be blind to its obligations and responsibilities.

WELCOME EXTENDED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased at this time to be informed that we have with us this evening the bride of the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Kenehan. I am sure the Members also are pleased to have her here.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Kenehan.

Mr. KENEHAN. Mr. Speaker, a few months ago the Speaker told me when I rose that my privileges were very few. I disagreed with him two nights after my honeymoon.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has put his foot in it.

Mr. BURNS. As one of these boys who in the future may assume this status, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Kenehan, whether I am in line for a little information.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENEHAN. Mr. Speaker, I think every man should find out for himself.

Mr. BURNS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I will.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1941. No. 44.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 29, 1941.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

Lord God of Hosts, in whom our forefathers implicitly believed and upon whom they depended in all times of adversity, once more in humble prayer we plead for a dual awakening by our people unto a deeper consciousness of Thee as well as unto the immediate dangers confronting our nation. Awaken us out of our smug complacency unto urgent need of great sacrifice in the interest of our continued liberty and independence.

Evil forces directed against democracy are zealously laboring for its overthrow and orderly government everywhere is being jeopardized. Government by brute force is fast supplanting all others.

O God, that we may be keenly alert unto these forces and that out preparation be more than adequate to prevent them from overthrowing our government similar to that so disastrously revealed in Europe.

O Lord, Our God, Thou hast been our Guide through all generations, a very present help in time of trouble. Help us vigorously to display our faith and trust in Thee that in the future way our national safety and integrity may never be in doubt.

Let Thy blessing rest upon our labors this day in the continued interest of sound, orderly government in our Commonwealth. We pray in our Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TYLER and Mr. GELTZ, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. T. B. WILSON, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 489, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire by gift from the Pennsylvania State College, on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that certain tract of land in Northumberland Borough, County of Northumberland, upon which is located the home of Joseph Priestley, and now the property of the Pennsylvania State College; providing for the control, management and maintenance thereof by the said department and the Pennsylvania Historical Commission; authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to accept in trust from the American Chemical Society and other interested societies or individuals, such moneys as they may see fit to present to the Commonwealth to assist in the maintenance and development of this property as a permanent memorial; authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to accept as gifts or loan, such books, manuscripts, pamphlets, relics and furniture as interested societies or individuals may provide for the permanent utilization of the property as a museum of science; and making an appropriation.

Mr. H. I. WILSON, from the Committee on Elections, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 164, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred and seven of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L.

1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership in county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners, imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by increasing their compensation for services rendered by constables and their deputies.

Mr. MILLER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 446, entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 208), entitled, as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax, for a limited period of time, on the net incomes of certain corporations, joint-stock associations, and limited partnerships; providing for the assessment, collection, settlement and resettlement of taxes, and reviews and appeal therefrom; conferring powers, and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State, and county officers, boards, and departments; making an appropriation; and providing penalties," authorizing the Department of Revenue to grant an additional extension of time for the filing of reports under the provisions of said act.

Mr. CRIDER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 514, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (b) of section eight hundred one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State Government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay licenses fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," further prescribing the time within which the Department of Revenue shall make settlements of taxes and bonus due the Commonwealth.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Elections, re-reported as recommitted, Senate Bill No. 169, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 814), entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the second class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries; prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors; and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, political bodies, registration commissions, commissioners, registrars, inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commissions, county election boards, election officers, municipal officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, county commissioners, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, certain public utility corporations, real estate brokers, rental agents, and boards of school directors; and imposing penalties," abolishing the existing registration commission for cities of the second class and providing that the county commissioners of each county in which any such city is located shall act as a registration commission therefor, providing for the consolidation of the second class city general register with the general register of cities of the third class and boroughs, towns and townships of the county, providing for the transfer of the registration of electors upon change of residence from a third class city, borough, town or township in the same county, changing the period during which changes of enrollment of political party may be made, eliminating preparation and distribution of preliminary street lists, and permitting the destruction of certain records.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 502, (House Bill No. 895), entitled:

An Act to authorize cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, school districts, poor districts and county institution districts, to file tax and municipal claims, not filed within the time specified by law and to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default, or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims, and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost; and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments.

Mr. COLEMAN, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 649, (House Bill No. 971), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections fifteen and fifteen and three-tenths, and to repeal sections fifteen and one-tenth and fifteen and two-tenths, of the act approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when, how, upon what property, and to what extent, liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements, for the removal of nuisances, and for water rents or rates, sewer rates and lighting rates; for the procedure upon claims filed therefor; the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims; the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened; the distribution of the proceeds of such sales, and the redemption of the property therefrom; for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed, and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act; and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly," as amended, by providing for the renewal, extension and continuation of liens for taxes and water, lighting, power and sewer rates, until such taxes and rates are fully paid and satisfied; and authorizing the filing and revival of liens heretofore lost, and in certain cases, reviving, validating, preserving and extending liens.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. CARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 735, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section eight and to amend section twelve of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 553), entitled "An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles, and to make uniform the law with reference thereto; requiring operators and owners of automobiles, under certain circumstances, to furnish proof of financial responsibility, as herein defined; providing for the suspension of operators' licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases; regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility; imposing duties upon Secretary of Revenue, the State Treasurer, and prothonotaries; and prescribing penalties," by further regulating the suspension and restoration of licenses and the proof of financial responsibility and providing a system for the payment of judgments against operators and owners of motor vehicles.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. SNOWDEN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 736, entitled:

An Act to amend section five hundred and fourteen of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," as amended, by adding subsection (d) authorizing departments, boards, or commissions to grant easements or rights of way upon, across, over, under or along lands of the Commonwealth, under certain conditions, in the interest of National Defense.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like at this time to introduce a bill, and I request permission to make a short statement in connection therewith.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Luzerne may proceed.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, in recent months in this chamber we have witnessed the introduction of a number of bills borne of the hysteria produced by the present national emergency. Souls, afire with a perverted patriotism, have cluttered the Calendar with bills that regulated a neighbor's conduct, because we felt his lineage and blood ties were too far removed from the original occupants of the Mayflower. Like Diogenes of old we were searching about for honest, brave courageous patriotic men of our own type, and at the same time impugning the motives of timid souls who were unable to speak in their own defense. In order to make the argument more convincing we were told that many of these bills were sponsored by the American Legion. In one supreme effort we drove out of the open places undesirable citizens, drove them back into holes, hovels and dark cellars the better to carry out their nefarious plot against constituted authority.

In our effort to strike against communism, we, by law, enacted conduct regulations which carry with them the distinct and pungent odor of fascism. There was a grave intolerance breathed into law with a series of "Thou Shall Nots." Federal regulation of citizenship requirements has stood the Nation well for over 150 years, and federal control of its individual citizens in the U. S. A. has produced a substantial brand of citizenship in America, not equalled and certainly not excelled anywhere in the world.

We agree with the authors of these bills that they were probably motivated by pure patriotism alone, but ask them in their experience whether exposure to sunlight does not kill off the slimy creatures bred in dark damp places—or render inert the deadliest germ awaiting a favorable time to attack the human host.

I am concerned seriously about the danger to our Nation's future from a subtle enemy from within, but believe that a democracy will survive, not because of a series of prohibitions, mandates or regulations, but rather because that democracy gives to its individual citizens in fact, those previous guarantees within the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the United States of America. Human rights, property rights, individual liberty must be zealously guarded in order to make a democracy sufficiently inviting to its new citizens, that they will zealously guard it and fight and bleed and die to maintain its entity, that liberty, the pursuit of happiness, and the life of 130 millions of their fellow citizens will be guaranteed.

I have purposely placed human rights where they properly belong—first in our consideration, and have relegated property rights to second place. This may not meet with the approval of the ultra reactionaries of special privilege, but certainly in the last ten years has been definitely approved in repeated public referendum by the votes of the masses.

In order to do all this the law making body, the Senate and the House, should effect a real leadership, which will separate the chaff from the wheat, avoid protracted sessions, and send out of the legislative mills only real constructive legislation. The executive branch should impartially enforce the law, urge its immediate repeal if not practical. Sometime later I will deal with these branches separately.

Today I am concerned entirely with that branch of government to which is entrusted the honest interpretation of the intent and purpose of all law. Oratorical spellbinders from public platforms reach a patriotic fervor in assuring our citizens that they have lost none of their constitutional guarantees. I heard our present Governor tell a group of citizens that their personal and property rights were safeguarded by law, and that when falsely accused or denied these just rights, they still had their day in court before an impartial judge and a jury of twelve men of their peers. I sometimes wonder if Mr. Average Citizen really has this.

The greatest asset of democracy lies in maintaining and guarding the integrity of its courts of justice. One dishonest judge false to his trust can do more injury to American democracy than all the fifth columnists and alien saboteurs combined. When a judge sells justice for money and favor he drives a stiletto into the heart of the American nation.

When and if the confidence of the American people is lost in our judicial system and our trial by jury, then democracy will cease to function and we will resort to the rule so prevalent in the world today that "might alone makes right."

You may say that here in America our judciary are beyond reproach. I am glad to feel that the great majority are of that type, but there is still a minority of the bench whose decisions are tainted by prejudice because they have permitted themselves to be compromised by favor and financial distress, or just cannot suppress the urge to be known as political powers in their local communities.

Lawyers in this august body have a false conception of their duty in the legislative halls. They still retain the mistaken idea of professional ethics that they do not wish to offend the judiciary in general. This was evidenced a short time ago when you killed an excellent bill aimed to take Judges out of politics. I sincerely believe that the great majority of the American Bar Association would welcome bills of this type, because they would help to remove the odium from the great majority of distinguished lawyers and jurists cast upon them by a relatively few judicial accidents occupying positions of public trust.

While we have two major party systems in America, it seems to me that each party can find some method of investigating the character, the personality, and the integrity of candidates for the judicial offices before they receive either party's endorsement.

Judges who were former corporation lawyers should never be elevated to the bench, because they will avail themselves of that corporate influence to be elected, and will obligate themselves to their former employers during their tenure on the bench. In addition, having been trained to see the law from a corporation standpoint they naturally follow that line of reasoning after elevation to the bench.

Lawyers in grave financial distress with multiple obligations to banks and trust companies should be told to clean up their personal affairs before they aspire for judicial honors, because when they are elected they invite too many back-door visitors and too many star chamber decisions.

No judge should invest in big business or should sit in cases involving the interest of former clients. In my County of Luzerne I have known a Judge to sit on a case where a brother (a lawyer), a son (a lawyer), or a near relative lawyer acted as counsel for one of the litigants, and in Luzerne County at least five of the six Judges are members of bank or building and loan boards. The vast financial interests of these banks should ethically bar these Judges from sitting on many cases, but it never seems to.

A few years ago we had a notorious political Judge who gloried in the fact that his name should be blazoned in bold type across the pages of all the newspapers of the state. All of you are familiar with the seemingly invincible Fine-Pinchot political machine of perforated ballot fame. The people of Luzerne County, nauseated with the notorious political activity of Judge John S. Fine, retired him to side lines for two years. Chastened he was returned to the bench and since his return has up to date actively shunned the political spotlight and has become a real Judge.

The Democratic Party in Luzerne County failed to avail themselves of the opportunity to do a real public service. To supplant Judges Fine and Coughlin on the bench they selected as their candidate a brilliant lawyer unfortunately in dire financial straits, and a mediocre lawyer who rarely had a case in court. Both swore to be non-political judges. The election of both has not improved the situation appreciably insomuch as the one lacking the cleverness—organizing ability or courage of Fine crudely lives to become a political power without one quality which would recommend him to leadership. By party affiliations he is a Republicocrat.

From my neighboring County of Lackawanna hails a Supreme Court Justice who was very political in the past. Two independent coal operators invested and lost considerable money in a large hotel in the City of Scranton. Coincidently the Justice was also interested in the same losing investment.

The startling tales of maladministration of justice, and abuse of the judicial parole system emanating from the City of Philadelphia are not conducive to producing respect for constituted authority. The pungent odor of the famous preferred list and judicial leaks striking at members of our Appellate Court had hardly ceased to offend sensitive nostrils when we read that one Federal Judge had been sent to prison—another is on trial—and that a third is being investigated and soon may be called to account.

By your recent vote on the floor of this Senate, you said it was distinctly patriotic to pass bills to prohibit foreigners from holding positions in all functions of government, distinctly patriotic to bar communists from the ballot, eminently patriotic to fire some timid little school marm for teaching historical facts because they disagree with your thoughts, but I am firmly convinced that there are but a few of us on this Senate floor who have the intestinal fortitude to clean out the crooked lawyer and cleanse the bench of those who, forgetful of judicial ethics, cast a stigma upon the reputation and professional attainments of that great mass of the legal profession and members of the bench whose honesty and integrity has never been questioned.

A dishonest Judge is the most potent saboteur extant in the American democracy today. Let us destroy these termites who are eating into the heart of democracy.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. MUNDY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 737, entitled:

An Act prohibiting certain activities by judges of courts of record; granting powers and imposing duties on the Auditor General of this Commonwealth; requiring the filing of certain information by such judges with the Auditor General; and prescribing impeachment and removal from office as a penalty.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. EDMONDS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 738, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the use of the Valley Forge Park Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 739, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the use of the Valley Forge Park Commission in restoring and maintaining the original valley forge at Valley Forge Park.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 740, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand four hundred sixteen of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith," changing the qualifications of certain children for exemption from compulsory attendance provisions, and imposing certain duties upon the juvenile court.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. JASPAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 741, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred eleven of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," permitting hotel and restaurant licensees to sell by the bottle, at certain times, for consumption off the premises; regulating such sales and imposing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

RESOLUTION

Mr. REED. Mr. President, with your permission and leave of the Senate, I wish to discuss a resolution offered on February 10, 1941.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington may proceed.

Mr. REED. On February 10, 1941, I introduced in this Senate Resolution No. 22, requesting the Secretary of Public Assistance to furnish to the Senate certain information relating to the administrative side of his department.

In response to that resolution, Mr. Russell has submitted to each member of this body a compilation containing much of the information desired, and for this service at this time I wish to openly thank him.

I believe that each member of this Senate has on his desk a volume of this report. I might say there is some fine information in it bearing on the welfare of the Commonwealth.

In numerous discussions on relief back through the years, much has been stated about its cumbersome, expensive and unsatisfactory administration, and the aim of this resolution was to bring into the open for public scrutiny this phase of the general subject of public assistance.

When relief was first brought forth for consideration under the Pinchot administration, it was generally viewed as a temporary measure that would soon evaporate and pass away with the return of prosperity. That has not been the case. On the contrary, relief developed and spread with amazing rapidity, and in 1937 the public assistance law was enacted to consolidate and regulate its operations.

Mr. President, at that time a new industry came into being in this Commonwealth, and I am sure the Department of Commerce would not take any credit for creating this new industry. It is known as the public assistance industry, and into this new industry has rushed thousands of persons from all over the Commonwealth to offer their services, not without pay, to assist in helping the widow, the blind, the maimed, the aged and the unfortunate to get their just share of the public bounty. This group of self-styled charitably servants soon became organized into a consolidated unit chiefly, no doubt for their own preservation and protection.

The report submitted by Mr. Russell shows that 7052 such servants were on the state payroll on March 11, 1941, drawing handsome salaries up to six thousand dollars per annum, and I am told authoritatively that in Pennsylvania there are many other hidden charitable workers that draw their sustenance from the public funds of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, in order to get at this problem properly, it is necessary to determine what was the purpose of public relief. As I understand relief, and I have given it some considerable study, it was created for the purpose of taking care of the unfortunate and unemployed people during the famous depression starting back around in 1930 and 1931. It was viewed as I have already stated, by everyone as a temporary matter. People thought it was a sickness that could be cured, and the cure was to be the furnishing of relief.

Now, what has happened in our relief set-up today? It has become organized from the inside and vast numbers of people are drawing sustenance from that fund. I want Senator Haluska particularly to look at its personnae. It is amazing in many of its aspects.

Out of the 7052 names in this document, there are over thirteen hundred people who are married and whose husbands are drawing in many cases handsome salaries and handsome stipends from other sources. I want Senator Mundy to look at that document also, because within its leaflets are the names of many attorneys, many physicians, many dentists, many contractors, veterinary surgeons, almost all phases of the business world are represented there, and I want you to look at that with this in mind: while men and women that Senator Haluska have brought to your attention are today receiving nothing, thousands and thousands of dollars of the people's money are going into the homes of attorneys, into the homes of physicians, into the homes of contractors and into the homes of other people who do not need it at all.

I want to bring to your attention in this connection a case that came to my attention last Saturday. A man whom I have known for many years, a man who is now past seventy years of age, and a man who has been a thrifty citizen in Washington County, a man who had purchased his own home, who had there a nice family, who had worked steadily down to the time when he was seventy years of age, and then one day his boss said to him, "George, you can not come to work tomorrow; you are too old." He had given to that industry the best of his life. George said, "Well, why must I quit?" His boss said, "You will have to take your old age pension." He goes home and he takes his old age pension. That was several years ago. On Saturday he came into my office with a bundle of papers. He had been sued for the money he had been forced to take as a pensioner. He had never been sued in his life, he has never even been in a squire's office in his life; the only thing he knew was to earn a thrifty living and to go to church on Sunday and recognize his God and his government in his daily avocation. There is a man who was denied his pension, his little property might pay for his subsistence and at the same time, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I repeat by going through this booklet, thousands or hundreds of people in the Commonwealth who do not need the work, who do not need the money, have been drawing down for years fancy salaries under the administrative department of Public Assistance.

I say, as I have heard Senator Ealy say many times on this floor, this subject is such that it must be curtailed in the near future or it will ruin the very existence of our free form of government.

Just recently a small road contractor said to me, "I have not been able to get the men this year that I had last year." I said, "How many were there?" He said, "about sixty, and I took some men that were not employed and they were on relief." This year he was only able to get five of them; the rest said they would sooner now stay on relief. Now, Mr. President, and members of this Senate, those are the things which shake our confidence at this time in our form of government. Here is a matter that was supposed to be temporary and everything you read about it indicates clearly that is now working towards a permanent status. I almost fell off my chair in the Committee room of Senator Bartlett the other day when I heard the secretary say relief was going to be permanent and that the core would be around $4,500,000 a month. It is the same old story. When you start anything that has money involved in it, as temporary, you will find a crew working to make it permanent and that is the case with public assistance in Pennsylvania today.

I go back to this record, and I want to call to the Senate's attention some of the startling facts found therein. Here is a case where a woman is getting $3,000 a year and her husband is a lawyer. He would not give his annual salary; he said he could not compute it. I would like to know when Uncle Sam calls on him whether he computes it then, for his income tax.

Here is another person getting $3,000 a year and her husband is reputed as a marine engineer and he is in the same class, he will not give his annual income.

Here is a case where a married woman is getting $2,400 a year and her husband is getting $2,600 a year. Here is a married woman getting $1,860 a year and her husband, an architect, is getting $2,100 a year. Here is a case where a woman is getting $1,380 a year and her husband, a skilled accountant, is getting $3,000 a year Here is a case where a woman is getting $1,140 a year and her husband, an osteopath, is getting $2,400 a year. All down through the pages of this book you will find cases of that nature.

Now, Mr. President, I always understood that when this great Commonwealth gave money for relief it was to go to the people who were actually in need. If we would eliminate from this personnae many of those cases, then perhaps some of the unfortunate people that Senator Haluska is interested in will receive some stipend at least.

Now, from up in Senator Coleman's district comes a letter, and I was supposed to show it to Senator Coleman, speaking of this subject, in which the writer says in part: "Now, sir, in addition to all this, this D. P. A. brainbuster had a husband who was earning four hundred dollars a month and she herself was receiving over one hundred dollars a month."

There are many, many cases like that in the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and there are many in the record as submitted by Mr. Russell. It is unfortunate that over six hundred of the more than thirteen hundred married cases in this document fail to report how much their respective annual incomes were. It is clearly indicated thereby they do not wish to bring that information to public scrutiny and the light of day.

Mr. President, this matter of public relief is getting into a dangerous situation. Something must be done with relief soon. It was a temporary matter, I repeat, but now it has become deeply rooted in the very social and economic life of this great state and this great Republic. We are teaching through relief the idea that a young man need not to work, he can take relief, he can live a life of ease, he can follow a life of indolence, and yet he will tell you, "Well, that is all right, when I get old the government will keep me." We have a great class in that respect and we have another class made up of men like the individual case I cited, men who want to be thrifty, men and women who want to live the American way, men and women who want to live God's way and earn their bread by the sweat of their face, and yet today that class is breaking down. They say, "What is the use; if we are thrifty, if we do acquire a home, if we do lay aside a little insurance, when the time comes, when the old age pension law puts us out of business, then we must give our home and our insurance and our little savings away."

There are the two pictures, my friends, and as I see it, there is only one way that we can break this nefarious business up and that is through good old American courage. I think the time is here, if it will ever come, when the act of 1937 must be restudied or repealed. I am not talking against the blind. I am not talking against the aged widow and dependent children, I am not talking against the aged. We had them before the act of 1937. I am talking against that great group today who believe the state will forever keep them without working and I say to you, Mr. President and members of this Sentae, the time is now here, if it will ever come, when the government is hunting men everywhere, when the state is looking for good men, when private industry is looking for good men, to tear this public assistance law apart; take care of the blind, take care of the aged, take care of the dependent children, take care of the maimed, and tell the other ablebodied men that under our American way they must go to work or they shall not receive the benefits of our Republican form of government.

Now, Mr. President, as I see it that is the picture. I would like to discuss this matter in greater detail but I know time will not permit at this time, but I want to leave this thought with you once more: that no nation from the time of antiquity down to the present has ever ascended, has ever gone upward, with its people drinking the milk of relief. Every great nation that has tried a permanent relief set-up has gone in the opposite direction, down, down, down to destruction, and these things are things that bring home to those who are interested in the preservation of the Republic the fact that now is the time to study this matter with a view of either eliminating or at least controlling it for the public good.

Mr. President, this is one of the most important subjects before the people of Pennsylvania and America today, and we in the service of Pennsylvania should take off our coats, roll up our sleeves, haul down the old fashioned American courage and say we are first going to stand for the state and the nation rather than for the organized group of people who are trying to control our actions for their own good.

Mr. President, that is the picture as I see it. In conclusion I wish every Senator on this floor would go through this book, particularly as bearing on their own districts, and then decide what your action and what my action should be as bearing on this important problem.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, relative to the subject just discussed by the eminent Senator from Washington County, I have a few observations I would like to make to the Senate now. They have occurred to me during the talk of the gentleman from Washington and are the result of a rather thorough study of the same book that he has discussed here before you.

Back in 1935 I headed a committee of the House that studied relief in Westmoreland County and in our report to the Legislature I called attention to the fact that employes of the relief administration at that time were very definite in their observations that relief was permanent and not an emergency proposition. I called attention of the Legislature to the fact that one of the most evil things I had seen creep into government up to that time was the matter of record taking of the persons who received relief.

No man on this Senate floor, unless he has personally made an investigation or made a visit to the relief headquarters in his own county or the State Department of Public Assistance, can have any idea of the thousands upon thousands of records that have been kept on persons who have received relief. No class of citizenry has ever had a more thorough investigation of their personal activities than the person who receives relief and the permanent record has ben made for the purpose of keeping on the payroll the seven thousand odd persons who make up the relief administration. They will deliberately go out into a county and remove from the relief rolls a certain number of cases, without rhyme or reason, and then after five or six weeks put them back on the relief rolls with an apology. The idea behind it, of course is, that as long as they have active cases then there is a necessity for their being employed.

I want to call your attention to these facts, Mr. President, and I only give you rough figures. Approximately $1,500,000 a month is being spent by the Department of Public Assistance for administrative costs and when you realize that in the last report of the Department of Public Assistance about two-thirds of the money expended for relief is expended for unemployable persons, in other words, old age assistance, aid to dependent children, blind assistance and so forth, when you realize that two thirds of the $1,500,000, a month, amounting to roughly $12,000,000 a year for administering relief, or assistance, if you please, to the so called fixed cases in the State of Pennsylvania, I say to you members of the Senate, now is the time to break up the Department of Public Assistance and put the so called fixed cases of blind pensions and so forth back in the Department of Welfare.

Mr. President, at no time in the history of this state did it cost $12,000,000 a year to administer assistance grants to those persons who are on the relief rolls constantly.

I want to say to you that you will never break up this octopus created by this Legislature in the form of the Department of Public Assistance until we do that very thing. When you realize we are spending about $10,000,000 a month, about $6,500,000 of it for fixed cases and about $3,500,000 for the so-called employable relief cases, and $1,500,000 of the total is being spent for administrative costs, you have an overall of about fifteen per cent for administrative costs.

The cost is entirely too great in proportion to the amount received by the relief recipients and this Senate must and this General Assembly must at this session of the Legislature, while business is on the up-trend, do something to destroy the Department of Public Assistance; it is a cancer that grows worse with age.

According to the figures of the Department of Public Assistance there has been a decline of seventy per cent in the active relief rolls. Does anybody here think or believe there has been a reduction of seventy per cent in the personnel? There has not. When you realize that blind assistance, mother's assistance, aid to dependent children and so forth are cases that do not require weekly visits from visitors, then I think you can see the logic of the argument that I am making and that it is the duty of this Legislature now to destroy the Department of Public Assistance and put back into the Department of Welfare, where it belongs, the administration of public assistance grants to those persons in static cases.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, under the heading of resolutions yesterday I introduced a resolution suggesting a sine die adjournment of this session of the General Assembly. If there is any chance that we might be able to get something accomplished, as suggested by the gentleman from Westmoreland, I would be perfectly willing to scrap that resolution.

I want to take this opportunity, Mr. President, of saying to the gentleman from Washington, Senator Reed, I think that was a very able and statesmanlike presentation of a very difficult and technical subject.

Now, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, if he contemplates holding a meeting of the Rules Committee this week?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I have not even had time to think as to whether or not we will have a meeting of the Rules Committee.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, without probing too deeply into this process of thinking of the gentleman from Allegheny, is the gentleman from Allegheny contemplating a meeting of the Rules Committee next week or in the week succeeding that?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I stated before I had not thought about whether there would be a meeting of the Rules Committee or not. When it is proper to hold a meeting on the Rules Committee one will be held, and we trust my colleague from Allegheny will be satisfied.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, without desiring to press the subject too strenuously I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. The gentleman from Allegheny stated when it was proper to call a meeting of the Committee on Rules one would be called; may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny when is the proper time when a meeting of the Rules Committee will be called.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the proper time will be when we get a bundle of bills, such as they have in the Judiciary General Committee, of which my colleague from Allegheny is chairman.

Mr. WALKER. Then, Mr. President, under the heading of resolutions I shall offer a resolution that all the bills in the Committee on Judiciary General be re-referred to the Committee on Rules so that we can get a meeting on the Rules Committee.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I was certainly very much interested in the discussion given by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed, and I think he gave us a very comprehensive report of the relief situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Mr. Reed has devoted a great deal of time to that study and I think all of us should pay more attention to it.

It is not my intention, Mr. President, to take up much time of the Senate, but I have myself made a very comprehensive study of the situation and naturally I am interested and I am quite familiar with the set-up in the entire Commonwealth.

There is one phase of the law that is very much complicated to me and I would like this morning to call upon or interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, to see whether or not it is possible for him to throw some light upon this subject.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, under the laws of Pennsylvania the law reads, on page 2046, 1937 P. L. superseded by the 1939 laws, which are identical, section 3 reads:

"Relatives liable for the support of indigent persons; procedure to enforce support. Section A. The husband, wife, child, father, mother, grandparents and grandchild of every indigent person shall, if of sufficient financial ability, care for and maintain or financially assist such indigent person at such rate as the court of the county where such person resides shall order or direct."

Now, Mr. President, my question is: does the court set the procedure or does the Department of Public Assistance have the right to set this procedure? Can the gentleman from Allegheny answer that question?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not like to give a so-called curbstone opinion, but I think the proper answer to the question of the gentleman from Cambria is that under that law the court has the right to enforce the provisions of that section. I think I know what is in my colleague's mind in connection with the administration of this matter. The Department of Public Assistance, as I understand, sets up a certain budget or plan under which relief shall be granted to an individual. If there is co-operation on the part of the individual or the individual's relatives, then there is no necessity for the enforcement of the provisions of that section by court action. However, if there is not a voluntary acceptance of the demand of the Department of Public Assistance, then either the department, the individual who is in need of assistance, or I would think, any other citizen could institute proceedings in court and compel those persons named in that section to contribute to the assistance of the individual who is in need of assistance or relief.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I accept the answer of course, because I am very much in the dark on this question, but again I repeat that the law states very specifically that the court shall decide how much a relative shall give. No place in the law, Mr. President, can I find any wording where the Department of Public Assistance shall decide.

Now, Mr. President, I realize this is a very important question and for that reason I offered to this body a bill known as Senate Bill No. 21 and I was very much disappointed that this body has failed up until this time to pay any consideration to that measure.

I really believe all of you, if you would read that bill, would give it some thought. I am trying to set up some figure so that this body shall state to the Department of Public Assistance, through the courts, when a person is financially able to assist. As I have quoted many times, we have cases—I quoted one case in my county where the son was making fifty dollars a month and he is called upon to assist his father and mother. Well, gentlemen, you know that is impossible, to maintain himself and at the same time to assist his father and mother.

Now, Mr. President, I think we should, before we adjourn this Session of the Legislature, sit down at a round table and decide, it is our duty, as to when a person is able to assist. My bill says any person making less than $100.00 a month should not be called upon to assist his parents. Gentlemen, if that is too high, let us make it $75, let us make it $70, or let us make it some other figure. I think we owe it to ourselves sincerely and we owe it to the people that we are feeding, we owe it to the entire Commonwealth, to say when a person is liable for support and I am trusting that my members on the other side of the House, along with the chairman of the Committee on Public Assistance, will sit down some afternoon and really try to simplify this matter and say when we think a person is able to assist.

Mr. President, along the line of thought given by Senator Reed, glancing over the figures as released by the Department of Public Assistance, here we find in one city of this Commonwealth the name of Anna F. Goldberg on the payroll, Gustav Goldberg on the payroll, Dorothy R Goldberg on the payroll, Arthur M. Goldberg on the payroll, Grace R. M. Goldberg on the payroll, and Wilbert Goldberg, who at the present time is vacationing down in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Now, gentlemen, I assume they are all from the same family; they are all from the same city. Here we have six persons of the same name, if they are not of the same family, placed on the public payroll, while we have thousands upon thousands of persons who scarcely have sufficient to eat.

So, Mr. President, I agree with what has been stated by the gentleman from Washington, Senator Reed, and what has been stated by the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Ealy, back in the 1937 and in the 1939 Session, and I think at this Session, that this Department of Public Assistance should go back to the counties. It is our duty to make sure that thing is done, because the department payroll is eating up the money that we are appropriating to take care of the people who are on relief.

Above all, permit me to remind you that I hope and trust you will give some consideration to Senate Bill No. 21, setting up some figure, that we shall state when a person is liable for support of his indigent parents.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 3:00 o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

The PRESIDENT. Before we take up consideration of the regular order of business, the Chair is going to recognize a Senator whom the Chair believes is held in the highest esteem and in whom every Senator, whether he be on the left or on the right, has the greatest of confidence; he is a grand old man and we all love him and I think when he finishes what he has to say and I don't know what he will say, like the ladies you will say, "isn't he sweet?"

The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask permission to make a short statement.

The PRESIDENT. There is no objection.

Mr. EALY. A number of times in this Senate, Mr. President, I have referred to the difficulties of legislation, which are due not only to the fact that we have such a large population in this state, about ten millions, which is equal to or almost equal to the population of the whole of Canada, and to the fact of the diversity or unequal spreading of that population, but also to the fact that we have so many problems of different natures. Pennsylvania is a great agricultural state, a great manufacturing state and a great mineral state. It has large forest areas, recreational areas and many other things.

I was surprised when I came down here to find that there was a large meat packing industry in Lancaster and York Counties; we have up in the district of Senator Reed a great sheep raising country. Senator Ziesenheim has brought to our attention the industries in his part of the state, and so it goes all over this Commonwealth. Service in this body is a wonderful educational privilege.

My own county, Somerset, is a great agricultural and dairy county, it is a great mineral county, and it has various other industries. One of its minor, but an important side industry, is the raising of maple sugar and syrup. I should like to see the Department of Agriculture or the Forestry Department take an interest in the maple groves throughout our county and the other counties of the Commonwealth, so as to rehabilitate, as it were, this industry and make it more productive in the Commonwealth.

The Somerset Business Men's Organization, in order to bring this matter somewhat to the attention of the Legislature, has prepared samples of the maple syrup of our county and have had these samples distributed in the House. They have also furnished a certain number of these little bottles or jars of pure maple syrup for distribution to the Senators. I am sorry I do not have enough of them at this time to give samples to the press and to all the minor officials of this Senate, but I am going to ask that the pages distribute a bottle of this syrup to each one of our Senators.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EALY. As I say, Mr. President, if the Chair does not object, or the Senators, the pages will distribute little bottles or jars of this syrup, which you men can try on some buckwheat cakes—I think that is the best place to use it. I hope to have some additional bottles or jars for the officers later and perhaps I can secure some for the members of the press, and for others as well.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I wish to call the attention of the good Senator from Somerset to the fact it will not be necessary to hand one of the bottles to me, as I have already purchased my syrup from one of the good farmers of Somerset County, a couple of weeks ago.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in presenting this bill I should first like to make a few explanatory remarks.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in 1937 Governor Earle appointed a commission to investigate and make recommendations to the Legislature concerning a new charter for the City of Philadelphia. This commission made a thorough study of the matter for a period of almost two years and prepared a proposed charter which was widely circulated throughout the City of Philadelphia. The bill was introduced in the session of 1939 as the Woodward-Shapiro bill. The Senate passed the bill. The bill was killed in the House.

As drawn, the bill provided for a city manager and proportional representation. Notwithstanding the fact that these two very controversial features were introduced the signatures of over 100,000 petitioners asking for the passage of the law were obtained.

The bill which I am about to present is practically the same bill as that prepared by that commission with the elimination of the two controversial features—namely, city manager and proportional representation. It provides for a submission of the bill to the people at the first general, special or primary election next succeeding the adoption of this bill as an act. It will become effective generally when the term of the present elected officials expires, except that provisions dealing with the making of the budget become effective as of January 1, 1942.

The fact that this bill, even with the controversial provisions, was approved by signatures far in excess of those required under any so-called home rule bill now before this session should be sufficient evidence that there are a sufficient number of people in Philadelphia who want this charter. The care which was given to the preparation of this bill and the general approval which it received in the city, together with the fact that it passed a Republican controlled Senate should be sufficient proof that it is unnecessary to put the people of the City of Philadelphia to the expense and trouble of going through the form of preparing another charter. The provision in the act for its submission to the people at an election for approval or disapproval ought to label this definitely as a home rule bill.

The adoption of the budgetary provisions alone should result in a saving of at least $2,500,000 per year in the expenses of the city and enable the city to increase salaries of policemen, firemen, park guards, and other deserving and underpaid employes.

When introduced in the 1939 session the bill was accompanied by a companion bill transferring the duties of the Registration Commission to the County Commissioners. It was the belief of the commissioners who framed the 1939 charter bill that this procedure should be followed. In order to avoid any implications and any controversy I am, for the present, not offering such a bill. It may become necessary to do so in the near future, but that is a matter which is not important at the moment.

I am also, at the same time, introducing for the purpose of the record, a resume of the provisions of this bill, indicating the proposed changed in the existing set-up of our city government.

I offer this as the opportunity for all home rulers to join me in affording the citizens of Philadelphia an opportunity to vote on a bill which, in my opinion and in the opinion of many others, is a well considered program which, when finally enacted, will result in a saving of at least $5,000,000 a year to the City of Philadelphia in governmental expenses alone.

I would like to add, Mr. President, that the correction of this bill for the elimination of the two features was not an easy task; it was difficult and cumbersome and took a long time and it may be that there may be some mistakes in it; I hope not, but if there are I ask your humble indulgence and I shall try to correct them.

I also might state, Mr. President, I have prepared a resume of its provisions, copies of which will be laid on the desks of the Senators.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 742, entitled:

An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth by providing, among other things, for the election of a mayor and a council at large, the creation, abolition, and change of departments, and the addition to departments of certain functions pertaining to parks, detention and correction, planning within the city, weights and measures and dependent, neglected, incorrigible and delinquent children transferred from certain county offices to the extent of the performance of such functions within such cities, improvement of the civil service, increased control over finances, by requiring balanced current and capital budgets, and by greater control over the collection of charges, fees and taxes, and over payments, of salaries and other expenditures out of the city treasury, improvements in the making and revision of assessments, the grant of home rule to such cities and penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MILLER from the Committee on Municipal Government reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution, giving cities of the first class, cities of the second class, and cities of the second class A the right and power to frame, adopt and amend their own charters, and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government, and providing the procedure therefor; imposing certain restrictions, limitations and regulations; imposing duties upon city councils, city officers, county boards of elections, courts of common pleas, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and providing for the payment of certain expenses by cities.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I rise for the purpose of making a motion and I would like to make a few remarks preliminary to that motion.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Lackawanna will proceed.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, yesterday there was inaugurated in the state of Pennsylvania daylight saving time and already in the Senate of Pennsylvania we have had considerable confusion. I remember in 1937, when I was a member of the House, some member from the western part of the state sought to adjourn the House of Representatives and was forced to make three motions involving daylight and eastern standard time. Each time he made a motion to have the House adjourn, to meet Monday night at eight o'clock—on one motion he referred to it as daylight standard time and then when somebody called his attention to that fact, he said daylight saving time and of course, as I understand the constitution you can not convene the General Assembly under any time other than standard time. Mr. President, yesterday afternoon we heard a motion made that the Senate adjourn to meet at ten o'clock this morning, standard time, and then a few minutes later, or rather a few minutes preceding that, in the announcements we heard committee meetings called on daylight saving time.

In order to have no confusion I think we ought to definitely eliminate any reference to daylight saving time in the proceedings of the Senate; we ought to eliminate any reference either directly or indirectly to daylight saving time. I think this Senate ought to be convened on standard time and that all committee meetings be called on standard time, and I would suggest in order to avoid any confusion, that when the reading clerk is reading he say ten a. m. standard time and not eleven a. m. daylight saving time, by way of explanation, because I think instead of explaining, it adds to the confusion. I suggest Mr. President, to all intents and purposes this Senate knows nothing about daylight saving time.

MOTION THAT SENATE ADHERE TO EASTERN STANDARD TIME

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, in order to bring this matter properly before the members of the Senate, I move you the committee chairmen be instructed and the reading clerk be instructed to call all committee meetings for the duration of this Session of the Senate on eastern standard time.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion? It was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 141, entitled:

An Act providing that a juvenile court adjudication against a juvenile shall not bar his appointment to a position with the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOODWARD read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 743, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1933) entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of election; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," as amended, by imposing further duties upon county boards of elections and their employes, and courts; providing for the appointment of examiners of elections and prescribing their duties; reducing the number of watchers that may be appointed for any primary or election, and reducing their compensation, and limiting the time in which requests for appointment of watchers may be filed; providing for reports of rooms and buildings used or proposed to be used as polling places; prescribing a procedure whereby party officers may be removed from office providing for challenge of persons disqualified for violation of this act; changing the method by which district election officers shall make returns of votes cast, and the method by which the returns shall be computed by county boards of elections; requiring expense accounts to be accompanied by vouchers for all items in excess of three dollars; providing additional penalties; and further clarifying coordinating certain provisions of said act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HOMSHER, from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 464, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled, "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repeaing laws relating to Mothers' Assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended, by changing the residence requirement for general assistance.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. JASPAN. On behalf of Senator DiSilvestro, and myself, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. JASPAN and DiSILVESTRO read in place and presented to the Chair Sentae Bill No. 744, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred eleven of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled as amended, "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," by further fixing the hours during which liquor, malt or brewed beverages may be sold.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MUNDY, from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 555, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended, by regulating the use or disclosure of public assistance lists and records, and adding to penal provisions.

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARTLETT, from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 554, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and clause (b) of section four of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance, providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated, and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose, authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended by redefining assistance and eliminating the requirement that fresh fluid milk shall be furnished to relief recipients or their children.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATKINS, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 574, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty of the act approved the thirtieth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 885), entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of cooperative agricultural associations having capital stock; and defining agriculture so as to include persons engaged in agriculture, dairying, livestock raising, poultry raising, floriculture, mushroom growing, bee keeping, horticulture, and other allied occupations; and providing penalties," by limiting exemptions of and by further exempting certain classes of associations formed under such act from State, county and municipal taxation, and from the duty of filing certain tax reports with State, county or municipal agencies.

He also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 402, (House Bill No. 376), entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred sixty-five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by prohibiting the sale exposing for sale and offering for sale of certain lubricants in a manner to deceive the purchaser.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMAS, from the Committee on County Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 352, entitled:

An Act providing for the creation, maintenance and operation of a county employes retirement system in counties of the fourth and fifth classes; imposing certain charges on counties, and prescribing penalties.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO, from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 316, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of section five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergenry Relief Board," by providing that the judge of the court of common pleas, the president of the board of county commissioners, and the coroner shall constitute the county board of assistance in certain cases.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I should also like to place on the record for the benefit of members of the Senate a paper which I have had prepared because of the continuous discussion on the floor of this Senate dealing with contributions by families for their dependents.

I have here prepared a scale which shows the regulations of the department and the amount of money which a person must earn before he is requested to contribute and it may interest you to note that there is no contribution requested from any family where the income of the family is not more than $75; and it is $5.00 between $75 and $84.

Mr. President, I have this chart which shows contributions dealing with family contributions, where the children run from one to ten persons; I have shown the income, from $75 to $375 and I offer it for the record for the benefit of the Senators.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the tabulation submitted by the gentleman from Philadelphia will be incorporated in full in the record.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will be very glad to, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, did I understand the Senator from Philadelphia to say that under the present provision no one making less than $75 is required to assist the family of an indigent person applying for relief.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I asked the Joint State Government Commission to prepare this scale for me—I am answering the question of the gentleman from Cambria—and the chart which they have prepared shows that up to $75 there is no requirement for contributions.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is not correct; I wish to say that report is not correct, because I have stated on a number of occasions I have specific cases where the department has asked for assistance from persons making as low as $50 and therefore the report can not be correct. In proof of my statement, Mr. President, next Monday I shall bring to this Senate a copy of a letter I received from one of my constituents, asking a contribution from him, and he makes as low as $50 per month.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 418, as follows:

An Act requiring the Governor of the Commonwealth to issue a proclamation setting apart September thirteenth of this year as Commodore John Barry Day

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Governor shall this year issue a proclamation setting apart September thirteenth as Commodore John Barry Day and recommending that it be observed by the people with appropriate exercises in the public schools and otherwise as he may see fit to the end that the memory of the service rendered by Commodore John Barry during the struggle for American independence may be perpetuated

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, apparently I have no other alternative than to vote in the affirmative on this bill, but I desire to state that I believe in its present emasculated form it does not conform with the wishes of thousands of Pennsylvanians who would like to see this celebration arranged annually.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 196, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania State College for expenditure by the School of Mineral Industries thereof under the supervision of the Department of Mines

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Pennsylvania State College for expenditure by the School of Mineral Industries under the supervision of the Department of Mines for the purpose of employing engineers chemists technical experts assistants clerks stenographers and other employes and the purchase of machinery equipment apparatus supplies and other things necessary in connection with researches to discover by-products of anthracite and bituminous coal and uses therefor and to develop new scientific chemical and other uses and new and extended markets for anthracite and bituminous coal and its products

The moneys herein appropriated shall be available for expenditure only to the extent that a sum equal to the amount expended from the State appropriation has been made available by the anthracite and bituminous coal industry for the use of the School of Mineral Industries of the Pennsylvania State College for expenditure for the purposes provided in this section

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 212, on third reading, entitled:

An Act with reference to trust receipts and pledges of personal property unaccompanied by possession in the pledges and to make uniform the law with reference thereto.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 233, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 286), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of miners; by forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording fo the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed; required certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain persumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violations of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," by exempting children employed as caddies from the provisions of this act.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 381, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by authorizing the acquisition and operation of aviation landing fields and airdromes, by counties of the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend Section 496.1, page 2, line 17, by striking out, following the word "land," the word "for"; amend Section 496.1, page 2, line 17, by inserting, following the word "land," the word "or"; amend Section 496.1, page 2, line 18, by striking out the word, "said"; amend Section 496.1, page 2, line 18, by inserting, following the word "in" the word, "the"; amend Section 496.1, page 2, line 18 by inserting, following the words, as amended, "in the county," the following "in which the land is situated"; amend Section 496.2, page 2, by inserting between the end of line 22 and the beginning of line 23, the following:

"for an adequate consideration after due notice to and by and with the consent and approval of the taxing authorities of the county acquiring such land".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, before we dispose of this bill, is it proper for me to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. After reading the bill over hastily, Mr. President, I was wondering whether the gentleman from Luzerne would let me know after condemnation proceedings have been availed of, whether these authorities have a right to turn these airports over to individuals or not.

Mr. MILLER. That is correct, Mr. President. A feature of the last amendment read covers that particular point.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 424, as follows:

An Act restricting the granting of licenses to marry to divorced persons

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 No license to marry shall issue in this Commonwealth to any person who has been divorced until a period of six months shall have elapsed between the date of the decree of divorce and the application for the marriage license

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, a number of my friends have become divorced by daylight saving time, and remarried on daylight losing time and with that hour's intermission it is high time we have a bill of this kind.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	McGinnis,	Taylor,
Becker,	Farrell,	McQuiddy,	Thomas,
Carr,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tyler,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Shapiro,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, H. I.,
Deitrick,	Lanius,	Stevenson,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tallman,

NAYS—8

Cavalcante,	James,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Reed,	Wilson, T. B.,

PRESENT—6

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Mundy,
Coleman,	Frey,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be so verified. The Clerk will call those voting in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the affirmative votes as follows:

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	McGinnis,	Taylor,
Becker,	Farrell,	McQuiddy,	Thomas,
Carr,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tyler,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Shapiro,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, H. I.,
Deitrick,	Lanius,	Stevenson,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tallman,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hear none.

The Clerk will call those voting in the negative.

The Clerk read the negative votes as follows:

Cavalcante,	James,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Reed,	Wilson, T. B.,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk will call those voting present.

The Clerk read the vote of those voting present as follows:

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,
Coleman,	Frey,	Mundy,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The roll will stand as verified. Affirmative votes—31; negative votes—8; present—6.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, there seems to be some question about some of the members of the Senate voting "present" on this bill. By way of explanation I should like to say, for those who do not conscientiously believe in divorce should vote "present" on this bill, and we have done so.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 458, as follows:

An Act to authorize the revival of judgments entered in favor of the Department of Public Assistance by filing a suggestion of non-payment and directing prothonotaries to make the necessary entries without charge

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Whenever a claim of the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for repayment of public assistance has been reduced to judgment and the claim has not been paid or the judgment satisfied then in any such case the Executive Director of the County Board of Assistance in the county where the judgment was originally entered may file with the prothonotary at any time within five years of the date of entry of the original judgment a suggestion of non-payment which shall revive the original judgment for a period of five years from the date of entry of the suggestion of non-payment with the same force and effect as though a writ of scire facias had been issued served on all proper parties and duly prosecuted to judgment and any judgment so revived shall remain a valid lien upon any real estate upon which it was a lien at the time the suggestion of non-payment was filed for a further period of five years and may again be revived in like manner

Section 2 Whenever a judgment is revived as provided in Section 1 of this Act the prothonotary shall file the suggestion of non-payment and make the necessary notations in the proper dockets and indexes to show that the judgment has been revived without charge

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Barr,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Stiefel,

NAYS—1

Haluska,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 542, (House Bill No. 666), extends on old act permitting installment payments of taxes to counties of the first class. We just got through passing in the Senate a very carefully considered tax abatement bill, which I am sure will conflict with the provisions of this bill. In order to get some information on what was back of the sponsor's mind in asking that this bill be passed, I should like to ask that it go over in its order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 542, (House Bill No. 666), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of August, A. D., one thousand nine hundred thirty-two (P. L. 101), entitled "An act authorizing collectors of delinquent taxes except in cities of the first class to accept payments of delinquent taxes or water rents or rates in installments," by including counties.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 550, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled, "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined"; by adding thereto section 2114 establishing a civil service system for the Department of Health.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 218, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and six of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2017), entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation, and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government, an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children; prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners, county treasurers, city departments of public welfare, the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto; abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors, overseers, guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors, and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them; providing for the transfer, vesting, sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations; imposing certain existing obligations on institutions districts and on the Commonwealth, regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished; revising, amending, changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor; and repealing existing laws," providing for fixing the number and compensation of employes of institution districts; and conferring powers and imposing duties on county officers.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 219, on second reading, entitled:

An Act requiring prothonotaries and clerks of courts to notify officers charged with the duty of collecting taxes, of all judicial sales and taxing the cost of such notices.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 221, on second reading, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of controllers of the several counties, except counties of the first and second class, wherein said office has been or hereafter may be established.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 224, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and ten of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2017), entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation, and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government, an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children; prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners, county treasurers, city departments of public welfare, the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto; abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors, overseers, guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors, and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them; providing for the transfer, vesting, sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations; imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth; regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished; revising, amending, changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor; and repealing existing laws," providing for the administration of the finances of institution districts in counties having a county controller; and conferring powers and imposing duties on county controllers, commissioners and treasurers.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred fifty-four of article six of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance, amending, revising, and consolidating the law; providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," providing for appeals from any classification, rule, rate, or schedule of the Insurance Commissioner affecting insurance of employes and employers under the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and the supplements and amendments thereto.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, due to the fact the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 236, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, is absent this afternoon, he has asked me to present the following amendments:

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend, page 3, line 9, by striking out the brackets embracing the word [applied]; amend, page 3, line 9, by striking out after the word [applied] the word proposed.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.
The second section was read and agreed to.
The title was read and agreed to.
And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 284 on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section 901 of, and to add sections 901.1 901.2, 901.3, 901.4, 901.5, 901.6, 901.7, and 901.8 to, the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," by regulating the dismissal of employes and subordinate officers of the city.

be postponed for the present.
Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,
The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,
The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 294, (House Bill No. 481), entitled:

An Act to amend sections eighteen and nineteen of the act, approved the second day o July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 589), entitled "An act to safeguard human health and life by providing for the issuance of permits to and regulation of persons and entities selling milk and milk products, conferring powers and imposing duties on the Secretary of Health, the Advisory Health Board and otherwise providing for the administration of the act and imposing penalties," requiring the filing of local ordinances, rules and regulations with the Dairy Advisory Council; requiring local ordinances, rules and regulations in certain cases to be consistent.

The first section was read.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?
Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments, as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 12, after the word "shall" and before the word "not", by striking out the light faced bracket; Amend Section 1, page 4, line 26, after the word "shall" and before the word "paid", by inserting the word: "be"; Amend Section 1, page 6, line 4, by inserting before the word "of" the following words: "and classification"; Amend Section 1, page 6, line 6, after the word "Act", by inserting the following paragraphs: "c. Any person aggrieved by any decision rule or regulation made prescribed or adopted by the Dairy Advisory Council may within twenty (20) days after the decision or adoption of such rule or regulation file an appeal therefrom in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. No such appeal shall be permitted to act as a supersedeas except on special order of the court. A special order of court permitting the appeal to act as a supersedeas may be made only after reasonable notice to the Secretary of Health. The appeal from the action of the Dairy Advisory Council shall be by petition against the Secretary of Health officially as defendant alleging therein in brief detail the action of the Dairy Advisory Council complained of and praying for a reversal thereof. Such petition shall specify the petitioner's objections to the action of the Dairy Advisory Council and shall state the reasons in support of such objections. All averments in the petition reciting facts shall be supported by oath or affirmation and the petition shall include as part thereof under oath or affirmation an averment that the appeal is not filed for the purpose of delay. Upon service of a summons upon the Secretary of Health returnable at least ten (10) days from the date of service the Secretary of Health may on or before the return day file a motion to dismiss the appeal raising questions of law or attacking the form of sufficiency of the petition. If such motion is not sustained the Secretary of Health shall be given leave to file an answer within not less than ten (10) days after the order of court overruling the motion. Upon the filing of the answer by the Secretary of Health the case shall be at issue without further pleadings and upon application of either party the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay.

"The Secretary of Health shall on the return day of such summons certify to the court the record of the proceedings before the Dairy Advisory Council to which the petition refers. Such record shall include the testimony if any taken relative thereto the findings of fact of the Dairy Advisory Council and a copy of the rules and regulations complained of in the petition.

"Mere technical irregularities in the procedure of the Dairy Advisory Council shall not be the basis of the decisions of the court. In an appeal from the decision and action of the Dairy Advisory Council the case shall be heard upon the record certified to the court by the Secretary of Health. No evidence shall be received at the hearing of an appeal but if any party shall satisfy the court that evidence has been discovered since the hearing before the Dairy Advisory Council that could not have been obtained for use at that hearing by the exercise of reasonable diligence and will materially affect the merits of the case the court may in its discretion remand the record and proceedings to the Dairy Advisory Council with directions to take such after-discovered evidence and after consideration thereof to make such findings and so modify the decision rules and regulations complained of in the petition as the Dairy Advisory Council may deem proper and re-certify and re-submit to the court the record together with such additional supplemental findings decision rules and regulations as the Dairy Advisory Council shall have issued. Whereupon the court of common pleas shall proceed with the hearing of said appeal on the original and suppplemental record."

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman who just offered these amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. Certainly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Butler tell us what happens to a farmer and the milk during all this time they are reading about?

Mr. CARR. What is that, Mr. President?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, while all this is going on will the gentleman from Butler tell us what happens to the farmer and to the milk?

Mr. CARR. There is no supersedeas, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is all right, Mr. President, but I want to know what happens to the milk?

Mr. CARR. It goes on the same as it has been, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. Gladly, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, are these amendments intended to give the farmers more convenience?

Mr. CARR. They are intended to give the farmer an appeal from what might sometimes be referred to as bureaucratic dictation.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Why do we have the Milk Board in the first place then, Mr. President, if we are not to have bureaucrats or dictators.

Mr. CARR. I do not think the board is set up for that purpose, Mr. President, but sometimes boards do what they are not set up to do and it is to protect the rights of anybody concerned. It gives them the right to appeal, to which I think any American ought to be entitled.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, are we about to vote on the amendments separately.

Mr. CARR. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote against adoption of these amendments. This is the milk bill which is being kicked around now and these amendments have come in suddenly to the Senate. The bill was in committee and it comes out as amended, and I assumed this amendment was put in for the purpose of creating a basis upon which we could agree but here now we have amendments, three pages of amendments, dealing with appeals. In the first place we have to set up a board which by the very amendment shows there is no reason for such a board, because in this case once you create a board, you create a bureaucracy, and in order to protect themselves against the very machine they have set up they want to give appeals to both sides and I ask my colleagues to vote the amendments down.

Mr. President, I ask a roll call on the amendments by sections.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Taylor,
Becker,	Farrell,	Miller,	Thomas,
Carr,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Tyler,
Crider,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	James,	Stevenson,	Wilson, T. B.,
Deitrick,	Kephart,	Tallman,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,

NAYS—20.

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Lanius,	Reed,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Chapman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Coleman,	Heyburn,	McQuiddy,	Walker,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Watkins,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be so verified. The Clerk will call those voting in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the affirmative votes as follows:

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Thomas,
Becker,	Farrell,	Miller,	Tyler,
Carr,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crider,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, T B.,
Crowe,	James,	Stevenson,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Kephart,	Tallman,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Taylor,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no".

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

The affirmative vote stands as verified.

The Clerk will call those voting in the negative.

The Clerk read the negative votes as follows:

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Lanius,	Reed,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Chapman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Coleman,	Heyburn,	McQuiddy,	Walker,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Watkins,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The roll stands as verified. The affirmative vote—26; the negative vote—20.

The sections was agreed to, as amended.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lackawanna will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to inquire how this bill will appear on the Calendar tomorrow in the event the Senate agrees to the bill as amended on second reading.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the gentleman from Lackawanna, the Chair is advised that the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Carr, intends to ask that this bill go over in its order after adoption of the amendments.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows: Amend Title, page 2, line 3 of the title, after the word "regulations" and before the word "establishing," by striking out the word "and"; Amend Title, page 2, line 5 of the title, after the word "thereon" by inserting the following words: "and providing for appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 413, (House Bill No. 692), go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 378, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," exempting from said tax casualty insurance companies having no capital stock.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, before this bill gets to third reading I propose to call attention now to the fact that this bill is creating another exempt class and a very peculiar one. By the terms of this bill, as I read it, if a man dies and there is a policy of insurance on his life in favor of his wife, if she leaves the money with the insurance company, which invests it in railroad bonds and she gets the income, she pays no tax, but if she takes the money herself and invests it in the same railroad bonds she will pay a tax. It seems to me that is creating a very peculiar and new phase of our law. It is true that this same bill has created a number of other exempt classes but that is no excuse for continuing this and getting it down to a point where it is ridiculous.

Here is a tax exemption given for the same kind of money, which if invested by one person through one agent, bringing a return of the same amount, it is taxed, but if invested through the medium of an insurance company it is not taxed. If that is the kind of bills we are going to pass let us so record ourselves.

I propose to vote "No" on this bill and I desire to make my position known now so that the gentlemen may deal with this as they see fit on second reading and not when the bill is on final passage.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia has not covered all the points on that subject. This amendment also covers the case of where the insurance policy itself gives the wife who is the beneficiary an option to either take the entire amount of the policy at once or take it on an annuity plan and this bill, if passed, will exempt the proceeds of that policy, if the wife should elect to take the proceeds on an annuity plan, and I think that is a very good idea. I do not see why we ought to tax the proceeds of that insurance policy just because the wife elects to take it on an installment plan rather than in a lump sum.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that I do not say this woman should be or not be taxed; what I am saying is that if this woman has the option to invest it in annuities under this bill she would not be taxed, if she does not exercise that option and invests it in the same kind of bonds that the insurance company would invest in, she is taxed. If she has an insurance policy which does not give such option and she collects the fund and invests it in railroad bonds in which the insurance company would invest it, she is taxed.

In other words, any person who invests their money in the same railroad bonds, whether insurance money or not, pays a tax but if they invest through the medium of an insurance company, under this bill they will not then pay a tax.

I know the argument can be made that the widow will not receive a whole lot of money and will have to pay a tax, personal property tax, to such an extent she will not get much of an income but that is true, if a person makes an investment whether it be insurance or otherwise and all we are doing is to enlarge the class of exempt people to the point where we will have no taxes and where we will have an exempt class and the exempts will be greater than the taxables.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 379, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for state and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same, providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," by excluding proceeds of life insurance policies from the provisions thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 413, (House Bill No. 692), entitled:

An Act to amend clauses (k) and (l) and to add clause (n) to section two thousand four hundred two of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof, and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof; including the board of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," authorizing the leasing of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation to the United States.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.

Amend section 2, page 4, line 9 by striking out after the word "Section" and before the word "The" the figure: "[2]"; and inserting in lieu thereof the figure: "7"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to these amendments being accepted since they change the purpose of the whole bill. This has no place as an amendment to the bill because it adds new subject matter and changes the purpose of the bill, and if that is the intention there should be a new bill offered. There is a reason for that, more than a technical proposition. There ought not to be amendments offered on the floor of the Senate of the type we have just heard, controversial, being offered here without warning, after the bill has been given consideration and without an opportunity to carefully read the amendments in order to understand what they are here is a five or six page amendment to the bill, which is an amendment to the existing law. The present amendments now set up a new procedure which have no place in the original amendment; they are contradictory to it, in conflict with it and include certain new subject matters which are not included in the original bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I therefore rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my point of order is that I suggest the amendments may not be accepted, for the reasons I have above stated and I ask the Chair to rule on my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the position taken by the gentleman from Philadelphia is correct, the Chair would have to rule in the affirmative, but in view of the fact the amendments are very lengthy, the Chair can not rule on the point of order at this moment and the Chair will withhold decision on the point of order until he has had opportunity to read the amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is correct, Mr. President. My motion is based on the rule and the law which provides that an amendment can not be introduced which changes the subject matter of the bill.

RULING ON MOTION DEFERRED

The PRESIDENT. The Chair quite agrees with the gentleman from Philadelphia, and if that is the fact the Chair will rule on that tomorrow, but he is not in a position to do so at this time because he is not familiar and the Chair does not believe anybody could give snap judgment on a question of that kind.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I agree with the Chair on that.

SENATE BILL No. 413 OVER IN ITS ORDER

The PRESIDENT. In the meantime the amendments will lay on the table and the bill will go over in its order without being read.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 545, on second reading entitled:

An Act relating to the summoning and service of jurors (except grand jurors) in the civil and criminal courts of the several counties of the Commonwealth.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 645 on second reading, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the first day of June (one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1409), entitled as amended, "An act creating the Highway Mining Commission with judicial powers, to have exclusive jurisdiction over the mining of coal within or under the right of ways of State highways; and the assessment and award of benefits, improvements, and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for State highway routes, whether payable by the Commonwealth or a county; authorizing counties to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to highways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto," by extending said act, as amended, to all lands, easements and right of ways purchased, condemned, or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth; waiving vertical and lateral support therefor under certain conditions; reserving the right to acquire absolute vertical and lateral support; reserving the power to establish detours for the removal of coal underlying State highways; renaming the Highway Mining Commission and making certain changes in its membership and procedure; providing for appeals to the courts of common pleas from orders assessing damages for coal required to be left in place; and further clarifying the provisions of the act.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, because there is a meeting of the State Council of Defense scheduled for eleven o'clock tomorrow morning, it will be necessary, when the Senate adjourns today, that it adjourn until twelve o'clock noon eastern standard time, Wednesday, April 30th.

Therefore, Mr. President, there will be some time, probably an hour and a half from ten thirty a. m. to twelve noon, during which time there are no committee meetings or other meetings scheduled and I should therefore suggest to some of the chairmen of committees, if they are thinking of holding meetings of their committees soon, that they set a time between ten thirty and twelve o'clock tomorrow morning.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, April 30, 1941, at 12:00 o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:34 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, April 30, 1941, at 12:00 o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 29, 1941

The House met at 12 m.
The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, O Lord, that Thou didst send Thy Son into the world to reveal to us our low estate, but yet our worth to Thee. In His presence we become aware of our need. The measure of the stature of His fulness is so far beyond us that our hearts grow faint within us. Yet He believes in us, and this belief shall make us believe in ourselves. Keep us close to Him, Our Father, that we may dare to become like Him, who, while we were yet sinners, believed in us and called us to be sons with Thee. Make us willing to dare for Thee, unafraid of risks, and unmindful of dangers if Thou art near. In Jesus' Name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when on motion of Mr. SHEPARD unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. RAUSCH. HOUSE BILL No. 1410.

An Act to amend sections nine hundred ten and one thousand four of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," permitting candidates for aldermen, justices of the peace and magistrates to be candidates of more than one party for nomination for the same office.

Referred to the Committee on Elections.

By Mr. JAMES. HOUSE BILL No. 1411.

An Act to further amend clause (b) of section seven, clause (e) of section eight, and clauses (b) and (e) of section nine of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1168), entitled "An act to protect the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, officers of the State government, and courts; providing for the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair; further providing that representatives of a majority of the employes be the exclusive representatives of all the employes; authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections, and certify as to representatives of employes for purposes of collective bargaining; empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice, and providing a procedure for such cases, including the issuance of a complaint, the conducting of a hearing, and the making of an order; empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order, and providing a procedure for such cases; providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order, and establishing a procedure for such cases; providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court; providing the board with investigatory powers, including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court; providing for service of papers and process of the board; prescribing certain penalties," broadening the definition of "labor dispute"; making further provision for designation and selection of representatives for the purposes of collective bargaining and changing the practice before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board; limiting the time for appeals therefrom.

Referred to the Committee on Labor.

By Mr. JAMES. HOUSE BILL No. 1412.

An Act to further amend subsection (c) of section seven of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1168), entitled "An act to protect the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, officers of the State government, and courts; providing for the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair; further providing that representatives of a majority of the employes be the exclusive representatives of all the employes; authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections and certify as to representatives of employes for purposes of collective bargaining; empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice, and providing a procedure for such cases, including the issuance of a complaint, the conducting of a hearing, and the making of an order; empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order, and providing a procedure for such cases; providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order, and establishing a procedure for such cases; providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court; providing the board with investigatory powers, including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through aplication of the proper court; providing for service of papers and process of the board; prescribing certain penalties," revising the rights and procedure before the board in certifications of the representation of employes.

Referred to the Committee on Labor.

By Messrs. BALTHASER and PAUL A. BRUNNER. HOUSE BILL No. 1413.

An Act requiring the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after the use of any highway as a detour has been discontinued, to restore promptly such highway to substantially the same condition as it was prior to its use as a detour.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. WEISS and MAXWELL.

RESOLUTION No. 88.

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1941.

Whereas, "Speed traps" planned to catch the unsuspecting motorist and subject him to humiliation, fine and embarrassment are in most cases but the legalized means adopted by unscrupulous peace officers to enrich themselves; and

Whereas, Many of our citizens have been entrapped when far from home and have been compelled to pay the charges imposed or to put themselves to great inconvenience and expense in order to contest the charges preferred; and

Whereas, The General Assembly should be made familiar with the operation of "speed traps" in order to intelligently eliminate them without opening the highways to reckless and illegal traffic; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House is authorized to appoint a Legislative Committee composed of five members of the House whose duty it shall be to investigate "speed traps" existing in the Commonwealth in order to determine the best method of eliminating them and substituting some better method of curbing reckless and illegal driving, and to report to this House as speedily as possible the result of its investigation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

An Act to amend clause (b) of section three hundred and two of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections; including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by providing for the display of the standard flag of the United States at polling places; and imposing such duty on county boards of elections.

Mr. FRENCH, from the Committee on Townships, reported as committed, House Bill No. 789, (Senate Bill No. 81), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and forty-seven of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto", by extending the power to accept roads, streets, lanes and alleys dedicated as public highways.

Mr. WOLF, from the Committee on Counties, reported as amended, House Bill No. 896, entitled:

An Act authorizing and requiring county commissioners to sell seated and unseated lands purchased at tax sales, upon which the period of redemption has expired; and validating certain sales heretofore made.

Mr. MONKS, from the Committee on Railroads and Railways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 109, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of the traveling public and employes on steam or electric railroads by regulating the construction of caboose cars and providing penalties.

Mr. McSURDY, from the Committee on Elections, reported as amended, House Bill No. 358, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses three, of subsection (b) of section 913 of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, (Pamphlet Laws 1333), entitled, "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections;" by fixing the fee for filing nomination petitions for the office of jury commissioner.

Mr. BALTHASER, from the Committee on Counties, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1172, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hunderd and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by empowering counties to acquire real estate by lease, purchase, gift or eminent domain for use as fairground, authorizing the acquisition of property by eminent domain for certain other public purposes; and authorizing county commissioners to do all things necessary for the establishment and maintenance of county agricultural fairs and fairgrounds, including the appropriation of funds, joint action with other political subdivisions, the levy and collection of taxes, the creation of county fair boards, and the acceptance of State contributions.

Mr. HAMILTON, from the Committee on Military Affairs, re-reported as committed, House Bill No. 182, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (P. L. 106), entitled "An act prohibiting the discharge from public positions of Union soldiers without reasonable cause, and prohibiting the abolishment of or changing the emoluments of public offices occupied by Union soldiers except for good reason," by extending the provisions thereof to veterans and nurses of any war in which the United States has engaged.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Cities-Second Class, re-reported as committed, House Bill No. 875 (Senate Bill No. 253), entitled:

An Act relating to members of the bureau of fire in cities of the second class; providing, subject to the approval of the electors, for a three-platoon system for such members, with certain exceptions; providing for an election on such question; and regulating hours of service, hours of rest and annual vacations.

Mr. WOODRING, from the Committee on Military Affairs, re-reported as amended, House Bill No. 104, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seven of the act, approved the fifth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (P. L. 223, 1933-34), entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War, the war between the United States and Spain, the China Relief Expedition, or in the Philippines or Guam; providing the method of making payment to representatives or persons who, because of death or incapacity, cannot personally receive compensation; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation; and repealing inconsistent legislation; and providing penalties," extending the time during which application may be filed for veterans' compensation.

Mr. LOVETT, from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 87.

FRANKLIN-MARSHALL ACADEMY WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this afternoon the History Class of Franklin-Marshall Academy, Lancaster, who are the guests of Mr. Marshall M. Cohen.

PRESENTATION TO SPEAKER

Mr. McFALL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, some time ago a very important conference was held at the rostrum by the four members from Northampton County, in which they discussed with you, Mr. Speaker, legislation vital and important to the state. A newspaper photographer appeared on the scene and flashed a picture. Now, it is funny how these newspaper photographers appear at the psychological moment. This picture appeared in many newspapers in the eastern part of Pennsylvania and caused very favorable comment, so much so that we feel the picture may become a classic, somewhat on the order of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Washington crossing the Delaware, and Paul Revere's ride. These men, of course, helped to save the nation, and we, the Members of this legislative body from Northampton County, seek to save the state for the Democrats. This picture has been beautifully autographed and I now present it to you, Mr. Speaker, with the compliments and best wishes of Joseph A. Longo D. Miller Early, Carleton T. Woodring, and Charles McFall.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. McFall.

RESOLUTION

THANKS EXTENDED

Mr. MIHM offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1941.

Whereas, he Committee on Cities of the Second Class recently held public hearings in the City of Pittsburgh on House Bill No. 875 and Senate Bill No. 253; and

Whereas, the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh graciously allowed the committee to use the council chambers for the purpose of holding such public hearings; and

Whereas, The facilities offered the committee by the City Council of Pittsburgh were more than adequate for its needs, and the courtesy extended to the members of the committee by the officials of the City Council could not be excelled; and

Whereas, The arrangements made for the holding of the hearings were satisfactory to the smallest and insignificant detail; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives thanks the City Council of Pittsburgh for its gracious and courteous treatment of the members of the House of Representatives while they were engaged in their legislative duties in Pittsburgh; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed by the Chief Clerk of the House to the President of the said City Council, conveying thereby the most heartfelt thanks and appreciation of the House of Representatives.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTIONS

Mr. HEATHERINGTON offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1941.

Whereas, The Legislature has learned with mixed emotions of the birth of a 9½ pound daughter to the Honorable Anthony J. Petrosky and his wife; and

Whereas, Because of the excellent state of medical knowledge in the Commonwealth, we are happy to report that the father suffered no acute discomfort and will undoubtedly be able to continue to perform his legislative duties capably; and

Whereas, We have learned with a great deal of satisfaction that mother and daughter are "doing nicely"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives desires to felicitate the Honorable Anthony J. Petrosky and his wife on the birth of their daughter; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House mail a copy of this resolution to the happy parents.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I certainly appreciate the trouble the gentlemen have gone to for me here today. The membership of the House, Mr. Speaker, will well know that the daddie has been disappointed, but due to the fact that the little girl wanted a sister, we compromised with her and gave her one. Inasmuch as every Member of the House is well versed in the subject of the other sex, I can say to them that I will receive any and all recipes that they can give me for the next effort. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the gentleman from Westmoreland Mr. Petrosky.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I feel after three months of sitting in seat 174 of the General Assembly as a Member of the House, and listening to the very many issues discussed, some intelectually, some emotionally and some of them without any semblence of sense whatsoever, and realizing full well that the first time I was on the floor the Members of the House rather took personal affront at some of my statements, I ask the indulgence of the House this afternoon to bear with me as a first term Member. If I perhaps tramp on your toes, as a servant of the people of the Commonwealth, in my own feeble method of understanding as a rural Member from Somerset County, I trust that you will bear with me with a sense of justice and mercy.

We have heard during debate windy and short arguments. We have had the milk bill discussed pro and con, we have had the bowling bill rolling over the floor, and I feel I would be derelict in my duty as a representative from a rural county if I did not take this opportunity to point in all seriousness to such phrases as occurred last evening on the question of the horse's tail, to the end that perhaps I can give you some light on the seriousness of the situation and can point out to you that we are wasting much time in this legislative year.

I am asking, Mr. Speaker, for unanimous consent at this time to introduce a resolution, and I forthwith introduce it.

RESOLUTION

THANKS EXTENDED

Messrs. HARE and WAGNER offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, as follows:

In the House of Represenatives, April 29, 1941.

Whereas, it is common knowledge and a generally accepted fact that Somerset County is the greatest single gift made by the Creator of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, its inhabitants have been known for generations as the Frosty Sons of Thunder, and their abiding place has been called "The roofgarden of Pennsylvania, the foothills of Heaven"; and

Whereas, the glories of this celestial region have been broadcast over the Commonwealth by the Honorable William S Livengood, Jr., distinguished Secretary of Internal Affairs, and the Honorable Charles H. Ealy, the equally disinguished President Pro Tempore of the Senate; and

Whereas, it is a matter of common knowledge that the residents of Somerset County have been singularly blessed with an abundance of all the better traits found in man; and

Whereas, it is universally known that this county has never departed from the true faith, but has steadfastly continued to select and elect only proponents of the Republican philosophy of government; and

Whereas, there is substantially authenticated proof that this county was the original site of the Garden of Eden. It is therefore the distinct pleasure of the Somerset Business Men's Organization to present to each Member of this honorable House, regardless of his political affiliation, some small measure of proof in support of the above mentioned contentions. For many years past the Honorable Wilson Gillette of Bradford County, and the Honorable Jacob Schrock of Somerset County have argued at great length as to the relative merits of the products of their respective counties; and

Whereas, on divers occasions these discussions have gone far afield and have embraced the productivity of the fields and size of the barns and pulchritude of their ladies, they have invariably ended up on the sweet subject of maple syrup; and

Whereas, these discussions have been of great length, violence and verbosity, they have to date produced no tangible evidence of the good faith of either claimant; and

Whereas, it is the desire of the Business Men's Division of the Somerset Chamber of Commerce to advance tangible proof of the greatness of the county and the purity of their maple products, and to the end that no further shadow shall be cast upon the fair name of Somerset County, and to insure for all time its recognized position as one of the two largest maple syrup producing counties in the world, they have, through its duly elected Representatives, made it possible for the Members of this honorable House to share in some of the nectar of the Gods that annually flows from the sugar trees of their fair county; and

Whereas, they are adherents of the old adage that you catch more flies with sugar than with vinegar, they have decided to extend this sweet distillation of the maple alike to all Members of this honorabl House, regardless of their political faith. It is the hope that the Members of this honorable body will avail themselves of this opportunity to sample its delicate flavor, to observe its clear golden color, and to revel in its Heavenly perfume; and

Whereas, in the past the old County of Somerset has been known as a member of the Bible Belt, we feel it incumbent to bring to the attention of this honorable body the fact that our third grade syrup is regularly sold to the city slickers as first grade Vermont syrup at first grade prices; and

Whereas, the Frosty Sons of Thunder have no desire to have an army camp named after their county, but are only desirous of perpetuating the name and fame of their native heath as the home of world renouned maple products; therefore be it

Resolved, that this House of Representatives in General Assembly convened on the 29th day of April, 1941, do cause this resolution to be made a part of the permanent record of the House and that a copy of said resolution be forwarded forthwith to Mr Charles F. Weimer, Director, Business Men's Division, Somerset Chamber of Commerce, Somerset, Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, before voting on this resolution I call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that peddling in the Hall of the House is forbidden.

Mr. TARR. Mr Speaker, I am going to vote for this resolution but only because Fayette County holds Somerset County in place, and only because it adjoins Somerset County. Fayette County is the place where the maple syrup comes from and only the sap comes from Somerset County.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Tarr, refrained from telling the House that I sold him a gallon of maple syrup last week at $1.90 a gallon and I bought it at $1.10 a gallon. That is not being such a sap after all. The sap seems to be on the other side of the House.

I now ask the Speaker to instruct pages Thompson and Walker to make the distribution.

Mr. TARR. For the information of the gentleman from Somerset I sold that gallon of maple syrup that he hocked to me in Fayette County, to the only Republican in Fayette County for $2.25.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was of the opinion that the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, was a rural member and not a city slicker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Tarr.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TARR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. As a point of information, Mr. Speaker, I did not quite hear the gentleman a minute ago. Did I understand him to say that sap or saps came from Somerset County?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I definitely said sap, s-a-p-p-.

The Speaker. The Chair thanks the gentleman for telling us where maple syrup comes from. It is a very nice gesture.

Mr. HARE. Bootleggers having been driven out of Somerset County and not being familiar with the operation, I had to refer that subject to Mr. Tarr.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I stand spanked. I will go back to my seat.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that a sample of Somerset maple syrup is to be given to each Member, with the compliments of the gentlemen from Somerset, Messrs. Hare and Wagner. Is this a bribe to vote for this resolution?

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this is the kind of bottled stuff they sell in one man clubs in Somerset County.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, if you judge it by the sweetness of the ladies of our county, it probably is.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes the gentleman from Delaware will finish the buckwheat cakes in the morning.

QUESTION OF INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I did not know this was maple syrup. I thought a little soda would go well with it.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1156, Printer's No. 308, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 984, as follows:

An Act providing that when new trial is granted upon grounds that damages are inadequate or excessive the new trial shall be confined to that question and not to liability.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 When in any action a new trial shall be granted to any party soley upon the grounds of inadequacy or excessiveness of a verdict or finding the sole question to be determined upon such new trial shall be the amount of damages and the question of liability as between the parties shall be deemed to have finally determined by the prior verdict or finding.

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1

Lichtenwalter,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 218, as follows:

An Act to further amend section three and to amend section eight of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 224) entitled "An act preventing the manufacture sale or transportation within the Commonwealth of adulterated or misbranded Paris greens lead arsenates lime-sulpher compounds and other insecticides and fungicides and regulating traffic therein providing for inspection of such materials and imposing penalties" by imposing additional duties on the Secretary of Agriculture and further regulating the sale manufacture and transportation of insecticides and fungicides.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L . 224) entitled "An act preventing the manufacture or transportation within the Commonwealth of adulterated or misbranded Paris green lead arsenates lime-sulphur compounds and other insecticides and fungicides and regulating traffic therein providing for inspection of such materials and imposing penalties" as amended by the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 136) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 That the Secretary of Agriculture shall promulgate uniform rules and regulations for enforcing this act including the collection and examinations by existing bureaus of insecticides and examinations by existing bureaus of insecticides and fungicides manufactured or offered for sale in the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining whether such articles are adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act or if such insecticides or fungicides do not comply with any provision of this act.

Section 2 Section eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 (a) That any insecticide or fungicide that is condemmed as being adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act or otherwise failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be confiscated and disposed of by destruction or in such other manner as the court may direct

(b) That it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale manufacture or transport within the Commonwealth any insecticide or fungicide so colored that the said insecticide or fungicide can be confused with or resembles closely flour baking soda salt pepper or any other common kitchen and household condiment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 717, as follows:

An Act relating to crimminal procedure providing for the securing of attendance of witnesses from within or without the State in crimminal cases and making uniform the law in reference thereto

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Definitions The word "witness" as used in this act shall include a person whose testimony is desired in any proceeding or investigation by a grand jury or in a crimminal action prosecution or proceeding

The word "state" shall include any territory of the United States and the District of Columbia

The word "summons" shall include a subpoena order or other notice requiring the appearance of a witness

Section 2 Summoning Witness in this State to Testify in Another State If a judge of a court of record in any state which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within that state to attend and testify in this State certifies under the seal of such court that there is a criminal prosecution pending in such court or that a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence that a person being within this State is a material witness in such prosecution or grand jury investigation and his presence will be required for a specified number of days upon presentation of such certificate to any judge of a court of record in the county in which such person is such judge shall fix a time and place for a hearing and shall make an order directing the witness to appear at a time and place certain for the hearing

If at a hearing the judge determines that the witness is material and necessary that it will not cause undue hardship to the witness to be compelled to attend and testify in the prosecution or a grand jury investigation in the other state and that the laws of the state in which the prosecution is pending or grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence and of any other state through which the witness may be required to pass by ordinary course of travel will give to him protection from arrest and the service of civil and criminal process he shall issue a summons with a copy of the certificate attached directing the witness to attend and testify in the court where the prosecution is pending or where a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence at a time and place specified in the summons In any such hearing the certificate shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein

If said certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state to assure his attendance in the requesting state such judge may in lieu of notification of the hearing direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him for said hearing and the judge at the hearing being satisfied of the desirabilty of such custody and delivery for which determination the certificate shall be prima facie proof of such desirability may in lieu of issuing subpoena or summons order that said witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state Provided however That such judge may admit the witness to bail by bond with sufficent sureties and in such sum as he deems proper conditioned for his appearance before him at a time specified in such bond and for his surrender to an officer of the requesting state

If the witness who is summoned as above provided after being paid or tendered by some properly authorized person the sum of ten cents ($0.10) a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending and five dollars ($5) for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment or any witness who disobeys a summons isued from a court of record in this State

Section 3 Witness from Another State Summoned to Testify in this State If a person in any state which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence in this State is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this State or in a grand jury investigation which has commenced or is about to commence a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required Said certificate may include a recommendation that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this State to assure his attendance in this State This certificate shall be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found

If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this State he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents ($0.10) a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending and five dollars ($5) for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this State a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate unless otherwise ordered by the court If such witness after coming into this State fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this State

Section 4 Exemption from Arrest and Service of Process If a person comes into this State in obedience to a summons directing him to attend and testify in this State he shall not while in this State pursuant to such summons be subject to arrest or the service of process civil or criminal in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this State under the summons

If a person passes through this State while going to another state in obedience to a summons to attend and testify in that state or while returning therefrom he shall not while so passing through this State be subject to arrest or the service of process civil or criminal in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this State under the summons

Section 5 Uniformity of Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of the states which enact it

Section 6 Short Title This act may be cited as the "Uniform Act to Secure the Attendance of Witnesses from Within or Without a State in Criminal Proceedings"

Section 7 Repealer All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed in the following acts are hereby expressly repealed

The act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1017) entitled "An act relating to criminal procedure providing for the securing of attendance of witnesses from without the State in criminal cases and making uniform the law in reference thereto"

The act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2088) entitled "An act to amend sections one two four five and seven of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 1017) entitled 'An act relating to criminal procedure providing for the securing of attendance of witnesses from without the State in criminal cases and making uniform the law in reference thereto' by further regulating the attendance of such witnesses and limiting the powers with respect thereto to judges learned in the law"

The act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 401) entitled "An act to further amend sections one and four of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 1017) entitled 'An act relating to criminal procedure providing for the securing of attendance of witnesses from without the State in criminal cases and making uniform the law in reference thereto' by extending the provisions thereof to include grand jury investigations"

Section 8 Constitutionality If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable

Section 9 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 717 is an attempt to clarify a situation which unfortunately exists in Pennsylvania at the present time. In 1935 this legislature passed a similar act which was amended in 1937 and 1939 and under which the now famous arson murder cases in Philadelphia were brought to a successful conclusion. The use of this act to bring from New York State a witness in the arson murder prosecution, and use of the information and evidence derived from him, as I said before, enabled a successful conclusion of the matter.

In 1940, the Philadelphia Court of Quarter Sessions declared the act to be unconstitutional in three respects. It stated that the title of the act was defective since it did not indicate that citizens of Pennsylvania might be compelled to go out of this state to testify. This particular objection has been cured in this act by the addition of the words to the title "within or".

Secondly, another objection to this act was that it gave the witness no right to be allowed out on bail. This likewise has been cured by this act, a suitable bail provision being inserted in this bill.

Finally and by far the most serious objection was raised by the Court to the effect that the act violated the constitution in that it abridged or violated the right of a citizen of this Commonwealth to the freedom of ingress and egress within or without the state. I am calling this matter to the attention of the membership because considerable time has been devoted to this bill in an effort to try to remove this objectionable feature. May I state that thirty seven states of the Union have enacted this bill into law, and that the only way it can become effective in Pennsylvania is by having it become a law in this state because, of course, it is a reciprocal agreement.

I wish to call to the attention of the membership of this House at this time the thought expressed in the only authority which I could find on the subject following the opinion of the Philadelphia court, declaring the old act unconstitutional, and I am submitting it to the membership for inspection and I hope approval.

The North Carolina Law Review of April, 1941, in a case made reference to the Philadelphia decision about which I have just spoken, and on the basis of a case entitled Massachusetts vs. Klaus it says:

> "The right of free ingress and egress was never intended to enable a citizen of the United States to interfere with the orderly administration of justice within . . . the State . . . the only protection which the privileges and immunities clause . . . affords him there is that no state shall discriminate between him and the citizens of the state. Giving testimony when one is capable is a long-recognized duty, whose performance society has a right to compel. Admittedly, the right of free ingress and egress is subjected to the police power of a state. What right should one have to insist on exercising that freedom for society and the orderly administration of justice? There should be no objection to a temporary interference with this right until such duty is performed. Whenever a citizen is subpoenaed as a witness, his freedom of movement is restrained in much the same manner."

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, this article states, and I quote:

> "The desirability of the type of law in question need be no further reiterated. Suffice it to say that this is one of six fundamental problems in the administration of the criminal law which have been studied by the Interstate Commission on Crime. Unless this uniform law be upheld, we will be again thrown into that anomalous situation wherein a needed witness who has placed a state line between himself and the court may be begged to return, or kidnapped and returned, but there is no legal procedure provided by the states which can compel him to return unless he, himself, has committed an extraditable offense."

Under these circumstances, I feel this bill should be enacted into law, and I therefore, ask the membership of this House to vote "aye" on this measure.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am in accord with the request made by the gentleman from Montgomery Mr. Brunner, for the passage of House Bill 717.

However, I do not feel we should allow the act to be passed without raising certain questions because we are dealing with one of the most mundamental rights a citizen has in this Commonwealth. Too often many of these bills come before us and we pass them over without even knowing what is in them. This is a very important bill and the gentleman from Montgomery has given it careful consideraion. It is a bill which should be studied and this legislature should know what is in the bill before it is passed.

I samply want to raise three fundamental questions so tha the record will show that we were cognizant of the issue before us. As I said before, he gentleman from Mongomery and I have gone over the question with the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General in charge of this legislation and we are agreed that it is a necessary piece of legislation and we are going to leave to the courts the question of constitutionaliyt. I would like however, he recard to show that we raised hese fundamental questions.

Does this act violate the provisions of the Federal Constitution, he 14th amendment, prohibiting the states from enacting any law abridiging he privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States?

This act will compel a citizen of this State to go into another state where he has committed no crime, where he is not a citizen, where he is not a resident, and produce testimony under the pain of all the penalties atendant upon any witness.

The second question is, does the act violate he clause in the 14th amendment to the Federal Constitution which provides, "Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Under this act a citizen of this state, called by the State of New York could be seized and brought before a judge. Of course, they get around any constitutional question. This new act allows bail to be fixed by the judge, but I still raise he question as to whether or not a man can be seized for a crime which he has not committed.

The third question which I raise under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, under Aricle 1, Section 8 is, "The people shall be secure in heir persons from unreasonable searches and seizures."

As I said before, Mr. Speaker, I am entirely in accord with the gentleman who made the request for the passage of this bill and I am going to voe for the bill, but I believe we ought to know just what we are voting on, and I should like the record to show that in my opinion this question should be approached from the standpoint of an amendment to the Federal Constitution such as we have in the extradition law and he statutes pertaining thereto. This is an important piece of legislation and we ought not to pass it by lightly. However, I am willing to vote for it, leaving it to the courts to determine these very fundamental questions, which go to the heart of all our rights.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1

Rausch,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goodwin, who desires to offer a privileged resolution. The reason for his request is that Mr. Goodwin is driving the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard, back to Pittsburgh, due to a death in Mr. Gerard's family. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goodwin, wishes to offer this resolution before he leaves. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution?

The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Mr. GOODWIN offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1941.

Among the freshmen of this House, headed for the status of leadership in a very short time, is the gentleman from the ninth district of Allegheny County, the Honorable William J. Yester of McKeesport.

For his rapid progress in business and public affairs this youngster is in no small degree indebted to a happy decision made by him just fifteen years ago today, when he led to the alter of matrimony, the delightful young lady who has ever since been known as his Mrs., and whose presence with him today is a source of joy to him and a pleasure to his colleagues in the House; be it, therefore

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extend its heartiest congratulations to Honorable and Mrs. Yester on the occasion of this their crystal wedding, and hope that on their diamond wedding they will be no less happy, and even more prosperous and exalted in public and private life than they now are; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this anniversary greeting be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the wedded couple whose fifteenth anniversary this is.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Yester.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the House for this resolution. I would say to the bachelors in the House, no matter how old they are,—I believe when I was married, I was about thirty-five,—if they will take my advice they will become married. They will enjoy the happiest days of their lives if they do so. I want you to meet my wife.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Yester.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 660, as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred twenty-two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" as amended providing that State employes may accumulate their authorized leaves of absence and take such accumulated leaves at one time

Section 1 Section two hundred twenty-two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for the reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers

L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal-mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 A suitable record book shall be kept at the mine office on the surface of every mine wherein fire bosses are employed and immediately after the examination of such mine or any portion thereof by a fire boss whose duty it is to make such examination he shall enter in said book with ink a record of such examination and sign same This record shall show the time taken in making the exmination and also clearly state the nature and location of any danger that may have been discovered in any room or entry or other place in the mine and if any danger or dangers have been discovered the fire bosses shall immediately report the location thereof to the mine foreman In addition the fire boss shall immediately report the nature and location of any danger or dangers to the mine inspector No person shall enter the mine until the fire bosses return to the mine office on the surface or to a station located in the intake entry of the mine (where a record book as provided for in this section shall be kept and signed by the person making the examination) and report to the mine foreman or the assistant mine foreman by telephone or otherwise that the mine is in safe condition for the men to enter When a station is located in any mine it shall be the duty of the fire bosses to sign also the report entered in the record book in the mine

office on the surface The record books of the fire bosses shall at all times during working hours be accessible to the inspector and the employes of the mine

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1

Hewitt,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1253, as follows:

An Act providing a method of annexation of parts of townships to cities of the first class and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 That any part of a township may be annexed to any adjacent city of the first class in the following manner viz

Two-thirds of the taxpayers in number and amount in that part of the township shall present a petition to the Council of said City asking for such annexation which said petition shall be accompanied by a plot of the township and of the portion thereof proposed to be annexed to the said City

Section 2 Upon the presentation to the Council of such City of such petition and plot said Council may by ordinance annex such part of the township whereupon the said part thereof shall become a part of the said City and if such City be in a different county it shall become a part of the county in which such City is situated

Section 3 That the action of said City Council shall be final and conclusive unless an appeal therefrom be taken within ten (10) days to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such City is situated upon such appeal the Clerk of said City Council shall certify to said Court all the papers and proceedings in the case whereupon said Court shall examine and inquire and if the proceedings appear to have been in conformity with law shall approve the same

Section 4 Unless and until changed in the manner provided by law the part of such township so annexed if not divided into wards shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged City and if the part of the township so annexed at the time of annexation be divided into awards then each war of such part of the township shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city and shall be numbered by the Council of the City consecutively beginning with the next highest number after the existing highest numbered ward of the City Unless and until changed in the manner provided by law all election districts in such annexed part of the township shall remain as constituted at the time of the annexation and upon annexation shall become election districts of the enlarged city All election and other officers of such election districts in office at the time of the taking effect of the annexation shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms unless sooner removed as provided by law

Section 5 All the public property owned by such township and situated within the portion thereof which shall be so annexed shall become the public property of the City to which it is annexed All taxes thereafter levied by said City shall be uniform throughout the territorial limits of the enlarged city

Section 6 The township officers and the City Council shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of all public property owned by the township at the time of annexation both real and personal including township funds as well as an adjustment and apportionment of the township indebtedness if any between the township and the City In making such adjustment and apportionment of the property and indebtedness the township and the City shall be entitled respectively to share in a division of the property and indebtedness in the proportion that the assessed valuation of the land remaining in the township bears to the assessed valuation of the land annexed The adjustment and apportionment as so made shall be reduced to writing in proper form and duly executed and acknowledged by the proper officials and filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such City is located

Section 7 In case the Council of the City and the township authorities cannot make such amicable apportionment and adjustment of such public property and indebtedness in compliance with this Act within six months after any such annexation then the Council or any officer of the township may present a petition to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the County in which the City is located whereupon the Court shall appoint three commissioners one of whom shall be a resident and taxpayer of the said City one of whom shall be a resident and taxpayer of the township and one of whom shall not reside or be taxpayer in the county or counties in which either the City or the township is situated Said commissioners after hearing notice of which shall be given to the City and township interested and in cases where the City and township are in different counties to the County Commissioners of the county of which the township is a part as the Court shall direct shall make report to the Court making an apportionment and adjustment of all the public property as well as the indebtedness if any between the City and the township which said report shall state the amount if any that shall be due and payable from the City to the township or from the township to the City as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the City

Section 8 The Commissioners shall give the City and the township at least five (5) days' notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the City or by the township within thirty (30) days after the filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the Court absolutely and any sum awarded by the said Court to the City or the township shall be a legal and valid claim in its favor against the City or township charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to the City or township shall be a legal and valid debt of such City or township and any property real or personal given and adjudged to the City or township shall become and be the property of the City or the township to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmd such claim or indebtedness charged against any City or township may be collected in the same manner as judgments are collected against cities or townships in accordance with law The commissioners shall be allowed compensation to be fixed by the Court appointing them together with their actual necessary expenses Such compensation and all costs and expenses of such proceeding shall be apportioned by the Court between the City and the township as it shall deem proper In case exceptions are filed to the report of the commissioners the Court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the Court thereon shall be final and binding upon such City and township unless an appeal is taken within thirty (30) days to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 9 In cases in which such cities and townships are situated in different counties the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which the City is located shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all matters which are the subject of this Act but the same shall be heard by a judge not a resident of either of the judicial districts affected who shall be called to preside specially in the matter.

Section 10 The Act approved the second day of July A D One thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2803) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" and all other Acts or parts of Acts insofar as they are inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby be and the same are hereby repealed

Section 11 This Act shall become effective immediatly upon its final nactment

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, as so often happens, the general provisions of a bill brought before us for consideration give very little opportunity for the Members to know about the primary purposes for which the bill is designed and the specific case that has inspired its designing. This bill now before us, and we might just as well get down to cases and talk about the real purposes of the bill, is planned to permit the city of Philadelphia to take over with very little difficulty and scarcely any effort a part of Delaware County located in the Township of Tinicum, and a part of the township of Tinicum is now wholly owned, it is true, by the city of Philadelphia. The part of Tinicum Township desired by the city of Philadelphia comprises something between nine hundred and one thousand acres of land, and the Township of Tinicum and the county of Delaware collect in taxes each year on that parcel of land something between seventeen and eighteen thousand dollars. The city of Philadelphia, of course, has in mind if it makes that part of Tinicum township a part of Philadelphia, it will be relieved of paying just and legal taxes to the political subdivision which now has a proper title and legal possession of that plot of ground.

At this point, Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McLANAGHAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McLanaghan, if what I have said up to this point is not substantially true.

Mr. McLANAGHAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES. I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McLanaghan.

Mr. Speaker, prior to the advent of a man named Hitler the governing principles in the relationships between nations and states and counties and townships, and even between man and man, were honesty and morality. But since the advent of Hitler there has come over the world a new idea of acquisitiveness and a new method of acquisition. This bill, Members of the House, is a blitzkreig bill! It is true that the city of Philadelphia does own the land with which this bill deals, but it is equally true that that land has been a part of Tinicum Township through thick and thin, and the County of Delaware and Tinicum Township have taken care of and nurtured it since the days when this land was but a waste and a swamp. They saw it survive and live. They policed it, cared for it and gave it the attention they were obliged by law to give it, until it grew prosperous and became desirable to somebody else. In the first instance that desire was on the part of the United States Government, and later because the United States Government had no further interest in the land it became the desire of the city of Philadelphia to take it over. Even when this land was nothing at all it still was a potential property and even a strategical prospect of land, something that Tinicum Township counted on for the future and something that it hoped, as all communities do, might develop later on into a prosperous section of that political subdivision, something which would bear its full share of the cost of government of that township. Now, Mr. Speaker, that portion of land in Tinicum Township has come to the point where it does indeed bear its part and share in the cost of administering the affairs of the township. It is true that it has come to that position by reason of the fact that the City of Philadelphia has expended money there. The city of Philadelphia has made improvements in this property but that is true also of any other land held by a private individual that might have started an ordinary farm land or even swamp land, and if money is spent upon it then it becomes valuable to its owner, and at the same time it becomes valuable as a tax revenue bearing unit of the political subdivision in which it is located. Today this little plot of land is yielding to Tinicum Township between seventeen and eighteen thousand dollars a year in taxes. Tinicum Township has counted on that tax revenue in making up its budget, in improving conditions for the people of the entire township and in developing a community which would be desirable to those who live there. Tinicum Township no doubt based its borrowing capacity on a sum of money which included the assessed value of this piece of ground, it has made commitments in its budget, and otherwise has taken into account revenue that is to come from this piece of ground amounting to the sum of seventeen or eighteen thousand dollars a year. Tinicum township is a rather poor township and the loss of this tax would be a serious matter, not only to the township commissioners but also to the school board.

There is one other thing which this bill has failed to provide. It is admitted that there are provisions in the bill for adjustment of capital accounts and interest and so forth, but this bill has failed to provide for the interest of the county in this piece of land.

It must be remembered too that the county of Delaware receives revenue from this plot of ground. All of these things that I have mentioned would create a very serious problem for the people of Tinicum Township and also a serious problem for the County Commissioners of Delaware County.

But that is not all. This movement is the beginning of a sort of pincer movement—an effort to curtail the freedom of activity of many human beings—that also is a term that has come into public knowledge recently through the operations of Mr. Hitler. It would not be at all surprising to me and to many others if this bill were to go through, that Fifth Columnists might be set down there to prepare the people for another pincer movement in Upper Darby. I want to call the attention of the Members of the House, particularly all those members who may have a similar situation in some portion of their political subdivision the fact that if this legislation goes through it would be only necessary for some city located on the edge of your subdivision to buy up and get title to the land that they in their judgment and you in your knowledge believe to be strategic land, land that some day might be developed and come into a position where it could bear its fair share in the improvement and development of your whole community.

Mr. Speaker, in the interest of honesty in government and morality among men, I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. VOORHEES. Mr. Speaker, this is a very simple bill. It was on the statute books under the act of 1873, but due to the foresight of the political leader of Delaware County, the then Senator McClure, it was repealed and taken from the statute books in 1931, at that time Philadelphia took title to this land. There is no one living on the property that Philadelphia is interested in. Philadelphia airport is now located at Hog Island. Title was acquired by the city of Philadelphia in 1931 by purchase from the Federal Government. There are no residents there, it contains over nine hundred acres, and every time the city of Philadelphia puts a new hanger on the property or a new improvement the assessed valuation of the property goes up, and the amount of tax to be paid to Tinicum Township is greater, and Philadelphia must pay for improvements on land which they own.

This airport at Hog Island is one of the best airports in the country. This airport is not only an airport for the city of Philadelphia alone but it is valuable to the state of Pennsylvania. It is a place that we as Philadelphians should be proud of, it is a place that Philadelphia is trying to build up and put in all the resources they have at their command to build it up. I think it is a proper bill and I ask for the support of the membership of the House to vote "Aye" on the bill.

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, has taken this war a little bit too seriously. He has said this is a blitzkrieg bill. It is just the reverse. The reason Philadelphia is seeking to annex this part of Tinicum township, which is known as Hog Island, is for the purpose of extending the facilities and services of the airport, and it is going to afford those facilities and services for the benefit of the people of that district and also the people of the state at large.

The fact is that this plot consists of nine hundred and sixty acres, ten acres of which are located in Philadelphia County, and the remaining nine hundred and fifty acres are located in Delaware County, in Tinicum Township. The Administration building which has been erected by the city of Philadelphia at a large cost is located on the ten acre plot in Philadelphia County. It is true that the taxes on this piece of property in the course of a year amount to approximately eighteen thousand dollars, but that is not the only item with which we are faced. If Philadelphia comes along and constructs a hangar, Philadelphia is not required under its lease to pay the increased taxes. As a matter of fact, Philadelphia will not construct hangars under the lease which the city of Philadelphia has entered into with the major air companies. Those companies are required to pay the increase in taxes on any buildings constructed on this ground. The city would still pay the taxes on the real estate but the taxes on the improvements must be paid by the air companies, with the result that these companies will not construct hangars and they will not incur any increased financial burden. At the present time there are approximately fifty to sixty planes a day coming into the Hog Island Airport. The LaGuardia Airport in New York, which does not have the benefit of a location like Hog Island in Philadelphia, has between two hundred and fifty and three hundred planes a day, and we are convinced with the necessary hangars the Philadelphia Airport will become the equal of the LaGuardia Airport in New York. It is only a matter of common sense that the development of the airport for the benefit of the section in general will increase the amount of tax collection and will bring prosperity to the surrounding section.

I would like to review briefly the position of Philadelphia. This property was purchased by Philadelphia from the Federal Government at a cost of three million dollars. The City paid down four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the Federal government has a mortgage for the balance of the two and a half million dollars. The government collects interest for ten years at the rate of three percent and at the expiration of that ten year period the city of Philadelphia is required to commence to pay interest at the rate of six percent. The ctiy is presently obliged to pay one hundred fifty-three thousand dollars a year to the Federal government just in interest upon the mortgage.

I further wish to call to the attention of the Members of the House the fact that under the terms of the agreement by which Philadelphia purchased Hog Island from the Federal government, the city is restricted in its use of that property. The city cannot use it for development purposes. The city is limited to using it as an air, rail and marine terminal. Therefore in effect Philadelphia is seeking to annex this part of Tinicum township for the development of a major airport in Pennsylvania, an airport that will redound to the benefit of all the citizens of Pennsylvania, not merely of Philadelphia, and I therefore ask the members of this House to vote favorably on this bill.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan, has unwittingly furthered my reference to Hitlerism. I understand now that he wants to take this piece of land into protective custody.

One of the things that I cannot understand in the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia is his statement that the companies who operate the airport cannot build hangars on this plot of ground unless it comes into the geographical limits of the city of Philadelphia. I am not going to argue that point but it is a little bit hard to understand why a business concern would not very much prefer to build its hangars in a county where over a long period of time the tax situation has been very favorable and above all entirely stable.

This bill, if it were enacted into law, would do another very serious thing. It would be the first bill, as far as I am able to find, that would provide for a vote on annexation by amount, that is by the record of the amount owned. Let me call to the attention of those Members of the House who live in districts where great coal companies operate, just what kind of a situation that puts on their communities and their political subdivisions, if a similar situation to the one we have here were to arise. This bill calls for a vote of sixty-six percent of the population or amount. In this particular case that is a dead cinch because the amount is entirely a matter of one vote, the vote of the city of Philadelphia. Again, Members of the House, I ask you to vote "No" on this bill.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I too arise in opposition to this bill because I do not believe the annexation of this particular portion of land in Delaware County, which has been mentioned here, is the only portion of land the city of Philadelphia is interested in taking. If I were assured that that were so, I would not object so much to this bill. However, it does so happen that Philadelphia owns other pieces of land in Delaware County, that is, near to the city of Philadelphia, and if this bill goes through, they will be able to come out into Delaware County and take those pieces of ground too. Therefore, this is bad legislation all the way through. We have been told here if the city of Philadelphia wants an airport, it must construct the hangars and airport facilities for those airlines which use the airport. I was just wondering if the city of Philadelphia would not construct railroad stations for that kind of transportation system. I think if the city of Philadelphia wants this piece of ground in Delaware County they should pay for the land and not just indiscriminantly come out and take it away from Delaware County. That land has been paid for by taxes from the citizens of Delaware County. As I said before, this is not the only piece of land that the city of Philadelphia is interested in. There are pieces of ground in Delaware County, such as golf courses, that are owned by the city of Philadelphia, and the effect of this bill would be that they could just as well go out and take away those pieces of ground from the County of Delaware.

Therefore, I ask the members of the House to vote against this particular bill.

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, first of all I would like to call the attention of this House to a part of the provisions in the lease which the city of Philadelphia has entered into with the major air companies. This lease is a composite lease, based on the form or lease used in the major cities throughout the country. It contains the best features of all the leases now in use. I will now quote from the lease between the city of Philadelphia and the various air companies. Article VIII contains this language:

> "The Lessee shall have the right and option at any time and from time to time during the term hereof to lease any additional space at the Airport not necessary to the operation of the Airport and at the time not leased to others, for the exclusive use by Lessee for construction of a hangar or related purpose at a rental of one (1) cent per square foot per annum. If the Lessee does so lease additional space at said Airport for its exclusive use and builds a hangar or other building thereon, from plans approved by the City, the Lessee shall have the right to connect such space with all proper lines, pipes, conduits or other conductors for the transmission of electricity (for both power and light) and water and also to connect with telephone and telegraph service, and sewerage disposal system. In addition to the rental hereinbefore specified for such space Lessee agrees to pay all real estate taxes assessed against any building thereon erected as distinguished from taxes assessed upon the ground only."

The reason the airport companies will not build hangars is because the moment they are erected there will be an assessment made upon those improvements and they will be obliged to pay additional taxes. If the city of Philadelphia takes over this part of Tinicum Township these improvements will not be assessed and there will not be any additional cost imposed upon the airport companies.

I would like to say just a word in rebuttal to the remarks made by the previous speaker. He said he was wondering, and I think he was wandering all over the lot. He spoke of additional property owned by the city of Philadelphia located in Delaware County. If he were to consult the public records he would find that when Philadelphia purchased the land which is now Cobbs Creek Park, there was contained in the deed a restriction that the property cannot be used for development purposes, that it can be used only for park purposes.

I wish the Members of the House to bear in mind that all of the facilities at Hog Island are furnished by the city of Philadelphia. There is not a single one of those facilities furnished by the township of Tinicum. Philadelphia has had to purchase the land, it has had to improve it, and I think we should afford the city of Philadelphia the privilege and right to extend the facilities that it has purchased.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McClanaghan, to say there is a provision in the agreement or the lease, that part of it which he has just read, to the effect that the city of Philadelphia is willing that business concerns to come into Philadelphia and erect buildings or other properties and be relieved entirely of taxes on those structures?

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. No, Mr. Speaker. Under the terms of the lease the airport companies pay a rental for the use of the airport. Philadelphia owns the airport and the air companies construct the hangars, and there would be no increase on either the property or the buildings.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad to know that. I hold a little property in Philadelphia upon which I would like to erect something profitable, and I think I should like to enter into some such arrangement with the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, that is for the public benefit?

Mr. JAMES. Is it being operated for profit concerned or as a public benefit?

Mr. McCLANAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, it is being operated for a profit, but is it furnishing a public service?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I think every tax payer in Philadelphia would be very glad to know about the terms of this lease.

I do not intend to talk any longer on this subject after this one remark, but this bill provides that sixty-six and two-thirds per cent by population and amount, shall vote for this annexation plan. If this bill is enacted into law I submit that provision is proof of the rather dubious purpose of this bill. If this bill had been drawn to provide that sixty-six and two-thirds per cent of the population of the whole township were to vote on this question then there might be some reason for favoring this bill, but that is not the case.

I again ask the Members of the House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be one pont that has been overlooked in this debate, and that is that the loss of seventeen or eighteen thousand dollars a year to the Township of Tinicum will necessarily result in a curtailment of its services. It will mean it will have to eliminate some of its teachers; it will mean it will have to cut down its police force, or the alterative will be that there will have to be a general increase in taxes in the Township of Tinicum to make up the deficit caused by this loss in revenue, amounting to the sum of seventeen or eighteen thousand dollars a year. I do not think the city of Philadelphia has a right to legislate that additional burden on the taxpayers of another community. As my colleague from Delaware County has so clearly expressed it, this is a blitzkreig bill. It is a forerunner of bills of this nature, and I, therefore, ask the Members of this House to vote "no" on this type of legislation, and I with my colleagues from Delaware County are going to ask you to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. JAMES, ECKELS and IMBRIE asked for a verification of the roll.

			Yeakel,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHEPARD. I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, what is the rule on calling the roll and answering to your name? If a person comes into the House after his name has been passed on the roll alphabetically, what happens?

The SPEAKER. A Member is entitled to vote at any time during the calling of the "ayes" and "nays", even though his name has been passed.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 101, as follows:

An Act to add rule ten A to article eleven section one of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" requiring that cars or wagons used for transporting persons in or about mines and hauled by electric locomotives operated from trolley wires shall have bodies constructed of wood or other non-conducting material

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Article eleven section one of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal-mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto immediately after rule ten rule ten A to read as follows

The following rules shall be observed as far as is reasonably practicable in the mines

10-A Whenever persons are transported into out of or about any mine upon cars or wagons hauled my electric locomotives operated from trolley wires the bodies of such cars or wagons shall be constructed of wood or other suitable non-conducting material

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, you will notice in looking this bill over that I reported it out of Committee. I understand that reporting a bill out of Committee does not necessarily mean you are for the bill. Mr. O'Neill. Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining very courteously gave me the bill to report out. I have the highest regard for Mr. O'Neill, having been with him since the 1933 session, and I was not inclined to refuse to report the bill out.

However, I rise to oppose the bill because of the hardships it will work upon various coal mines in my county. and of course many other counties in the state. I believe that Mr. Williams, the sponsor of the bill, is trying to do something which this bill does not do. It is the custom at the mines, the large mines to have what is know as man trips. In the morning at a certain hour this long string of cars is hauled into the mines in which the men ride. They ride these cars into the mines. Some of these mines are in five or six miles, and the men ride in these steel cars, which of course are conductors of electricity.

Mr. William's idea in substituting the wooden car is to do away with the possibility of the men being electrocuted through the conducting of electricity through those steel cars.

If you will let me explain this to the House, a sort of word picture of the whole situation, I believe the Members will understand more fully what this means. The wooden cars are constructed partly of wood and partly of steel. The ribs are steel and the draw bars going through the center of the cars, starting at the motor an drunning clear through the man trip cars, constituting the backbone of the string of cars, are steel. Also there is a steel bar bolted on to the plates, and the ribs are steel, and for that reason they will conduct electricity as well as the steel cars.

This will work a hardship on my people back home because some of them have steel cars and some have wooden cars. They will have to buy a large number of wooden cars to haul the men into the mines in the morning then haul them out empty and place them on the side-track of the mine. That would be an expensive operation pertaining only to the wooden cars. These man trips are often wrecked, and if they are wrecked in the wood car they are much more likely to be seriously hurt than in the steel car. The same is true on the railroad. There they substituted the steel cars, and we all feel safer in steel cars than in wood cars.

Another danger which has occurred to me in my thirty-three years in the mining business, when you have a wreck in a mine entry maybe fifteen or eighteen feet wide with a four to six foot ceiling, with a number of men riding those cars, the cars may catch fire from short circuiting and a number of men injured by electricity. I believe the men are safer in the iron cars from the standpoint that the wooden cars are not all wood as I said to you before. I do not expect to change one vote in the whole House, but from my long experience in the mining business I think this is a bad bill.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I did not expect it would be necessary to take the floor on this particular bill. This bill is nothing more nor less than a safety measure which has been complied with to a great extent by practically all the coal operators of Pennsylvania. There are a few who now do not recognize safety insofar as the transportation of the men in the mines is concerned.

I respect the gentleman on the other side, Mr. Hewitt, from Indiana. I know he has been associated somewhat in the coal business, but when he speaks of wrecks in the mine in connection with mantrips, that he indicates might occur to the men in the wooden wagons, it is ridiculous. In the first place he said they would be safer in steel wagons than in wooden. I wonder if the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt, knows what rate of speed the mantrips are permitted to travel in a coal mine? I think he should know, and I think the members of this House should know that they are only supposed to travel at the rate of five miles per hour. Therefore it wouldn't be a case where you could connect this particular subject with railroad cars that are traveling at forty or forty-five or fifty miles per hour, which carry a great amount of weight. which in itself would help destroy the vehicle in case of a wreck.

I might say that my reason for putting this bill in is just such as he stated. I think he gave a good point on the bill, that is, in the use of the steel wagons there is a great possibility of men being electrocuted in these steel wagons. I admit, and I say there must be steel drawbars. We know you couldn't pull a loaded trip with just wood, and we know that the ribs must be made of steel too, but the balance of it must be made of wood, therefore the men are sitting on wood and they are putting their feet on wood, and they do not come in contact with the part which would convey electricity unless that particular part should be wet.

I have worked in the mines since 1922, and I know the possibilities of the use of wooden cars in mantrips and the possibility of the use of steel wagons in mantrips. I say that this is a good bill and the United Mine Workers of America throughout Pennsylvania are interested in this bill. I ask the support of the members for this bill.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, of course I am well aware of the fact that where the operator complies with the law as to the matter of speed with which he carries the men into the mine, certainly the men are not likely to be wrecked and smashed up in the mine trip, but I am not speaking particularly of the speed of the car or train carrying the men but there is a possibility and a danger that they might meet a load coming out at a greater rate of speed, and there might be quite a serious wreck.

While Mr. Williams is right in that the men are sitting on wood with their feet resting on wood, their elbows nevertheless, are in contact with the ribs, and the steel draw bar comes through all the cars. Being in the mining business many years, some people thought I was rather favorable to the operators. I was in the mining game from every angle, mining superintendent, mining engineer, and so forth for a period thirty years, and one of the greatest hobbies of my life was the protection of the men. I have had this particular record for many years and I have never had a serious accident in any of my operations. I have a record in the mines of being one of the safest operators in the field, and I believe that the steel car is safer than the wooden car.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the passage of this bill for the same reason that my friend from Washington County, Mr. Williams, gave. There are a number of bills which have been introduced at this session, some of which are on the calendar today, which provide for more safety in the mining industry, this being the first of them.

It is rather foolish—perhaps I shouldn't say foolish, but it falls upon deaf ears of one who came from the soft-coal mining industry when one hears the statements that the steel car is safer to ride in on a mantrip than the wooden car.

It is true they do have iron in them, but if any man in this House has ever sat in a cold, wet, damp, steel car and has been hauled five miles an hour for five or six miles, when their clothes were wringing wet, they will know the difference between riding in a wooden car and a steel car.

This bill has the backing of the United Mine Workers of America, and the United Mine Workers of America have a right to be interested in this bill since it is a fact that eighty-five thousand of these industrial heroes have been brought out of the mines to die on the cold linoleum of the company house without the protection of the laws of this great Commonwealth to which they are entitled.

We are making a step forward in providing safety measures for the coal miners. We are making a step forward for all workers in Pennsylvania. I can see no better start in safety laws, which we do not now have on our books, than providing a safe way for men to get to and from their work.

I was very glad to hear the gentleman from Indiana say that coal mining was a hobby to him. To my people coal mining is not a hobby; our men do not do it as a pleasure; they have to go down there and they have to dig their very existence out of the earth, and there is nothing this Legislature could do that would do more good for these men, and there is no legislation which is more badly needed by the coal miners of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Just one point I desire to raise, Mr. Speaker, and that is when Mr. Hewitt stated these wagons would be hauled back out of the mine and they would not be used, he left the impression that these wagons would be especially built for man trips, with no other use for them. These wooden wagons are used for the transportation of coal as well as the steel wagon. In eighty per cent of the mines today these wooden wagons are available, and with the law that is now on the statute books they could use them for the man trips. I would say in eighty per cent of the mines there wouldn't be one cent of additional cost created by the passage of this particular bill.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I believe I can correct the gentleman from Fayette when he quoted me as having said that mining was my hobby. I said the safety of the men around the mines was my hobby and has been a hobby with me all the years of my life in the mining industry.

As to Mr. Williams of Washington, in his reference to this bill working no hardship on the operator, the steel wagons in some of the large operations in my county are used entirely for the transportation of coal. They could not use wooden wagons. They have loading machines and different equipment that handles the loading into these cars, and as I said before, if they used wooden cars they would have to bring them out and stand them on the side track.

I want to call the attention of the House to one fact, if this hitching or coupling is connected to the truck, the law requires it to be an insulated connection, and that is true of wooden or steel cars. I still believe the steel cars are the safest to ride in.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Hewitt whether he is now a coal operator. Is that true?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEWITT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Hewitt how many employes he has in the mines?

Mr. HEWITT. At the present time, Mr. Speaker, I am not in the mining business. I have had as many as 5,000 men working for me.

Mr. WILLIAMS. And how many years ago was that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEWITT. I quit the mining business in 1934, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Did the gentleman have wooden equipment in the mines?

Mr. HEWITT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAMS. That is what I thought, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, may I tell the members of the House that at the time I left the mining business I was running a very small operation, and small operators can not afford to buy equipment like the large operators. We had wooden cars and we were not able to buy the steel cars or the loading machines, and mine were not finely mechanized as the larger operations are. When I was in the business on a large scale during the World War, steel cars were a new thing. They were practically all wooden cars a few years ago.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, just the point I desired to hear raised here. In practically all the mines where we have hand loading, we do have wooden cars. In the new mechanized mines they have steel wagons, and I say they can make available wooden cars for the transportation of the men because of the fact that the mechanized mines are in competition with the hand mines and they have such an advantage economically that they can easily afford to have the wooden cars for the mantrips. I know in a few instances they are not able to use wooden cars, but I notice that in the great majority of operations there are about ten per cent that absolutely refuse to furnish the wooden cars for the mantrips, but that ten per cent are going to be compelled to get in line by the passage of this particular act.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1050, as follows:

An Act requiring cities of the first class to furnish all police officers employed by such cities all firearms cartridges and all other firearm accessories free of charge

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 All cities of the first class of this Commonwealth are hereby required to furnish all police officers employed by such cities firearms cartridges and all other firearm accessories free of charge and shall make no deduction from the compensation of such police officers because of the provisions of this act

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Section 16 Before the Secretary of Highways shall undertake the construction reconstruction or improvement of any State highway on the plan of the State highways wherein a change of width or of existing lines and location is necessary and damage is likely to result to abutting property he shall notify the county commissioners of the proper county in writing of the contemplated change in such existing width lines and location After the county commissioners have agreed to such changes or refused to agree thereto as hereinafter provided the Secretary of Highways may proceed with the work of construction reconstruction and improvement After the receipt of the notice as above provided the county commissioners if they approve such change of width or of existing lines and location and agree thereto in writing shall when possible enter into an agreement with the owner or owners of said property as to amount of damages to be paid to the said owner or owners Whenever the amount so agreed upon shall exceed the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00) the same shall not be paid by the county until the proposed agreement shall have been filed by the county commissioners in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the property damaged is situated If no exceptions are filed thereto within ten days after notice given by publication as hereinafter provided the county commissioners may pay the amount so agreed upon If exceptions thereto are filed within ten days after such notice the proceedings shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions for its approval The court shall fix a time for hearing the matter at which time the parties to such agreement and any taxpayer interested therein and their witnesses shall be heard and the court shall either approve or disapprove the agreement as it deems proper If the court disapproves the agreement it shall indicate a sum which it would approve for such case if the county commissioners and the property owner could agree thereon In such cases if the property owner and the county commissioners should agree on the amount of damages indicated by the court as acceptable to it such agreement may be entered into and shall be final and binding on the said parties without any further approval by the court Notice of the filing of such agreement in the office of the prothonotary and of the time and place of hearing in all such cases shall be given by one publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation throughout the county which shall state that any taxpayer may file exceptions to the agreement or may appear at such hearing and be heard together with his witnesses as the case may be Only such payments as to which no exceptions have been filed or as have been approved by the court as above provided shall be paid by the county or in case an agreement satisfactory to the county commissioners and said owner or owners cannot be made and the approval of the court thereto secured the owner or owners of said property damaged thereby or the commissioners of the proper county may present their petition to the court of quarter sessions for the appointment of viewers to ascertain and assess such damages as well as any benefits The proceedings upon said petition and by the viewers shall be governed by existing laws relating to the ascertainment and assessment of damages as well as any benefits for opening public highways The county commissioners or any other party to such proceedings may appeal from the award of the viewers to the court of common pleas and shall be entitled to a trial by jury From the judgment of the court of common pleas an appeal may be had to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases Such damages when ascertained shall be paid by the county in which the State highway is located Whenever the county commissioners do not consent to or approve any such change of width or of existing lines and location and the Secretary of Highways determines such change to be necessary he shall when possible enter into an agreement with the owner or owners of said property as to the amount of damages to be paid therefor and if agreed upon such damages shall be paid by the Commonwealth out of moneys in the Motor License Fund or if such agreement cannot be made the owner or owners of said property damaged thereby or the Commonwealth may present their or its petition to the court of quarter sessions for the appointment of viewers to ascertain and assess such damage as well as any benefits in the same manner and with the same right of appeal to the owner or owners and to the Commonwealth as is hereinbefore provided in cases where the county agreed to such change but the damages when ascertained shall be paid by the Commonwealth out of moneys in the Motor License Fund The county shall also be liable for any damages sustained by abutting property owners for a change of the width or lines of roads intersecting State highways where such damages are made necessary as a result of the changing with their consent and approval of the width lines or location for the construction of a State highway such damages to be ascertained in the same manner as herein provided for damages occasioned as a result of the change with their consent and approval of width or of existing lines and location of State highways and in case the commissioners shall not have consented to and approved such change of width or of existing lines or location then such damage shall be paid by the Commonwealth and shall be ascertained in the same manner as herein provided for damages for land taken as a result of the change of width or of existing lines and location of State highways without the consent and approval of the county commissioners and such damages and the costs of such proceedings shall also be paid from the Motor License Fund The [county] Commonwealth shall also provide for the removal of all structures within the lines of the highway as thus established unless otherwise provided by agreement between said county and the Secretary of Highways and in case the same is to be done by the Commonwealth the cost thereof shall also be paid out of the Motor License Fund Any moneys in the Motor License Fund necessary to make the payments required by this section are hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Highways.

If the county refuses to assume all damages in connection with the relocation or widening of any highway as hereinbefore provided the county commissioners and the Secretary of Highways may thereafter agree that the county shall pay a portion thereof to either the owners or to the Department of Highways or shall perform specified work for the benefit of the owner in lieu thereof or shall participate in the total damage expense in such other manner as may be agreed upon

Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as placing on the Commonwealth the payment of any damages or costs incident to the change of width lines or location of any State highway where such highway was widened or the lines or location changed prior to the date this act takes effect but all such damages and costs shall be paid by the county in the manner provided by this act as if the county had agreed thereto as herein provided

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1352, as follows:

An Act to further amend the first paragraph of section nine of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the property liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" limiting the interest rate imposed on municipal liens so that the same shall not exceed the rate of interest paid by the municipality in financing the improvement

Section 1 The first paragraph of section nine of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure of tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" as last amended by the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1212) and the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2609) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 9 Claims for taxes water rents or rates lighting rates power rates and sewer rates must be filed in the court of common pleas of the county in which the property is situated on or before the last day of the third calendar year after that in which the taxes or rates are first payable and other municipal claims must be filed in said court within six months from the time the work was done in front of the particular property where the charge against the property is assessed or made at the time the work is authorized within six months after the completion of the improvement where the assessment is made by the municipality upon all the properties after the completion of the improvement and within six months after confirmation by the court wher confirmation is required the certificate of the surveyor engineer or other officer supervising the improvement filed in the proper office being conclusive of the time of completion thereof but he being personally liable to anyone injured by any false statement therein Where a borough lies in more than one county any such claim filed by such borough may be filed in each of such counties In case the real estate benefited by the improvement is sold before the municipal claim is filed the date of completion in said certificate shall determine the liability for the payment of the claim as between buyer and seller unless otherwise agreed upon or as above set forth [The legal rate of interest] Interest at the rate equal to but not in excess of the interest paid by the municipality for the funds needed to finance the improvement shall be collectible on all municipal claims from the date of the completion of the work after it is filed as a lien

Claims for taxes may be in the form of written or typewritten lists showing the names of the taxable and descriptions of the properties against which said claims are filed together with the amount of the taxes due such municipality Such lists may be filed on behalf of a single municipality or they may cover the unpaid taxes due any two or more municipalities whose taxes are collected by the same tax collector provided the amounts due each municipality are separately shown All tax claims heretofore filed in such form are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid subsisting liens as of the date of their original filing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. TURNER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny explain this bill.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is very simple and requires very little explanation. If the gentleman will turn to page three of the bill, Printer's No. 403, he will see that the only change is the insertion of the words "interest at the rate equal to but not in excess of the interest paid by the municipality for the funds needed to finance the improvement shall be collectible on all municipal claims from the date of the completion of the work after it is filed as a lien."

The reason for the introduction of this bill, Mr. Speaker, is that in some municipalities where large improvements have been made, especially during the time of the period of the depression, municipalities were able to borrow large sums of money at low rates of interest, and they were not able to charge less than six per cent interest against the people against whom assessments were made for these municipal improvements.

This bill will require in the future, in any instance where municipal improvements are made and where the municipality is able to finance the improvements at less than six percent, it will simply require that that sum be charged to the person who in the end must pay the bill. I think that is a simple explanation of the bill. Is there any further question on the part of the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, suppose the municipality has to finance or refinance after liens are laid, what are you going to do in that case?

Mr. HARKINS. I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, that the wording of the bill is general enough to include all the costs for the funds which were needed. I would think if the liens were not paid for a number of years, and if refinancing had to be accomplished at a higher rate of interest, the municipality could charge the total cost, but not anything in excess of the total cost at that particular time.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think the purpose of the gentleman is all right from the standpoint that if you are able to borrow money at two per cent, it is rather hard on the property owner to charge him six per cent on the lien, but on the other hand my experience has been as a solicitor for municipalities that financing changes from time to time. Sometimes a bond issue might start out and include several projects, or it might be financed by the issue of one bond issue and later be financed by another, and I do not see as a practical matter how you could segregate them from time to time. I believe this bill would create a great amount of confusion in the municipality in the collection of liens. It would tend to permit many times people against whom the liens are laid, to come in and institute some proceeding in court and tie you up in your collections. I believe, therefore, that the broad language of the bill is defective and the bill should be defeated.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me the broad language of the bill is not a mistake and the broad language of the bill enables the purpose of the bill to be accomplished just as it is expressed. I am quite sure that the able gentleman from Delaware, who is solicitor for many municipalities and who has had extensive experience as a municipal lawyer, knows that the various funds for improvements are usually segregated and kept separate, and that it would take but little effort on the part of any municipality maintaining accurate records and scientific records to determine the amount of interest that is paid or has been paid on the particular project

I will say in one particular instance I know that a large number of improvements were carried on at the time of the depression—at the top of the depression and the borough secretary told me the other afternoon that the interest rate would be less than four per cent. For some period of time money that has been used to finance these improvements has been obtained on fairly long term loans and lesser rates of interest. The rate on the bonds ran under four per cent, yet by law we presently require the municipalities to charge excessive amounts of interest.

Particular municipal improvements are paid for entirely by abutting property owners, and they serve the entire municipality and not only the particular section which was improved. If the gentleman from Delaware had any particular amendment which he thought would clarify the bill and would add to the bill, had he desired to add such an amendment, I would have been very responsive to anything that would help accomplish the purpose of the bill, but I feel that inasmuch as he has not so done, since the bill is very brief and very clear, and the purpose is to relieve the tax payers from excessive rates of interest, we ought to pass the bill at the present time.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the difficulty with the gentleman from Allegheny is that he is thinking of the present period only when the interest rates are low and when the municipalities can borrow money at very low interest rates, but what is going to happen later? I borrow money at three per cent, I file my lien and in that lien I say interest shall be paid at the rate of three per cent. Some time later I must borrow money at four per cent, or at five per cent. The difficulty with what the gentleman from Allegheny says is that he thinks when you make this improvement on which you eventually file your lien, you also borrow your money on long term bond issues at the same time. That is not always true; sometime municipalities will borrow money on a short term loan. I have seen municipalities issue refunding bonds, and then later there is a defect—I know of many cases like that—there is a defect in the bond issue and the municipality has to take it over and pay it off. Now, what are we going to do? I have on the books in the Prothonotary's office a lien which says I am to get three per cent interest, but sometime later the municipality has to refinance at four per cent or five per cent; sometimes the municipality has to make a short time bank loan because of lack of payment of liens. Sometimes, Mr. Speaker, municipalities handle some projects that may not be very large; they handle them by short term borrowing, and then later they determine that the best thing for them to do is to refinance with a bond issue, so that the rate of interest might fluctuate very materially and cause a very serious situation from the standpoint of the solicitor. Also when you issue your bonds the question of the rate of interest may to some degree depend upon the premiums which are paid on the bonds or the amounts for which you are able to sell your bonds, so that might be considered as the rate of interest at which you borrow your money, and might change the rate.

I can see all kinds of complications which will lead the attorneys for the property owner to come in and give them an opportunity to dispute your liens, fight them and leave the municipality always in the danger that they may lose their liens because of some provision such as this. I think this bill therefore is dangerous.

The gentleman from Allegheny has raised the question that if I had some amendment I might present it. I do not think there is any amendment that can be made to the bill because of the situation which I have cited.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I think the crux of the difficulty of the gentleman from Delaware lies in the fact that he is viewing it only from the standpoint of a solicitor. I view it not only in that light but also in the light of the taxpayer and the home owner who is perfectly willing to pay the amount that is assessed against him and also the interest which should be charged to the municipality for obtaining the money with which to finance the necessary improvements. It seems to me there is no justification for a municipality attempting to make a profit after exercising the right of improving the streets or laying the sewers and making assessments against a person's real estate, and then after having the proper amount allocated to each individual property owner, saying that because of the short comings of the municipal body, whether it be a borough or a city council, or township commissioners, or perhaps the inability of that particular party or perhaps the inability of the solicitor to choose the proper type of financing, to say that it is all right as long as the taxpayer can continue to stand it. I think rather than look at this matter from the standpoint of a solicitor, who is concerned about the question of the filing of liens, we should know that the bill says that the total cost, in other words the interest rate that is paid for the money obtained to finance the improvement, is the amount that the taxpayer will be required to pay. I think it is just as fair to read into the purpose of the bill that if there is any future refinancing of the particular obligation at higher rates of interest the municipality can charge the total rate of interest, as it is to anticipate a lot of litigation brought by attorneys for home owners and taxpayers. In this case the difference is that I represent the home owner and Mr. Turner represents the municipality

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the indulgence of the House to speak again on this measure because I think the gentleman from Allegheny has attempted to becloud the issue by throwing up a lot of smoke in talking about the position of the solicitor as opposed to the gentleman from Allegheny who represents the home owner. The solicitor is an official of the borough and his duty is to represent the borough and to represent all the taxpayers in the borough, who, if the liens fail are saddled with the total expense. It seems to me to adopt a measure of this kind which would endanger liens running sometimes into many hundreds of thousands of dollars, would endanger those on whom it might be saddled, that is, all of the people of the whole community, all of the taxpayers are placed in the position of being in danger of having to stand the entire amount. He says the solicitor is not looking out for the interest of all the people. That is his job and his duty, and I speak therefore, as one who represents all the people, not as one who represents a few people. The average lien may be one hundred or two hundred dollars, and a difference of one-half of one percent in interest might saddle on all the taxpayers a greater amount of burden than might be saddled on the individual taxpayer.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, during the afternoon when the roll was called on House Bill No. 507, Printer's No. 366, a messenger boy came and called me out of the House. The bill I believe passed by a vote of 197 to nothing, or something of that kind. Therefore I would be recorded as voting "aye". I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on the bill. Pardon me, as long as I was out of the House I cannot be recorded at all, but, Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to be recorded as voting "aye" on the bill.

The SPEAKER. A Member not present in the House during the calling of the roll cannot be recorded as voting.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1194, as follows:

An Act to amend sections two and three of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" as amended by providing for the issuance of certificates of approval for weights and measures of county city and borough sealers

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof' as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1757) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 All county and city inspectors so appointed shall be supplied at the expense of their respective counties and cities with standard tests of weights and measures in conformity with those established by the Government of the United States or the Bureau of Standards of the State and the laws of this Commonwealth and to ensure the accuracy of these tests they shall be compared with the standard tests to be purchased by the Secretary of Internal Affairs and when so compared and their correctness established [they shall be so stamped or marked in such manner as may be established by the rules and regulations hereinbefore referred to to be put in force by said Secretary of Internal Affairs and approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth] a certificate of accuracy shall be issued said certificate to bear the date of examination and approval of the said weight or measure for which the certificate is issued the signature of the examiner and the official stamp of the Department

* * * * *

Section 2 Section three of the said act as last amended by the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 992) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3

It shall be unlawful for any inspector to use any tests or standards or to attempt to use the same in ascertaining the correctness or accuracy of weights and measures until such comparisons are made and their accuracy established and [so stamped or marked] a certificate of accuracy issued therefor as provided by this act It shall be unlawful for any inspector to manufacture sell or offer to sell any weighing or measuring device used in the sale of commodities or to repair or offer to repair any weighing or measuring device other than such adjustments as he may find necessary in the performance of his official duties for which no fees shall be collected Any inspector violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction therefor shall be fined not exceeding one thousand ($1,000) dollars or undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both or either at the discretion of the court

Section 3 This act shall become effective upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 211, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 188) entitled "An act designating the days and half days to be observed as legal holidays and for the payment acceptance and protesting of bills notes drafts checks and other negotiable paper on such days" by prescribing certain additional bank holidays

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 4, lines 23 to 26, by striking out the words "by a" in line 23, all of lines 24 and 25, and the words "days before the taking effect thereof" in line 26

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor to explain the amendment.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, the reason these amendments are offered is due to the fact that when this bill passed the House and the Senate in 1939 the Governor vetoed the bill because he felt that is was a discretionary bill and was not compulsory.

I offered this bill in the same form it was offered in 1939. I understand in committee it was amended to make it compulsory. In reading the bill it seemed to me that in the form it came out of the committee it was not compulsory. I believe the amendments clarify it, and it is now a compulsory bill without any question.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 319, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" allowing inspectors their expenses in attending State conventions of sealers of weights and measurers

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" as last amended by the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1102) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the mayors of cities of the second and third class and the several boards of county commissioners shall respectively appoint one or more competent persons as inspectors of weights and measures in the respective county or city whose salary shall not be less than one thousand dollars per annum to be paid out of the respective revenues of such county or city Provided however That the payment of a minimum salary shall not apply to counties having a population of fifteen thousand or less In addition to the salary provided by law the said county and city inspectors shall be entitled to receive the actual expenses incurred by them personally in performing the duties of their office such as transportation hotel livery telephone telegraph and postal charges and the said county and city inspectors may be entitled to receive the actual expenses incurred by them in attending State conventions of sealers of weights and measures held in this Commonwealth such expenses to be paid by the boards of county commissioners of their respective counties and by the proper officers of their respective cities in such proportion as may be agreed upon by said boards of county commissioners and proper officers of cities on bills itemized and properly sworn to Provided however That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent two or more counties or any county and city from combining the whole or any part of their districts as may be agreed upon by the board of county commissioners and mayors of cities with one set of standards and one inspector upon the written consent of the chief of the bureau of standards Provided further In cities of the first class the inspectors shall be appointed by the county commissioners of the county in which the said city may be located Any inspector appointed in pursuance of an agreement for such combination shall subject to the terms of his appointment have the same authority and duties as if he had been appointed by each of the authorities who are parties to the agreement The county and city inspectors of weights and measures as appointed by the respective counties and cities shall hold their office during good behavior and shall not be removed discharged or reduced in pay or position except for inefficiency incapacity conduct unbecoming employes or other just cause and until the said officials shall have been furnished with written statements of the reason for such removal discharge or reduction and shall have been given reasonable time to make written answer thereto Nor shall such removal discharge or reduction be made until the charge or charges shall have been examined into and found true in fact by the appointing power of such county or city at a hearing upon reasonable notice to the person charged at which time he may be represented by counsel and offer testimony or witnesses in his own behalf It shall be unlawful for any sealer or inspector of weights and measures or any of his deputies to perform clerical or other services for the county or city of their respective districts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell the Members of this House if he knows what the remuneration is for sealers of weights and measures in the various counties?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well, Mr. Speaker, that would depend, I should say, where he went; in other words I could go to Dauphin County cheaper than I could go to Philadelphia. It depends on where the convention is going to be held.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman has misunderstood my question.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I am sorry if I have misunderstood, Mr. Speaker. Will the gentleman please repeat his question.

Mr. NAGEL. My question was this, Mr. Speaker, what is the salary—put it that way—of the sealers of weights and measures.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I can speak for only one little county, Mr. Speaker. I am not familiar with the entire range of salaries, but I think the chief at the present time draws three thousand dollars per annum; his assistant draws some where around fifteen hundred dollars,—I think his first assistant draws slightly in excess of that.

Mr. NAGEL. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that this bill which the gentleman is attempting to amend sets a minimum of one thousand dollars?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I think that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. That is all from Mr. Wood. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, it would seem to make a sort of trivial thing, sort of miserly move on my part to come before the Members of this House in opposition to a bill of this kind. Back in 1931 in Beaver County there was an organization that was known as the Tax Justice League, and I was a member of that organization.

Our object and aim was to reduce the taxes on homes and farms. I well recall that at one of our meetings just such a procedure as is advocated in this bill was most heartily condemned.

If this were the only one, if this were the stopping place in a procedure of this kind, I am sure I would not waste my time or the time of the Members of the House in opposing a bill of this nature, but it is a matter of continuing a precedent established by this Legislature. This body of men in years past has made the mistake of allowing the expenses of our County Commissioners and County Controllers to attend their conventions, not "a" convention, but it says "conventions."

I feel that so long as counties must put up properties for sale, when we must session after session introduce bills and enact legislation to abate interest and penalty on taxes, we should be very careful not to introduce and pass legislation that imposes greater expenses on our counties. As I said, this is a trifling matter, but it is not the stopping place. We do not know how soon another group may come in and want their expenses paid. I call the attention to the Members of the House to the fact that other groups that are not public officials do not demand this. Farmers and laborers go to their conventions at their own expense.

I ask the Members of the House to consider seriously before voting for this bill that will continue the precedent and remain a source of great expenditure of the taxpayers' money in our various counties.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I shall try to clear up what I fear is an apprehension on the part of Mr. Nagel. An examination of House Bill 319 discloses that this proposed act is an amendment to the Act of 1911, which has already, of course, established the minimum salary for sealers of weights and measures. You will notice at the bottom of page two, lines 28 and 29: "Said county and city inspectors may be entitled to receive the actual expenses incurred by them attending state conventions of sealers of weights and measures held in this Commonwealth—" and so forth.

All we are doing here is merely permitting County Commissioners who wish to allow expenses to sealers of weights and measures who wish to attend these conventions. This is not a new bill as far as setting up a minimum or a maximum salary or anything of that nature is concerned.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, most bills that have the word "may" in them are not dangerous. We consider the "shall" bills dangerous, but here is a bill that has in it the word "may" that I think is just as dangerous as a bill containing the word "shall." These sealers of weights and measurers will go to their county commissioners and say to them, "You are enjoying this privilege. Why not give it to us?"

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1320, (Senate Bill No. 326), as follows:

An Act to authorize school districts and vocational school districts to solicit sealed bids for the purchase of material supplies and equipment from Federal funds appropriated or to be appropriated to vocational education for national defense to be used for training or retraining workers and prospective workers for industries essential to national defense waiving all statutory requirements as to advertising for said bids

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In order to expedite the vocational program for national defense every school district and vocational school district in this Commonwealth is authorized to award contracts at a regular or special meeting of the board of school directors or board of directors of vocational schools for the purchase of material supplies and equipment to be used for training or retraining workers and prospective workers for industries essential to national defense after soliciting sealed quotations from two or more firms manufacturers or dealers in such supplies material or equipment

Section 2 Notwithstanding any law to the contrary it shall not be necessary for any school district or vocational school district to advertise any proposal to award any contract for the purchase of material supplies and equipment to be used for training or retraining workers or prospective workers for industries essential to national defense

Section 3 Every contract heretofore entered into by any school district or vocational school district for the purposes set forth in Section one of this Act is hereby ratified confirmed and validated whether or not the statutory provisions governing the awarding of such contract was adhered to if the school district or vocational school district has actually received such material supplies and equipment and the same are being used by the school district or vocational school district and if the school district or vocational school district has not suffered any pecuniary loss as the result of such contract

Section 4 The authority vested in school districts and in vocational school districts by this Act to purchase material supplies and equipment after soliciting two or more sealed quotations and without advertising shall apply only to contracts which have been paid or which shall be paid entirely from Federal funds appropriated or to be appropriated to vocational education for national defense

Section 5 The provisions of this Act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and remain in effect until July first one thousand nine hundred and forty-three

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 540, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause A of section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 463) entitled as amended "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of 'Authorities' for municipalities counties and townships defining the same prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and for other purposes" by providing for the termination and dissolution of inactive municipal authorities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend sec. 1, (sec. 4) page 4, line 10, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "for the purpose of acquiring, holding, constructing, improving, maintaining and operating waterworks, water supply works or water distribution systems."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1255, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities of the first class which have issued or may hereafter issue bonds to redeem the same and issue and sell new bonds therefor

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In all cases where any city of the first class has by virtue of any general or special Act of Assembly issued or may hereafter issue bonds with or without interest coupons attached to secure any indebtedness of any such city which bonds may have matured but remain unpaid and uncancelled or are about to mature and become payable or whenever any such city shall have the option to redeem or pay any such bonds or whenever holders of any such bonds of any such city which may not have matured or become redeemable are willing to surrender the whole or any part of any issue thereof it shall be lawful for any such city for the purpose of redeeming or paying off any or all such bonds payable redeemable or offered for redemption as aforesaid to issue and sell either registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at a rate not exceeding the rate specified in the bonds to be redeemed and paid and payable at any time not exceeding forty (40) years after the date of issuance thereof and not exceeding in the aggregate the amount of the bonds so redeemed or paid and the said bonds so issued and sold in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation except for State purposes Provided However that such new bonds shall not mature later than fifty (50) years from the date of issuance of the original bonds and Provided Further that all assets in the Sinking Fund if any for the redemption of the issue of bonds proposed to be refunded shall first be applied to the payment as far as applicable of the principal of such bonds and the balance of such issue only shall be redeemed by the issue of new bonds

Section 2 When any such City shall borrow money and shall issue and sell new bonds for the purpose of redeeming or paying off bonds theretofore issued and proposed to be refunded the authorities of such City shall sell the same to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement once a week for three (3) successive weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the County in which such City shall be situated Provided That no bid for such bonds at less than their par value shall be accepted and Provided Further That where bonds shall be advertised for sale as provided in this act and no bids have been received then it shall be lawful for such City to sell the same at private sale at not less than par and accrued interest and Provided Further That it shall be lawful for such Cities to sell such bonds to the Sinking Fund Commissioners thereof without advertisement at not less than par whenever in the opinion of the Mayor the City Controller and the City Solicitor or a majority of them such sale without advertisement may seem proper or advisable and the Sinking Fund Commission shall thereupon be duly authorized to purchase the said bonds as aforesaid

Section 3 All Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed except the provisions of the act approved the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-four (P. L. 218 1933-34) entitled "An act authorizing counties cities boroughs townships incorporated towns poor districts and school districts to issue bonds for the purpose of refunding or retiring outstanding bonds and to exchange said new bonds for such outstanding bonds without payment of cash or public bidding and limiting any compensation payable therfor" as amended by the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 428) which shall remain in full force and effect

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 277, Printer's No. 415, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to call to the Chair's attention a Printer's error in House Bill 277. It is not only crude but it seems to me possibly the Printer was trying to do a little legislating on his own, and it is my theory and belief that in checking with the Printer an effort should be made to determine whether or not it was an intentional error on the part of the Printer. In all my years here I have never seen an error that looked so much like an intentional one, Mr. Speaker, and I feel it deserves the attention of this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will have the copy of the bill sent to the Printer returned for examination, and so directs the Clerk.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of information, when this bill is reprinted will it be reprinted with the same Printer's number or with a new Printer's number?

The SPEAKER. When this bill is reprinted it will be reprinted with a new Printer's number.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Monroe said he wanted to call attention to what the error was. I would like to know.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will be very glad to tell the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. In House Bill No. 277 the increase of salaries of teachers of the fourth class school districts and the increments is placed upon the Commonwealth, and apparently the Printer felt the Commonwealth could not bear the expense and therefore he took it out.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will submit a copy of the original bill to the Rules Committee for examination.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 685, entitled:

An Act to protect the public against the advertising or offering for sale at fixed prices eyeglasses spectacles putting restrain upon layman selling eyeglasses spectacles and filling prescriptions for the same similar to the restrain upon professions licensed by the State to prescribe eye glasses and spectacles fixing a penalty for violations of this act and investing the courts with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HIRSCH.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 964, as follows:

An Act relating to the business of selling or leasing chattels on the installment or deferred payment plan and prohibiting the joining in one agreement of sale or lease of chattels purchased or leased at different times

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 No person copartnership association or corporation engaged in the business of selling or leasing chattels on the installment or deferred payment plan shall upon sale or lease of any such chattel to any person who has previously purchased or leased upon an agreement of sale or lease any other chattel include the said chattel so last purchased or leased or any part thereof in a new agreement of sale or lease with the chattel or chattels previously purchased or leased or any part thereof and all such agreements of sale or lease shall include only such chattels as are actually purchased or leased at the time of the execution of such agreement of sale or lease and any agreement of sale or lease executed in violation of the provisions of this section shall be null and void

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEONARD asked and obtained unnaimous consent to address the House.

There are some fifty-four million people in America who are required to labor for a livelihood. Through organizations a great number have been able to improve their working conditions and raise their remuneration for labor performance. Some of the workers have not been as successful. Among these are the employes of the West Penn Hospital, of Pittsburgh, such as laundry, kitchen and housekeeping departments. These unfortunates have as yet been unable to enjoy the privileges that a great percent of the workers of America are enjoying.

Would anyone argue that under the circumstances the strikers have no right to use their organized strength to improve their conditions? It may be said that they should exercise all possible means before resorting to a strike. I agree with that viewpoint. Any reasonable man would have to agree with it. Did the employes of the West Penn Hospital resort to the strike in haste and without consideration for the public welfare? The facts as placed on the records in the court room during the hearing on the injunction in my opinion prove beyond any reasonable doubt that the Union of West Penn Hospital workers made every effort in the course of fourteen months to settle their grievances without resorting to strike action.

I present briefly just a few of the means that were used by the Union:

1. The Union first sought to secure a reasonable settlement through negotiations in January, 1940. The management at West Penn Hospital refused to recognize the Union and flatly rejected proposals to better wages and working conditions.

2. The Union then sought an election under the State Labor Relations Act whereby the service employes at West Penn Hospital could determine for themselves through the orderly procedure of State Labor Relations Act whether or not they wished to be represented by the Union. The management promptly secured an injunction against the State Labor Relations Board thus preventing the carrying out of this orderly procedure.

3. After that the Union sought to change the attitude of the West Penn Hospital through publicity and disseminating of information against the general public concerning the conditions existing in the Hospital.

4. Later, even after the membership finally authorized the strike in February, 1941, the Union officials secured the intervention of the State Department of Mediation. Despite the efforts of the Mediator the hospital management refused to make any concessions whatsoever in order to avert the strike.

5. After the failure of the Mediation, the Union refrained from any action for several weeks while distributing leaflets to relatives of patients and to the general public, informing them that a strike at West Penn Hospital was imminent and asking for their support. When the srtike was finally called on Friday morning, April 18th, the engineers needed to supply power, heat, and light, and other employes were left on duty. The strike included only service employes, mainly those working in the laundry, kitchen, and housekeeping departments. Nurses, doctors, dieticians, etc., were not interfered with. Thus, while the hospital was greatly inconvenienced the patients were not in danger. Hospital physicians testifying in court were merely able to state that in their opinion a certain amount of "nervousness and apprehension" in the patients was caused by the strike. Judge Patterson, in handing down his decision, underlined the fact that even this statement of the physicians was merely a statement of opinion and not a statement of fact.

I believe that in the light of all the above facts the employes of West Penn Hospital exercised great caution, restrained themselves admirably, and suffered long the injustices under which they work before resorting to strike action. Who can condemn their action without being able to point out some other method which they might have used to improve their conditions. I am not aware of any such method. Will anyone therefore seriously contend that they must suffer in silence and accept whatever the management of the hospital deigns to give them? Such a stand would be contrary to the recognized principles of American Life. What are the striking employes asking? Are they making unreasonable demands? Well, here's what they're asking and you can judge for yourselves:

1. Minimum Wage of $45.00 per month; 10 per cent increase for those earning more than $45.00.

2. Recognition of their Union.

3. No discrimination against strikers.

Finally, gentlemen, I think all of us realize that the whole question of Hospitals and the free care which some of them furnish are a general community responsibility. The care of free patients is not primarily the responsibility of employes who happen to be working in a hospital and they're not the ones who should be expected to shoulder the burden through accepting starvation wages.

West Penn Hospital is reputed to be in better financial condition that most other hospitals. I understand that West Penn Hospital has not had a deficit for the past two years. It has been admitted by the hospital management that the question of finances is not the only reason why they refuse to deal with the Union. They simply take the high-handed and reactionary attitude that they will not deal with an organization of their employes and through this action they have forced a suspension of services in the hospital.

To show further the just cause of the strikes I wish to read the statement made by Reverend Charles Owen Rice:

> "The stoppage of work at West Penn Hospital," he said, "forcibly calls our attention to an unpleasant and intolerable condition that we all have known of vaguely for a considerable time.
> "Hospital workers in virtually all our hospitals are tragically underpaid. Their wages may truly be called 'coolie wages.' When men with families can do hard work during long hours for as low as $35 a month, something is wrong. This is true and I have often thanked God for the fine chraitable spirit of our Pittsburgh hospitals. However, we cannot build charity on top of injustice.
> "The union's call for a stoppage of work is justified in my mind because every other method of bettering the workers' conditions has ben tried and has failed. The hospital association simply refused to make concessions to the workers. Because of this, I would say that the responsible leaders of the hospital association are more to blame for the strike than the underpaid workers.
> "I doubt, if upon sober thought, it is the will of the people of Pittsburgh that workers should be free to seek justice everywhere except in the citadels of medicine, religion and charity."

Mr. Speaker, personally I am absolutely against any interference with the care of the sick whether it be by the employes or the management. Believing that, I do not see why just because one happens to be employed by a hospital he must work for starvation wages. I am happy to say at this time that House Bill 1097 which has been introduced in this House will go a long way to straighten the matter out and bring justice to these employes. In accordance with the principles of our government it is the duty of the employers of this country to give justice to all those who work for a living, whether they are working for a hospital or a steel plant.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The opening baseball game in the Inter-State League will take place at Island Park, Wednesday, April 30, at 2:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time, between Harrisburg and the Hagerstown team. I hear Les Bell has a pretty fair ball club this year. The Republicans and Democrats, if they become chummy tomorrow afternoon might have a chance to attend this grand opening.

The Chair hopes the House can meet tomorrow at 12 o'clock Standard Time, in order to complete its work as early as possible so that those Members who wish to attend may do so.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that the Americanism program tomorrow will be held in the hall of the House.

The Members who are members of the War Veterans Association are requested to wear their caps. For the benefit of those who have forgotten to bring caps Mr. Taylor of Dauphin County has informed me that he will be able to borrow a cap for anyone that contacts him. Do not contact him if you are not a War Veteran.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TAYLOR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is requested that the Members of the House be in their seats to take part in this program. Two outstanding speakers have been secured, and we certainly do not want to see half the seats empty. We would like all the members of the House to be in their seats for this Americanism program.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. TAYLOR, from the Committe on Municipal Corporations, reported as amended, House Bill No. 215, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one and four of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 180), entitled "An act providing a method of establishing title to land acquired at a sale for unpaid taxes or municipal claims," extending the provisions of said act to include land acquired at city treasurer's sales for unpaid taxes and providing that in certain cases notice of the proceedings by advertisement shall be deemed a good and sufficient service.

Mr. POWERS, from the Committee on Cities—Second Class, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1405, (Senate Bill No. 286), entitled:

An Act to amend the fourth paragraph of article seven of the act approved the seventh day of March, one thousand nine hundred and one, (P. L. 20), entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class," prescribing the manner in which money shall be drawn from the city treasury.

Mr. McCLANAGHAN, from the Committee on Military Affairs, re-reported as amended, House Bill No. 90, entitled:

An Act providing for the correction of the designation and title of veterans of the Spanish American War in all present legislation affecting said veterans by designating such organizations as United Spanish War Veterans, Inc.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. LEVY returned from the Committee on Workmen's Compensation with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Public Utilities, House Bill No. 1079, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four, nine, and eleven of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 463), entitled, as amended "An act providing for the incorporation, as bodies corporate and politic, of 'Authorities' for municipalities, counties, and townships; defining the same; prescribing the rights, powers, and duties of such Authorities; authorizing such Authorities to acquire, construct, improve, maintain, and operate projects, and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor; providing for the payment of such bonds, and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof; conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities; authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof; and for other purposes," including electric light plants as projects; and authorizing the transfer to, and acquisition by purchase or eminent domain by Authorities.

The SPEAKER. The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Public Utilities.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1151 and 1152

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 29, 1941.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following:

House Bill No. 1151, Printer's No. 289, entitled, "An act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money."

House Bill No. 1152, Printer's No. 294, entitled, "An act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one."

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 18

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 18, Printer's No. 387.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 10, 1941.

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth has repeatedly expressed the desire of his administration to provided work for the unemployed; and

Whereas, There are at the present time many unemployed miners in the Herminie Coal District in Westmoreland County; and

Whereas, Such unemployment is due to the fact that the mines in and about the Herminie Coal District are unable to operate, due to the flooded condition of said mines; and

Whereas, In addition thereto, this condition creates a hazard to the miners working in adjacent mines; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth has in the past aided similarly distressed coal districts by pumping water out of the flooded mines in such districts; and

Whereas, The mining of coal constitutes almost the entire industry of the Herminie Coal District, and the operators of such mines are anxious to reopen them when the water has been pumped from said mines; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that the proper authorities of this Commonwealth take immediate steps to pump, or to arrange for the pumping of, water from the distressed coal mines in the Herminie Mine District, and to pay for the cost of such work, for the express purpose of providing employment for the coal miners of said district; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Health and the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, representatives Maxwell and myself received a petition signed by practically every resident of Herminie, Westmoreland County, in which petition they state that they respectfully request the Governor, the Secretary of Mines, and every Member of the General Assembly to give whatever aid is possible in rehabilitating the Herminie Coal Basin. This community has suffered immensely since the suspension of work in Herminie No. 1 and No. 2 plants. Many residents are on relief. I might say practically all of them are on relief, and their only hope is the reopening of the mines.

I have also a letter before me from Mr. White, cashier of the bank in Herminie, in which he states that in behalf of every individual in the community as well as the bank he signs the petition. He states that the mines constitute almost the entire industry in his district and due to the flooded condition of the mines they are unable to be operated.

This is a menace to the adjacent mines and to the miners working therein. This condition restrains the operation of a large block of coal in and around Herminie by mines now in position to operate excepting for this water, thereby keeping hundreds of men out of gainful employment.

I have a letter also from attorney John S. VanKirk, in which he states that he has two parties at present who are desirous and able to operate these two mines immediately, provided the water can be removed. The two mines in Herminie for which he speaks have produced and can continue to produce over a million tons of coal per year provided the mines are drained. In addition to the above two mines, the drainage of the same will remove the hazard and permit the operation of mines belonging to the Westmoreland Coal Company at Lowber, the Hillman Coal Company mines at Edna, and the Keystone Coal Company coal in the immediate vicinity. All of these mines are directly affected by this water and the drainage of the Herminie mines will mean the draining of the entire district, which includes all of the mines above listed.

Mr. Speaker, during the 1939 session I presented a resolution in the House of Representatives to investigate the condition of various ghost towns in which either the mines had been wiped out or they were impossible of being worked, and although the House of Representatives did not see fit to take any action, I think that the problem of rehabilitation of the ghost town is a great problem, because every person in that particular community is dependent for their livelihood on the mines, and if they cannot get that livelihood by getting the mines working, they are going to be on the relief rolls of the Commonwealth.

Not so long ago, in the particular vicinity of these mines which we are asking to be drained, we had an unfortunate accident in which four children of one family fell through ice in the mine and died. This happened March 4th, right at Herminie, in the very same district which we are asking that this draining be done. If these particular mines had been drained, this unfortunate accident would not have happened and these children would have been living today. So, aside from any safety measure for the residents of the district it would also work very greatly in behalf of the people who are unemployed. Therefore, this request to the Department of Mines and the Governor and to all concerned to help this district is a meritorious request, and I ask unanimous agreement to the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 70

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 70, Printer's No. 414.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1941.

Whereas, In the administration of old age assistance by the Department of Public Assistance many needy citizens are discriminated against or deprived of assistance for various technical reasons such as necessity to depend on contributions from relatives who may have difficulty in supporting themselves on an American standard of living or because of the ownership of small amounts of property or insurance or the like; and

Whereas, The purpose and object of old age assistance was humanitarian to provide funds for the needy aged to live their own lives separately without being a burden on relatives or become public charges in a county home an institution now being maintained only for those who need institutional care; and

Whereas, It is believed generally by the public that investigators employed at comfortable salaries are unduly technical in trying to ferret out reasons for the rejection of applications for old age assistance, and for the discontinuance of aid to those who may have been receiving the same, and that as the result thereof many worthy aged are placed in dire distress; and

Whereas, It is believed the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Assistance are more stringent than required by law and more stringent than required by the Social Security Board in order to receive Federal grants-in-aid for old age assistance; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby requests the Department of Public Assistance to administer the Old Age Assistance Law in a spirit of equity and justice, and to grant assistance to all the needy aged in order that they may enjoy such comforts as it is the governmental duty of the state assisted by the Federal Government to provide for those who are unable to help themselves economically, and to so modify its rules and regulations as to be no more stringent than required by the Social Security Board in order to receive Federal grants-in-aid.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the general purpose of the resolve set forth in this resolution. I do wish to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that there are at least two instances in which old age assistance is administered in Pennsylvania more liberally than provided for by the Social Security Board, and where expenditures are made in old age assistance entirely out of state funds which are not reimbursed out of Federal funds. Those instances are those of medical services and burial expense.

I might call the attention of the House to the situation with reference to the blind at this time. I think it has a lot of bearing on the resolution, and I think the attention of the House should be called to the situation concerning old age assistance.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, about a month ago I presented a resolution to this House asking for an investigation of certain state hospitals. I approached the subject fairly and with the thought in mind that the investigation would be a bipartisan one, that is it would not be claimed the committee that was doing the investigating was political in nature, because the representation would be equally divided between the two major parties in Pennsylvania.

The reason for the presentation of the resolution was quite obvious, from the fact that individuals living in the area served by the hospitals were complaining about conditions in the hospitals. The newspapers arrived at the point where they found it essential and necessary to call the public's attention to the conditions existing in these hospitals. Added to that finally the governor was forced to cancel and withdraw the name of one of his appointees because it was discovered that particular person had a criminal record. After the resolution was passed by this House, the Governor O.K'd such an investigation, asserting that there was nothing to hide, that there was nothing he was not willing to disclose to the public and to a committee of investigation. Following that O.K. from the Governor came word from Mr. Sweeney's office that there was nothing to hide. Added to that we had another O.K. coming from the other side of the House, the Members on the other side joining with us in passing the resolution. All of a sudden, Mr. Speaker, the resolution ran into a dead silence in the Senate. The Senate apparently is not desirous of investigating or else perhaps the Senate may be sleeping. I don't know. But at least they do not want an investigation or if they do, they certainly do not want it for some years to come. Why the Senate should take that attitude after the Governor and Mr. Sweeney said they welcomed an investigation, is rather difficult to understand. Then again, Mr. Speaker, is it difficult to understand? Perhaps, after all they decided that they will not have an investigation. They will not have an investigation, why? Because there is something there to hide; something they do not wish to be brought out in the light of day, or if so, then it would redound to the disadvantage of the Republican party.

Mr. Speaker, I may say that the Republican party has no right, having their Governor frankly stating to the Press "I am glad to be investigated," then having their department head saying, "Yes, we are willing to be investigated," and then have the Republican Senate say, "No." The Senate has kept the resolution for an entire month. As a matter of fact at one time in the proceedings I have been advised they apparently decided they would kill it. The Senate is fearful of public reaction. They sent it back to committee to play ball with, but they should at least show to the public how their Governor or how their party is operating those hospitals.

I regret, Mr. Speaker, that they have not been fair. I regret that their party in the Senate is not willing to disclose to the people of Pennsylvania the condition that exists in these state hospitals.

Therefore, I have decided, Mr. Speaker, if the Senate is reluctant, if the Republican party is afraid, if they do not wish or desire the people to know, then I say this House has a duty to perform which is perhaps even more serious than I at first thought when I presented my resolution.

With that thought in mind, Mr. Speaker, I shall present a resolution to this House seeking the appointment of a committee by this House to investigate the conditions in those hospitals.

Mr. Speaker, I ask consent of the House at this time to introduce the resolution.

The SPEAKER. This is not a privileged resolution. It will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I will be just as brief as I possibly can in my remarks. I want to say first with reference to the resolution it is my understanding that the resolution is under consideration in the Senate at the present time. The resolution has not been pickled, it has not been indefinitely postponed and it has not been laid aside with the idea of no action being taken on it. I think it comes with very poor grace from the gentleman on the other side who is Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and who has had appropriation bills in that committee for some time, which have not made their appearance in the House. It also comes with very poor grace from the gentlemen on the other side who have the tax bills in committee all this time without any consideration given them by this House. The fact that the Senate has had the resolution in committee for no more time than the gentleman has had bills in his Appropriations Committee is no indication that the Senate is going to definitely postpone the matter which will mean the death of the resolution.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from Dauphin for advising me that the Senate is still considering the resolution. I realize that the resolution is very weighty, and I can appreciate the great difficulty the Senate must be laboring under in consideration of the resolution, because if the conditions exist that we have been advised do exist in the hospitals, then perhaps it would take more than a month to cover up. I realize also that perhaps if they have the resolution long enough the House might adjourn before some preliminary report could be made by the investigating committee. May I assure the gentleman from Dauphin that after all the subject contained in that resolution certainly does not carry with it either the amount of study or the work that is necessary with reference to tax bills and the budget—especially the budget, Mr. Speaker. There is nothing to conjure up there.

The Governor has estimated his deficit running anywhere from twenty-three to seventy-seven million dollars. Every time I read it I can see ninety million dollars just as easy as can be. This is a subject that takes time, Mr. Speaker, the investigation of the hospitals, where vice is rampant or alleged to be rampant, where inefficiency exists, and many other things that are wrong certainly exist. Therefore, I can understand the Senate Committee deciding that it will take time, more than a month, to decide whether we ought to investigate these conditions.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker I would like to address the House in the form of an interrogation of the majority floor leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has used many times on the floor of this House the sum of ninety million dollars as the deficit, as he calls it, which is likely to exist at the end of this biennium. I think the gentleman has evidently followed the theory of Adolph Hitler to the effect that if a fellow lies often enough and big enough they will eventually believe him. I would like to ask the gentleman to itemize that ninety million dollars deficit.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. That is not so difficult. The gentleman will find repayments due to special funds under present acts of $59,500,000. The gentleman will also discover that we appropriated out of special funds $14,500,000. The gentleman will discover deficits postponed to June 1, 1941, in the sum of $4,950,000. The gentleman will also find we appropriated out of other special funds $6,300,000. The gentleman will find that there are other existing deficiency appropriations totaling somewhere in the neighborhood of $4,700,000.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has used somewhat the same type of arithmetic he used in his first attack on the budget, in which he had a ten million dollar item and an eleven million dollar item. The first item should have been subtracted from the second item leaving one million dollars, but the gentleman added the two together which made a total of twenty-one million dollars. The gentleman has $6,300,000 appropriation in both the amount that was borrowed and as an appropriation. If you start figuring by doubling that way maybe you can get up to ninety million dollars, and if you start to multiply instead of adding, you can get it up to three hundred million dollars. I think the gentleman will find that the $6,300,000 item is a duplication. I think he will find also that he is a little bit high on his $4,950,000 which he referred to as a delayed payment. Even at that, if my arithmetic is correct, the way he has it figured up and the way I have figured it up, he has too much in the amount that was borrowed from the special funds. He used two figures in that instead of one which showed about three million dollars too much. Even at that it is still less than ninety million dollars, although there is one item I did not quite get in the hasty way he gave it, but certainly the gentleman has used the $6,300,000 item on two different occasions so therefore he is that much too high on that alone.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the gentleman from Dauphin that I am clear about the figure of $6,300,000. It is distinctly borrowed and I am correct on the amount. This money will have to be repaid back in the coming biennium. May I assure the gentleman from Dauphin that I am not in error on the $59,500,000 because I took that out of the budget. Speaking of the $4,950,000 I took that out of the budget. The $14,500,000 item I did not take out of the budget because we know that was borrowed since the budget was given to us. The gentleman will find, if he checks the budget and will go over the figures that it just cannot be explained away.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to take up the time of the House at this particular time but the gentleman raises the question which he has raised so often and on so many occasions, when I thought it not proper to answer him, but I think he ought to be answered now.

May I ask the gentleman from Monroe what he says the total amount borrowed from the various special funds is at this time.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand the question.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, what is the total amount that would be borrowed from all the special funds at the end of the biennium, according to present borrowings

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, if I am to believe the budget you have $59,500,000. Added to that you have $14,500,000 and then you have this $6,300,000. May I state Mr. Speaker, that some of it may represent deferred payments that are due in this biennium.

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct Mr. Speaker, because what the gentleman has done is to add appropriations to borrowings. You cannot add appropriations to borrowings. He gets a borrowing there of something over eighty million dollars, whereas the borrowing up to date has been $70,100,000. There is ten million dollars of a mistake right there.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I assure the gentleman if you have certain obligations, if you postpone those particular obligations, you still have those obligations and they still must be paid.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, how much does the gentleman say has been postponed?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Unfortunately I cannot answer that question because I do not have the break-down here of the $59,500.00.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to give the gentleman an opportunity to produce his ninety million dollar figures. I realize the fact that very often we cannot keep all these figures in our minds and we do not always carry them around in our pockets, but I would like the gentleman tomorrow, if he will, to produce the figures that will show the ninety million dollar deficit, that he has been talking so much about.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomed to the House a former Member from Philadelphia, Mr. Joseph Ominsky.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1941. No. 45.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 30, 1941.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, noon, E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Rev. Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, on this beautiful morning we have gathered here to do what Thou hast appointed us to do. We feel that within ourselves we are weak; we think we understand but we are not sure, but we know that if Thy spirit will guide us we can do in our small way the things that will help to make this state the great state it has been all through the history of our nation, to keep it a great state, to keep it the keystone of this great nation. We pray for guidance that we may do and say those things that shall keep friendliness and peace uppermost in our hearts, not only for ourselves but for the whole world, and in the time that is appointed that is just ahead and we may be called upon to play a large part in rebuilding this present world, we pray that then too Thy spirit may guide us and all those who have anything to do with building this world, so that Thy name may have all the praise and the honor and the glory. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. KEPHART and Mr. WALKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the district.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN TO OPPOSE TREASURY PROPOSAL TO EXTEND FEDERAL TAXING POWER

Mr. EDMONDS, from the Committee on Federal Relations, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Thomas on February 17, 1941, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, February 17, 1941.

Whereas, By vote of the Senate in September, 1940, the Congress of the United States decisively rejected the fiscally unsound and unconstitutional proposal for the imposition of a Federal tax on the income from state and municipal securities; and

Whereas, Despite this decisive defeat, the Treasury Department has recently announced and subsequently reiterated its intention of again urging that the present Congress enact such legislation; and

Whereas, The states and municipalities of the country have unanimously opposed the imposition of this tax on the ground that:

(1) Every state and municipal finance officer is in agreement that such a tax will cause an increase in the cost of state and municipal financing of at least 20%, which must necessarily be reflected in increased state and local taxes.

(2) Such a tax, even the Treasury concedes, cannot produce any revenue to the Federal Government for at least twenty years to come, while the incidence of the tax will be felt immediately by the states and municipalities.

(3) Reciprocal taxation by the states of Federal bonds would not defray by more than a fraction the loss to the states and cities, since, even those states which have income taxes have rates far less than the Federal Government; those states which have no income tax would receive nothing; and all cities would be left helpless, since Federal bonds would not be subject to a property tax.

(4) Such a tax, if approved by the Supreme Court, would remove the bar to complete Federal control of the fiscal operations of state and local government, and would establish what the Department of Justice itself, has called "The supreme Federal power to tax the states."

(5) Such a tax would hamper, not aid, national defense, since it cannot possibly result in any immediate increase in Federal revenues, and would cast an immediate and severe burden upon state and municipal finances just at a time when they will be called upon to expend vast sums of money in order to cooperate with the Federal Government in the national defense program.

(6) Such a tax would, by establishing supreme Federal control over the states and municipalities, completely destroy our constitutional system of a federated union of sovereign states.

Now, Therefore, It is hereby

Resolved, That the State of Pennsylvania hereby records its continued and determined opposition to the Treasury proposal to extend the Federal taxing power to the interest on state and municipal securities; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded immediately to the Senators and Congressmen from this State, with the urgent request that they extend every effort to defeat this pernicious proposal, which would seriously jeopardize the financial welfare of the states and cities of the country, and would not benefit the nation as a whole.

Resolution laid over for one day.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act to amend route 25008 of section two of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1172), entitled "An act establishing certain streets in boroughs and incorporated towns as State highways, and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth."

PETITIONING PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS TO CAUSE REPEAL OF CERTAIN CLAUSES OF SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

Mr. HEYBURN, from the Committee on Federal Relations, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Heyburn on April 15, 1941, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, April 15, 1941.

Whereas, The Federal Government recognized in the original Social Security Act that the administration of unemployment compensation laws is properly a function of the various states and accordingly designed the act as an inducement to the adoption of the program by the states themselves; and

Whereas, The funds received from the Federal Government for the expenses of administering the state acts have in the first instance been taken from employers of the states themselves; and

Whereas, The Social Security Act has prior to and since its amendment August 10, 1939, required the state acts to meet a prescribed standard as a condition to the eligibility of such states for the refund of their expenses of administration; and

Whereas, By amendment of August 10, 1939, clauses (8) and (9) were added to subsection (a) of section 303 requiring as further conditions to the refund of such administrative expenses, the following:

"(8) Effective July 1, 1941, the expenditure of all moneys received pursuant to section 302 of this title solely for the purpose and in the amounts found necessary by the Board for the proper and efficient administration of such state law; and

"(9) Effective July 1, 1941, the replacement, within a reasonable time, of any moneys received pursuant to section 302 of this title, which, because of any action or contingency, have been lost or have been expended for purposes other than, or in amounts in excess of, those found necessary by the Board for the proper administration of such state law;" and

Whereas, Said clauses (8) and (9) are unnecessary for the reason that ample protection is afforded the interests of the Federal Government by the existing requirement for approval and certification of state laws by the Federal Social Security Board; and

Whereas, Said clauses are improper for the reason that they attempt to give the Federal Government power to encroach upon the domain of the states in determining their own questions of procedure and administration in which, because of geographical locations, peculiar governmental procedures and processes, and other differentials, there must necessarily exist wide variations among the several states which cannot be standardized, nor can a particular state efficiently adopt a procedure in regard to one of its functions which would be out of harmony with its general practices; and

Whereas, Clause (9) makes possible by a single act of the Federal Social Security Board the upsetting of established precedents existing under present state unemployment compensation laws already approved and accepted by the Federal Board and requiring the repayment of funds heretofore legally expended, nor does said clause have any limitation either as to the scope of the inquiry or as to the time in which demand for repayment must be made; and

Whereas, The enforcement of said clauses will have the effect of giving the Federal Government complete and arbitrary control over the administration of the unemployment compensation program which the Federal Act itself recognizes as a proper function of the states themselves; and

Whereas, If said clauses are allowed to become effective they will grant to the Federal Government control of the administration of any state or local law wherein the benefit of Federal funds is or may be obtained; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully memorialize and petition the President of the United States and the Congress of the United States to cause said clauses (8) and (9) of subsection (a) of section 303, of the Social Security Act, as amended August 10, 1939, to be repealed prior to its effective date; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the President of the United States and to each Senator and Representative in Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Resolution is laid over for one day.

POLISH INDEPENDENCE DAY, MAY 3rd.

Mr. HEYBURN, from the Committee on State Government, to which was referred on April 2, 1941, the following resolution from the House of Representatives reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1941.

Whereas, The pages of history nowhere show a greater love of country than that exhibited by the citizens of Poland over the course of the centuries; and

Whereas, Today, as two centuries before, the liberty-loving Poles have been trampled by the legions of a tyrant; and

Whereas, As history counsels, the Polish nation will again be reborn stronger and more powerful than ever before; and

Whereas, This country is indebted to Poland for the aid rendered our own cause during the Revolutionary War by great military leaders from Poland; and

Whereas, People of Polish descent have greatly contributed to the progress of the United States as citizens of the Republic. They have been loyal, progressive and law abiding. They have entered the various phases of American Life and contributed greatly thereto. They have been noted for their community spirit in matters of charity and human kindness. Their campaign in education for American citizenship has been outstanding; and

Whereas, The least we could do for citizens of Poland and our own citizens of Polish descent is to recognize their contribution to our own cultural and economic advancements, and to offer some recognition of their fight for Poland's independence; be it therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of this State acknowledges the contribution made to our nation by persons of Polish origin by endorsing the celebration of Polish Independence Day on May 3rd; and be it further

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, shall issue, publish and declare an appropriate proclamation to the people of Pennsylvania, designating for observance this year, the third day of May, as Polish Day.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

Mr. SHAPIRO, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 136, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," permitting natural parents in certain cases to retain their rights as natural parents.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a senatorial reapportionment bill. The laws of Pennsylvania say we shall have senatorial reapportionment. I am making an honest effort to report to the people of Pennsylvania that I am going to present this bill for senatorial reapportionment, and I want to do my part towards it.

Mr. FARRELL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 776, entitled:

An Act to fix the number of Senators in the General Assembly of the State; to apportion the State into Senatorial districts, as provided by the Constitution; and to regulate the election of, and terms of office of, the present and future elected Senators.

Which was committed to the Committee on Senatorial Apportionment.

AMERICANISM PROGRAM IN HOUSE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, because there is a very important program conducted by the Service Men's Clubs of Pennsylvania now in progress in the House, or about to start in the House, to which we have been invited, I desire to make the following motion:

MOTION THAT SENATE ATTEND SERVICES

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move you that this Senate do now recess for thiry minutes in order that the members of this body may have opportunity to attend the services being held in the House at which will speak the Governor of Pennsylvania, General Martin and others, including a member of our own Senate, the gentleman from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 1:00 o'clock, p. m.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Utilities.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING VALLEY FORGE PARK

Messrs. CHAPMAN, EDMONDS, SCARLETT, FARRELL, HEYBURN, McQUIDDY and STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

Whereas, The Valley Forge Park, situated in Montgomery and Chester Counties of our Commonwealth, was consecrated and is now revered as the Winter Encampment of General George Washington and his Continental Army during the crucial months between December 19, 1777 and June 19, 1778; and

Whereas, The Valley Forge Park created by legislative enactment on May 30, 1893 "for the purpose of perpetuating and preserving the site, to restore it as nearly as possible in its original condition as a military camp, and maintain it forever as a public place or park" had grown from humble beginnings to the present area of 1650 acres owned and administered by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with visions and plans for acquisition of more ground; and

Whereas, the Valley Forge Park abounds in many sacred historical landmarks enshrined in the hearts of every true American, among them the original stone-houses occupied by General George Washington and some of his subordinate Generals; and

Whereas, under the capable leadership and direction of the membership of the Valley Forge Park Commission, markers have been placed at the important points of historical interest and verdant boulevards arranged along miles of the original lines of entrenchments; and

Whereas, the sacred acres of Valley Forge Park are dotted with restored huts of revolutionary soldiers, forts and other military works erected by the Continental Army; and

Whereas, in addition to these restorations, the Valley Forge Park contains other interesting units, such as the National Memorial Arch, Letitia Penn Schoolhouse and statutes of General Anthony Wayne and General Von Steuben; and

Whereas, after many persistent excavations, the original forge in the Valley Creek was finally located and awaits now resorative action; and

Whereas, on the land adjoining Valley Forge Park and still awaiting its acquisition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, overlooking the placid Schuylkill River and the entire encampment, are situated buildings of splendor and majesty, such as the Washington Memorial with its unique Cloister of the Colonies, the Washington Memorial Chapel often referred to as "the American Westminster" and Patriot's Hall constituting the Valley Forge Museum of American History, among the historical treasures whereof can be found many relics illustrating every period of American History generally and Washington's Marquee, the tent used by General George Washington in the first week at Valley Forge and his Commander-in-Chief's standard in particular; and

Whereas, the indefatigable and sustained efforts on the part of the membership of the Valley Forge Park Commission, the restorative work done under its guidance, the acquisition of additional land by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania conducted heretofore in accordance with the plans evolved by the Commission and the extensive planting on the park-grounds of the world's finest and most beautiful flowering tree, the American dogwood, have resulted in evergrowing pilgrimages to the shrines of Valley Forge Park from all parts of the Union; and

Whereas, "The Pennsylvania Manual" published by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and compiled under the direction of the Bureau of Publications of the Department of Property and Supplies, is the official primary sourcebook of information pertaining to our Commonwealth, its Government and institutions; and

Whereas, thousands of exemplars of said "Pennsylvania Manual" are being annually distributed throughout the Nation and our Commonwealth, thus providing a channel for the dissemination of valuable information; and

Whereas, the magnitude of the work heretofore accomplished by the Valley Forge Park Commission and the patriotic significance of the national shrines situated in the Valley Forge Park command inclusion of their descriptions and illustrations in "The Pennsylvania Manual" in order to thus reach more homes and people throughout the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the forthcoming issue of "The Pennsylvania Manual" for 1941-1943 biennium shall contain, inter alia, a chapter devoted to the description of the Valley Forge Park, its several shrines and the elaborate plans for the expansion of its grounds as evolved by the Valley Forge Park Commission; and be it Further Resolved, that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania call upon the citizenry of Pennsylvania to join at Valley Forge Park on Saturday, May 10, 1941, in the ceremonies dedicating the Dogwoods of Valley Forge to George Washington and his Army.

POLISH INDEPENDENCE DAY, MAY 3rd.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I now call up from the table, House Resolution No. 124, and ask for its immediate consideration.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1941.

Whereas, The pages of history nowhere show a greater love of country than that exhibited by the citizens of Poland over the course of the centuries; and

Whereas, Today, as two centuries before, the liberty-loving Poles have been trampled by the legions of a tyrant; and

Whereas, As history counsels, the Polish nation will again be reborn stronger and more powerful than ever before; and

Whereas, This country is indebted to Poland for the aid rendered our own cause during the Revolutionary War by great military leaders from Poland; and

Whereas, People of Polish descent have greatly contributed to the progress of the United States as citizens of the Republic. They have been loyal, progressive and law abiding. They have entered the various phases of American Life and contributed greatly thereto. They have been noted for their community spirit in matters of charity and human kindness. Their campaign in education for American citizenship has been outstanding; and

Whereas, The least we could do for citizens of Poland and our own citizens of Polish descent is to recognize their contribution to our own cultural and economic advancement, and to offer some recognition of their fight for Poland's independence; be it therefore

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of this State acknowledges the contribution made to our nation by persons of Polish origin by endorsing the celebration of Polish Independence Day on May 3rd; and be it further

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, shall issue, publish and declare an appropriate proclamation to the people of Pennsylvania, designating for observance this year, the third day of May, as Polish Day.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED RESOLUTION DESIGNATING MAY 17th, 1941, AS CONNIE MACK DAY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 30, 1941.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed concurrent resolution directing the Governor to issue a proclamation designating the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, as Connie Mack Day.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended by redefining assistance and eliminating the requirement that fresh fluid milk shall be furnished to relief recipients or their children.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 554, on second reading go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill the day before yesterday was recommitted to the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions. It is the bill which went back to that committee for the purpose of amendment. I inquired at the time as to what the amendment would be or as to how the bill could be amended and I was told if I waited until it got into committee and then came out I would see how it was amended.

The bill went to the committee and it came out and it is still dressed in the same clothing, without any amendments.

I want to call the attention of the members of the Senate to this fact, that this bill, permitted to remain in its present condition, is costing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania approximately two thousand dollars a day. That is, because under the present law, the Federal Government will not contribute its share towards the money spent for milk for aid to dependent children, because it is given in kind, but if it is given in money the Federal Government will pay one half. That will amount to $1,200,000 per biennium, it costs $400,000 to administer it separately and that is a total of $1,600,000 and for a period of seven hundred days that amounts to, roughly speaking, two thousand dollars a day.

Mr. President, I can see no point in this bill going over in its order; there have been no objections to the bill, no valid objections raised; there has been nothing brought to the attention of the Senators which warrants the continuance of this unnecessary expenditure, and it seems to me that unless there is some valid reason given for this bill going over in its order, this is one of the bills the administration is entitled to have passed and passed quickly.

I do not want to just make an issue of it and if there is any real reason back of it, but the only reason I can see back of it is that those persons who now sell milk in bulk get a contract to sell the milk and deliver it to the homes and collect the orders for it will object, because the milk will be bought not from them but from the individual stores as needed. As it is now there is milk delivered at the door, so much each week whether it is needed or not, and this will give the recipients of relief an opportunity to use this money in a better way.

Let me say I am not giving my own information or statement on this, as all of this was corroborated at a meeting which Mr. Russell, Secretary of the Department of Welfare, attended and told us about, and he suggested that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would save $1,600,000 per biennium.

Now, Mr. President, the longer we delay this bill the more it costs and I would like to know the real reason for postponing action.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I have moved that this bill go over in its order, and I now ask that the roll be called.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARTLETT and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—28

Bartlett,	Ealy,	Lanius,	Stevenson,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Tallman,
Carr,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Thomas,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Wade,
Crider,	Homsher,	Reed,	Watkins,
Crowe,	James,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Dent,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Woodward,

NAYS—12

Coleman,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Cox,	Jaspan,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,	Walker,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 645, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1409), entitled as amended, "An act creating the Highway Mining Commission with judicial powers, to have exclusive jurisdiction over the mining of coal within or under the right of ways of State highways; and the assessment and award of benefits, improvements, and damages for coal required to be left in place by reason of the obligation to furnish support for State highway routes, whether payable by the Commonwealth or a county; authorizing counties to enter into agreements to indemnify or reimburse the Commonwealth for damages to highways caused by the removal of coal under or adjacent thereto," by extending said act, as amended, to all lands, easements and right of ways purchased, condemned, or otherwise acquired by the Commonwealth; waiving vertical and lateral support therefor under certain conditions; reserving the right to acquire absolute vertical and lateral support; reserving the power to establish detours for the removal of coal underlying State highways; renaming the Highway Mining Commission and making certain changes in its membership and procedure; providing for appeals to the courts of common pleas from orders assessing damages for coal required to be left in place; and further clarifying the provisions of the act.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE BILL No. 212 ON THIRD READING POSTPONED CALLED UP

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do now move that the Senate resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 212, on page 4 of the Calendar, on third reading postponed.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 212, entitled:

An Act with reference to trust receipts and pledges of personal property unaccompanied by possession in the pledges and to make uniform the law with reference thereto.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 6, line 6, by inserting after the word "receipt" the following: Provided, however, That no trust receipt transaction shall provide for any charge, interest, discount, bonus, fees, fines, commissions, service charges or other considerations which aggregate in excess of six per centum (6%) per year on the actual amount of the loan in such transaction; amend Sec. 13, page 16, line 7, by inserting after the word "State" the following: "and with the prothonotary of the county within which the principal place of business of the trustee in the Commonwealth is located"; amend Sec. 13, page 17, line 13, by inserting after the word "for" the following: each; Amend Section Fifteen (15), page Eighteen (18), line twenty-eight (28), by inserting at the end of the line after the word "consignee" the words: "nor shall it apply to transactions of pledge evidenced by lien or encumbrance recorded and continuing of record in the Department of Revenue pursuant to The Vehicle Code approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 905) as amended"

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, these amendments are offered after discussion with Mr. Mallery, the sponsor. One amendment was prepared by him and the two other amendments were prepared by myself.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in agreement with the Majority Floor Leader I now call up on page two of today's Calendar, Senate Bill No. 236, Printer's No. 206.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, as follows:

An Act to amend section six hundred fifty-four of article six of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" providing for appeals from any classification rule rate or schedule of the Insurance Commissioner affecting insurance of employes and employers under the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and the supplements and amendments thereto.

Section 1 Section six hundred fifty-four of article six of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 654 Classification of Risks Underwriting Rules Premium Rates and Schedule and Merit Rating Plans The classification of risks underwriting rules premium rates and schedule or merit rating plans for insurance of employers and employes under "The Workmen's Compensation Act of nineteen hundred and fifteen" and acts amendatory thereof shall be proposed annually by one or more rating bureaus said rating bureau or bureaus to be situate within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania subject to supervision and to examination by the Insurance Commissioner and approved by the Insurance Commissioner as adequately equipped to compile rates on an equitable and impartial basis Such schdule or merit rating plans shall be applied only by the approved rating bureau or bureaus and in the preparation of schedules no employer shall be discriminated against or penalized because of physical impairment of any employe or because of the number of dependents of any employe

The classification of risks underwriting rules premium rates and schedule of merit or rating plans for insurance of employers and employes under "The Workmen's Compensation Act of nineteen hundred and fifteen" and acts amendatory thereof shall be filed with and shall be subject to review by the Insurance Commissioner and the Insurance Commissioner shall by order modify amend or approve the same Any person corporate or otherwise aggrieved by such order classification rule rate or schedule issued by the Insurance Commissioner may obtain a review thereof in the Common Pleas Court of Dauphin County of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by filing in the said court a written petition praying that the order classification rule rate or schedule issued by the Insurance Commissioner be modified amended or set aside in whole or in part The judgment and decree of said court modifying or enforcing or setting aside in whole or in part any such action of the Insurance Commissioner shall be final subject to review by the Superior and Supreme Courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon certiorari or certificate as in such cases made or provided The commencement of proceedings under this section shall not unless specifically ordered by the court operate as a stay of the Insurance Commissioner's order

No risk classification underwriting rule premium rate or schedule or merit rating plan shall take effect without the consent of the Insurance Commissioner and he may withdraw his approval whenever in his judgment the same is inadequate or discriminates unfairly between risks of essentially the same hazard

Neither the State Workmen's Insurance Fund nor any insurance corporation mutual association or company shall issue renew or carry any policy or contract of insurance against liability under "The Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen" and acts amendatory thereof except in accordance with the classifications underwriting rules premium rates and schedules or merit rating proposed by the rating bureau aforesaid for the risk insured and as modified amended or approved by the Insurance Commissioner for such insurer

A complete copy of every policy or a true copy of the substantive provisions of any policy or contract of insurance against liability under "The Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen" or acts amendatory thereof and a true copy of every endorsement upon any such policy and of every agreement pertaining thereto shall be filed with the rating bureau aforesaid within a reasonable time after the effective date of any such policy endorsement contract or agreement

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I have not had a chance to discuss with the sponsor of this bill the amendment which I have just prepared and I would like to call his attention to the bill and I think he will probably agree that there should be the amendment which I am offering.

On page three of this bill it is provided that the Insurance Commissioner shall by order modify, amend or approve the same which is the merit rating plan adopted by the bureau, and any person, corporate or otherwise, aggrieved by such order, classification, rule, rate or schedule may obtain a review.

Now, Mr. President, since the Commissioner does not make any order but merely modifies the rate which will probably be increased if it is reduced the person who pays the rate will have no objections and the only thing he might do would be to increase the rate and the effect of it as it is now worded is to give only the insurance companies or those charging the premiums the right to appeal. I have suggested that there be inserted after the words "any person corporate or otherwise, aggrieved" the words, "the rules, premiums, rates and schedule and merit rating proposed by the rating bureau aforementioned for the risk insured and as amended, modified or approved by the Insurance Commissioner, may obtain a review."

Mr. DENT. What the gentleman from Philadelphia says would be true and you would need the amendment he suggests if we did not include in this bill the right of the Commissioner not only to approve but to reject the rates set by the bureau or to amend the rates and by so doing we put the Commissioner in the position of not only rejecting or approving the rates set up, but he may amend the rates and thereby the rates that are set up will not be the original rates of the rating bureau, if he sees fit not to have those rates set up.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That may be true, Mr. President, but my point is, I think we want to give a person the right to appeal from the rates as amended or modified by the commission. Under this amendment I do not think we clearly give the right of appeal from the rates adopted or as amended or modified by the Commissioner. I think this clarifies and improves the bill. I do not think it hurts it any and I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland that we have the bill go over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wuld not have called this bill up if I had thought it would raise an issue because some of the members are anxious to quit, as this is the last day of the Session this week but I just want to say this:

Those of us who are not members of the profession of law have difficulty in getting set straight on just what we mean when we put bills in, because all the lawyres say we do not know what we mean. This has already been worked on by five different lawyers and they tell me it does just exactly what I want it to do and that is all I want done.

Now, I saw some Senators shaking their heads during the reading of the amendment and I know they are not going to agree with what the gentleman from Philadelphia wants done, and inasmuch as I am the sponsor of the bill, I really think it does what I want done and I am satisfied with it and if the gentleman from Philadelphia will allow me to have what I want, I will take the bill just as it is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I imagine that is a novel way of passing legislation but I am satisfied.

Mr. DENT. So am I, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I withdraw the amendment.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, has this bill been amended today.

Mr. DENT. No, Mr. President, it has not. It was amended yesterday.

Mr. EDMONDS. And, Mr. President, the bill is now printed in its final form?

Mr. DENT. Yes, Mr. President, it is; it is in the form upon which we agreed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, may proceed.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I just want to remind the Senators that there are but thirty-one days until the end of the biennium, when governmental functions must cease unless we get the tax and appropriation bills.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, May 5, 1941 at 3:30 o'clock. p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:56 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time until Monday, May 5, 1941 at 3:30 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 30, 1941

The House met at 12 m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

Speak to us, O Lord, that Thy compelling call shall silence the confusion of our tongues. Move among us as the mighty friend of every man and nation, that we shall find ourselves drawn to Thee and to each other. Reveal Thyself to us all as the great mountain-peak of our striving, that, coming to Thee from the separate valleys of our misunderstandings, we shall find ourselves close to Thee and to all mankind. Help each one of us to be bearers of the redeeming message of reconciliation. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. TARR, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ACHTERMAN. RESOLUTION No. 89.

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1941.

Whereas, Newspapers have carried reports concerning the operation of certain state hospitals within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which, if true, show an extremely reprehensible situation existing in such state hospitals; and

Whereas, There have been charges made that certain trustees and supervisory officials have committed criminal acts; and

Whereas, Certain state hospitals have lost their official standing and rating with the American Medical Association; and

Whereas, The conduct of certain trustees of state hospitals has resulted in unfavorable criticism of the operation of said hospitals; and

Whereas, If these charges are true, the situation calls for immediate attention by the legislative branch of the government to remedy such a condition; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of five members of the House, to act as a legislative committee to investigate the maintenance, operation and conduct of all state hospitals within this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee, because of the urgency of the situation, report to the House as speedily as possible, with appropriate recommendations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House a former Member, Mr. Reuben Howard, from Fayette County.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1607.1), page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "public" the following: "and private".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments.

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1185, Printer's No. 359, was passed over at the request of Mr. SHAFFER.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 277, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsection seven of section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by increasing the minimum salaries of teachers in fourth class school districts and requiring the Commonwealth to make certain payments on account of such salaries

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection seven of section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 328) is hereby further amended to read as follows

* * * *

Seven Districts of the fourth class Elementary teachers minimum [monthly] annual salary [one hundred dollars ($100)] one thousand dollars ($1,000) minimum annual increment fifty dollars ($50) minimum number of increments two (2) high school teachers minimum [monthly] annual salary [one hundred thirty dollars ($130)] one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) minimum annual increment fifty dollars ($50) minimum number of increments two (2)

In addition to the payments now required by law to be made by the Commonwealth to school districts of the fourth class on account of salaries of members of the teaching staff the Commonwealth shall pay for each elementary teacher the sum of thirty dollars ($30) annually plus the amount of the annual increments provided for by this subsection

Such payments shall be made in the same manner and at the same time as payments on account of salaries are now by law required to me made

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, there is an old saying that imitation is the sincerest flattery. I wish to compliment the sponsors of this bill in having presented one almost identical with the bill that I presented two weeks previous to the bill we have now before us.

This bill, I understand, provides a starting salary of one thousand dollars for fourth class school teachers with two increments of fifty dollars each. Mr. Speaker, the elementary high school teachers have a starting salary under this bill, I think, of twelve hundred dollars with two increments of fifty dollars each. My bill was identical except it went a little further and it gave five increments of fifty dollars each, which shows that the Republicans at least are more liberal to the school teachers in Wayne County than the Democrats would be. However, I wish to compliment, as I said before, the Democrats for accepting my bill with a few slight changes. I also wish to state that those same Members of the Democratic Party know a good thing when they see it.

Two years ago at the 1939 session I believe I had the honor of being the only member of the House in my maiden speech, and about the only one I made, to get up here and fight for the fourth class school teachers, and that is the reason I am here today speaking in behalf of this bill.

With your permission I would like, although I do not want to wander far afield, to make a brief statement, which will not take, I believe, over a few minutes.

The fourth Class District school teachers of Pennsylvania are the forgotten group of the Commonwealth. I hope that some measure of a long-delayed justice to these professional people may be awarded them at this session of the Legislature. As most of the gentlemen of the House know, or should know, there are around fifteen thousand of these teachers, and a great majority of them receive only about seven hundred and seven-five dollars after retirement dues are paid. A short time ago this House most unwisely passed a bill to start the salaries of firemen of third class cities at sixteen hundred dollars, with increments bringing the final salary to over two thousand dollars. That was a travesty on justice to the teaching profession, as well as a rank anti-home rule bill.

Many of these teachers have one room schools and to some extent have the additional duty of seeing that the school room is in a clean and sanitary condition, as well as to keep the school fires burning. All these teachers, considering the educational standards required and the expense of a college education, deserve better financial rewards. The least that can be done is to support this bill, which is a first step forward in giving some measure of justice to what is sometimes called the rural school teacher, whose qualifications, I understand, are as high as those in the high schools.

And speaking of qualifications, if you will pardon me for a personal reference to members of my family in Wayne County, I would like to compare the qualifications of one hundred years ago, fifty years ago, and the present standards.

Nearly one hundred years ago a Miss Julia Dix, as she was passing the home of a school director in Scott Township, was invited into the house, and after a brief conversation was informed that he would like to have her teach a school located at Island Lake in that township. His name was Henry Stanton. Miss Dix was so surprised that she could only exclaim, "Why, I don't have education enough." "Well," said Director Stanton, came to see me tomorrow and I will give you an examination. The next day she appeared at the Stanton home and he asked her to read a paragraph from a school reader, had her write a few words in her own handwriting, and do a few examples in simple arithmetic. After she had completed the examination, which took probably ten minutes, Director Stanton said quite emphatically, "Julia, you are better qualified than the teacher who is leaving. Here is a key to the school house, and you are to take charge of the school Monday morning. There are fifteen scholars, and some of the boys are eighteen years old and inclined to be rough. If you have any trouble, let me know. You will get ten dollars a month and board around in the families of the school children. She took the school and had a successful term.

About fifty years later, my own sister, a Miss Elizabeth Dix, became a teacher. She took an examination given under the direction of the County Superintendent of Schools of Wayne County, which was quite simple. In fact, you could then get a teaching permit from the superintendent with only a preliminary examination in his office, if I recall correctly. You were then given a school. My sister was informed that her salary would be thirty dollars a month and board around among the families of the scholars.

But now, what are the requirements. About eight years of elementary education, four years of high school, four years of college, and encouraged to take post graduate work. The salary is about sixty-five dollars per month on a twelve year basis, and you pay your own board and keep, or if married, maintain a wife, home and perhaps children.

These three steps show the great advance in education, the great advance in requirements, but do not show an appreciable advance in financial rewards. When it is remembered, that a high school and college education costs from $3,000 to $5,000, often borrowed money that must be paid back with interest, it stands to reason that it is high time the rural teachers of Pennsylvania got at least some measure of justice which this bill provides.

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, in order to save time I will introduce this paper into the record instead of reading it.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of Mr. Haines will be extended upon the Legislative Journal.

REMARKS OF MR. HAINES

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, "Have you ever tried to live on $800.00 yearly? I wonder if you know how tough it is to live and teach in a community on a salary of that size? If you will bear with me for a few moments, while I attempt to describe conditions under which we must work and live, I would appreciate it greatly.

"As the salary indicates, I must teach eight months per year. However, I must live for 52 weeks per year. I am married and have one child. My case is multiplied many times when you consider the fact that there are 15,866 elementary teachers in Pennsylvania's fourth class school districts.

"My budget is as follows:

Rent (12 months at $15)	$180.00
Food (52 weeks at $5)	260.00
Light (average $2.50 mo.)	30.00
Retirement ($3.37 mo.)	26.96
Insurance
$1000 self	25.48
1000 wife	38.40
1000 child	20.00
5000 accident	20.00
"Bus transportation to school ($1.75)	56.00
Milk (1 qt. daily at 12 cents)	43.80
Personal taxes ((wife and self)	9.00
Fuel for cooking (5 gal. kerosene week)	31.20
Doctor, Dentist, Church, Education	59.16
Incidentals (Clothes must be figured as incidentals)
Total	$800.00

"This budget is figured on a bare salary of $800.00 yearly. If I am so fortunate as to get work as a coal miner during the summer months, then we can dress a little better and give the doctor and the dentist a little "hush" money. Of course this budget is apt to run helter-skelter during certain periods of the year when my school board is unable to pay us. Then we must borrow our wages from the local banks at the rate of 50 cents per month on each $100.00 or less.

"Now, Mr. Representative, I have the same qualifications as are required of any teacher in the elementary field in Philadelphia or Pittsburgh. Eleven years ago they started teaching at $1200 per year. They were given an increment each year for ten years. They now receive $2200. Eleven years ago I began teaching at $800 per year. I still make $800 per year. I have never received an increment. My ability or training has nothing to do with this. It is merely because I happen to teach and live in a township which has a population of less than 5,000 persons. That is the only reason. This was set up over twenty years ago. Mr. Representative, is that democracy which guarantees to all men equal opportunities? I leave it to you.

"Is it too much to ask that Mr. Hirsch's Bill No. 165 be passed so that I and fellow teachers can be assured of $1400 yearly by 1946-47? Do you remember the Chain Store Tax Bill of 1937? We waited hopefully until 1939 only to have the Supreme Court declare the act unconstitutional. Do you remember the Sollenberger Bill in 1939, which passed the House only to have the Senate adjourn? What is to be the story this session?

"Thank you for bearing with me this far. I hope you will see things from our point of view and do something to have House Bill No. 165 passed."

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish briefly to make a statement in relation to the printing problem raised yesterday on account of this bill. We have checked carefully with the Printer in relation to the error and we find that the error was not occasioned by the Printer, and in justice to the publishing company I feel this correction should be made.
